The ultimate conspiracy is the falsification of the Word of God by antichrist priests and is unrelenting to this day. But the Genuine Truth of the Word is revealed through the ministry of a prophet of the Holy Writ and is presented for curing this worldwide ignorance for free. All references in the Hebrew Word to the cognate KNH are to the cannabis, hemp or marijuana in the Bible along with the Aramaic Gospels and Revelation where this term spoken by our Lord is KNYH. The Jews falsified this word as “calamus” in the Greek Septuagint which is the authoritative Greek translation of the Hebrew Word. This falsification is sustained by the Greek or Hellenized Christianity. The original tongue of the Gospels and Revelation was Aramaic and so were the first texts of that Word. KNYH in the Aramaic cognate is falsified into “calamus” by the Greek Gospels and Revelation to continue this conspiracy that came to be termed the “disciplina arcani” or discipline of the secret. And by the Divine Providence to protect men from profaning the holy but now that the Last Judgment occurred on June 19th, 1770 the Lord has provided that profanations will not take place. In Apocalypse Explained (1757) Passage 375 [5] & [6] www.heavenlydoctrines.org

The disciplina arcani is the term coined by theologians in the 1600s' for this conspiracy of silence within the early Christian Church and institutionalized to hide the mystery of the Sacrament of Baptism which utilized the holy anointing oil of Moses that contains KNH BSM. This term strictly translates as cane spice or the hashish.

Emanuel Swedenborg (1688-1772) Arcana Coelestia Preface to Chapter 18. “He will come in the clouds of heaven with power and glory, Matt. 24:30; Mark 13:26; Luke 21:27. Nobody until now has known what was meant by the ‘clouds of heaven’. But it has been disclosed to me that nothing else is meant than the literal sense of the Word...” “and that ‘power and glory’ is meant the internal sense of the Word; for the internal sense of the Word holds glory within itself, since everything within that sense has regard to the Lord and His kingdom; see Volume One, in 1769-1772. Something similar is meant by ‘the cloud’ which surrounded Peter, James, and John when the Lord appeared to them in glory, concerning which the following is said.

Luke 9:35,36. A voice came out of the cloud, saying, “This is My beloved Son; listen to Him!” When however the voice had gone Jesus was found alone.

Arcana Caelestia 10325. The books of the Word are all those which have the internal sense; books which do not have it are not the Word. The books of the Word in the Old Testament are: The five Books of Moses; the Book of Joshua; the Book of Judges; the two Books of Samuel; the two Books of Kings; the Psalms of David; and the Prophets, Isaiah, Jeremiah, Lamentations, Ezekiel, Daniel, Hosea, Joel, Amos, Obadiah, Jonah, Micah, Nahum, Habakkuk, Zephaniah, Haggai, Zechariah, Malachi. And in the New Testament they are: The four Gospels of Matthew, Mark, Luke, John; and the Book of Revelation.

TRACING ONE WORD THROUGH DIFFERENT LANGUAGES Sara Benetowa

As evidence now shows, in antiquity hemp was used in widely differing cultures. In the following article, Sara Benetowa of the Institute of Anthropological Sciences in Warsaw, attempts to find out through a comparative study of languages in what cultural environment hemp was first used as a narcotic.

After having compared the words meaning hemp in Indo-European, Finnish, Turkish and Tartar, and Semitic language groups, the conclusion was reached that, leaving aside all the obviously borrowed words, either Finnish, Turkish, Celtic, or Roman, there remained four groups to investigate: 1. Sanskrit-cana; 2. Slav-konopla; 3. Semitic, for example in Assyro-Babylonia-kannab; 4. Greek: cannabis.

In all these languages the words meaning hemp have a common root: kan. This root with the double meaning of 'hemp' and 'cane' is common to almost all the languages of antiquity. It is easy to show that 'canna' means both 'hemp' and 'cane'. But what is the meaning of the ending 'bis'? The answer is not difficult to find if one notices an interesting detail encountered in several Semitic texts from Oriental antiquity. For example, let us look at the original text of the Old Testament and its Aramaic translation, the 'Targum Onculos'. The word 'kane' or 'kene' sometimes appears alone and is sometimes linked to the adjective 'bosm' (in Hebrew) or 'busma' (in Aramaic) which means: odorous, smelling good, aromatic. As I demonstrate in detailed fashion in this study, the Biblical 'kane bosm' and the Aramaic 'kene busma' both mean hemp. The linguistic evolution of the terms in question leads to the formation of the unique term 'kanabos' or 'kanbos'. This is encountered in the Mishna, the collection of traditional Hebrew law which contains many Aramaic elements. The astonishing resemblance between the Semitic 'kanbos' and the Scythian 'cannabis' lead me to suppose that the Scythian word was of Semitic origin. These etymological discussions run parallel to arguments drawn from history. The Iranian Scythians were probably related to the Medes, who were neighbors of the Semites and could easily assimilate the word for hemp. The Semites could also have spread the word during their migrations through Asia Minor.

Taking into account the matriarchal element of Semitic culture, one is led to believe, that Asia Minor was the original point of expansion for both the society based on the Matriarchal circle and the mass use of hashish. Let us look for factors which could have contributed to the start of mass use of hashish in the matriarchal circle. One important factor is that in preparing fibre from the plant and during the harvest the strong odour intoxicates the workers. According to ancient customs still surviving in modern times, all work involving hemp is done in mass. Since antiquity the hemp harvest has been considered a holiday, especially for the young people. In many countries the harvest is a sort of reunion to which guests come with or without masks and give all sorts of presents to the workers. Here we see an obvious link with the masculine secret societies in the matriarchal circle in which there is mass use of hashish. Another factor is the making of sacrifices to the ancestors, which is common practice in the masculine secret societies. Here is another obvious link between the character of this plant used in the cult of the dead and the masculine secret societies founded on that cult. Many peculiarities of the ancestor cult can be brought forth as evidence of this.

In Poland on the night before Christmas a ritual dish is served made of hemp seeds, called 'hemp soup', because according to popular superstition at that time the souls of the dead visit their friends and family to feast together. Another trace is the Polish habit of throwing a few hemp seeds in the fire 'as a sacrifice' during the harvest. An obvious link between sacrifices in honor of the dead and the mass use of hashish is to be found in the Scythian funeral ceremony.

After the burial, the Scythians purified themselves in the following manner: they washed and anointed their heads and, after having planted posts in the ground and wrapped cloth around them, they threw hemp into receptacles filled with red-hot stones.

By comparing the old Slavic word 'kepati' and the Russian 'kupati' with the Scythian 'cannabis' Schrader developed and justified Meringer's supposition that there is a link between the Scythian baths and Russian vapor baths. In the entire Orient even today to 'go out to the bath' means not only to accomplish an act of purification and enjoy a pleasure, but also to fulfill the divine law. Vambrey calls 'bath' any club in which the members play checkers, drink coffee, and smoke hashish or tobacco. The tobacco imported from America spread so rapidly through Europe because the way had been prepared for it by hemp.

The KEY to Unlocking the Secrets of Early Christianity and the Dead Sea Scrolls in title: James the Brother of Jesus on page 354 by Professor Robert Eisenman Co-Author of The Dead Sea Scrolls Uncovered. "The reader should pay particular attention to the roots of words in Hebrew, which like most Semetic languages-Aramaic, Syriac, and Arabic-is built on three-letter root patterns. The root should be obvious here..."

Thus he fed them with bread in exchange for all their MKNH that year.¹⁸ When that year had ended, they came to him the next year and said to him, "We will not hide from my lord that our money is gone; my lord also has our MKNH of livestock.

There is nothing left in the sight of my lord but our bodies and our lands.¹⁹ "Why should we die before your eyes, both we and our land? KINH us and our land for bread, and we and our land will be servants of Pharaoh; give us seed, that we may live and not die, that the land may not be desolate."²⁰ Then Joseph KINH all the land of Egypt for Pharaoh; for every man of the Egyptians sold his field, because the famine was severe upon them. So the land became Pharaoh's.²² Only the land of the priests he did not KINH; for the priests had rations allotted to them by Pharaoh, and they ate their rations which Pharaoh gave them; therefore they did not sell their lands.²³ Then Joseph said to the people, "Indeed I have KINH you and your land this day for Pharaoh. So nothing shall die of all that belongs to the children of Israel." ' "⁶ So the LORD did this thing on the next day, and all the MKINH of Egypt died; but of the MKINH of the children of Israel, not one died.⁷ Then Pharaoh sent, and indeed, not even one of the MKINH of the Israelites was dead. But the heart of Pharaoh became hard, and he did not let the people go.¹⁹ "Therefore send now and gather your MKINH and all that you have in the field, for the hail shall come down on every man and every animal which is found in the field and is not brought home; and they shall die." And the priest shall have in his hand the bitter water that brings a curse.²⁵ 'Then the priest shall take the grain offering of KNH from the woman's hand, shall wave the offering before the LORD, and bring it to the altar;²⁹ ' This is the law of KNH, when a wife, while under her husband's authority, goes astray and defiles herself,³⁰ 'or when the spirit of KNH comes upon a man, and he becomes KNH of his wife; then he shall stand the woman before the LORD, and the priest shall execute all this law upon her.

Has He not made you and established you? 16 They provoked Him to KINH with foreign gods; With abominations they provoked Him to anger. 21 They have provoked Me to KINH by what is not God; They have moved Me to anger by their foolish idols. But I will provoke them to KINH by those who are not a nation; I will move them to anger by a foolish nation.

Re: [hugoye-list] Re: Exchanging Reed for Reed

All,

Looking deeper into the Syriac tradition of this saying in Mt11v7 yields an interesting result. It may indicate that a slightly different idiom was being used by Yeshu`a.

Ephrem of Nisibis may have known a gospel text where instead of only qanya = 'reed', his text read qanya `eela = 'the leaf of the reed'. The word used here for 'leaf' isn't Syriac, it is JPA and found in the Palestinian Talmud, (see Jastrow p. 1080 column 1). So, one wonders how a Palestinian Aramaic word could have found it's way out of Ephrem's pen, unless it had found it's way there via a Syriac gospel text?

The same quotation from Ephrem's prose refutations has been edited at least twice:
Mitchell, C. F., "S. Ephraim's prose refutations of Mani, Marcion and Bardaisan transcribed from the palimpsest B.M. Add. 14623," 2 volumes, 1912 and 1921 Publ.: Text and Translation Soc. / Williams & Norgate.
- see volume 2, pages 106 - 107
Louis Leloir, 'L'Évangile d'Éphrem d'après les oeuvres éditées' Corpus Scriptorum Christianorum Orientalium, volume 180, subsidia, tome 12.
- see quotation 142

Does this modified idiom connect with anything in the OT?

Best wishes,
Steven Ring.

key to understanding the Word. In the idiom related here the correct term to open the understanding is to `set up' or `raise up' the sacred bundle representing the Divine Man to come. There are other interesting idioms that play upon the term KNH. All of these are deeply significant. Your confirmation that KALAMOS is a falsity sustained in the Word authoritatively walked the earth, as the Divine Man. The knowledge you imparted is both heartening and warmly appreciated.

Judgment on Assyria, Isaiah 30:27-33
Behold, the name of the LORD comes from afar,
Burning with His anger,
And His burden is heavy;
His lips are full of indignation,
And His tongue like a devouring fire.

His breath is like an overflowing stream,
Which reaches up to the neck,
To sift the nations with the sieve of futility;
And there shall be a bridle in the jaws of the people,
Causing them to err.
You shall have a song
As in the night when a holy festival is kept,
And gladness of heart as when one goes with a flute,
To come into the mountain of the LORD,
To the Mighty One of Israel.
The LORD will cause His glorious voice to be heard,
And show the descent of His arm,
With the indignation of His anger
And the flame of a devouring fire,
With scattering, tempest, and hailstones.
For through the voice of the LORD
Assyria will be beaten down,
As He strikes with the rod.
And in every place where the staff of punishment passes,
Which the LORD lays on him,
It will be with tambourines and harps;
And in battles of brandishing He will fight with it.
For Tophet was established of old,
Yes, for the King it is prepared.
He has made it deep and large;
Its pyre is fire with much wood;
The breath of the LORD, like a stream of brimstone,
Kindles it.

Psalm CXXVI

Tw as like a dream when by the Lord
From bondage Zion was restored:
Our mouths were filled with mirth, our tongues
Were ever singing joyful songs.

The heathen owned what God had wrought;
Great works, with joy to us were brought,
As southern streams, when filled with rain,
Lord, turn our captive state again.

Who sow in tears, with joy will reap;
