Georgia Army National Guard Pfc. Michael Gann of Lilburn, and a rifleman with Covington's Company B, 1st Battalion, 121st Infantry, checks his M249 Squad Automatic Weapon, Tues., July 15, 2008, after squad level training at Vaziani Military Base near the capital city of Tbilisi, Gerogia. Soldiers of the 121st from across the state are part of the 1,000 active-duty, Guard and Reserve personnel taking part in Immediate Response. Also participating in this year's event are troops from Armenia, Azerbaijan and Ukraine. Last year's exercise was held in Poland. Immediate Response is an annual, Joint Chiefs-of-Staff directed "bilateral security cooperation exercise conducted between the U.S. and its coalition partners." When he's not serving with the Guard, Gann is a carpet installer for Jessie's' Carpet care Center in Lawrenceville. (Georgia National Guard photo by Sgt. 1st Class Roy Henry)
