
J. PAUL HALLER
Grand Master
1926

JOHN PAUL HALLER
Grand Master, 1926.

John Paul Haller, Grand Master for 1926, is a native son of New Orleans. He is a son of the late Paul Haller and his wife, Caroline Higsen. The elder Haller occupied a high position among the dealers in hardware in the Queen City of the South, and his son proves to be a worthy scion of so good a sire.

Brother Haller received his education in the public schools and graduated from the Boys' High School as salutatarian of his class. He entered the employ of the H. Haller Manufacturing Company, where he rose from one position to another until he became its Vice-President. While he occupied that responsible position, the concern was bought out by the National Enameling and Stamping Company, and he was placed over the concern as factory manager. On October 8th, 1902, he took unto himself a wife in the person of Miss Lelia Stair Fitzpatrick of Fort Worth, Texas. Their union was blessed with two children, a son and a daughter.

Brother Haller is a member of the mother lodge of Louisiana, Perfect Union Lodge No. 1, wherein he was initiated on May 3rd, 1906, received the Fellow Craft Degree on July 19th of that year, and three weeks later became a Master Mason. In 1908 he served as Junior Deacon; the following year he was advanced to Senior Warden, and for two years after, during 1910 and 1911, he presided as Master over the lodge. He has served as Treasurer of the lodge from the year 1912 to the year 1922.

In the Grand Lodge he was appointed Grand Steward in 1913, serving as Grand Marshal in 1914 and again as Grand Steward in 1915. He was elected Grand Junior Warden in 1923, Grand Senior Warden in 1924, Deputy Grand Master in 1925, and Grand Master in 1926.

Brother Haller is a member of the Grand Consistory of Louisiana, A. and A. S. Rite, and was made a K. C. C. H. in 1921. He is a Past Grand Commander of the Grand Commandery of Louisiana and a Charter Member of St. Paul's Conclave, Red Cross of Constantine. In the Grand Encampment of the United States he has served on important Committees. He is a Past Potentate of Jerusalem Temple of the Shrine and a member of Shalimar Grotto of the Veiled Prophets of the Enchanted Realm, being its first Marshal and a member of the Board of Trustees for three years. He is also a member of the Order of the Eastern Star and is a Past Patron of Rob Morris Chapter No. 1.

Brother Haller is a natural organizer and manager of men. He possesses a most agreeable personality and, as might be expected, his friends are legion. As an executive, he is a foe to wrong and a staunch supporter of the right and knows no middle ground. He is a man of marked ability, and while it is an axiom that no one can honor the Craft, still we venture the assertion that at the close of his term the Order in the State of Louisiana will show in a marked way the effects of a year of unusual activity.

Dedication of the Masonic Home for Orphans at Alexandria, La., June 24th, 1925.

DEDICATION OF MASONIC HOME FOR ORPHANS AT ALEXANDRIA, LA.

Alexandria, June 24th, 1925.

An Emergent Communication of the Grand Lodge was held this afternoon at 2 o'clock and was opened in ample form in the Hall of Oliver Lodge No. 84.

The following were present: H. B. Conner, Grand Master; J. Paul Haller, Deputy Grand Master; James H. Rowland, Grand Junior Warden; John A. Davilla, Grand Secretary; John W. Armstrong, P. G. M., Acting Grand Treasurer; J. B. Evans, Grand Junior Deacon; T. H. McEachern, Grand Senior Deacon; T. W. Parish, Grand Lecturer; Ira Weingrun, Grand Marshal; Leon Haas, Grand Sword Bearer; George J. Ginsberg, Grand Pursuivant; Warren O. Watson, Samuel G. Gainsburgh, D. M. Campbell, and J. H. Pumphrey, Grand Stewards; L. E. Thomas, Rudolph Krause, B. B. Purser, I. W. Sylvester, H. H. Bain, Past Grand Masters; Samuel T. Lovett, Grand Tyler; Edwin F. Gayle, Grand Senior Warden; C. C. Wier, Acting Grand Chaplain.

W. Bro. Frank M. Milliken acted as Bearer of the Great Lights.

The Grand Master stated that the Grand Lodge had been called for the purpose of dedicating the splendid building which had been erected as the Masonic Home for Orphans upon the grounds of the old Country Club, a half hours' drive from the City of Alexandria. After the ceremony of dedication was had upon the porch at the entrance of the building, in the presence of a concourse of at least 3000 members of the Fraternity and their relatives from Alexandria and nearby points, Past Grand Master L. E. Thomas delivered the following address:

ADDRESS OF L. E THOMAS.

The following address was delivered by Lee E. Thomas, P. G. M., Chairman of the Board of Trustees of the Masonic Home for Orphans, at the dedication of the Home on June 24th, 1925, A. L. 5925, Alexandria, La.:

Most Worshipful Grand Master and Brother Masons of the Grand Lodge of the State of Louisiana, and Friends:

I assure you that my heart is filled to overflowing with profound satisfaction at being able to tender to the M. W. Grand Lodge of this State, this completed structure and to witness the dedication to humanity of this Masonic Home for orphan children committed to our care.

As the hymn which was sung by mistake at the wedding of a spinster of uncertain age expressed it, "This is the day I long have sought, and mourned because I found it not," applies very forcefully to your speaker on this occasion.

Nearly twenty years ago, when I had the honor of being Grand Master of Masons of this State, I zealously supported the resolution for our Grand Lodge to take some active steps looking to the care of the orphan children and the aged Masons and widows in the State of Louisiana.

It is true that at that time our Grand Lodge did not feel financially able to assume this obligation, but we then laid the foundation for the future by adopting a resolution to set aside, out of our revenues, $6,000 per year for the purpose of creating a fund for this laudable purpose. In 1906 this fund was established, and later it was increased by setting aside $10,000 a year, and when it had reached the sum of almost $150,000 the proposition was again submitted during Brother Bain's administration as Grand Master in 1922, as we felt that the time had arrived for us to take up active work in the building of this Home. It was my pleasure to zealously support the resolution which I presented to the Grand Lodge at that time and to see it practically unanimously adopted and the funds provided for the erection of this building as well as its maintenance.

Through the kindness of my brethren I was made Chairman of the Board of Trustees and we have devoted our time to this work, and today we present the building for your acceptance and dedication, and this "consummation devoutly to be wished" is now an accomplished fact.

It has been my privilege to deliver many addresses on various Masonic subjects, but I have never before today participated in any exercises that afforded me so much personal satisfaction and which were so far-reaching in its service to those near and dear to us.

ORIGIN OF MASONRY.

Much discussion has been participated in concerning the origin of this great institution of ours. Some of our historians trace it to the beginning of time; back to that period when the morning stars sang together and God said: "Let there be light," and there was light. Others trace it to the building of the tabernacle in the wilderness by Moses, Aholiab and Bezeleel and hold that much of its philosophy comes from the Egyptian mysteries in which Moses had become proficient when he lived in Egypt as the "Son of Pharaoah's daughter." Others claim that this institution had its beginning at the building of King Solomon's Temple, while others trace it to the Roman Collegii Eabrorum and to other sources.

No man can with absolute certainty point his finger to the time or to the place when its principles were first propagated among the children of men. We know not whence it came, but we know that from the garnered truths by it let fall upon the fallow ground of ages gone have grown the mighty facts of religion, science and morality that will live through all the ages yet to be.

The Masonic order is no artificial idol of a departed age, no ineffectual bauble born in superstitious darkness and religious dismay, no pretentious relic of despair born in the captivity and dragged forth from the ruins of the dark ages. No, my friends, it is the happy reverse of all this. It is the embodiment of all that would be perfect in the spirit and aspirings of man. It is an institution whose duty it is to stoop to the unfortunate, to hear their every cry and to help them, to rescue and relieve. Majestic from its mercy, venerable from its antiquity, uplifted without pride, and lovely even in its frown. What matters it to us here whether this Order of the Square, the Level, and the Plumb, comes from the Syrians or the Chaldeans or the Egyptian priests, or from the Hebrew land of Kings and prophets, or from Grecian Academy. I care not whether the mysterious pyramids still testify of its eternity, for you know and I know that this, our faith, is a sublime and practical moral force and this force is the parent of all others.

This great Order of ours stands as one of the bulwarks for the preservation of humanity and has been recognized down the ages as having played its part in the preservation of government of the people and the exaltation of the highest ideals of citizenship.

I once had the pleasure of standing on Pike's Peak in the early dawn and witnessing a glorious sunrise. I looked down into the valley to the darkness below and then turned my eyes to the wondrous horizon and saw the great luminary of nature slowly ascend from behind the clouds while down the mountainside I could see the shadows of darkness flee away until the Garden of the Gods shone forth in effulgent glory and splendor and the great mount of the Holy Cross rose in majesty pointing to our home beyond the azure skies.

I thought of this great institution of ours—in the dawn of humanity this mystic order arose among the nations of the earth and, like the "Sun of Righteousness," with healing in its wings, has driven away the darkness of superstition, ignorance and fanaticism and flooded the earth with the enlightened knowledge of right and truth everlasting, while it points to the cross as a symbol of sacrifice and service for love of humanity.

Let us catch the inspiration of this wonderful vision and live up to the opportunities God has given us to prove our worthiness of this great order and that we are indeed true "Sons of the Light."

WHAT IS MASONRY?

Masonry has been defined to be a scientific moral institution that teaches its lessons by symbolism and allegory. There is scarcely a single object in nature from which it does not draw some moral truth and apply it to our every-day life. It is a moral principle working through an organization of lodges and whose teachings are "peace on earth, good will to men." It is a combination into one order of three sovereigns "of right over force, of intelligence over prejudice of brotherhood over selfhood." It presents objects heroic in the highest sense and which can only serve to inspire Masons, true builders of the Eternal Truth, with a resolution as omnipotent as are the obstacles to the upbuilding of all things mightier than men. It is not a dogmatic religion, although it is so far interwoven with religion that it lays us under obligations to reverence and adore our Divine Creator.

Slave to no sect, who takes no private road,
But looks through Nature up to Nature's God;
Pursues that chain which links the immense design,
Joins heaven and earth, and mortal and divine,
Sees that no being any bliss can know,
But touches some above and some below,
Learns from this union of the rising whole,
The first, last purpose of the human soul,
And knows where faith, law, morals, all began,
All end in love to God and love to man.

Masonry seeks to apply the tools of our profession so as to prepare man to become a "perfect ashler" fit for "that spiritual temple, that house not made with hands eternal in the heavens."

Physical man, like his physical work, is ephemeral and will pass away, but the work of the eternal mind, partaking of its own indestructible essence, will live forever. We know that many of the valuable monuments of antiquity have crumbled into dust and where those beautiful spots once adorned the earth, the sand of the deserts now cover them, yet this institution has lived on because the music that Hiram the Builder sung still lingers on the lips of thousands; its melodious harmonies have been communicated from mouth to ear and its truths have been lodged in the repository of faithful breasts to be transmitted unimpaired to the remotest generations.

Like a beautiful stream rippling over the rocks and crags of superstition and prejudice, this beneficient Order of ours has flowed down through the ages bringing gladness and hope, while it sings ever and anon the same sweet song of devotion and untiring love to humanity.

There are three or four fundamental principles contained in every branch of Masonry and you will find them in the lessons and teachings of almost every degree.

The first, "Trust in God," is the foundation stone on which every Masonic superstructure is erected. This lesson you learn in the Entered Apprentice Degree and you see it emphasized in all the others. Except the house be built upon this rock it will not stand. All other ground is sinking sand.

The next great truth that Masons teach as a guide to their footsteps is the "immortality of the soul."

The Master Mason's Degree would be anaemic did not the glorious doctrine of the resurrection and the immortality of the soul shine forth in refulgent splendor to light man's pathway to "that undiscovered country from whose bourn no traveler ever returns."

Immortality! What a wonderful word it is! It carries us back to the Divine Creator, because the Great Book says: "In the beginning God" and its concluding verses say: "I am Alpha and Omega, the beginning and the end." Then spake He unto Moses and said: "I am that I am," meaning which is and was and is to be.

Immortality! We bow before the very term. Immortality! Before it reason staggers, calculation declines her tired head, and imagination folds her weary pinions.

Immortality! It throws open the portals of the vast forever; it puts the crown of deathless destiny upon every human brow; it cries to every uncrowned man and woman: "live forever, crowned for the empire of eternity."

An angel's eye cannot measure its journey nor an angel's wing travel to its farthest boundary. It is a fountain whose source is in the infinite and whose placid waters flow on forever. Builders build only for a century, but Masons are building for eternity. Painters only paint for a generation or so, but Masons are painting for everlasting years. This great central truth of the immortality of the soul is emphasized in many of our degrees, so that it might sink into your heart and conscience and find lodgment there. Our Order holds with Addison when he said:

It must be so—Plato, thou reasonest well!
Else whence this pleasing hope, this fond desire,
This longing after immortality?
Or whence this secred dread, and inward horror
Of falling into naught? Why shrinks the soul
Back on herself, and startles at destruction?
'Tis the divinity that stirs within us;
'Tis Heaven itself, that points out an hereafter,
And intimates eternity to Man.
The stars shall fade away, the sun himself
Grow dim with age, and nature sink in years,
But thou shalt flourish in immortal youth,
Unhurt amid the war of elements,
The wreck of matter and the crash of worlds.

We do not believe that He, who gives the rose bush, whose petals are scattered by the autumn breezes, the sweet assurance of another spring time, will withhold from man the blessed hope of a rejuvenated life after the frosts of winter have spent their force upon his inanimate clay. We cannot believe that He Who gives to the acorn that lies buried in the earth the promise that under the fructifying influence of Mother Earth with the generating qualities of the great luminary of nature, it shall break its prison cell and grow into stalwart oak to bless mankind, shall allow the soul of man made in His own image to suffer eternal annihilation. No, there is "A land where the rainbow never fades and where the stars are spread out before Him like islands that slumber upon the bosom of the ocean and where the beings that pass before us like shadows here will stay in our presence forever." To such a land, my brethren, we are journeying, and Masonry is but pointing that way.

The third great truth that permeates all our teachings is the final triumph of right over wrong, of good over evil, and of truth over error. God in His wisdom cannot make mistakes. He who feeds the sparrow and clothes the lily of the field will likewise care for His children. Pain and suffering may come, but God will at last reward virtue and punish wrong.

Mine eyes have seen the glory of the coming of the Lord,
He is trampling out the vintage where the grapes of wrath are stored;
He has loosed the fateful lightning of His terrible swift sword; His truth is marching on.
He has sounded forth the trumpet that shall never call retreat,
He is sifting out the hearts of men before His judgment seat;
O, be swift, my soul, to answer Him! Be jubilant, my feet!
Our God is marching on.

Masonry is not altogether a speculative society, but real Masonry is to do work of life. Its precepts are meant to be put into practical application in our every-day life. If a Mason has received light and knowledge, it is his duty to dispense it so that "others seeing his good works may glorify our Father in Heaven." Masonry must walk in the open street, appear in the crowded square, and among the throngs of earth and teach men by her deeds, her life, her example, which is more potent than all the philosophy or theories that fall from the lips of men.

The goal of Free Masonry is ideal manhood. It is the star of our hope, the beacon light upon the shore to the mariner Mason tossed hither and thither upon the ocean stream of life. Who of us would not rejoice with ineffable joy if we could throw off the weakness and foibles that mark our sensual appetites. He who conquers here has achieved the greatest of all victories and becomes indeed the true

Master Mason. Therein are the true successes to be won that entitle us to the crown of laurel and olive worn by the "Soldiers of the Light." In every human life that battle is fought, and those who win elsewhere often suffer ignominous defeat and disastrous rout and discomfiture and shameful downfall in this encounter.

Masonry teaches this sublime truth that we have a spiritual nature which is Divine and it should lead us to a truer and a better life. It should lead us to be real heroes by becoming conquerors over ourselves. Let us one and all apply this lesson.

MASONIC DUTY.

Many of our brethren are inclined to believe that they are doing Masonic work when they meet in the lodge room and confer degrees. This is a mistaken idea. The degree work is only the shell that encloses the kernel of Masonic truth, and he who would become a true Mason in his heart must study and delve into the history, the legends and philosophy of this institution and learn something of its true significance.

We are not doing work by simply conferring degrees, Masonry has a mission in the world and I am proud that in recent years our brethren are awakening to the responsibilities they owe to the human race.

Masonic duty means sacrifice and service and the individual brother or the Lodge or the Grand Lodge or other Grand Body that is not doing this is falling far short of measuring up to its obligations in life.

Masonry stands for education and enlightenment. "Error can never long triumph when intelligent reason is left free to combat it." For this reason we advocate free schools and public education, which brings the light of free thought and free conscience to dispel the darkness of ignorance and tyranny that would becloud our footsteps in the journey of life.

Masonry has flourished and Nations prospered when the minds of the people were left free. In all countries where learning and freedom have risen superior to intolerance and fanaticism, our Order has been supported by the wise and patronized by the great.

Our Supreme Council of the Scottish Rite is standing loyally for these great fundamental principles and, while some opposition appears here and there, yet the great battle for human freedom of thought and development of our higher mental faculties goes forward and the ultimate goal of our hopes and aspirations will yet be fulfilled, because they are right and just and true.

Our Grand Encampment of Knights Templar has also taken up this great work of aiding the deserving boys and girls of our country to complete their education and take their rightful station in life to render service to humanity.

The Mystic Shrine is also devoting its funds to relieve the crippled children of our country and give them an equality of opportunity in the race for life.

I believe our other general grand bodies should also take up some great altruistic work like fighting the great white plague instead of simply meeting every three years and participating in social functions and discussing rulings and decisions and then electing officers and adjourning for three years more. We are not deserving the gracious favor of our Heavenly Father unless our activities reach further than this.

Some one has well said: "Man in no respects so nearly approaches to the Diety, as when he confers benefits upon others." The Wise Master well said: "Let him that would be greatest among you be as one that serveth."

It is our duty to serve and do good to as many as possible and there is nothing greater in your fortune and nothing finer in your nature than that you should be desirous of doing this.

I am proud that our Grand Lodge has erected this quarter of a million dollar plant to care for, rear and train the orphan children of our brethren when the Grim Reaper has thrust in the sickle and garnered them into the harvest on the other shore. The small assessment we pay is but a pittance compared to the incalcuable good we do, and we ourselves will feel all the better for this service which we are rendering to those who have this just claim upon us.

Who can measure the results that may flow from this institution.

From here may emerge girls that will grace our homes and become the mothers of the future sons and daughters that will bless our country. From here boys may go forth to become lawyers, doctors, statesmen and leaders of thought and action. We cannot tell what possibilities may be wrapped up in their little bodies.

Pharaoh's daughter little dreamed of the wonderful consequences that depended on her charitable act when she drew the little Hebrew child, Moses, out of the waters of the Nile.

Yet the whole history of the world has been changed by the life of the great law-giver, poet and statesman of the children of Israel.

There is no law, thank God, that limits the returns that shall be reaped from a single good deed.

Our Heavenly Father has blessed our Order for the work it is doing for humanity. While many other fraternal orders have witnessed a decline in their membership in the past twenty-five years, yet our Masonic Fraternity has experienced a growth unparalleled in its history. In Louisiana today we have 34,000 Masons, whereas in 1900 we had only 6,000 members, or an increase exceeding 500 per cent, whereas the population has increased only 35 per cent in that same period of time. What a marvelous growth. Truly God has been with us and He will continue to guide and bless us if we so live and act as to deserve this gracious bounty at His hands.

Yes, my brethren, our Order has for us a far more noble and glorious purpose than simply hewing timbers and squaring stones, that of fitting immortal nature for its home beyond the empurpled skies. Builders are building for a century—Masons for eternity; painters are painting for a generation or so—but Masons for everlasting years.

The pyramids of Egypt occupied the work of 100,000 men for many years and yet they were only monumental piles beneath whose shadows kings might rest—only masoleums in which the bones of the mighty dead, like King "Tut," could repose in imperial magnificence. We are not building for the dead, but for the living—that they might be fitted to soar aloft to realms of ethereal bliss while leaving here the memory of a life devoted to service and the uplifting of the human race.

I grant you this is ideal Masonry, but unless you and I catch a correct vision of this ideal, then Masonry will not fulfill her mission, but be misjudged and criticized by those who know naught of her philosophy and purpose in the world.

Yes, my brethren, this is a great day for the Masonic Fraternity in Louisiana.

Let us go forward in this noble and glorious work.

Let us remember the precious jewels of the Fellowcraft and, while we heed the lessons of the "Attentive Ear, the Instructive Tongue and the Faithful Breast," let our footsteps be guided by the symbolic teachings of the Square, the Level and the Plumb. Remember:

The level's a jewel when it levels men up,
But not so if it levels them down;
And the Mason who levels his life by its gauge
Will be laureled at last with a crown.

But better than level is the right-angled square,
For it teaches greater lessons of love;
By its angle men's lives are tested as true,
In this world and the Home that's above.

We'll meet on the level and act by the square,
As Masons we know it's our duty to do;
And the world will be better and brighter and fair,
Because we've lived in it and journeyed life through.

Let us follow in the path of virtue. Let our aspirations be as grateful as its incense, our love warm as its flame and our charity diffusive as its fragrance. Let our heart be as pure as the altar and our conduct as acceptable as the offering, and thus we each will become a pillar of wisdom, strength and beauty adorning and upholding the majestic edifice of Masonry—Pillars upon which it will continue to stand until that time, when amid the universal wreck, the dazzling brightness of the day and the deep blue of the empurpled night shall fade.

> When, like the baseless fabric of vision,
> The cloud-capped towers, the gorgeous palaces,
> The solemn temples, the great Globe itself,
> Yes, all which it inherits, shall dissolve.

When those who can meet the test of the Grand Master of the Universe shall be clothed with the garments of immortality and be permitted to enter into that Celestial Lodge whose builder and maker is God.

"So mote it be."

The building was presented by Bro. L. E. Thomas, as Chairman of the Board of Trustees, and the acceptance speech was made by Grand Master H. B. Conner, who said in part:

When I behold this wonderful structure my thoughts turn to the years past when the first thoughts arose in our minds to erect a building where the children of Masons should have the benefits of tender care and careful instruction in right living. This is a debt long past due. I am glad that the Masons of Louisiana have realized their duty and have met it so nobly. We thank God for the opportunity to do for the Masonic orphans throughout our State. We thank each and everyone for the arduous task they have performed. My heart opens with joy to know that they will be given, not only bodily care and food, but be given a guardianship, education and spiritual care which will make of the little ones independent, God-fearing and fine citizens.

There is great rejoicing over the entire State on this occasion. Masons desire not only to serve God and their Maker, but also to be of service to their brother men. We must not lose sight of the hearty assistance accorded by the women of the Order of the Eastern Star in Louisiana. I have found, in my travels over the State, that they are as deeply interested in this work as any Mason could possibly be. This is a realization that has been in the hearts and minds of Masons for many years. They have responded generously with funds. It is a pleasure to all to take part in the dedication of this magnificent institution. May this be only the beginning of greater things. The Masons will respond to the call to build more units to take care of the wonderful work. All of you will go home with happy and light hearts, knowing that you have done well.

The Grand Master voiced the thanks of the Grand Lodge to the Masons of Alexandria for the splendid gift of the site and the spirit that prompted it, and to the architects who donated their services. He then called on the assemblage to gather closer around the front of the building and sing "America." This was done in a whole-hearted and enthusiastic way.

The Grand Lodge then returned to the hall of Oliver Lodge No. 84 and was closed in ample form.

New Masonic Temple at New Orleans.

There were also present Past Grand Masters E. H. Addington, Emil Sundbery, B. B. Purser, John W. Armstrong and Ira W. Sylvester. A number of representatives from Lodges outside of the City of New Orleans were in attendance.

The Grand Lodge was opened in ample form, and after the purpose of the call was announced by the Grand Master, proceeded to the corner of St. Charles Avenue and St. Mary Street, the brethren of the forty-five City Lodges being aligned on the intervening streets between St. Mary and Clio. The Grand Master, with the Officers, Past Grand Masters and the visiting representatives, then headed the procession, which, it was estimated, was participated in by at least 7500 members of the City Lodges, arranged for convenience in seven divisions, each led by one of the following several Masonic Bands of Music:

El. Karuba Shrine Band of Shreveport
Jerusalem Shrine Band of New Orleans
Jacques De Molay Commandery No. 2 Band of New Orleans
Indivisible Friends Commandery No. 1 Band of New Orleans
Shalimar Grotto Band of New Orleans
Shalimar Grotto Drum and Bugle Corps of New Orleans
Sons of Shriners Band of New Orleans.

The procession proceeded down St. Charles Avenue to Howard Avenue, to Camp to Canal (lower side) to Dauphine to Canal (upper side) to St. Charles to Perdido. When the site was reached, the Grand Master, Past Grand Masters and visiting representatives ascended the platform and reviewed the procession, after which the following program was followed:

"America," by the entire assembly
Opening remarks by the Grand Master - - - H. B. Conner
Presentation of silver trowel on behalf of M. W. Bro Wm. A. Rowan, Grand Master of New York Ceremony of laying Corner Stone by Grand Lodge of Louisiana
Address by Governor of Louisiana - - - - Bro. Hy. Fuqua

Oration - - - - - - - - - - - L. E. Thomas, P. G. M.
Doxology
Benediction - - - - - - - - - - Rev. Bro. R. H. Harper
Grand Chaplain of Grand Lodge of Louisiana

Before the ceremony of laying the corner stone began R. W. Bro. J. Paul Haller, Deputy Grand Master, read the following telegram, following which he handed Grand Master Conner the handsome silver trowel, which had been sent by Grand Master William A. Rowan of the Grand Lodge of New York, to be used in the ceremony:

J. Paul Haller, care John A. Davilla, Grand Secretary,

Masonic Temple, New Orleans, La.:

When indications pointed to possibility of my not being able to be present at corner-stone laying of your Temple I made inquiry through Brother Hendricks to ascertain if you would be willing to act for me in presentation of trowel to the Grand Master of Louisiana, and have word from him that you will be happy to do so. It is now definite that I will be unable to go and, therefore, will be greatly pleased if you will be so good as to represent me and make the presentation with assurances of my warm regards for your Grand Master and appreciation of the very friendly relations between the Grand Lodge of Louisiana and the Grand Lodge of New York, and with the hope that these relations will continue throughout all time. I leave the task in your hands for consummation.

WILLIAM A. ROWAN, Grand Master.

The copper box from the old corner stone, with its contents, was enclosed in a larger receptacle, which was placed in the space provided in the bottom of the stone, the several deposits being shown as follows:

Past Grand Master L. E. Thomas being prevented by illness from attending, the Grand Chaplain, Rev. Bro. Robert H. Harper, delivered the following Oration:

Nature seems to smile upon us as the thousands are gathered on this solemn occasion to lay the corner stone of this Masonic Temple.

The mists of the morning have cleared away and, in the glorious sunlight of the mid-afternoon and in the air which is balmy and prophetic of the the coming springtime, we meet to lay the foundation stone of this great and beautiful edifice. Nevertheless the shadows of sorrow fall darkly athwart the heart as we realize that Joseph Sinai is not in our midst to-day. He was a man worth while. As Lord Tennyson wrote of the Iron Duke of Wellington, we may now say of Joseph Sinai:

"O iron nerve to true occasion true,
O fallen at length that tower of strength
Which stood four-square to all the winds that blew.
Such was he whom we deplore.
The long self-sacrifice of life is o'er."

He was every inch a Mason, who met every man on the level. And he was every inch a Grand Master, whose gavel never fell but in justice, whose counsel was never given but in wisdom, whose leadership was never questioned, and whose noble and fearless soul was irreconcilably set against everything that would mar the character of a Mason. His was a great warm heart, that seemed ample to embrace all mankind in its affections. In such a heart there was no room for cant, or hypocrisy, or intolerance. And we pause here to pay our tribute of love and affection to him, whose quenchless love of the Craft, whose far-reaching vision and whose indomitable will made this great day possible. That "tower of strength" has fallen but, unlike the sightless giant of old who pulled down the temple of false gods upon him. Joseph Sinai has fallen, my brothers, that we might build here a beautiful temple unto the only true and living God. We have unwittingly slain our Grand Master, but while he, like one of old is raised to eternal light, the self-sacrifice and the unwearied service which hastened his death have made this great hour a reality. For the Supreme Architect, in his wisdom and goodness, has enabled other noble masters and craftsmen to follow the designs left on the trestle-board, to take up the well-worn implements which fell from Joseph Sinai's devoted hands.

Thus we see how true it is that day by day we are building upon the work which others have done in the past. In widely-separated lands of the world, among varied people and among savage tribes, the ceremony of laying a corner stone has been marked by human sacrifice. We have risen above such brute custom but it is still true that we build into our temples and into our civilizations of the present day the flesh and blood, the minds and souls of the mighty builders who have wrought before us. Only recently, in the death of that great citizen, Colonel Soule, the last of the building committee for our former temple, passed away. And to-day we would confess our debt to all the builders who have gone before us, and we rejoice that because of their labours and by reason of our own handiwork of the present day we are met to lay the corner stone of this great and beautiful temple.

This is indeed a sacred spot for here the craft have gathered these many years. It is a spot made sacred by sacrifice. The splendid temple which stood on Mount Moriah was built on a spot made sacred through a thousand years by sacrifice. In the far beginnings of the Israelitish race, it is recorded that God demanded that Abraham should offer his only son Isaac on a mountain in the land of Moriah. We can imagine the old man as he bound his only son to the altar. Then he reached forth his hand and took his knife to slay his son. We fancy the muscles as they played up and down in his uplifted arm. We can see the light as it gleamed along the blade that was sharp and keen. Then, in that moment in which the supreme sacrifice had already been made, an angel from heaven stayed the uplifted hand. Later this same spot was made sacred, so tradition records, by the sacrificial thought of two brothers for each other. Then, when a pestilence ravaged the realm of King David, and the destroying angel stayed his hand at the threshing-floor of Araunah the Jebusite, the King, in token of the deliverance of Jerusalem, came to the threshing-floor to offer sacrifice unto God. And this spot was also on the sacred brow of Mount Moriah, And here, too, one sacrificed his life rather than surrender his integrity. This was the spot where King Solomon built the temple, where the priests ministered and where, through long ages, the thousands of Israel gathered to offer sacrifice unto their God. So this spot here, in the centre of a great and flourishing city, is a spot sacred to Masonry, and it shall forever belong to those who pursue the noble tenents of our ancient Craft.

We rejoice on this day because it brings an eloquent revelation of Masonic progress in the city and in the state. These multiplied thousands of Masons who have marched a number abreast through our streets, these multiplied thousands of the Craft who appear here in the streets as far as the eye can reach, speak of the power to which Freemasonry has attained in our midst. And the fact that the Masons of the state have grown to require, and have waxed strong enough to build, such a magnificent temple as this will be as satisfactory proof of the commanding place which the Craft has in the life of our city and commonwealth. We loved the former temple which stood here for so many years. It was consecrated by some of the noblest spirits we have known. In the old building centered many precious memories. No doubt the Grand Master who officiated at the laying of the corner stone of the former temple voiced the prayer and the hope that ages and ages might pass away ere the box deposited in the stone should be seen by mortal eyes, even as Haney B. Conner to-day voiced the prayer and the hope that ages and ages might pass away ere mortal eyes should behold the articles placed within the massive corner stone of this great building. But the multiplying of the Craft and the increase of their strength demanded that only a comparatively few years should pass away ere mortal eyes should behold the articles that were placed in the corner stone of the former temple. It was my own privilege to see the box opened and to look upon the articles, placed within in the belief that generations might pass away ere they should be seen again. Thus rapidly have our brethren increased. And now their name is Legion. And we dwell upon these things, not in foolish pride, but in sincere gratitude to the Great Architect, because these things mean the triumph of the right, the diffusion of the light of truth and the reward of faith.

We rejoice that this hour has come because there is a measure of responsibility resting upon us because of our origin in operative masonry. We could not be content in this city made of buildings of wood and stone, where so many great buildings are being erected at the present time, to dwell in a house which has outlived its usefulness. We feel, indeed, some measure of responsibility in erecting a building that will adorn this growing city and lift its head high among all the others that will soon loom against the horizon.

But for more weighty reasons than this we are proud that this day has come. We rejoice because the erection of such a splendid temple means that the Masons of our jurisdiction desire to offer their best unto God. Mr. Ruskin wrote that he would be glad to see a marble church in every village in England, not because He who inhabits all space really needs the finest of earthly houses in which to dwell, but because the people desire to build the finest temple they know, to offer the best unto God. So let this beautiful temple, which shall rise in symmetry and strength toward the sky, be the enduring symbol of the desire of every good Mason to offer the best unto his God.

And this is the desire of every good Mason. This being true—that every Mason should offer his best unto his God, it is fitting on this ocassion that I say something of the tenets of Freemasonry. Think of the moral uses of the tools by which the corner stone was tested. There is the square of virtue, which teaches us to square our actions; the level which teaches equality and the plump which teaches rectitude of conduct. As these were applied to the foundation stone of this great edifice, so must they be applied to the foundation of right character. And in addition to these implements, Freemasons have taken all the working tools of the builder with them, and with history and tradition, have wrought out a beautiful symbolism of life and as fine a system of moralty as the world has ever known. We are seeking to realize a high morality through a brotherhood of men of like mind and purpose. No evil designs darken our assemblies; no sinister purposes thrive in our lodges. And while we make no high professions of our own worth, we can not fail to say, and we are not ashamed to say, that we bow to the noblest ideals of character which the heart has known, and we are ready to take all good men by the hand and join with them in the noble contention of those who would demonstrate who best can work and best can serve.

Our honorable Mayor, Arthur O'Keefe, who graces us with his presence to-day, has spoken in fitting terms of the high place which Masons have as good citizens in this city. It is not strange that Masons should desire to be good citizens. It is natural that the man who has entered into the sacred places of Masonry and dedicated his life to the building of right character should strive to be true in all the relationships of life. And we can assure our honorable Mayor that the Freemasons, who are gathered here by the thousands to-day, are a host of noble citizens who respect the law, the law which means the uniformity and harmony identical with private and public good, and can be depended upon to aid in the carrying out of every worthy enterprise for the upbuilding of our city. It is very likely, as the Grand Master has told you, that the members of the Boston Tea Party were all Masons. As a natural result of that equality which Masons teach and practice they could not but rebel against acts of tyranny and oppression. It is true that George Washington was a Mason; that Andrew Jackson, who beat back the invader from this beleaguered city more than a hundred years ago and received the gratitude and the homage of our citizens, was a Mason. And each one of these, who received so many earthly honors, never received a greater honor than that of the lambskin apron of our fraternity. It is true that a large number of the immortal men who signed the Declaration of Independence were Masons. It is true that many who have led our armies were Masons and that a host of those who have fought in the ranks and shed their blood for the liberties of this country were Masons. It is true that into the very warp and woof of the enduring and beautiful fabric of this great republic, the mighty mosaic of the ages, the tenets and the lives of Freemasons have been woven. It has been stained and colored with their blood in glorious hues that no time will have power to efface, and it has been made strong by the strength of the minds and souls of Freemasons, which have been freely given it. So it is not strange that to-day Masons may be counted upon as the defenders and champions of those things which have made America great. We would be false, utterly false, to our name and nature, and we would fail to keep faith with the illustrious dead, if it were otherwise. We believe in a democracy where the highest sit at meat with the lowest and brotherly love prevails. We stand for the free institutions of this land and we would guard them against any who might come to despoil us of our liberties and frustrate the designs of our fathers who came to this land to find a place where they might worship their God according to the dictates of their own conscience. It is natural, then, that we should be the champions of the public schools of this land, that we should believe in equality of opportunity for every American child—that every American child, who has been purchased for truth and liberty by the tears and blood of patriots, should have an equal opportunity with every other American child. And we yield to none in the strength of our allegiance to the beautiful flag which floats on high.

Finally, my brothers, may this beautiful building, which shall rise on this spot, be a symbol of Freemasonry. As the long piles have already been driven deep into the morass upon which our city is built until they reached a solid foundation and the mighty trip-hammer with all the power of steam could drive them no further, and as the firm concrete has been laid upon them, so does Masonry take its foundations in the deepest needs of human life. It goes down to the very depths of human experience. And as the foundation is laid beside one of the chief streets of our city, among the busy throngs of men, so do we find this great fraternity in the midst of men, men our brothers all around us, where we can all find a place to serve one another and to serve all in the busy scenes of human life. But, as the enduring ribs of steel shall be built upward toward the sky and as the brick and mortar shall be built around them, so shall Masonry ever rise above all little designs and the mother earth toward the sky. And as the walls shall be carried upward until the loftiest portion of our temple shall rise far above the smoke and vapors of our earthly life, the first to catch the light of the morning and the last to gleam with the golden rays of the twilight when the street below is shadowed in gloom, so shall Masonry ever lead the Mason to aspire toward God and to build a temple in which God himself shall see fit to abide. So may you, my brother, build your temple well in the midst of your fellows, laying its foundations staunch and true in every sphere and relationship of life where you may be, because you aspire toward God. And when you have placed the last plate of gold upon the lofty roof of your temple, gold which shall even then gleam in the light which shines from beyond the grave, in the light of eternity, and when from your nerveless fingers forever fall the well-worn tools of a worthy builder, may it be your portion to hear from the lips of Him who sitteth on the throne: "Well done, good and faithful servant; thou hast been faithful over a few things, I will make thee ruler over many things; enter thou into the joy of thy Lord."

The Grand Lodge then returned to the Shrine Mosque and was closed in ample form.

Two hundred and forty lodges and a quorum being present M. W. Grand Master Haney B. Conner declared the Grand Lodge open for business.

ANNUAL ADDRESS.

Brethren of the Most Worshipful the Grand Lodge of the State of Louisiana, F. & A. M.:

Three hundred and sixty-five days have passed since last we met; three hundred and sixty-five days of opportunity to serve God and man; days of opportunity to study and observe Freemasonry at work in its great process of opening the eyes of mankind to the fact that "All men are created free and equal,"—that intolerance and bigotry are removed in proportion to the extent that Masonic principles, whether recognized as such or not, are instilled in the hearts and minds of the individual members of society.

In the name of the Grand Lodge of Louisiana I welcome you to this, the one hundred and thirteenth anniversary of the founding of the Grand Lodge of Louisiana. May friendship and brotherly love prevail; may our minds be filled with the desire to serve our fellow man; may every moral and social virtue cement us; and may the Grand Architect of the Universe direct both you and me in the imporant work before us!

NECROLOGY.

Before considering other matters we pause in token of respect to those who, since last we met, have laid aside the working tools of life, and whose absence fills our hearts with sadness.

February 21st the Grim Reaper took from us our beloved Brother and Past Grand Master, Joseph Sinai. No man worked more zealously or ardently for the interest of Freemasonry or was loved more dearly by his brethren than did he whom we knew as "Joe." Truly, "a mighty man in Israel has fallen!"

He was born in New Orleans May 25, 1875, educated in the schools of New Orleans and Rolling Fork, Miss., and at the age of sixteen graduated from Aloysius College, Vicksburg, Miss., as valedictorian of his class, going from there to enter Washington and Lee University, Lexington, Va. He later graduated from the law department of Tulane University, and from that time to his death practiced his profession of law in New Orleans.

He was initiated in Alpha-Home Lodge No. 72, November 26, 1906, and his love for the fraternity, coupled with his foresight and knowledge, needed only the opportunity given him by his brethren in his many Masonic offices to secure his valuable services. And as they honored him so he honored them in his life and service.

On the 15th of December, after a long and painful illness, our dearly beloved Brother Adolph G. Ricks, was called to spend the remainder of his time in the life beyond the grave. Born in Germany in 1842, he came to New Orleans before reaching manhood, and here spent the remainder of his life. Always avoiding the limelight of publicity, his sterling qualities were recognized by his business associates, and at the time of his death he was President of three active corporations, and rendered valuable public service during his long and useful life. He was initiated April 14, 1882, and was a member of Kosmos Lodge, No. 171, of New Orleans. For nearly twenty-six years he served us as Right Worshipful Grand Treasurer, thus attesting to his great interest in Freemasonry, and showing the confidence that was rightly placed in him by his brethren. His departure fills our hearts with sadness.

The Committee on Necrology has prepared our tribute of respect to our departed brethren, which they will presently submit. We bow in humble submission to the will of our Heavenly Father, Who has, in His infinite wisdom, called them to their reward.

72. December 28th, to Calcasieu 400, to elect and install Secretary.

73. On the 11th of January, 1926, I granted dispensation to Albert Rousseau, Lodge No. 301, St. Martinville, to install its officers.

74. January 7th, to Jefferson Lodge No. 191, to meet in Scottish Rite Cathedral on Wednesday, January 20th.

Dispensations Refused.

1. April 17th, one of the Lodges in the City of New Orleans requested permission to transfer their meeting place from the Masonic Temple to Perseverance Lodge Hall, without the loss of any revenue to the Grand Lodge, which dispensation was refused.

2. June 10th, Bethany Lodge No. 360 requested dispensation to permit them to act on the application for the degrees on one who had lost all of three fingers and half of his thumb of his right hand, which dispensation was refused.

3. June 24th, I refused to grant dispensation to one of the Lodges in Alexandria to confer the M. M. Degree on more than five candidates at one and the same meeting.

4. June 30th, one of the Masonic Certificate Associations requested my approval of the selection of an emblem to distinguish its members, which was refused with the suggestion that the question could be brought up by one of its members before the Grand Lodge in session.

5. September 5th, I refused to grant a dispensation for a new Lodge at Lisbon, Claiborne Parish, for the reason that with other Lodges in close proximity, and the great improvement in our roads, the small territory and scant population that would be under the jurisdiction of the Lodge did not forebode successful Masonic undertakings.

6. October 15th, I refused to grant a dispensation for a new Lodge at Wisner, Franklin Parish, for the reason that Wisner is situated on the same railroad and also connected by excellent gravel roads with Gilbert, five miles north, and Sicily Island, eleven miles south; and the Lodges at these two places, namely, Dan Gilbert 405, with 70 members, and Keystone 213, at Sicily Island, with 61 members, now struggling to accomplish something for the cause, would be largely drawn upon to form the new Lodge.

7. October 17th, I refused to grant a dispensation for a new Lodge at Big Creek, Winn Parish. There were only nineteen signers to the application, eighteen of whom hailed from old Cross Roads 354, presenting Grand Lodge Certificates of good standing. There is a Lodge at Winnfield, ten miles west, one at Rochelle, twelve miles east, and another at Selma, fifteen miles south. None of the signers had attended Lodge as many as three times during the past year. In addition to the signers I was advised that the number of good prospects for membership in said Lodge were very few.

8. October 12th, I refused to grant a dispensation to one of the Lodges in the City of New Orleans to have a "Masonic Wedding," so-called, while the Lodge was called to refreshment, but stated that this need not interfere with their privilege as individuals, nor other arrangements connected with the ceremony.

9. December 17th, I refused to grant dispensation to Atchafalaya Lodge No. 163 to waive the examination as to the proficiency of an Entered Apprentice before conferring the Fellow Craft Degree, the Entered Apprentice being able to converse in the English Language but being more familiar and proficient with the French language.

10. January 12th, request was made for dispensation for a new Lodge to be known as Queensborough Lodge, to be located in Shreveport, Louisiana. The application bore twenty-three signatures, and only three of them were members of Lodges in Shreveport. The application was recommended by the District Deputy Grand Master and by Shreveport Lodge No. 115, and the new Lodge was to be headed by Brother Joe E. Johnston, Past Master of Shreveport Lodge No. 115. On account of the nearness to the annual election of officers of the Grand Lodge, I am referring the matter to the Grand Lodge.

Rulings and Decisions.

1. On February 12th, in answer to an inquiry from the Worshipful Master of Florien Lodge No. 263, I ruled that an applicant with a defect that makes it impossible to put the right heel to the ground, is ineligible to receive the degrees.

2. On March 7th, an inquiry from S. D. Kostenbader, claiming to be a member of the Craft in Pennsylvania, asking if we were in fraternal relationship with the Grand Orient of France, I replied that, because the Grand Orient of France refuses to recognize the territorial jurisdictions of the Various Grand Lodges in the United States, and had granted dispensations and charters in such territory, the Grand Lodge was not in fraternal relationship with the Grand Orient of France.

3. On March 9th, upon an inquiry from the Worshipful Master of Albert Pike Lodge No. 376, as to whether or not the fees and dues paid to the Lodge by Don Carlos Ryan, who was suspended by the Grand Lodge, should be returned to him, as was done in the case of Edward F. Biggs, also suspended by the Grand Lodge, I ruled that, in the Biggs case, the Grand Lodge ordered the return of all fees and dues, and, in the Ryan case, the Grand Lodge declared that Biggs was not a Mason. I stated that it is not in my power to say whether the Committee on Appeals and Grievances, or the Grand Lodge, had any idea relative to the return of the dues and fees in the Ryan case, but, since the verbiage of the Grand Lodge contained no reference to such return, I do not care to set aside or amend that verbiage, but will refer this matter to the Grand Lodge at its next annual communication.

4. On March 3rd, on inquiry from Jennings Lodge No. 249, I ruled that it was not necessary for the Lodge to form a local corporation in order for it to purchase and own real estate. The Grand Lodge of Louisiana has been recognized as a corporation, under the laws of the State, as being composed of all constituent or subordinate Lodges, therefore each Lodge already belongs to the one corporation.

5. On March 7th, on inquiry from Alpha Home Lodge No. 72, I ruled that any member of the Lodge had a right to inquire, and receive detailed information, regarding expenditure of the funds of the Lodge, including any money dispensed by the Worshipful Master for charity, and, if the Lodge votes any particular charity case, not a meritorious one, such payments should be discontinued; I also ruled that the payment of Lodge funds to an Instructor, as such, is an improper expenditure of Lodge funds, as the Grand Lecturers and Certificate men should take care of such instructions.

6. On March 7th, to Alco Lodge No. 416, I ruled that an applicant in possession of the thumb and the third finger of his right hand, and the first digits of his fore finger and middle finger, is able to give all the grips and signs, and therefore, is not ineligible on account of the loss of his little finger, and a portion of each of the fore and middle fingers.

7. On February 17th, to Rayne Lodge No. 313, I gave the following opinions:

(1) A Mason is just as much bound to obey a summons from another Lodge, as he is from his own, and, if he cannot obey it, he must give a satisfactory excuse to the Worshipful Master of the Lodge from which the summons emanates.

(2) The attorney for the accused, as well as the prosecutor, cannot compel the Lodge to submit copies to him of papers regularly filed with the Lodge; however, in justice to the accused, and the Lodge, such copies should be furnished by the Lodge, where too much time and labor is not involved. The attorney for the accused, the prosecutor and any other member of the Lodge, has a right to examine all papers regularly filed with the Lodge.

(3) When charges have been preferred, and the Committee reports a trial necessary, the Junior Warden, by reason of the office he holds, is to prosecute during the trial.

(4) The accused, having the right to the employment of the assistance of another brother to act as his attorney, the right cannot be denied of the Junior Warden or Prosecutor to employ another Brother to act as his attorney in the case.

(5) If the Junior Warden is not acting as the Prosecutor, he has no rights over that of any other member of the Lodge, he being deemed to have surrendered them along with the surrender of his prerogative to act as the prosecutor; however, the Junior Warden, when acting as Prosecutor, either him or his attorney acts as agents for the Lodge and for the accuser, and the order of calling witnesses for the prosecution is left entirely in the hands of the Junior Warden and his attorney, or assistant.

(6) During the trial, either while any witness is on the stand for either side, or after he has testified, he may be called back to further testify in the case.

(7) The entire membership of the Lodge, present, acts as the jury, with the possible exception of the accuser, and the certain exception of the accused. The accused has no vote; the accuser has no vote, when he has been the instigator in the preparing of the charges, and is the prosecutor during the trial. However, when the Junior Warden, or any other member of the Lodge, has been appointed or selected to conduct the trial on behalf of the Lodge, in that event he is not deprived of his vote.

(8) The right to question any witness, during a trial, belongs to each and every individual member of the Lodge, because they act as the jury in the case; courtesy, however, would be not to interrupt the prosecution or the defense, if they are unwilling to be interrupted, in which event the witness should be held, in order to answer questions by any member.

(9) A Masonic trial, in justice to the accused, and to the Lodge, must be conducted so as to bring out all of the facts possible in the case; it should be conducted with the idea and decorum pertaining to a civil trial, but trivial objections to the line of questioning, although such might be legal in court proceedings, should not be countenanced in Masonic trials. In contradistinction to court proceedings, a Masonic trial should throw on all the light.

8. On March 5th, to Caddo Lodge No. 179, I ruled that an applicant, who has lost all of the fingers of his right hand, except the thumb and forefinger, is ineligible to receive the degrees.

9. On March 25th, to Linn Wood Lodge No. 167, I ruled that it is entirely proper for the Lodge to accept payments tendered to it of any amounts that might be due to the Lodge by Past Master Percy J. Prosser, Jr.

10. On March 29th, to Hiram Lodge No. 70, where a candidate was elected to receive the Entered Apprentice Degree on July 21st, 1924, and against whom a complaint was made by a member of the Lodge, before the degree was conferred, the complainant asking that the matter be investigated, the Master appointing a Committee to investigate, the Committee making a report, clearing the applicant of the complaint or charge, I ruled that it would not be necessary for him to re-apply at this time, and, if there is no objection now standing against the applicant, he may present himself and legally receive the Entered Apprentice Degree in Hiram Lodge, without further application or balloting. This must be done, however, within a year after you notified him, and also at a time when there is no objection against him.

11. On April 6th, to Pitkin Lodge No. 338, at Cravens, Louisiana, relative to the jurisdiction over an applicant residing between Fullerton and Pitkin, I ruled that, an applicant living in Cravens could present his petition to either of the two Lodges, without jurisdiction being claimed by the other Lodge, on account of his residence being at equal distance from Cravens to each of the two Lodges. In cases of questionable jurisdiction, a waiver of jurisdiction should be granted.

12. On April 10th, to Lake Charles Lodge No. 165, I ruled that an applicant, who is partially paralyzed in his right hand, but who has the full use of his thumb, and who is able to give all of the grips of the three degrees, is not ineligible by reason of his partial paralysis.

13. On April 14th, to Athens Lodge No. 136, I ruled that a Lodge had a right to charge for affiliations, provided the by-laws contained such a provision, but should not charge for a demit.

14. On April 14th, to Milton W. Boylan, Past Master of Albert Pike Lodge No. 376, I ruled that a collection that is taken up by the Lodge, for Lodge purposes of any kind, becomes, ipso facto, the property of the Lodge. The Lodge can determine upon any legitimate application of such a collection at any time it sees fit, either before or after the collection, and, even though the disposition is so well established, as in the case of the Fraternal Assistance Cup, which is regularly passed around in some Lodges, in open session, any member of the Lodge has a perfect right to ask, and to know, the exact details of each and every disbursement, and the name of each beneficiary of such fund.

15. On April 21st, to Perfect Union Lodge No. 1, I ruled that an applicant for the degrees, who has lost practically all of his little finger, but who is still in possession of the thumb and fore finger and second finger, and half of the third finger of his right hand, is not physically handicapped to such an extent that he cannot give the necessary grips and signs, and therefore is not ineligible to receive the degrees, by reason of the loss of practically all of his little finger, and half of his third finger.

16. On April 23rd, to Alco Lodge No. 416, I ruled that, where more than a year has elapsed from the time an Entered Apprentice received his degree, and he expressed a desire to proceed with his advancement in Masonry, it is necessary to refer the application to an investigating committee, allow them at least four weeks to make their report, after which the Lodge must ballot on his advancement. This ballot then entitles him, if it be favorable, to receive the Fellow Craft Degree. Section 5, of Article 6, of the General Regulations, being specific enough for candidates who do not allow more than a year to elapse, but making no provision for those who have permitted such a lapse of time, is, nevertheless, the law of this Grand Lodge on this subject. Its provisions are "the ballot for advancement to be taken immediately after the examination"; since Edict 52 provides that a ballot for the advancement of a candidate should never be taken unless all the Brethren are satisfied of his proficiency in the preceding degree, and this should be ascertained verbally, I am bound to hold that you have a right to lecture him in the Entered Apprentice Degree before balloting on him for advancement. I will, however, add, that, in my opinion, this law is defective on this point, and, I think, should be changed to provide that, when one had permitted more than a year to elapse, the first vote of the Lodge would be to reinstate the applicant to the degree which he has already received; then, if the ballot be favorable, he should be lectured in the work of the preceding degree, and, after establishing his proficiency, be balloted upon for advancement.

17. On April 23rd, to St. Alban's Lodge No. 28, I ruled that the change in the date of meetings necessitated an amendment to the by-laws.

18. On April 23rd, with reference to an applicant to Oliver Lodge No. 84, I ruled that Edicts 70 and 167 referred to objections that are made prior to the conferring of the Entered Apprentice Degree, and that Edict No. 262 referred to one who has already received one or two of the degrees. Edict No. 90 states that, in the case of a Fellow Craft who had been elected to receive the Master's Degree, but who had been estopped by the written protest of a member of the Lodge, alleging that the candidate was unworthy, the Worshipful Master is bound to respect the protest, and the objecting member could not be required to make known the particular reason which influenced his action, while Edict No. 262 provides that, to estop permanently an Entered Apprentice or a Fellow Craft, charges must be preferred, the estoppel must be based on charges, established by due trial, and sufficiently grave to justify the Lodge in declaring the applicant unworthy. There is an apparent conflict between Edicts

No. 90 and No. 262, but, in such respects as the two Edicts do not conflict, both are still in full force and effect; but, to whatever extent they do conflict, then the one bearing the latest date has priority over that of an earlier date, the latter one being the last expression of the Grand Lodge on the subject. But, Edict No. 90 has reference to a case in which the objector stated that the candidate was unworthy, and, therefore, unless the objector has stated that the applicant is unworthy, I would hold that, disregarding the possible conflicts between Edicts 90 and 262, Edict 90 could not apply. Therefore, I hold that if an Entered Apprentice has been initiated, as a result of a legal ballot, and some member objected to him proceeding further, that such objection could not be considered as permanent, and need not be considered at all, unless good and sufficient reasons are given, except in the case where the objector states that the candidate is unworthy, in which event the objection is good only for the period of six months, and cannot, under any circumstances, be made permanent.

19. On May 6th, on an inquiry from David R. Graham Lodge No. 413, through the Grand Secretary, relative to a member of a Lodge in Mexico, which recognizes as its Grand Lodge, the Grand Lodge of Valle de Mexico, from which Grand Lodge we have withdrawn fraternal recognition, and which individual has been a resident of New Orleans for some years, and now desires to become a member, I ruled as follows: That the Grand Lodge of Valle de Mexico was, at one time, recognized by the Grand Lodge of Louisiana, during which time the applicant in question was a member of one of their constituent Lodges, and visited our Lodges. A member of a Lodge, under the jurisdiction of any Grand Lodge with whom the Grand Lodge of Louisiana has severed fraternal relations, is not entitled to visit a Lodge in this Grand Jurisdiction; such a member, however, having sufficient legal residence in Louisiana, who applied for membership in one of our Lodges, and we having severed fraternal relations with the said Grand Lodge, not because of any fault or objection to the degree work conferred by the Lodges in the said Grand Jurisdiction, he comes to us, not as a clandestine Mason, but as an irregular Mason.

The procedure with such an applicant should be to have the application take its regular course, and be balloted on, the same as any one who had never received any degrees, but the only degree work necessary for such an applicant is the taking of the obligation in each of the three degrees.

20. On May 27th, Collinston Lodge No. 375 advised that they had received an application from one who was formerly rejected by the Lodge at Bastrop, to which application is attached what purports to be a waiver of jurisdiction from the Lodge at Bastrop, by two of the three first officers, and three other members, and the question is asked if Collinston Lodge can legally act on such an application.

I ruled as follows: Section 8 of Article 6, provides that a candidate, in such a case, must receive the "recommendation" of a certain five members of the Lodge in which he was rejected. This law does not give these five members the right to waive jurisdiction, in cases where the applicant continues to reside within the territorial jurisdiction of the rejecting Lodge; it does, however, constitute a legal waiver, in case where the applicant removes his residence, and becomes a resident, living within the territorial jurisdiction of another Lodge. In the instant case, the rejected applicant is still living in Bastrop; therefore, before your Lodge can legally act upon his application, it will be necessary for the Lodge at Bastrop to waive its jurisdiction by a vote of the Lodge.

21. On May 7th, Concordia Lodge No. 305 advised that a sojourning Brother from Arkansas was tried, convicted and suspended for un-Masonic conduct by Concordia Lodge, and is now applying to his Lodge in Arkansas, and to Concordia Lodge for reinstatement, and they desire to know how to proceed. I ruled that they should be governed by the requirements of the Grand Lodge of Arkansas in the matter, and to take the case up with the Grand Secretary of the Grand Lodge of Arkansas, and act in accordance with his instructions.

22. On May 27th, to J. O. Modisette, Past Master of Jennings Lodge No. 249, I ruled that the Grand Lodge of Louisiana has never taken any official notice or recognition of what is known as "the wife and daughter degree," and, such being the case, the question of who is eligible for such a degree is not to be determined by this Grand Lodge, as it takes no cognizance of such a degree.

23. On May 27th I received a statement of the following facts from Orleans Lodge No. 397.

A man applied to Osiris Lodge No. 300 for the degrees, and, after receiving the Fellow Craft Degree, was rejected, and, in July, 1921, he applied to Orleans Lodge, presented what purported to be a waiver from Osiris Lodge, signed by five of its members, two of whom are among the first officers of the Lodge. The application was then rejected by a ballot in Orleans Lodge. He was again rejected by Orleans Lodge in April, 1922. Recently, however, he applied for advancement to Osiris Lodge No. 300, without the knowledge of Orleans Lodge, was elected and received the Master's Degree. The question is, have the degrees been legally conferred. I ruled as follows: Section 8 of Article 6, General Regulations, provides for the "recommendation" of five members of the rejecting Lodge, but does not cover the question of jurisdiction. This law does not give these five members the right to waive jurisdiction in cases where the applicant continues to reside within the territorial jurisdiction of the rejecting Lodge; it does, however, give another Lodge the right to act upon the petition of an applicant who removes his residence, and who becomes a resident, living beyond the territorial jurisdiction of the rejecting Lodge, and within the jurisdiction of another Lodge. Where the rejected applicant continues to live within the territorial jurisdiction of the rejecting Lodge, the only way that its jurisdiction can be waived is by a vote of the rejecting Lodge. If Osiris Lodge did not vote and waive its jurisdiction on the applicant, then Orleans Lodge never had legal jurisdiction over him, and, any action by Orleans Lodge was null and void, and the applicant was continually under the jurisdiction of Osiris Lodge, and, if they elected him to receive the degrees he is now a regular Mason, in good standing, if the degree has been conferred upon him.

24. On May 27th, I received an inquiry from Pine Grove Lodge No. 288 at Ponchatoula, regarding the jurisdiction of an applicant for the degrees who resides halfway between Ponchatoula and New Orleans, and asking if they should be guided by the Parish lines. My ruling was as follows: An applicant for the degrees, who lives an equal distance from two Lodges, should petition that Lodge which is most accessible to him by the usual methods of transportation, and, in the event that one is as accessible to him as the other, he may exercise his choice in the matter. Parish lines do not govern the question of jurisdiction.

25. On June 2nd, Hiram Lodge No. 70 advised that charges were preferred against one of its members on August 8th, 1924, a Committee appointed by the Worshipful Master wrote him and received no reply. On October 8th, 1924, the accused was furnished with a copy of the charges, and the names of the witnesses, and he replied that the charges were false, and asked that the matter be held up until he could appear personally. Several times since he has promised to be in New Orleans on certain dates, but failed to appear. The question is, did the Lodge have the right to proceed with the trial, and also desires to know, if he was convicted during his absence, could he demand and receive a new trial, under the provisions of Section 6 of Article 7. My ruling was as follows:

Section 6 of Article 7 provides that, if your Lodge convicts a member, during his absence, and without having furnished him with a copy of the charges, he could demand, and receive, a new trial upon his return; but, since you have given him a copy of the charges, he possesses no right to demand a new trial; however, until the local Lodge has lost its jurisdiction, it is within the province of the local Lodge to either grant or refuse a new trial. The important thing to consider in this case is whether the Master of the Lodge informed the accused that the trial would not be had until he was present. If such a promise was made to him, he should first be notified that a delay of several months has been permitted to give him an opportunity to be present, and now the Lodge will proceed with the trial, without waiting any longer.

26. On June 7th, Hiram Lodge No. 70 advised the receipt of an application for the degrees from one who was rejected by Magnolia Lodge No. 120, of Biloxi, Mississippi, over three years ago, and who states that he has resided in New Orleans for one year; that the petition was accompanied by a letter from the Secretary of Magnolia Lodge, advising that the petitioner was at liberty to petition any Masonic Lodge in any jurisdiction. The question is, does a residence of one year establish a legal residence in this State. I ruled as follows: The word "legal" refers, not to the laws of the State of Louisiana, but to the laws of this Grand Lodge, and, actual, bona fide residence of one year in the State, and six months in the jurisdiction of the Lodge, is sufficient to bring the applicant under our jurisdiction.

27. On March 20th, the following facts were reported from Oberlin Lodge No. 274. A single man, formerly residing at Reeves, with his parents, and who was a registered voter at Reeves, previous to November, 1924, but who now is boarding at a hotel in Oberlin, petitioned Oberlin Lodge on January 14th, 1925, for the degrees. They desire to know if they have jurisdiction over the applicant. After securing certain information, I ruled as follows, on June 7th. The application, dated January 14th, 1925, was made too soon after his removal from Reeves, and it should not be acted upon; however, as sufficient time has since elapsed, he is now a legal resident, registered voter at Oberlin, and, with a new petition, bearing current date, you can legally receive and act upon his petition. Whenever a single man leaves his parental abode, and becomes a legally registered voter at another place, that establishes his legal domicile, and settles the question of jurisdiction of a Lodge over such an applicant.

28. On May 13th, Lake End Lodge No. 325 at Ajax, Louisiana, advises that Silent Brotherhood Lodge, at Coushatta, claimed Jurisdiction over applicants who lived nearer Coushatta than Ajax, but who were separated from Coushatta by Red River, across which the ferry charges double rates after sundown, and which ceases operation at midnight. I ruled that the application should be made to the Lodge most convenient to the residence of the applicant, provided that, when the application is made to the Lodge which is not the nearest to his residence, that notice of the application be given to said nearest Lodge, and provided further that, if said nearest Lodge deems proper, for reasons, to protest, it may do so to the Grand Master, whose decision shall be final, as is provided in Article 6, Section 11, of the General Regulations.

29. On June 5th, Lake Charles Lodge No. 165 advised as follows: At our next regular communication a petition is due for action. The applicant has been twice rejected, one member of the investigating Committee has received a letter from a Mason in San Antonio, who claims to have known the applicant for the last fifteen or eighteen years, a more beautiful endorsement I have never read. Would it be a Masonic offense to read the letter in open Lodge prior to the taking of the ballot? It seems to me that, reports of this kind, going to the Investigating Committee only, would be of little value. My reply was as follows: Letters received by an Investigating Committee, relative to an applicant, may be read in open Lodge. Edict 260 must, however, be observed, which provides that, any Brother who exposes his ballot, or declares how he will or has cast his ballot for a degree, or advancement, is subject to Masonic discipline.

30. On June 10th, Bethany Lodge No. 360, I ruled that an applicant, who has lost all of three fingers and half of the thumb from his right hand, is ineligible to receive the degrees.

31. On June 18th, on an inquiry from Mackey Lodge No. 122, I ruled that it is entirely proper for any Lodge to call a special meeting for the purpose of conferring degrees upon candidates. It is also proper for special meetings to be called for the purpose of examining a Brother in any of his degree work. In both of the above cases, it is not necessary to notify all members within hail, provided a meeting is called and clearly stated at a regular meeting of the Lodge; however, whenever a special meeting is called for the purpose of balloting on a candidate for any degrees, it is necessary to comply with the provisions of Edict No. 123, which stipulates that all within hail must be notified.

32. On June 11th, I received the following communication from Rayne Lodge No. 313. A member of Rayne Lodge, while a resident of Lafayette, was tried by Hope Lodge No. 145 at Lafayette for un-Masonic conduct, and indefinitely suspended. If he applies for reinstatement, should his application be made to Hope Lodge, 145, or to Rayne Lodge, 313? I ruled as follows: Article 7, Section 8, General Regulations, shows how an expelled Brother can be reinstated. It also states that, in cases of application for reinstatement, other than for suspension for non-payment of dues, but does not specify to what Lodge the application for reinstatement should be made. It does, however, specify that, anyone who has been expelled, a vote of the Lodge which expelled him is required. I must, therefore, hold that, in case of an indefinite suspension, he can be restored to membership only after a vote of the Lodge which suspended him.

33. On June 19, to Fellowship Lodge No. 217, asking if it is necessary to amend the by-laws to raise their dues from Two Dollars per annum to Four Dollars, exclusive of the per capita tax for the Orphans' Home, I ruled that it was necessary to amend the by-laws.

34. On June 15th, Brother N. R. Allen, District Deputy Grand Master at Denham Springs, advised that, at a meeting of Denham Springs Lodge No. 297, an application from a profane, who had not been in the jurisdiction of the Lodge for six months, was acted upon favorably by the Lodge. When the candidate reported for initiation, Brother Allen stopped the proceedings, and asks, when the six months are up, should the candidate make another application, and should the Master appoint another Committee, and should the Lodge wait another four weeks before balloting again, or should the old petition be balloted upon when the six months have expired. I ruled as follows:

It is necessary only to wait until a lapse of six months from the date that the applicant moved into the jurisdiction of Denham Springs Lodge. Any and all action by the Lodge in the first instance was null and void. Either secure a new application, or get the candidate to write a new date in the old one. The application will have to take its regular course.

35. On June 11th, Cheneyville Lodge No. 286, asked the following questions:

(1) A former member lost his demit, and asked for a duplicate. I ruled that the duplicate demit should be issued.

(2) J. L. Anderson received his Entered Apprentice Degree in Texas, and after several years applied to Cheneyville Lodge, and was rejected. He has since petitioned Forrest Hill Lodge. Does Cheneyville Lodge hold jurisdiction? To which I replied: That all depends upon where he lived when he applied to Cheneyville Lodge, where he lived at the time he applied to Forrest Hill Lodge, what length of time elapsed between his rejection in Cheneyville and his application to Forrest Hill, and whether the provisions of Section 8 of Article 6, General Regulations, have been complied with.

(3) D. P. McNutt petitioned Cheneyville Lodge and received the Entered Apprentice Degree, but was stopped in the Fellow Craft. The time will soon be up, if the six months' rule applies, and we desire to know if a new petition is necessary or can he take the Fellow Craft Degree if no further objection is raised? To which I ruled that an Entered Apprentice could be permanently stopped only upon charges being preferred against him, and a trial had. It is not necessary to have a new application, and, when the six months have elapsed, you can go ahead and confer the Fellow Craft Degree upon him, to which he was elected some time ago, provided there is no other objection made.

36. On June 16th, Graham Surghnor Lodge No. 383, at Monroe, advises that a member of Island Lodge No. 75, Philippine Islands, applied for a demit in 1923, which demit was granted, but never reached the applicant, and the question was asked what they should do. I ruled it was necessary for them to secure a duplicate demit before he could be affiliated.

37. On July 10th, Crowville Lodge No. 370, I ruled that the matter of a Masonic trial was not dependent upon any action taken by the Grand Jury, or by any court, and the Lodge should proceed in the matter as though it was the only court involved in the matter.

38. On July 10th, Mackey Lodge No. 122, received requests for demits from two of its members on June 20th, and desired to know whether or not they could be forced to pay a portion of the 1925 dues. I ruled that they would have to pay that portion of the 1925 dues as required by the by-laws of the Lodge, and that, if no charge was pending against him, upon the payment of this amount, demit must be granted.

39. On July 10th, upon inquiry from Saints John Lodge No. 153 at Algiers, relative to the action upon petitions from residents of Jefferson Parish, I ruled as follows: While it is true that William D. White Lodge is doing its work in Algiers, it is, nevertheless, the fact, that this Lodge was granted a charter to meet at Gretna, Jefferson Parish, and it has never legally moved its domicile, so far as I know. I understand the reason, etc., and make no complaint, but must render my opinion, based on the facts. William D. White Lodge, being legally domiciled in Gretna, Jefferson Parish, I therefore hold that Saints John Lodge No. 153 should not act upon petitions for the degrees from residents of Jefferson Parish, unless it is more convenient for them to travel to Saints John Lodge than to travel to William D. White Lodge. Of course, all such applications for the degrees that come to you can be legally considered by your Lodge, provided you secure the waiver from William D. White Lodge for all those who are residents of Jefferson Parish, and who have not previously applied.

40. On July 8th, Crowley Lodge No. 243 advises that, when balloting upon an applicant, there was not a sufficient number of black cubes for use of all those who desired to use them, and the question is asked is the ballot illegal, by reason of the fact. I ruled as follows: It should not be necessary to make a ruling on the matter, but the only ruling that could be made would be that Crowley Lodge must suspend operations until it secures more cubes; but, if the Master of the Lodge, in a case of this kind, would state to the membership that, if the result of the ballot was not satisfactory to any member of the Lodge, the ballot would be declared null and void, there would be no trouble.

41. On July 21st, to the W. M., Noble Lodge No. 320, with reference to an objection against a Fellow Craft being advanced, I ruled as follows: If the Brother, a member of your Lodge, had objected only to other members of your Lodge, and has not spoken to you about stopping the candidate, you should proceed as though nothing had ever been said on the subject, unless you deem it necessary to investigate; and, if the Brother in question has told you that the candidate should not be advanced, or that he objects to the candidate being advanced, but does not say that he considers the candidate as unworthy, then you need pay no attention to his objection. However, if the objector has told you personally, as Master, that he objects to the candidate, because he believes him to be unworthy, then you must give that report, and his objection, consideration for a period of six months after your Lodge has balloted on his worthiness to receive the Master's Degree. To permanently estop an Entered Apprentice, or a Fellow Craft, charges must be preferred against him, and a trial had.

42. On July 21st, to Brookville Lodge No. 161, I ruled that, before they could act upon a petition of an applicant living nearer Mer Rouge than Oak Grove, they should secure a waiver of jurisdiction from the Lodge at Mer Rouge.

43. On July 23rd, Graham Surghnor Lodge No. 383, asked for a dispensation to appoint and install a Senior Deacon. I ruled that no dispensation was necessary.

44. On July 25th, Mackey Lodge asked regarding the jurisdiction of a man who has lived in Eunice for the past twenty years, but, since May 1st, has been in the jurisdiction of Mackey Lodge. I ruled that he would either have to remain in the jurisdiction of Mackey Lodge for a period of six months, or they would have to secure a waiver of jurisdiction from Harmony Lodge No. 410 at Eunice, Louisiana.

45. On July 25th, to Mackey Lodge No. 122, I ruled that, since no appeal had been taken in the case of a trial, the Lodge had a right to order a new trial by a majority vote of the Lodge.

46. On July 25th, to Bernice Lodge No. 239, I ruled that one who had received the Entered Apprentice Degree, and against whom objection had been raised, could be balloted upon for the Fellow Craft Degree, unless the objector had stated to the Master that the candidate was unworthy, and practically repeated my ruling in the Alexandria case. (See Ruling No. 23.)

47. Alpha Home Lodge No. 72, presents the following: On July 7th the Senior Warden moved that the Worshipful Master be instructed to write a member of the Lodge to the effect that he would be summoned to appear and explain his conduct, which motion was ruled, by the Worshipful Master, as being out of order. Then another motion was made by the Senior Warden, that the Worshipful Master write the Brother in question regarding his conduct, and be given ten days to answer, at the end of which time the Worshipful Master should act as he sees fit, which motion was likewise ruled out of order. It also appeared that the Worshipful Master had written to the member in question on July 26th, and so stated to the Lodge on July 7th. The question was asked, did the Worshipful Master have the right to declare the motion out of order, he having stated to the Lodge that, if charges were preferred against the member in question, the same would be given every consideration.

I ruled that the Worshipful Master was correct in exercising his judgment in the matter as to whether the motion should be considered.

48. On September 4th, Linn Wood Lodge No. 167 presents the following: On account of sickness in his family, or for other good reasons, it is not possible, or convenient, for the Treasurer to attend all meetings of the Lodge; because of his absence, the Secretary has made deposits in the bank, to the credit of the account kept by the Treasurer. He has had, in his possession, duplicate deposit slips for such deposits, which have been turned over to the Treasurer, and, during this time, has presented warrants for the Treasurer's signature. The question is asked whether the Treasurer should be compelled to be present at all meetings, or, in case of his failure to be present, should the Secretary be required to hold the funds and deliver them to the Treasurer at some time convenient to the latter. I ruled as follows:

The usual place for the transfer of money from the Secretary to the Treasurer is in the Lodge; any other place that might be mutually satisfactory would suffice; but, in the event that the Secretary does not want to run the risk of holding money in his personal possession, which would be necessary, in order to comply with the request of the Treasurer in this case, then the deposit of the funds in the bank, by the Secretary, to the credit of the account of the Treasurer, should not be questioned, and, when such deposits are occasioned, because of the absence of the Treasurer, then the Treasurer should accept such duplicate deposit tickets from the Secretary, which is sufficient.

49. On September 4th, to Glenmora Lodge No. 256, I ruled as follows: Whenever there is any indebtedness against the Lodge, the matter of granting a demit, with or without the payment of the pro rata of such indebtedness, rests entirely with the Lodge.

50. On August 25th, Robertsville Lodge No. 234 requested information with reference to suspension of members. I ruled as follows:

A resolution of the Lodge, to the effect that, when a member gets more than one year in arrears for dues, he can be automatically suspended from the Lodge, whenever that time has elapsed, is null and void, and of no force and effect, it being in violation of the laws of this Grand Lodge. There are two classes of members that are sometimes suspended for non-payment of dues, and the law is different in each case. The first class, and the method of procedure, is stated in Section 2 of Article 10, General Regulations. The second class, and the method of procedure, is found in Section 3 of Article 10 of the General Regulations. A member stricken from the rolls, under the provision of Section 2, must apply for reinstatement, while it is expressly provided in Section 3, that a Brother suspended for non-payment of dues, under the provisions of Section 3, may be reinstated by a majority vote, at any stated meeting. You will also find, in Section 4, of Article 10, that no dues shall be charged during the time a member is dropped from the rolls, or is suspended.

51. On September 4th, to Winn Lodge No. 111, who stated that they had a man who wanted to apply for the degrees, whose parents were never married, I ruled as follows. Edict No. 311. "When a man is legitimate by birth, or under the laws of the State, he is born of honest parents, as required by the ancient rules and regulations."

52. On September 4th, Alco Lodge No. 416, asks the following question: Is it possible for a man to be elected for initiation when the committee reported unfavorably, and failed to be present at the casting of the ballot? My ruling was Edict No. 21 provides "no one can be admitted to our mysteries so long as a brother of the Lodge objects to him as unworthy; if, however, the candidate has secured his first degree, he cannot be estopped, except by having charges preferred against him." Therefore, the Committee having reported unfavorably on the applicant, the Master should consider this report as an objection, on the ground of unworthiness.

53. On September 15th, Tyrian Lodge No. 378, presents the following: At a special meeting, called for balloting on candidates, at which the worshipful Master was absent, but the Senior Warden, and the Junior Warden, were present, the Senior Warden appointed another member of the Lodge to preside, and, when one black cube was found in the ballot, he declared the candidate rejected. The Junior Warden then stated that a second ballot should be taken; a member of the Lodge questioned the right of the Junior Warden to disclose the ballot, then considerable discussion was had. Finally, the second ballot was taken, with the same result, and, a member of the Lodge, thinking the applicant could be splendid material, desires to know if the procedure was illegal, because of the discussion and confusion. I ruled that the meeting was entirely legal.

54. On September 21st, I received the following inquiry from one of the Lodges in the City of New Orleans. Has a Masonic Lodge the right to withhold a member's 1925 card, if his assessment for 1924 is unpaid, although the Lodge has accepted his check for 1925 dues? My ruling is as follows: "Card," is a very indefinite; all cards do not bear the same wording. "A receipt should be issued by the Secretary for money received from any member of the Lodge, and the receipt should show what the member is paying for." "A Lodge has the right to suspend a member for failure to pay his assessment."

55. On September 21st, 1923, a member of Denham Springs Lodge No. 207 propounds the following questions:

(1) Has the charter of a certain specified Lodge been arrested. My answer was that there might be some good reason for the question, but, unless the reason was given, I preferred not to answer the question.

(2) Who holds jurisdiction over a prospective applicant who was rejected by a Lodge some two or three years ago, but who has since moved out of the jurisdiction of the Lodge, and has lived in the jurisdiction of another Lodge for over six months? In answering, I quoted the following: Article 6, Section 9, General

Regulations, "The applicant shall not apply to any other Lodge without receiving the recommendation of at least five members of the Lodge by which he was rejected, two of whom must be of the first three Officers of the Lodge." This procedure applies only to those cases where the individual has moved away from the jurisdiction of the rejecting Lodge. Section 13, of Article 6, General Regulations, "An applicant for initiation, who has been more than three years rejected, shall, after a change of residence to the jurisdiction of another Lodge, be entitled to present his petition for initiation to the Lodge of his residence, as though he had not previously applied for the Degrees, provided that the petition shall be accompanied by a certificate from the Lodge of his first application, stating that it has no record or knowledge of charges against his mental or moral standing."

(3) Has one Lodge the right to object to the conferring of the degrees upon a candidate in another Lodge? I answered as follows: Yes, any Lodge, or any individual member, has the right, and they should exercise it, of objecting to any unworthy material being taken into Masonry, regardless of whether the objecting Brother be a member of that same Lodge, or some other Lodge. Read Edict No. 22. In which case it is the duty of the Lodge to consider and weigh the objection carefully; if they deem the objection valid, they should exclude the applicant, and, naturally, the converse thereof would hold good, but only after careful consideration of the objection.

56. On September 24th, to Victoria Lodge No. 344, I ruled as follows: The loss of the first articular joint of the thumb of the right hand does not disqualify an applicant for initiation.

57. On September 24th, Calvin Lodge No. 347 propounds the following question: Can the Senior Warden open the Lodge at its regular meeting, and, in the absence of the Master, and, in the absence of the charter, which was temporarily in the hands of the Worshipful Master; and is work done at such a meeting lawful? The statement was made that it was customary for the Master to take the charter home with him after each meeting closed. I ruled as follows: The temporary placing of the legal charter in another place for safe keeping would not render the work of the Lodge null and void. I would, therefore, hold that the meeting was perfectly legal.

58. On September 28th, to Capitol Lodge No. 399, of Baton Rouge, in answer to a question with reference to dropping members from the roll, I ruled that, if the notice to the members did not state the amount due by them, and also summon him to pay, or show satisfactory cause, in person, or in writing, why the same has not been paid, they could not be suspended without such notice; I also quoted Sections 2 and 3 of Article 10 of the General Regulations.

59. On September 22nd, to B. R. Bennett, District Deputy Grand Master of the Eighteenth District, I ruled that, in a case where the Master of a Lodge, and one of the members of said Lodge had had a quarrel, the Senior Warden did not possess the right to appoint the so-called Secret Committee, because said Committee is only legally brought into action after charges have been preferred, and that the trial of the Master belonged exclusively to the Grand Lodge. There is no objection, however, to the Senior Warden, or any other members of the Lodge, trying to effect a reconciliation.

60. On September 29th, to Olla Lodge No. 303, relative to the jurisdiction of applicants engaged in road construction, living at Lake Charles, Louisiana, but who did not stay in one place long enough to make application in the regular way, I ruled that, if they maintained their families at Lake Charles, or if they had their legal residence in Lake Charles, that they are, Masonically, under the jurisdiction of the Lodges located in Lake Charles, and must apply to either of the Lodges there, and that it would not be proper for any other Lodge to act on their applications, without a waiver of jurisdiction.

61. On September 28th, I received the following inquiries from R. F. McGuire Lodge No. 209:

(1) Has the Lodge the power or authority to make members life members, when there is no provision for such in the by-laws of the Lodge? To which I replied as follows: The matter depends upon the verbiage of your by-laws. If it could be possible, which is doubtful, that you have a set of by-laws that entirely omits all reference to dues and assessments that are to be paid by its members, then I would hold that your Lodge would have the right to make life members; but, presuming that your by-laws contain the provision that every member must pay certain dues, and such assessments as may be levied by the Grand Lodge, then your Lodge does not possess the right to make life members, unless there is provision therefor in its by-laws. Edict No. 159 makes it unlawful for a Lodge to suspend its by-laws by any vote, for any purpose.

(2) Has the Lodge the power or authority to remit Grand Lodge dues, fees, etc., of life members? To which I replied as follows:

A Lodge has the authority to remit Grand Lodge dues, fees, etc., of life members, provided such life members are provided for in its by-laws, but such remission would be in effect only insofar as it applied between the life member and his local Lodge, and the Grand Lodge would still be entitled to receive Grand Lodge dues, fees, etc., for such members from the local Lodge, and the life member would not be considered clear on the books of the Grand Lodge until such Grand Lodge dues, fees and assessments were paid to the Grand Lodge, either by the local Lodge, or said life members.

(3) What is the status of life members, so-called, when made such by the Lodge, when they are not authorized to do so by the by-laws? To which I replied as follows:

They are not life members. Presuming that the procedure under which they were supposed to be made life members was by Lodge vote, it would seem that the Lodge was at much at fault as the member affected. Technically speaking, each one of them owes the Lodge the amount of the dues for the time involved, but the Lodge being a party to the agreement, thereby becomes both a debtor and creditor along with the other debtor. Unless the by-laws are properly amended, and such amendment approved by the Chairman of the Grand Lodge Committee on Law and Jurisprudence, and the Grand Master, such so-called life member should be immediately notified of the unintentional error made by the Lodge, and that they owe dues and assessments for the current year.

62. On October 13th, to Sykes Lodge No. 371, as to whether or not they should confer the degrees upon an applicant against whom objection had been made by a Mason, member of another Lodge, I ruled that the objection made by the visiting Brother should be given careful consideration, but the matter rested entirely with the Lodge. The objection of a visiting Brother does not have, however, the same validity and effect of estoppel that rests with a member of your Lodge.

63. On October 13th, Pine Grove Lodge No. 288 says there is objection to the reinstatement of certain members who were recently suspended for non-payment of dues, and asks whether or not they can be kept out unless charges are preferred against them. I ruled as follows:

That a member, suspended for non-payment of dues, may, by a majority vote, be reinstated at any stated meeting on payment of the amount due at the time of suspension, provided no charges be then pending against him. See Article 10, Section 3, General Regulations.

64. On October 16th, a practicing attorney in the State, a member of one of the regular Lodges, asked if he could be permitted, under our laws, to receive payment for representing a Masonic Brother in the matter of his trial before the Lodge, to which I ruled as follows:

A Brother is not compelled to represent another during a Masonic trial. The accused has the right to have some Brother act in his stead, provided one is found who will do so . While there is nothing un-Masonic in the acceptance of a fee for such services, provided such fee is given entirely without solicitation, however, the charging of the fee for such services, or any suggestion or statement that such services have been, or will be performed, with the expectation of receiving a fee, would be un-Masonic. One who represents another during a trial in a Lodge is evidently convinced that his Brother is in need of Masonic assistance, and to charge a fee for such assistance would not, in my opinion, be the proper spirit or helping a Brother in need.

65. On October 22nd, David R. Graham Lodge No. 413, submits the following: Certain members, who failed to obey a summons, were notified that a satisfactory explanation must be given by them at the next stated meeting of the Lodge, otherwise charges would be preferred against them for un-Masonic conduct. In answer to this notice, some of these Brethren were present at the next meeting of the Lodge, as requested, but, instead of making statements to members of the Lodge who had promptly obeyed the original summons, the excuse or explanation for their failure to obey the original summons was made individually to the Master of the Lodge. My ruling was asked, as to whether these excuses should have been made openly to the entire membership present. I ruled as follows:

Under the circumstances related, it would appear that the better procedure would have been to require these members to make their explanations openly to the entire membership present; however, according to the verbiage in Edict 144, I must hold that the Acting Master was within the law.

66. On November 2nd, R. F. McGuire Lodge No. 209 asked for an interpretation of Edict No. 240, relative to joint ownership and joint occupancy, to which I replied as follows:

Joint occupancy refers to occupancy of the same room, but is not meant to extend to different rooms in the same building. Under our law, joint occupancy cannot be cured by joint ownership. Joint ownership is not prohibited. Personally, I would advise against it, unless it were almost, if not quite impossible, to have a building otherwise. However, if different rooms are occupied, it is not unlawful.

67. On November 6th, to Robertsville Lodge No. 234, relative to the procedure with reference to an applicant who had taken his Entered Apprentice Degree in Humble Cottage Lodge at Opelousas, ten years ago, I ruled as follows:

Your Lodge should not act upon the application for advancement until after requesting and receiving from Humble Cottage Lodge their permission to act upon the application for advancement; if this be granted, then your Lodge can vote upon the worthiness of the member, and, if elected, he becomes the property of your Lodge.

68. On November 11th, to Center Lodge No. 244, I ruled that a member of the Lodge, who has been tried, found guilty and suspended by your Lodge, and who has appealed from the decision of the Lodge, is not entitled to visit the Lodge until he shall have been legally reinstated. See Edict No. 112.

69. Noble Lodge No. 320 presented a case of an applicant who moved to Noble on the 6th of April, and left on the 1st of October, contending that he had resided in the jurisdiction of the Lodge for a period of six months. I ruled as follows: Five months and twenty-six days does not constitute six months, within the meaning of Article 6, Section 1, of the General Regulations of the Grand Lodge.

70. On November 11th, Pine Grove Lodge No. 288, asking if it were possible for the testimony of a profane, taken for a trial, to be kept from the accused; I ruled as follows: It is necessary for the accused to be notified of the names of the witnesses, and the testimony of such as cannot attend the Lodge must be reduced to writing, and signed by the party giving it. See Section 30, Article 7, of the General Regulations.

While the language of the law is that the statement must be "affirmed" by the party giving it, it should be signed, if possible. In any event, the statement must not be kept from the accused.

71. On November 11th, to a member of Dan Gilbert Lodge No. 405, I ruled that a member could not vote by proxy in any matter coming before his Lodge.

72. On November 23rd, to Alexandria Lodge No. 398, I ruled that a simple objection was not permanent, but was limited to six months, and subject to renewal by a Lodge vote. Article 6, Section 4, Edict No. 22 states, however, as follows: "The objector should make known the reason of his objection, and, if deemed valid, the Lodge should exclude the candidate until fully satisfied of his worthiness."

73. On November 23rd, to Mount Gerizim Lodge No. 54, relative to the visit to their Lodge of Teflis Grotto of Monroe, I replied as follows:

While your Lodge is in session, or while called from labor to refreshment, there should be no appeal made in the lodgeroom that could be construed as a request or an invitation to join the Grotto, or any other organization of like nature. After your Lodge has finished its work for the day, and it has been properly closed, and the Masons present who desire to hear a discussion with reference to the Grotto, and are notified by the Master that their presence on such an occasion is purely a voluntary one, and is not the request of the Lodge, but the request of certain individuals, there is no objection to the use of the Masonic Temple for this purpose.

74. In the case of Sykes Lodge No. 371, a protest was received from a Lodge in Shreveport to the advancement of an Entered Apprentice residing in Shreveport, and who had applied to Sykes Lodge. After a short delay Sykes Lodge proceeded to confer the other degrees. The first information coming to me on the subject was that the objection from Shreveport was based on the grounds of jurisdiction, since the Entered Apprentice was married, and employed in Shreveport, living and voting in Shreveport, and I requested Sykes Lodge to remit the fees received by them to Shreveport. This was delayed for several months, requiring voluminous correspondence, during which time it developed that the objection from Shreveport, while due partially to jurisdictional reasons, was further augmented by the statement that the candidate was considered improper material. Finally Sykes Lodge sent the remittance to Shreveport. It finally came to my attention that the following correspondence composed a part of the volume in the case. A telegram of January 24th, addressed to Sykes Lodge "Understand L. H. Kirkland to take Third Degree today. I hereby place protest of his advancement. Particulars by mail. Wire reply," signed by C. I. Hood, Worshipful Master, Caddo Lodge 179. Telegram dated same date, addressed to C. I. Hood, Worshipful Master of Caddo Lodge, replying: "Will await your letter for particulars before proceeding." Signed W. M. Simmons, Secretary, Sykes Lodge 371. A letter dated January 30th, addressed to Sykes Lodge from Caddo Lodge, contained the following: "Your Lodge had no right to confer these degrees (meaning the E. A. and F. C.) upon this man, or to receive his petition, as he is a legal resident of this city. You have invaded the jurisdiction of the Lodges of Shreveport in so doing, and you are requested to defer any further action in this case until such time as this invasion of jurisdiction can be satisfactorily settled."

I ruled as follows:

"If your Lodge received this letter, it was certainly informed that Kirkland was a resident of Shreveport, and that your Lodge had no right to confer degrees upon him. If your Lodge did not get this letter, then the agreement in your telegram to the effect that you would await the letter was not fulfilled. In this case there is involved not only the question of jurisdiction, but also procedure after your Lodge knew that he resided in Shreveport, and after objection had been received by your Lodge. I must, therefore, rule that L. H. Kirkland was not in the jurisdiction of Sykes Lodge, that his degrees were conferred after objection had been raised, and without settling the question of jurisdiction; that the degrees were not legally conferred upon him, and that he is not a regularly made Mason. You are therefore hereby ordered to return to L. H. Kirkland the money received from him, with the information that he is not a regular Mason, being under the jurisdiction of the Lodges at the place of his residence.

I regret very much to have to disturb the membership in your Lodge, but, if such cases are permitted to stand, in view of the protest of the Lodge, it is setting a bad precedent, and any Lodge participating therein is guilty of a gross violation of our laws. You cannot expect to retain your charter and continue to work in utter disregard or ignorance of the laws of Free Masonry." I have since been advised that the money was returned with the information requested.

75. On December 8th, Choudrant Lodge No. 339 propounded the following: On November 11th, 1921, we had a meeting, after which there was presented to the members a written instrument reading something like this: "We, the undersigned, promise to pay the amount set opposite our names for five years or more, until the new building has been paid for." This was only for a pledge payment, and most of the members signed, and all that have signed have paid, with the exception of one, who would not pay up after pledging, and there now stands against him on this pledge two years, or twenty-four dollars, which he claims that he does not owe. The building we built at that time was destroyed by fire on April 23rd, 1924, and, with it, all our records. We then bought the lot and old walls of the burned building, and rebuilt at a big cost, and, on November 22nd, 1924, we made an assessment on each member of Twenty-five Dollars, to be paid in five annual installments of five dollars each, to begin with 1924. Two or three of our members had paid their dues for 1924, and held receipts for these dues, and have since refused to pay the assessment of five dollars for 1924. We also have some members who have asked for demits, and the question arises as to whether the demits should be granted without their pro rata payment of the indebtedness of the Lodge. To which I replied as follows:

"With reference to the pledges made by members of your Lodge in November, 1921, since the amount was not in the form of an assessment, a member who now refused to pay the same could not be suspended for non-payment of dues or assessments. Under our law the mere non-payment of a debt is not, of necessity, a Masonic offense. But a pledge, which constituted a debt due to the Lodge, is of an entirely different nature. And a member who pledged to pay money to his Lodge and then later refused to do so could be tried by his Lodge for failure to keep his pledge, and the Lodge could inflict whatever penalty in their judgment should be inflicted. However, if in the opinion of the Lodge, the debtor is not in financial condition to enable him to meet such a pledge now without material embarrassment to himself or his family, then the Lodge should by proper resolution relieve the Brother, either permanently or temporarily, from the stigma of an unpaid pledge. At any rate, the matter should be disposed of legally so as not to allow the matter to hang over unpaid without some action by the Lodge to clear the matter up, either by insisting upon payment, or have charges preferred and a trial had, or by remitting the amount, or by giving him further time upon his execution of a promise to pay same, if such time is, in the opinion of the Lodge, needed.

"With reference to the assessment made in November, 1924, of $25.00 upon each member, payable $5.00 per annum, beginning with the year 1924, will state as follows:

"The assessment, if legally passed in November, 1924, is good for the calendar year of 1924. While some of your members might have paid their annual dues for 1924, even before that date, they still owe the assessment of $25.00, payable, at their option, either in cash in one lump sum, or at the rate of $5.00 per annum. And any member who paid his annual dues for 1924 and now owes for the 1924 assessment can be suspended upon proper notice, as per Article X, Section 3, Page 54.

"Any member of your Lodge who was a member at the time the assessment was levied by the Lodge in November, 1924, owes the Lodge $25.00. And he is not clear of the books until the full $25.00 is paid. For such members as elect to remain with the Lodge until the five-year period is over, they have the privilege granted them by the Lodge of making payment of this assessment at the rate of $5.00 per annum for five years. For such as desire a demit, and any member of any Lodge is entitled to a demit upon getting clear of the books, which includes the payment of dues up to the time the Lodge acts upon his application for demit and any and all assessments levied by the Lodge upon its members during any time that he is a member of said Lodge. Therefore, before you can legally demit any member of your Lodge now he must pay the $25.00 assessment in full before the demit be granted, unless the Lodge waives it.

76. On December 8th, to W. M. Guice, Jr., District Deputy Grand Master, Shreveport, Louisiana, I ruled as follows: The habit of nominating candidates for the various offices, and then electing them by acclamation, is illegal, Such election is void, and a new one must be had. See Edict 135. All clauses and sections in the by-laws of the Lodge providing for the temporary suspension of the by-laws by a two-thirds, or unanimous vote, are null and void. See Edict 132.

By an Edict of this Grand Lodge, it is unlawful to suspend the by-laws of the Lodge for any period whatever, or for any purpose. See Edict 159.

Where there is a conflict between the by-laws of the Lodge, and those of the Grand Lodge, the latter must control the former. See Edict 151.

Now that all of our Secretaries and Treasurers are bonded, under a blanket bond, in the event of a claim against the bond company, it might set up, in its defense, that an election by acclamation is not according to Masonic law, and, the recognized Secretary or Treasurer, not being legally elected, was not covered by the blanket bond. For the protection of the Lodges themselves, you are hereby deputized to see that a ballot is had on all of the first five officers.

77. On December 9th, 1925, to Mr. Robin Hinnant, Chief Pharmacist, U. S. Naval Hospital, Washington, D. C., I wrote as follows:

To secure money, with which to build a new Masonic Temple in New Orleans, the financial program involved an assessment against members of the City Lodges. The bond issue was sold, because it was backed by the good faith of the approximately thirty-six thousand Masons in Louisiana, coupled with the assessment feature about which you have complained. An assessment, passed at any time during the calendar year, unless effective at a later date by its provisions, is in effect for the year in which it was passed, and, while you had paid your dues for the year 1924, your annual pro rata of that assessment for 1924, Fifteen Dollars, remained due and unpaid. Every Mason obligates himself to abide by the by-laws, rules and regulations of the Lodge to which he belongs. If the granting of demits, without the payment of assessments, was carried to the extreme, the fraternity could not keep faith with its creditors, hence the only exceptions are those cases wherein members can satisfy the Lodge that they cannot pay the assessment, without financial embarrassment to himself, either to his detriment, or that of his dependents. Any Mason suspended for the non-payment of either dues or assessments may, by a majority vote, be reinstated at any stated meeting, on payment of, remission, or part payment or part remission of the amount due, provided no charges be then pending. Edict No. 114 provides that, where an assessment is for strictly Masonic and strictly Lodge purposes, it must be paid.

78. On December 5th, David R. Graham Lodge No. 413 presents the following: An applicant applied to Corinthian Lodge, in the City of New Orleans, and was rejected; without any change in his residence, a waiver, or what purported to be a waiver, from Corinthian Lodge, with the usual five signatures, was obtained, and the application presented to George Washington Lodge, where again his application was rejected. George Washington Lodge then, by some kind of waiver of which I have not been informed as to its kind, granted a waiver of jurisdiction to David R. Graham Lodge, and David R. Graham Lodge now desires to grant a waiver of jurisdiction to Ferriday Lodge No. 390, at Ferriday, Louisiana. To which I ruled as follows:

A so-called waiver from Corinthian Lodge, with five signatures, is proper, only in case the applicant moves his place of residence beyond the jurisdiction of that Lodge. In all other cases a waiver can only be granted by a vote of the Lodge. Therefore, unless the waiver in this case was granted by a vote of Corinthian Lodge, neither George Washington Lodge nor David R. Graham Lodge has legally acquired jurisdiction over the candidate.

79. On December 11th, to Keystone Lodge No. 213, I ruled that the vote required to change the domicile of a Lodge would require a two-thirds vote of the members present at the time the said amendment to the by-laws is voted upon, which must be at the time designated in the notices mailed to the members by the secretary, notifying them of the proposal to change the domicile.

80. On November 14th the following communication came to me from Noble Lodge. "Relative to the charges against Brother ....., who was suspended on account of un-Masonic conduct, I appointed a Committee to investigate and report to me, which was done, and they found him guilty of the charges of un-Masonic conduct. I had the Junior Warden to draw up the charges, and we had a trial in the regular form, but did not ballot on him. Some member moved that he be suspended for twelve months, which was done." To which I replied that Brother..... is a member of your Lodge in good standing, due to the fact that no vote was taken as to his guilt or innocence.

81. To the same Lodge, I also ruled that George Edwards, now applying for reinstatement from a suspension received at the hands of the Grand Lodge, would have to make application for reinstatement to your Lodge, and your Lodge will have to vote on the matter, after which, if the vote be favorable, it should be referred to the Grand Lodge for its attention.

82. On December 15th, to W. M. Guice, Jr., District Deputy Grand Master, Shreveport, I ruled that, where a motion was made that the unanimous ballot of the Lodge be cast for Treasurer or Secretary, and no objection was made, and someone deposited the ballot for the Lodge, that, although such procedure would not be advisable, I would hold that the election was by ballot, and, therefore, legal.

83. On December 15th, I received the following telegram from Toro Lodge No. 253. "Early last year we constitutionally assessed the members five dollars for building of hall, regardless of previous donations for this purpose, but we failed to state in the resolution the time limit for paying. We have notified all whom have not paid that they would be suspended if not paid. Advise promptly if constitutional." To which I replied:

An assessment levied during 1924, unless otherwise stipulated, is presumed to be for the year 1924, and, therefore, becomes delinquent on December 31st, 1924, and a member can be suspended for the non-payment thereof if the whole procedure is according to the provisions of Article 10, Section 3, of the General Regulations. I notice, however, that you assessed, regardless of previous donations. Where a member has failed to pay his assessment for building purposes, but has previously made a donation for that purpose, the Lodge should make remission of the amount of his assessment up to the amount of his donation before suspending him for non-payment of such assessment.

84. On December 17th, to Brother Zell Stockner, District Deputy Grand Master of Lake Providence, Louisiana, I ruled that Article 6, Section 8, does not set at naught the provisions of Article 6, Section 1, which requires that the applicant must be a resident of the jurisdiction of the Lodge to which he applies. If the applicant from Pioneer should move to Lake Providence, he then comes under the jurisdiction or provisions of Article 6, Section 8, regarding signatures of five members of Pioneer Lodge, and so forth. But, if he has been living all this time in the jurisdiction of Pioneer Lodge, then the action of Pecan Grove Lodge No. 222, at Lake Providence, was ultra vires, and he is still beneath the jurisdiction of Pioneer Lodge.

85. On December 19th, Tensas Lodge No. 309 presents the following: A member of that Lodge was indefinitely suspended while he was serving a sentence in the State Penitentiary, which case never came before the Grand Lodge on appeal. He asked whether or not jurisdiction in the matter of reinstatement rested entirely with the Lodge. To which I replied as follows:

Jurisdiction in the matter of reinstatement rests entirely in the hands of your Lodge. I would, however, call your attention to Edict No. 304: "An applicant under indictment for crime does not come under good report, and cannot lawfully receive the degrees of Masonry." The requirements for reinstatement, insofar as coming under good report are concerned, apply to the applicant for reinstatement, as well as to an original applicant for the degrees. Therefore, one who has been indefinitely suspended by his Lodge for a crime, for which he served a sentence in the Penitentiary, does not come under good report until he has at least secured a restoration of his citizenship. Any vote taken to reinstate, before the restoration to citizenship, is, therefore, null and void. The procedure should be according to the provisions of Article 7, Section 8, Grand Lodge By-Laws, which requires the application for reinstatement to be read at a stated meeting, and laid over until the next stated meeting, due notice having been given in writing to members of the Lodge. A two-thirds vote is necessary to reinstate.

86. On December 18th, to Union Lodge No. 172, New Orleans, relative to the application from a man employed as a stillman in an alcohol plant, I replied as follows: Not knowing the kind of alcohol that is being manufactured at the plant, nor the purpose for which it is intended, I can only quote you the law on the subject, which is Article 6, Section 1, of the By-Laws: "He shall not be engaged in the manufacture or sale of alcoholic, malt or vinous liquors as a beverage, directly or indirectly."

87. On December 29th, to White Castle Lodge No. 257, where a member of the Lodge had been found several thousand dollars deficient in his accounts as Cashier of the Bank, and had made other breaches of the Masonic law, and that the courts have postponed the trial from time to time, and the member in question is subject to suspension for non-payment of dues, I replied as follows: Unquestionably your Lodge can try him regardless of any civil or court action, or lack of such, or verdict of a court. Your Lodge has the authority to suspend him for non-payment of dues, but he should, by all means, be tried. The Lodge should do its duty, by giving him a fair trial, so that his guilt or innocence can be established by the Lodge.

88. On December 29th, to W. M. Guice, Jr., District Deputy Grand Master of Shreveport, requesting a ruling on nominations for officers, I ruled as follows: A nomination for an elective office takes into consideration that there will be one or more candidates before the hustings, in which event electioneering would be the natural accompaniment, but which is prohibited by Edict 208. By a law of the Grand Lodge, nominating is now permissible in the Grand Lodge, only.

January 18th, Hope Lodge No. 145, of Lafayette, submits the following:

"Our by-laws state that 'Each member of this Lodge shall pay annually, in advance, the sum of $8.00 as dues and in addition thereto, such sums or assessments as this Lodge may require for Masonic purposes.' For the past two years we have been collecting $10.00 from each member, which is $8.00, plus the Grand Lodge per capita tax of $1.00, and $1.00 for the Orphans' Home. Recently one of our members said $8.00 was all he owed and all he would pay. Who is correct?"

My reply was as follows:

"If your Lodge legally assessed the $2.00 extra per annum, at any time in the last three years, or assessed the figure $10.00 as the amount to cover dues and other expenses that each member must pay, you have then complied with your by-laws. But if the Secretary, or the W. M., or even the majority of your Lodge, without a vote of the Lodge on the subject, has agreed that $10.00 is the proper amount, and has called upon all members for that amount, and even though all but one has paid that amount, $8.00 is all that any member could be forced to pay."

January 18th, to Pine Grove Lodge No. 288, Ponchatoula, La., I ruled as follows:—

"With reference to a brother now resident of Ponchatoula, member of Glenmora Lodge 356, desiring to affiliate with you, I will ask that if the members of Glenmora Lodge were permitted to dimit without paying their pro-rata of the indebtedness of the Lodge, what sort of moral, credit, and financial standing would the Masonic Fraternity have in that vicinity, if dimits were granted down to the point where the debt could not be paid? The granting of dimits, either with or without the payment of the pro-rata of the indebtedness, is left to the discretion of the Lodge. Each member of any Lodge agrees to abide by the by-laws of his Lodge, and if a member permitted his membership to remain in Glenmora Lodge after he removed from there, there was certainly no other set of by-laws that he was governed by. The action of Glenmora Lodge in refusing to grant dimits without the pro-rata indebtedness against the Lodge is, therefore, within the law."

Masonic Discipline.

It has come to my attention on more than one occasion that members of the fraternity who have been guilty of violation of law, have gone without punishment. Some of these have been caused by the system of trials now in vogue in the lodges, which will be referred to elsewhere, others have been caused by the tardiness of the lodge in cases where the individual has charges pending against him in the courts. I have written several letters during the year to various lodges, telling them that in all cases of infraction of law the Masonic Lodge should proceed without regard as to whether action had been taken by the courts and in many cases have insisted that trials be held without delay. I addressed a circular letter to the lodges on the subject of law enforcement, which I know has resulted in benefit to the lodges. Lodge trials on charges of violation of the prohibition laws have been retarded on account of the failure of the prohibition enforcement officers to allow the evidence in their hands to be used in Masonic Lodges. In some instances, the brethren are of the opinion that when a member is in trouble, even though it might be a gross violation of law, that Masonic charity should be exercised. After having discussed this phase of the matter with the Hon. O. D. Jackson, Federal Prohibition Director at New Orleans and Hon. Harry Pitcher, Manager of the Louisiana State Penitentiary, both of whom are ardent Masons, I am more than ever convinced that the laxity of Masonic Lodges with law violators not only forms an injury to Freemasonry in the estimation of Masons and profanes, but is also an injury to society in condoning and failing to punish the offenders. It is my desire to call to the attention of the craft that while all of us should be charitable, we should not sacrifice the welfare of the craft in general for the wishes of or to help the law violator, and that charity can be stretched to the breaking point.

Masonic Home for Orphan Children.

On the 24th of June we dedicated our home at Alexandria and on that date Freemasonry in Louisiana began a real charitable work, the benefits of which will last until time shall be no more. The location of the home is an ideal one and the Masons of Alexandria take a personal interest in the children near them. It has been my pleasure to visit the home several times during the year and offer my services to the Superintendent, Dr. John H. Cooper. In starting a new enterprise, there are always difficulties to be encountered during its infancy, which time, observation and experience will correct. Your Superintendent is giving his entire time and careful attention to the duties of his office and has the interest of the children ever at heart. On the 23rd of December they presented a Christmas program and had a Christmas tree with presents for all of the children, and it was my pleasure to assist in delivering the presents to them and see all of the happy contented faces.

The Eastern Star, local Lodges, Order of Rainbow for Girls, and others, have contributed in various ways toward the needs of the institution, to all of whom we feel a debt of gratitude.

While some grand jurisdictions maintain a home for the aged and the children at the same location, others have found that this is not the most desirable, and one grand jurisdiction has just recently decided to separate the two because the idiosyncrasies of age and the noisy activities of youth are not compatible one with the other. At some future date the care of dependent Masons and their widows should receive consideration with reference to a Masonic home for them, or greater provision should be made for their care out of the Grand Master's relief fund. For the present, however, I am glad that the two ages are not placed together in the same location. I have made a separate report on the home to the Board of Directors; and they will report to you more fully on this subject. However, I am glad to say that arrangements have been made whereby you will be permitted to come in personal contact, at this session of the Grand Lodge, with some of the children from our home, as the Texas & Pacific Railroad has consented to furnish a car and free transportation to and from New Orleans and before the close of this session they will be with us.

Masonic Certificate Associations.

During the year Masonic Certificate Associations have been formed in Alexandria, Lake Charles and Alco, and one is under way at Baton Rouge. Two examples of the excellent work being done by these associations are the following:

Bro. H. W. Chapman, President of the Masonic Certificate Association of New Orleans, informs me that there is a certificate member in all of the York Rite Lodges in the city with the exception of five or six. In October the association held classes of instruction three nights each week for an indefinite period and through lodges in the city. All Master Masons were urged and requested to attend those classes, some of them by letters direct from me.

Alco Lodge No. 416, which was constituted in February, 1925, has today among its officers, eleven holders of our certificates of proficiency and this association is now preparing to take up the educational program of the Masonic Service Association. As all of the work done by these good Masons is entirely without financial remuneration, we owe them a debt of gratitude for their splendid interest in Freemasonry. And for your information I direct your attention to the names of the holders of our certificates of proficiency which will be printed in our annual proceedings.

OFFICIAL ACTS.

During the month of November a request came to me relative to permitting a member of the Order of the Eastern Star to solicit $1.00 contributions to raise a fund of $50,000.00 to lift a mortgage on the home of a Brother Master Mason and his wife. I replied that while the motives were very commendable, the purpose was one that could not be undertaken by the Grand Lodge or by constituent lodges or by all combined as the lady in question is not applying for relief due to the lack of the necessities of life, but is asking payment of the mortgage.

Masonic Clubs.

During the year the Masonic Drug Club of New Orleans was organized. This matter was called to my attention by one who thought that it was commercializing Freemasonry. Upon investigation, I found that it was holding under the National League of Masonic Clubs, that it was organized for social purposes only and that there was no commercial element in it. I therefore consider it in the same class with a Square and Compass Club, the Saleman's Square and the Masonic Club of New Orleans, all of which have received our approval.

By-Laws Approved.

During the year I approved by-laws, and amendments to by-laws, of many lodges which I will not now encumber the records with. There was one amendment, however, which I did not approve and in order that an error, if made, may be corrected at this time, I am advising you thereof.

One of the lodges in the city of New Orleans desired to add the following new matter to their by-laws: "It is the duty of members to give their personal services in matters of relief. The Master is authorized to detail such members as he may deem proper: to attend to any matter requiring personal services; for attendance at funerals conducted by this lodge or by Louisiana Relief Lodge; for watching with a sick brother or with a body of the deceased brother." My reply was as follows: "I fully agree with you in the purport and the intent of the amendment, but I feel that by naming specific duties it might be construed at some future date that any matter not particularly specified as the duty of the member would be considered as excluded from the category of his duties, which would be dangerous. Bearing in mind that the Worshipful Master is Ex-Officio Chairman of all committees and further that as Master of the lodge he can call upon any brother at any time to perform any particular duty, germane to Masonic work of a lodge, I do not feel inclined to approve of the proposed in its present condition."

The By-Laws of Mazzini Lodge No. 393 were approved with the exception of one item.

On the 13th of January, I wrote the Lodge as follows:

"I cannot give my approval to that provision in your by-laws providing compensation to your Secretary of 10% of all moneys due to the Lodge from initiation fees, affiliation fees and dues, for the year, whether collected or not. Any one who works on a commission basis for the collection of money, which is the Secretary's duty, should not be paid a commission on money which he fails to collect. If paid commission only on amount collected, it would be a greater incentive for him to keep the dues of members paid up to date all the time. And as a commission basis of payment has a tendency to commercialize Masonry, all Secretaries should be paid a flat salary, in my opinion. At any rate, I cannot approve this matter in the shape you now have it. It is not my intention to re-open the past payments to previous Secretaries, but to correct the situation for the future. At this late date, however, I'll refer this matter to the incoming Grand Master, and it will be necessary for you to secure the approval of some Grand Master to this phase of your by-laws before they become legal and effective in your Lodge."

Shrine-Grotto Circus.

During the month of September, 1925, there was held in Baton Rouge the so-called Shrine-Grotto Circus. The Daily Press described it as a Masonic Circus; the advertising matter also led one to believe that the Masonic Fraternity was backing the Circus. I therefore addressed the following letter:

Mr. H. W. Stopher,
Chairman, Executive Committee,
Shrine-Grotto Circus,
Third and Convention Sts.,
Baton Rouge, Louisiana.

Dear Sir:

Before me is a circular sent out by the Shrine-Grotto Circus containing the following:

"THE MASONIC FRATERNITY OF BATON ROUGE have given * * * a practical demonstation of their interest * * * in * * * the success of SHRINE-GROTTO CIRCUS."

It is contrary to Masonic Law for any Masonic Lodge, and certainly contrary for any other organization, to publish or bring any Masonic matters before the public, by circular or otherwise, without submitting the same to the Grand Lodge and obtaining its sanction.

Under no circumstances can a lodge under this jurisdiction apply by circular for pecuniary aid to brethren in this State or elsewhere, without first having obtained the consent of the Grand Lodge or Grand Master. Therefore, certainly this right could not be more easily permitted to any other organization.

I sincerely regret and strongly condemn the use of the word "Masonic" in connection with your circus. Please see that it is omitted from all publications or public displays and is not used even orally in connection with the Shrine-Grotto Circus.

Very truly yours,
H. B. CONNER,
Grand Master.

On October 7, 1925, I was advised that a member of a lodge in Louisiana, recently divorced from his first wife, had since married, and the officers of the lodge desired to know whether or not the lodge should take any action in the matter. Upon investigation I found that there was a petition in the court records, dated February 20, 1925, asking for separation from bed and board. Then there was another petition, dated May 9, 1925, asking for divorce on the grounds of adultery, and that he had brought dishonor upon his family. The court records show that the brother's answer denied the charge of adultery. An affidavit in the records, dated May 11, 1925, stated that two men saw the man and the woman talking together for a few minutes, that the two then entered the bedroom together and remained in the said bedroom for some time and affiants are morally certain that ( ) committed adultery with ( ). The court granted the judgment of absolute divorce on either the 11th or 13th of May, but stated no reasons therefor. There was considerable talk throughout the community about the affair and both of the women in the case were members of the same chapter of the Order of the Eastern Star. I advised the brethren that the charges were of sufficiently grave nature to warrant the trial and requested that one be had without delay.

On April 9th, I received notice from New Orleans to the effect that the Louisiana Historical Society was planning to celebrate the centennial celebration of the visit to New Orleans of General Marquis de Lafayette, who was a very prominent Mason, and I was requested to have a committee meet with this society and to furnish a Masonic speaker for the occasion. As the celebration was to take place on the 15th of April, I replied that it would be a very difficult matter, even if possible, for me to appoint a committee, select a speaker and give him the necessary time to prepare an address. I also stated that I regretted very much that there was not sufficient time; and that Lafayette is revered by all Masons and all patriotic Americans for his devotion to the cause of liberty.

I received an invitation from the Right Honorable Earl of Donoughmore, K. P., Grand Master of the Grand Lodge of Ireland, to the festival of the bi-centenary of the founding of the Grand Lodge of Ireland, at Free Masons Hall at Dublin, June 4, 1925, to which I replied expressing my regrets and extending fraternal greetings.

The National Masonic Research Association, of St. Louis, submitted to the various Grand Masters, the following subject: "Should a Grand Lodge by-law regulate the time to elapse between a candidate's receiving his third degree and his petitioning his membership in Royal Arch and Scottish Rite Bodies?" To which I replied in the following words:

Mr. H. L. Haywood, Editor,
The Builder,
Railway Exchange, St. Louis, Mo.

Dear Brother Haywood:

Replying to your letter of the 30th, of March, relative to the regulation by a law of a Grand Lodge as to the time to elapse between a candidate's third degree and his petition for membership in Royal Arch or Scottish Rite Bodies, beg to advise as follows:

The Grand Lodge of Louisiana has no law or regulation fixing the time that should elapse between the Master's degree and the application for a higher body in Masonry.

My personal opinion in the matter is that there should be no minimum time limit placed upon the candidate who has just received his Master's Degree and who desires to make application for the Royal Arch or the Scottish Rite. If the candidate of his own free will and accord, and without any solicitation on the part of others, desires to apply for the Royal Arch or the Scottish Rite degrees, he should be permitted to do so without the intervention of any specific period of time, whatever. However, his right or freedom to petition for the degrees voluntarily and without solicitation should be kept entirely separate and apart from the right of a member of the Royal Arch or the Scottish Rite to solicit applications for the Royal Arch or Scottish Rite from Master Masons. Nothing so wounds the pride of a Master Mason of moderate or small financial resources as to have some member of the Royal Arch or the Scottish Rite or some other Masonic Body approach him on the night that he receives his Master's degree with the statement that conveys to the neophyte the impression that he has received but very little of what there is in Masonry—that unless he wants to live in ignorance he must apply for and take or receive the other degrees, which every Master Mason is supposed to do unless he is a pauper or a cheap-skate who does not show the proper appreciation of Masonry. Such statements to such Master Masons have a tendency to lessen his ardor, zeal, interest in, and love for the Fraternity. For that reason, in my opinion, members of other Masonic bodies than the blue lodge should not be permitted to seek applications from blue-lodge Masons within a period of at least six months from the date that the prospect received his Master's degree. This can easily be ascertained by the first question that the proselyte asks the Mason: "How long have you been a Master's Mason?" If the answer is to the effect that six months have elapsed, he could then proceed with his solicitation of the application; otherwise, he should not broach the subject in any way to his prospect under penalty of being reprimanded for so doing.

Since the average Mason has had so much of the beautiful philosophy of Masonry unfolded to him in the blue lodge, and been informed of the various and manifold duties of a Master Mason, all during the usual period of not more than three hours, that these lessons and the philosophy of Masonry must be studied and repeated by him and to him after he has had the third degree conferred upon him, in all fairness all other rites should be willing to allow at least six months for the blue lodge to have the undivided attention, as it were, of the neophyte. And if members of other rites would put forth more effort toward helping and encouraging this neophyte to go to all blue lodge meetings possible with a view to making a better Mason of him, then it would be much easier for them at the end of six months, or some such time, to secure his application for the other Masonic bodies.

Under no circumstances should my remarks be interpreted as an improper disregard for the other degrees in Masonry, both York and Scottish Rites, for some of the most beautiful lessons, some of the most beneficial philosophy, and some of the most practical applications of Masonry are there unfolded. And my sincere desire is that every worthy human who is eligible would take all of the work. But I think that not only the blue lodge, but all other Masonic bodies would be materially benefited by allowing at least six months to elapse before applications could be solicited from a Master Mason; though I wish every one of them would voluntarily apply much earlier.

Fraternally yours,

H. B. CONNER,

Grand Master.

The charter to Leesville Lodge No. 240, having been restored in 1925, the question of title to the real estate at Leesville was in question. Under the constitution and laws of Grand Lodge the property of the old Leesville Lodge was forfeited to the Grand Lodge on the withdrawal of the old charter. It was thought by some that with the filing of the new chartered lodge the same number held by the old lodge would vest the title of the property in the new Lodge. As this was a questionable point, upon the request of the brethren interested, I signed a deed transferring whatever interest the Grand Lodge might have in the property to Leesville Lodge No. 240. The deed was prepared by Brother L. D. Woosley, who stated that the description to the property was correct.

In April, 1925, I was advised that the First Baptist Church at Haynesville desired to have the Grand Lodge to lay the cornerstone to their new Baptist Church. My investigation showed that they were preparing to have a slab rather than a solid stone, for which reason the Grand Lodge did not participate.

In April, 1925, I was advised by a member of the Craft residing in Shreveport, that two members of the Fraternity were financially indebted to him a year or more, that he had begged and pleaded with them for payment and they finally left town still owing him. The request was made that I grant him the favor of writing a circular letter to all the Lodges of Louisiana. I replied with the simple fact that an account claimed is not paid does not constitute a Masonic offense. There may be some reason for these accounts not having been paid which is unknown to me, therefore, viewing the matter solely from the statements contained in your letter, it would be altogether improper for either me or for you to circularize any Lodge or Lodges on the subject, presumably to have these men thrown out of the Lodge for not paying their honest debts. If you can locate these two men, find that there is no dispute of the amount due, that they are financially able to pay the accounts, even though it might be in partial payments, I fully agree with you that they should be made to pay their debts.

On May 12th, to the Masonic Supply Company, Memphis, Tenn., Publishers, I gave my approval of one of their recent publications, "Masonry Defined." Since doing so, however, I have come to the conclusion that there is a tinge of commercial aspect to such approvals of publications and with one other exception, have refused to give my approval of publications.

On June 28, 1925, I addressed the following letter to Mr. E. Leo Ball, Exalted Ruler, Benevolent Protective Order of Elks, Alexandria, La.:

"Dear Sir:—On behalf of the approximately thirty-five thousand Masons in Louisiana allow me to express our thanks not only for your beautiful floral offering and the hospitality of your club rooms on the 24th instant, but also for the splendid fraternal, benevolent and co-operative spirit behind them. We have noticed with considerable interest and admiration many expressions of the benevolence of Elks, and we congratulate you on your splendid achievements.

With cordial greetings, I am,

Very truly yours,

H. B. CONNER,

Grand Master.

On the 10th of December, 1925, the request came to me that a Brother who had been charged with un-Masonic conduct desired me to expel or suspend him from the Order, which I refused to do.

On the 25th of October, Humble Cottage Lodge No. 19, Opelousas, La., advised me that one T. A. Jackson of Baton Rouge, Louisiana, had given the Lodge considerable trouble for several years; that he was now serving a sentence of indefinite suspension; that he had tried on several occasions to be reinstated, his most recent efforts resulting in unanimous rejection. "He has paraded as a Master Mason, a Royal Arch Mason, wears an emblem of a Royal Arch at all times, is conversant with the work, and has visited the Masonic Lodge in Clarksdale, Miss., thus imposing upon the brethren there. We want to know if there is some means whereby we can get through with him forever. He hasn't any chance of ever getting back into membership with us and has done enough injuries since his trial, and is continuing, to merit his name being purged from all rolls and records."

The Grand Secretary of Mississippi was requested to put a stop to his visits at Clarksdale. I advised the Lodge as follows:— "You are hereby instructed to request the Grand Secretary of Louisiana to report as indefinitely suspended, the said Jackson so that it will have proper circulation. You will also notify him that his name is thereby ordered removed from all records of Masons now in good standing."

On November 13th, one of the new Chapters of the Order of the Eastern Star, meeting in the Masonic Temple in the city of New Orleans, advised me of their serious financial condition and of their serious difficulty in meeting the rental of $87.00 every six months, and asked if some relief could not be granted, to which I replied as follows:

Mrs. S. E. Lamberton, Worthy Matron,
Theodore Roosevelt Chapter, O. E. S.,
2400 Soniat Street,
New Orleans, Louisiana.

Dear Worthy Matron:—

The financial conditions of your Chapter is such that it excites the sympathy and interest of all of us. With reference to the charge for rent, I would advise that, unless my memory is defective, the Masonic Fraternity is now running behind at the rate of not a few but many thousands of dollars each year while in our present quarters. We had application from another body to occupy the same room that your Chapter is now occupying, but turned them down in order to accommodate you,—or I should say we had applications for space and we could not accommodate them. However, this whole matter is not for the Grand Master, alone, to determine,—but is properly to be considered by the Board of Grand Lodge Hall Directors. If you will address your request to this Board, care of the Grand Secretary, 535 Iberville Street, it will be referred to the board at our next meeting, which is very indefinite as to date.

Regretting my inability to help, hoping conditions will improve and with greetings to No. 166, I am,

Fraternally,

H. B. CONNER,
Grand Master.

A letter came to me from Dr. W. T. Franklin worded as follows:

Peason, La.
November 12, 1925.

H. B. Conner, Grand Master,
F. & A. M., Baton Rouge, La.,
Dear Sir and Brother:—

You will find enclosed answers to questions asked in regard to re-instating Orange Lodge No. 319, which surrendered its Charter and donated its hall for High School purposes several years ago.

At that time our hall was built in with the school building, and the school had grown so that it had to have more room.

We disbanded and donated our hall. Now there is a new three-story brick school building being erected that will be occupied January 1st, 1926, and the School Board proposes to donate us a nice hall that is about the dimensions I give in my answer to your questions.

I hope you will see fit to recommend the re-instatement of Orange Lodge No. 319.

Fraternally yours,
(Signed) DR. W. T. FRANKLIN.

To which I replied:

November 23, 1925.

Dr. W. T. Franklin, D. D. G. M.,
Peason, La.
Dear Brother Franklin:—

Yours of November 11th, answering mine of October 13th, is at hand. I desire to take this means of expressing my sincere approval of the splendid feeling of co-operation and help one to the other as is exhibited by the former work of Orange Lodge and the present proposal of the School Board of the Parish. It has been exemplified in your Parish in a more concrete form than is usual and I only wish that all Masons were as interested in public education as those were and that all School Boards appreciated the support of Free Masonry as does yours. I would suggest that you request from the Grand Secretary the proper forms for application for a new Lodge. Have it signed by such Masons as will work together harmoniously for the best interest of the Craft, and have certificates of good standing of all the signers attached to the application, and have everything in readiness to present to the Grand Lodge February 1st, 1926. Do not let your signers secure demits but request them to secure certificates stating that they are in good standing in the various Lodges to which they now belong. The Grand Secretary will give you the proper certificates for those who were members of Orange Lodge No. 319 at the time its charter was surrendered who have not since affiliated with any other Lodge. In your application specify that you want your new organization to retain the name and number, Orange No. 319.

Thanking you for your interest in this matter and congratulating the former members of Orange Lodge, and suggesting that future correspondence in this matter be handled direct with the Grand Secretary, I am,

Yours very truly,

H. B. CONNER,
Grand Master.

On the 8th of December I appointed the following committee to take charge of the arrangements for the laying of the cornerstone to the new Masonic Temple in New Orleans:

J. Paul Haller, E. H. Addington, E. E. Sykes, H. W. Kaiser and John A. Davilla.

New Lodge Instituted.

Early in April I received application for dispensation for the forming of a new Lodge to be located at Kenner, La., bearing eighty-four signatures. After the proper investigation I granted the dispensation and because of my inability to act, deputized our Deputy Grand Master, J. Paul Haller, to institute Square and Compass Lodge at Kenner, La., which he did on April 29th, with the assistance of Brother John A. Davilla, Grand Secretary, Brother Ira Weingrun and a number of Past Masters and other brethren from New Orleans. The splendid report which will be given you elsewhere relative to this new Lodge will warrant your approval of my act and your favorable consideration on their application for charter, which is now before us for our consideration.

Center Lodge No. 244.

During the month of October, information came to me to the effect that a member of this Lodge had been tried for having improper relations with the wife of a Master Mason. By a majority vote of the Lodge, he was found guilty, but on account of our requirements that a two-thirds vote is necessary to suspend, the sentence resulted in a reprimand. Having no personal knowledge relative to the guilt or innocence of the accused, I took the position that the Lodge had decided by the vote of sixty-six to thirty-nine that he was guilty, and that its failure to mete out a more severe punishment was not in keeping with the ideals of the Masonic Fraternity. I, therefore, ordered the Lodge to have another trial of the case, which was done, and the result was indefinite suspension.

Collinston Lodge No. 357.

In September, the Grand Secretary of California submitted to the Grand Lodge of Louisiana a claim which had been received by them from the Masonic Board of Relief at Honolulu, Hawaiian Islands, for money advanced to a member of Collinston Lodge. We were requested to take steps to discipline our member by requiring him to pay, or expel him. I immediately took this matter up with the Lodge at Collinston and they in turn took the matter up with their member, who had been residing for some time at Bakersfield, California. The member replied that it was his understanding and his intention to repay the money as soon as he could do so, but that since returning to Honolulu, in April, 1924, he had been incapacitated on account of illness for eleven months; that, on account of his age and physical condition, he had not been able to earn even enough to supply the necessities of life; that he had a policy of fraternal insurance which, under the requirements, was payable only to a blood relation; that said policy was payable to his sisters and that more than a year ago he had instructed his sisters, in case of his death, to inquire from and pay to Collinston Lodge such indebtedness. Collinston Lodge advised me that they believed their member was sincere in his promises, and, under the circumstances, had no grounds to prefer charges against him. As the member in question was still in California, I felt that if he had done anything un-Masonic the brethren in California were in a better position to handle the individual than we are, and so advised the Grand Lodge of California.

Alexandria-Pineville Relief Association.

In October, it came to my attention that sometime previous there had been an effort made to require Lodges in the City of Alexandria to co-operate in the matter of dispensing relief to sojourning Masons who might be in need, but so far the efforts had not met with success. I immediately took the matter up with the Lodges in question, and had the pleasure of being in Alexandria on the night that the resolution was passed by two of the Lodges. Soon thereafter, they submited to me a copy of the by-laws of the relief association in which the two Lodges in Alexandria and Solomon Lodge of Pineville mutually agreed to co-operate in this matter on a per capita basis, and the organization is now operating to the entire satisfaction of the three Lodges involved and to the great credit of our fraternity.

Marksville Lodge No. 269.

The above named Lodge advised me that a resident of Marksville, who had previously lived a short while at Selma, Grant Parish, La., had been given the Entered Apprentice Degree in Grant Lodge No. 345; that they had filed objection with Grant Lodge and received a reply to the effect that the brethren at Marksville were prejudiced against the man. Marksville Lodge advised that they unanimously considered him unworthy, and desired to be protected. Upon investigation, I was furnished with information which satisfied me, and I thereupon ordered Grant Lodge No. 345 to stop all instructions of the candidate and that no further action be taken toward advancing him in Masonry.

Complaint of a Profane.

In the early part of the year, I received a long letter from a profane, residing in the City of New Orleans, requesting that we take action relative to one whom he thought had violated the law of the State and of the United States. Upon investigation, I found that this same profane had been to the Grand Secretary's office sometime previous on the same mission, that he had written to the Attorney General of the United States, and that he had been advised to make affidavits relative to the said violations of law. Inasmuch as he had not done so, I felt that his complaint did not warrant any action on our part, particularly as it appeared to me to be a matter of personal spite.

Many Lodge No. 411.

In October, information came to me regarding a difficulty between the Master of the Lodge and one of its members. After considerable correspondence with my District Deputy Grand Master and the member in question, I visited the scene of action and found that the two had engaged in a bitter verbal combat in a public place, for which the Master was very penitent and for which he had apologized in open Lodge; and that the member in question refused to apologize for his part in the quarrel for reasons, as he stated, that the Lodge was dominated by another fraternal organization, to which the said member was bitterly opposed. Our Senior Warden, Brother Gayle, also investigated and found the same condition existing. I, therefore, refused to discipline the Master, because I was assured that he sincerely regretted the occurrence and had done all in his power to effect a reconciliation.

During the month of December a circular letter was received by some of our Lodges from Havana, Cuba, asking for financial assistance to the Agrupacion Masonica "El Zapato Escolar."

To such of these as were reported to me, I replied to the Lodges as follows:

"The Grand Lodge of Louisiana, and the Grand Lodge of Cuba are in fraternal relationship, but under the laws of the Grand Lodge of Louisiana, no one enjoys the right to circularize the Lodges in this jurisdiction, or solicit financial assistance from them for any cause without the sanction of the Grand Lodge or the Grand Master. The Agrupacion Masonica 'El Zapato Escolar' not having secured this approval, you will please disregard their request."

During the year I received several complaints to the effect that the Secretary of one of our Lodges would not answer correspondence from members of his Lodge who were asking to be advised of the amount due by them to the Lodge. I addressed a letter to this secretary asking for an explanation. About two weeks later, having received no reply from the Secretary and having learned that his failure to handle the correspondence of the Lodge was not due to sickness or absence, I informed the W. M. that unless the Secretary resigned from office that I would have to remove him. The Secretary immediately resigned, and a dispensation was granted to elect and install his successor.

In the case of another Lodge concerning which complaints were made relative to the failure of the Secretary to answer correspondence, my investigation showed that the Secretary had been confined to his bed for several months. I notified the secretary and the W. M. that in such cases it was the duty of both of these officers to see that some other member attends to the correspondence of the Lodge during the inability of the Secretary to act.

JEFFERSON LODGE.

During the latter part of my term of office, my attention was called to the fact that every applicant for membership in Jefferson Lodge No. 191 during the year 1925 had been blackballed.

In September, I was informed that in the opinion of some, the majority of the regular attendants of the Lodge knew who was doing the unwarranted blackballing.

In the month of October I held a conference with officers and past masters of the Lodge and, at their request, I left the matter for the Lodge to handle.

At a regular meeting of this Lodge on the 4th of November, a "Dummy petition" was balloted on. The so-called recommenders, the so-called investigating committee, and one or two others, eight members in all, were the only ones who knew that it was a dummy that was being balloted on. As usual, there was one black cube on the first ballot and one on the second, and thus the unknown and fictitious application was rejected. Three members of the Lodge watched the voting very closely, and due to the fact, as I understand it, that there is a difference in the sound made by a white ball and a black cube, or due possibly to the fact that the member voting permitted the observers to see the ballot, these three observers signed a statement as to the identity of the offending brethren.

On the 30th of November there were several talks made in the Lodge concerning its welfare, and the misuse of the black ball. The members under suspicion were present, and it was the opinion of the Master of the Lodge that the misuse of the blackball would not occur again.

On the 16th of December, at a regular meeting of this Lodge, there were three applicants being balloted on. The ballot on the first one was taken before the arrival of the two members under suspicion. The ballot was clear. At this point, the two brothers under suspicion arrived. The second applicant to be balloted on was rejected. At this point I entered the Lodge, and explained the seriousness of the situation, told the two brethren under suspicion of the evidence which to my mind was conclusive pointed to their guilt. I thereupon suspended them until February 3rd, 1926, and commanded them to retire from the Lodge. I then set aside the ballot on the rejected candidates, and instructed the Lodge to again vote on the applicant who had just been black-balled. This was done without any discussion whatever, and the ballot was clear.

I neglected to state that information came to me early in the year to the effect that the two brethren under suspicion were very intimate friends, that one of them was an officer of the Lodge during the year 1924, but who was not elected to any office in December, 1924, and that the statement was made shortly after the 1924 election of officers that the Lodge would not prosper during the year 1925.

As it was not my desire to deprive the Lodge of a trial, and proper sentence in this case, and there being a doubt as to whether or not the Lodge could try these members while under suspension by me, I secured statements from the two members that they would not appear before the Lodge prior to February 3rd, 1926, except in answer to a summons, and that they would waive the usual delay of ten days in which to answer charges, I thereupon lifted the suspension and authorized the Lodge to try the case. The trial was held on the 20th of January, at which time both of the accused members were found not guilty. Under the present laws of the Grand Lodge, the matter is before you for your decision.

Merryville Lodge No. 329

Reported that on the trial of the case wherein the accused admitted that he had been caught at the still where moonshine whiskey was being made, and upon the trial of the case, was found guilty of un-Masonic conduct, was suspended for six months.

I instructed the Lodge to hold another trial, and mete out the proper punishment, if they expected to retain their charter.

On the second trial the accused was expelled.

Mackey No. 122 of Ringgold.

Reported a case where the accused admitted that he had had carnal intercourse with the daughter of a Master Mason, but who claimed he was ignorant of such relationship. I insisted upon a trial. He was suspended for two years and there was widespread dissatisfaction over the verdict, and I advised the Lodge that they could either have a new trial if so desired by a majority of its members or that an appeal could be taken.

Capitol Lodge No. 399.

Capitol Lodge No. 399 was chartered in 1922. One of its members came from Melville Lodge No. 268 and another from Atchafalaya Lodge No. 163. Neither of these brethren submitted certificates of good standing from their former Lodges, and the Secretary of Capitol Lodge failed to notify their former Lodges that the new Lodge was carrying them on the roll until 1925. After considerable correspondence I insisted that Capitol Lodge make satisfactory financial settlement with the old Lodges, since it was due to the negligence of Capitol Lodge that the two older Lodges had carried these brethren on their rolls, and had paid per capita taxes on them for three or four years. This was finally done, and the matter satisfactorily adjusted.

Progressive Lodge No. 262.

On the 27th of February at my request D. D. G. M. A. L. Hundley, of Donaldsonville, visited Progressive Lodge or its officers to investigate a situation which showed that a considerable amount of money belonging to the Lodge had been collected by either the former Secretary or the former Treasurer, or by both, and had never been received by the Lodge. Brother Hundley heard the statements and opinions of some of the officers, but was unable to fix the blame.

On the 11th of April, Deputy Grand Master J. Paul Haller and Grand Secretary John A Davilla went to Lutcher at my request to make an investigation. They reported that gross carelessness in the handling of the funds of the Lodge by both the Secretary and the Treasurer was evident. There were practically no records of the Lodge which would give detailed information. Minutes were not complete. Grand Lodge communications were never read in the Lodge and no mention of them made in the minutes. There were no records of finances except a list of those who paid dues. Disbursements were written in a lump sum, but no vouchers or anything to show what the expenditures were for. Books had not been audited since 1917. The former Secretary never took any receipt from the Treasurer for monies he claims to have turned over to him. Last record made by this Secretary at the end of 1924 shows money in hands of Treasurer Brown to be $995.00, and cash turned over to new Treasurer of $196.00. Minute book shows several amounts at different times written across page and letters "F. O. B." Secretary Williams states those are the amounts he turned over to Treasurer Brown. The present Treasurer says he never saw these amounts in the minute book before, and thinks they were written in the minute book recently There is no way of ascertaining what amount is actually due to the Lodge. Brother Cotham, the W. M., had received a letter from former Treasurer Brown, now residing in Mississippi, acknowledging that he received several amounts of money from Brother Williams, but took them as personal loans from Williams. It later developed that there was $200.00 worth of War Savings Stamps collected for the Lodge from the postoffice by Treasurer Brown. The W. M. thereupon wrote Brother Brown that according to the figures available he was charged with $1195.00 of the funds of the Lodge. Replying, Brother Brown stated that he turned over the $200.00 for the War Savings Stamps to Brother Williams, former Secretary, and that exclusive of this he never received more than a total of $700.00 from Secretary Williams, and that if it was considered as Lodge funds he would abide by it, and would repay the Lodge as soon as he could possibly do so.

I informed the W. M. that since the Secretary collected funds of a Lodge, he should be able to show receipts for what he turned over to the Treasurer, or be held accountable therefor.

The bond company was notified of the tangled situation of the financial affairs of the Lodge, but they have done nothing, evidently because of the lack of proper records.

Brother Cotham, the efficient W. M., endeavored to ascertain from each member of his Lodge what amounts they had paid to the Lodge, but in this effort the members of the Lodge could not or did not furnish the proper information.

Later Brother Brown checked over figures from records sent to him, and calculated that he owed the Lodge exactly $770.00, which he was willing to pay back at the rate of $35.00 per month, or more, if possible.

The W. M. then wrote to Brother Williams, from which I quote:

"You claim you had collections amounting to $995.00, which you turned over to Frank Brown as Treasurer, but you have not shown us any receipts for this amount. A committee from this Lodge and myself asked you to let us see your receipts. Did you not refuse us? You said they were your property, and no one else should lay hands on them until you were cleared of this affair. Frank Brown admits receiving $770.00 from you, and insists that he turned over to you $200.00 which he collected for War Savings Stamps. We can fix no definite amount of indebtedness due to the Lodge until you and Brother Brown can meet a committee from the Lodge and decide how much each claims the other has."

In spite of the strenuous efforts of a most efficient Master, the matter is still in this unsettled condition.

Charter Arrested.

The Grand Lodge turned over to me, at its last regular communication, the appeal from Montgomery Lodge No. 168. I visited this Lodge in March at a time when all of the members had been summoned to be present. I gave the brethren a talk on the principles and teaching of Masonry and the need of practicing charity and brotherly love. I stated to them that from the record in the case I was unable to reach a decision relative to the guilt or innocence of Brother Quinalty, but wanted to know from them whether the best interests of the Craft would be served by granting him a dimit, or by having another trial. In order to permit each member to vote, without being influenced, I requested a secret ballot on this question, and the result was almost unanimous for another trial. I thereupon instructed the Lodge to proceed with another trial in the Quinalty case.

I thereupon inquired regarding the absence of several members who had been summoned to appear at that meeting. I was informed that Brother Woods lived within a few feet of the Lodge, but said that he would not obey the summons. I thereupon, as Grand Master, sent a summons to him to immediately appear before the Lodge. He refused to obey this summons. The membership of the Lodge convinced me of their opinion that Brother Woods was, in all probability, guilty of discussing subjects with profanes to the detriment of the Lodge. He had also, in writing, charged the officers of the Lodge with violation of all Masonic principles, with having a clique in the Lodge, which had mixed Lodge affairs with politics, and other charges even more serious. I thereupon ordered the Lodge to prefer charges against Brother Woods and I mailed to them certain specifications to be inserted in the charges with reference to the accusations he had made against the Lodge, and with reference to his refusal to obey the summons of his Lodge and of the Grand Master.

I was present on the 24th of June, when both cases were tried. To the original charges against Brother Quinalty, they had added a charge of forgery. When voting on the guilt or innocence of the accused on the charge of forgery, the vote was going largely for conviction in spite of the fact that I had advised them that no evidence had been introduced to prove his guilt on this charge. In order to save the Lodge, I stopped the ballot, and after proper instructions the ballot resulted in acquittal. On the other charge against Brother Quinalty, the Lodge found a verdict which was appealed by Brother B. B. Purser, Past Grand Master, who was present representing the defendant, and which is now before this Grand Lodge on his appeal.

Brother Woods was absent at the time of his trial, and a member of the Lodge was appointed to represent him. In his plea to the Lodge, he said it could not be denied that the accused was guilty, but felt that a reprimand would be sufficient punishment. I advised the Lodge that without a written or verbal statement made by the accused the Lodge would have to vote as to his guilt or innocence and that the question of penalty could not be considered until after said vote. To my great surprise, the Lodge voted that the accused was not guilty. The impulse was for me to exercise the prerogative of the Grand Master and indefinitely suspend Brother Woods, and arrest the charter at once.

Realizing that the affairs of the Lodge, when it is possible to do so, can best be managed by the Lodge itself, I realized the possibility that some member of the Lodge would either state or file his objection to the decision of the Lodge in the Woods case. This being the only real hope left for the Lodge, I waited thirty days to see if there was one Mason belonging to Montgomery Lodge who would express his dissatisfaction with the action of the Lodge. At the expiration of this thirty days, due to the inability of myself and D. D. G. M. Brother Duncan, Brother W. R. Corley of Pineville, La., executed my orders to arrest the charter to this Lodge.

The matter is, therefore, before you as to the guilt or innocence, and the sentence, if any, of Brother Quinalty and Brother Woods, and the restoration of the charter to said Lodge, provided application is made therefor.

Dubach Lodge No. 277.

In the latter part of October, 1925, information came to me that there was some trouble in the membership of Dubach Lodge. Upon inquiry I found that one of their members had been tried in the Federal Court, at Shreveport, on a charge of theft from the railroad company, or some such grievous offense, and that on another indictment of a similar nature the accused pleaded guilty in Federal Court and was now serving a sentence in the Federal Prison at Atlanta, Georgia. I requested my District Deputy Grand Master, Brother R. H. Brooks, of Ruston, to investigate the matter to learn why no charges had been preferred in the Lodge. Brother Brooks reported to me that there was a difference of opinion in the Lodge as to whether or not a conviction could be had. However, the case was tried and the copy of the records of the Federal Court was introduced during the trial. The Lodge found him guilty but refused to fix any penalty. It seems that the matter became common talk among the citizens of the community and that Masonry was getting into disrepute because of the failure of the Lodge to do its duty. There was no appeal taken. I thereupon requested Brother Brooks to proceed to Dubach and arrest the charter of the Lodge, which he did on the 14th of January. Where a man has been found guilty by a jury in the court, and who has plead guilty on another charge of a grave nature, and who is serving a sentence in the penitentiary, certainly needs greater punishment than a reprimand. And a Lodge that renders such a sentence, without an appeal being immediately taken, causing the Masonic Fraternity to be in disrepute in the community, does not represent the Masonic Fraternity properly and, therefore, its charter should be arrested.

Reprimand of Lodge.

Solomon Lodge No. 221 had a man who, with his son, was charged with misappropriation and embezzlement of the funds of one or more banks. The son was tried by the Lodge at Pollock and expelled. The father confessed to the embezzlement by his son, but maintained that he, the father, was innocent. He was tried in the Criminal Court and convicted of embezzlement and sentenced to serve seven years in the State Penitentiary. While his case was on appeal to the Supreme Court, charges were preferred against him in his Lodge, and a certified copy of the court records were made a part of the records in the case before the Lodge. By a vote of sixty-six to forty-one, the Lodge declared that he was not guilty. Notice of this reached me two weeks ago today, and I thereupon addressed the following letter to the Lodge.

January 18, 1926.

Mr. O. B. Owens, Senior Warden,
Solomon Lodge No. 221, F. & A. M.,
Pineville, La.,

Dear Sir and Brother:—

Notice of the appeal to the Grand Secretary in the case of Solomon Lodge No. 221 versus James A. Christian, has just reached me. To say that I regret the action of Solomon Lodge in this matter is putting it too mildly, and I desire to particularly congratulate the Lodge on having as their Senior Warden a Mason who has the interests of the fraternity sufficiently at heart to appeal this case.

A man who has been tried by a jury of his peers and found guilty, who was sentenced to serve a term in the penitentiary for the serious offense charged, who is now confined in jail for such offense while his case is on appeal to the Supreme Court, to have been charged and tried by a Lodge of Free and Accepted Masons and then found "not guilty" has evidently blinded the membership of his Lodge to their Masonic duty.

But for the fact that it is so near to the Annual Communication of this Grand Lodge I do not hesitate to say that the charter to Solomon Lodge would have been arrested. Under the circumstances I feel that the Grand Lodge will mete out the proper punishment to the accused, but as a reprimand to the Lodge it is hereby ordered that this letter be read in open Lodge. To those whom the shoe pinches, let them wear it!

Masonry is not intended as a harbinger of criminals, and those who think so have exercised their Masonic Charity beyond the breaking point, beyond reason, beyond good judgment, and beyond Masonic principles; and the sooner we learn that, the better.

While this letter is prompted by duty, it is written in a spirit of Masonic charity to the entire membership of Solomon Lodge.

Sincerely and fraternally,

H. B. CONNER,
Grand Master.

THEODORE ROOSEVELT LODGE NO. 415.

This Lodge was chartered by the Grand Lodge in 1925, and for some unaccountable reason a great many of the signers to the application for charter failed to secure certificates of good standing. The result was that when the Secretary of Theodore Roosevelt Lodge notified the Lodges from which these charter members came, several of the old Lodges took the position that since no certificates of good standing had been issued by them that they were not members of Theodore Roosevelt Lodge. In support of their contention, they quoted Edict No. 81, which provides as follows:

"That the signature of a brother to a petition for a charter for a new lodge was a nullity, if he had presented no certificate of good standing in his former Lodge, when the new Lodge was created under dispensation, and that, consequently, he never became a member of the new Lodge."

There was also involved in the matter the assessment for the new Masonic Temple. The various Lodges interested pressed me for a ruling. I realized that there was only one way that I could rule, which was to the effect that they were not members of Theodore Roosevelt Lodge. Having in mind the salvation of the new Lodge, the wishes of the brethren involved, and the welfare of the fraternity, I appealed to the other Lodges in question to accept the proper financial settlement in each case and that the Grand Lodge would not require of the old Lodges any per capita tax for such members for the year 1925 and that they exercise their real Masonic spirit by permitting said members to remain in the new Lodge. These various Lodges, without exception, complied with my request, for which we are truly grateful.

Reports came to me that E. Turci, a member of Roosevelt Lodge, had been fined and convicted for violation of the anti-liquor laws and that there were several other such charges against him now pending in the court. It also developed that the same Brother Turci, while a member of Galilelo Lodge, was tried, convicted and definitely suspended for violation of the anti-liquor laws in 1923 or 1924. I discussed the matter with certain members of the Lodge and was informed that it would be difficult to secure a conviction. It seems that the Master was not aware of so many recent charges pending against him, and upon ascertaining from me and from the public records regarding these cases, upon my insistence, charges were preferred. The accused plead guilty and the Lodge suspended him for a period of one month. In this case, I think it is fortunate that the Grand Lodge adopted, last year, the resolution requiring a transcript of the testimony and the proceedings in all Lodge trials; for while there was no appeal in this case, it will no doubt come before you from the Committee on Appeals and Grievances, in which case, I feel that you will render the proper sentence.

A member of Theodore Roosevelt Lodge was summoned by another Lodge to be present at a conference between midnight and daylight for an interview in regard to some trouble involving a relative within the Masonic family of a member of the summoning Lodge. The accused did not obey the summons, coming from the Lodge of which he was not a member, but the Master of Roosevelt Lodge arranged for a conference with both parties at the residence of the accused. About 7:30 o'clock of the same morning, the Master had a conference in his office with the accused and two other members of his Lodge, at which conference the accused confessed his guilt, at the same time reciting mitigating circumstances. The Master immediately ordered charges preferred. It later appeared to me that the husband of the woman in the case would be willing to continue living with his wife, provided too much publicity was not given to the case. I thereupon requested Theodore Roosevelt Lodge, since the accused had admitted, in writing, that he was guilty, to try the case without using the name of the woman involved. This they did and suspended the accused. According to my information, the woman and her husband are living together at the present time. On account of the gravity of the situation and the apparent seriousness of publicity, I trust that my action in this case meets with your approval.

Sun Lodge No. 336.

In the early part of the year, I was requested by the Secretary of Sun Lodge to advise what charge, if any, could be preferred against a brother having carnal knowledge of a girl under age, but who was not a Mason's daughter. I replied that he should be charged with un-Masonic conduct. After waiting some three or four months, and hearing nothing further in the matter, I wrote to inquire what had been done. I was advised that the Lodge had not taken any action, but were waiting to learn the outcome of court proceedings in the case. I immediately replied that Masonic trials are not dependent upon court trials or court action, but in Masonic trials it is permissible to use court records. I desired to know what the Lodge proposed to do and advised them that I was getting uneasy and impatient, and that in justice to the Lodge they should let me have a prompt reply. They replied a few days later that when the case of Jacob Jenkins (the accused) came up in the District Court he was not tried on the original charges, but was tried and found guilty of tampering with State witnesses and was sentenced to serve not less than two, nor more than five years in the penitentiary. They requested to know how to dispose of the case in the Lodge. I replied that charges should be preferred against him and that he must be tried by the Lodge. I arranged a meeting with some of the officers of this Lodge in Bogalusa, where I again advised them, in personal conversation, that I was tired of waiting and insisted upon a trial. Soon thereafter charges were preferred, the accused was found guilty and suspended for the time that he shall remain in the penitentiary. Upon receiving this advice, I told them that the suspension was neither an indefinite suspension nor a definite suspension, because the sentence of the court was an indeterminate sentence, and I ordered them to hold another trial and mete out the proper punishment. The second trial was held on the 22nd of December and the said Jacob Jenkins was indefinitely suspended.

GRANT LODGE NO. 345.

Brother I. N. Adams, Junior Warden of the above named Lodge, wrote me a long and interesting letter relative to the trial of M. D. Guynes, and Brother Adams' statements were endorsed by the Secretary, Senior Warden, Senior Deacon and two Past Masters of the Lodge, to the effect that Masonry was getting into disrepute in the community by reason of the result of the trial. He was charged with the defalcation of money. On the date of the trial a plea of guilty was entered and leniency requested. The result was a reprimand. Brother Adams and others desired to know what could be done in the matter. I advised that, no appeal having been taken, the Lodge could and should have another trial in the case and mete out the proper punishment. The second trial was held in due season and the accused was indefinitely suspended.

VERDA LODGE NO. 323.

In November, 1924, complaint was made by Brother J. W. Duncan, of Colfax, D. D. G. M., that a member of Verda Lodge was causing trouble between a husband and wife, both profanes, and that the accused had stated that he would not appear before the Lodge that could try him, even though he might be summoned to do so. This matter did not come to my attention until December 3, 1925. Upon investigation of the papers in the case I was convinced that the charges were of a grave nature, and I, therefore, ordered Verda Lodge to prefer charges and conduct the trial. As soon as the accused was notified of this action, he replied that he was not guilty, but felt certain that the Lodge would find him guilty in spite of his innocence, and I was requested by another brother, purporting to be a friend of the accused, to either expel or suspend the accused rather than have the trial proceeded with. I replied that, regardless of how serious the charge might be, I was not convinced of the innocence or guilt of the accused and, therefore, refused to take the action requested. In the interim of more than a year, it developed that the husband and wife in the case had gone back together, and on the trial of the case the accused was found not guilty.

Masonic Trials.

During the year, I appointed a committee, composed of Brother L. E. Thomas, Chairman of the Committee on Law and Jurisprudence, Brother B. B. Purser, Chairman of the Committee on Appeals and Grievances, Brother John W. Armstrong, and Brother George A. Treadwell, these four being Past Grand Masters, and Brother Herbert W. Kaiser, the latter two being the authors of resolutions previously introduced in the Grand Lodge bearing on the subject of Masonic Trials, to revise our system of holding trials in Masonic Lodges. After many unsuccessful efforts, for an earlier meeting, and after much interchange of views by correspondence, I met with this committee in Shreveport, Louisiana, on the 16th of January, 1926, at which time they unanimously agreed to recommend to this Grand Lodge an alternate system of trials. If their recommendations are adopted, each Lodge will have the option of proceeding with its trials by the entire membership of the Lodge, as has been the case in the past, or of using a trial commission, composed of eleven members of the Lodge. This committee will report to you in detail, and I earnestly recommend the adoption of their report, because the large Lodges particularly need to get away from the necessity of issuing summons to all of its members in the event of a trial.

At the beginning of my term of office all of the Lodges in the city of New Orleans had amended their by-laws so as to take care of the pro rata of the four hundred and twenty-five thousand dollars subscribed by the city Lodges for the new Masonic Temple, with the exception of two Lodges, namely Lynnwood Lodge and Jefferson Lodge. In a short while thereafter both of these Lodges had amended their by-laws to take care of their portion of this fund.

Masonic Temple.

On account of the demolition of the old Temple, we secured temporary quarters at 535 Iberville Street.

As the authorization for the financial program was not given until February, 1925, the actual work on our new Temple was necessarily postponed until after preliminary arrangements had been made with reference to the sale of the bonds, the selection of the trustee, the determination of whether we would erect the fifteen-story or an eighteen-story building, the preparation of alternate plans and specifications, the opening of the bids, and the letting of the contracts. I was notified by the trustee to come to New Orleans to sign the bonds which they had had printed, but upon examination I found that the bonds provided for interest at the rate of eight per cent after maturity, and, in the event of default, attorney's fees on the entire issue, regardless of the unpaid amount, and several other very stringent requirements, which I deemed very dangerous, and for the above reasons I refused to sign the original issue of bonds and notified the trustee that we would not sign the act of mortgage prepared by the trustee in the condition that it was at that time. After some five or six trips to New Orleans to consult with them about these matters, we finally agreed upon a satisfactory act of mortgage and had a new issue of bonds printed providing for interest at only six per cent after maturity and other clauses very advantageous to the Grand Lodge.

Our esteemed and lamented Brother, Joseph Sinai, was acting as the attorney for the Grand Lodge in all of these matters, and immediately after his demise Brother Herbert W. Kaiser volunteered to act as the attorney and legal advisor for the Grand Lodge and he has rendered legal services to the fraternity worth many thousands of dollars, merely because of his great love for the fraternity, and but for his valuable assistance we would not have been able to accomplish the results obtained.

We were indeed fortunate in being able to secure bids permitting us to undertake the erection of an eighteen-story combination Masonic and office building and a general contract let for said building to James Stewart & Company, of New York, bears the signature of two serving Grand Masters, one of them being myself and the other being M. W. Grand Master William A. Rowan, the present Grand Master of the Grand Lodge of New York and who is also the active vice-president of James Stewart & Company.

At various times during the year there were complaints made by interested parties claiming that they should be recognized either with reference to the bids for material, or for labor, in all of which cases I gave the opinion that the Grand Lodge of Louisiana had contracted with James Stewart & Company of New York to take over the general contract, and that under the terms of the contract we could not undertake to regulate the manner in which they carried out the details. The Grand Lodge was able to undertake an eighteen-story building instead of a fifteen-story building because of the wide publicity in reference to the bidding for letting the contract and because of the extremely advantageous prices quoted. The matter has been handled with the idea that the correct thing to do was to accept the lowest bids. In some cases the lowest bids were made by a person or persons not members of the Fraternity. Immediately after the letting of some of these contracts complaints were made, that no one but Masons should have been recognized in the awarding of these contracts. The various contractors and subcontractors could not be expected to comply with such requests, so all such complaints that came to me had to be considered in this light.

The Board of Grand Lodge Hall Directors will cover this subject more fully in their report to you.

Order of the Eastern Star.

The Order of the Eastern Star exists for the purpose of assisting Masons to provide for the welfare of their wives, mothers, daughters and sisters; to promulgate the principles of brotherly love, relief and truth, to aid, comfort and protect each other and their dependents through life, and by social enjoyments and cheerful companionship to lighten the burdens of active duties. It is, therefore, related to the Masonic Fraternity by the dearest ties. Through it the members of the entire family may become colaborers with our great brotherhood in the service of humanity.

In Louisiana they have proven their great worth to us in many ways. In many localities it is the interest of the members of the Eastern Star which has kept the Masonic light burning brightly, or from being smothered out of existence by lack of interest. Mrs. Jessie F. B. Milliken, Worthy Grand Matron, Mrs. Camilla Barrow, Past Grand Matron, and many other members of the Order were with us at the dedication of the Masonic Home for Orphan Children at Alexandria, June 24, 1926, and the Grand Chapter, O. E. S., and by many of its constituent local Chapters have aided the home by their valuable financial contributions and their personal interest. The Grand Chapter of Louisiana, O. E. S., raised $25,000.00 to donate to this home, in addition to many donations from local Chapters.

Our good ladies are sincerely and devoutly interested in the same cause that we are, and I unhesitatingly commend their work to the favorable consideration of all Masons.

Masonic Relief Association.

This is an international organization with members throughout the United States and Canada. As to what its meetings mean I refer to the words used by Mr. Cassius M. Doty, Assistant Corporation Counsel of the City of Chicago, who delivered the welcome address on behalf of the Mayor.

"I have been trying to determine in my own mind what it means that men and women representing the great principle of fraternism representing one of, if not the greatest fraternity on the face of the earth, should gather here from all over the continent to engage in deliberations needed to insure fraternism and brotherhood among mankind. I have come to the conclusion that the problems you work out here during your convention, many and important as they may be, are the smallest part of what it means for you to assemble here. The fact that men from communities having different ideals and different social conditions unite in a common bond of fraternity and in a common desire to do good unto others should come together and spend a few days in conversation is greater than the decisions that you may make in respect to your particular problems. It means common interest; it means solidarity and it means friendship and understanding for the people of the whole United States and Canada, and these things are important."

Masonic Service Association.

Since joining the Masonic Service Association this Grand Lodge has given its most hearty support. We find in it a means of mutual acquaintance and friendly intercourse between the several sovereign Grand Lodges, which is so greatly to be desired and which has never before been so well attained. The meetings of the Association have been of great benefit to the Craft in general.

The Master Mason, the Little Masonic Library, the Speakers' Bulletins, and the Short Talk Bulletins, when properly used, will bring any Lodge from ignorance and darkness to Masonic knowledge and light.

It has been my pleasure to attend three of the annual meetings of this Association in as many different years, the last two of which it was my honor to materially assist, as a member thereof, the Committee on Administration and Finance. And I assure you that the benefit to be derived from membership in this Association is limited only to the extent to which its assistance is not taken advantage of.

Brother Stanley C. Arthur, Executive Secretary of the M. S. A. for Louisiana, has prepared a bulletin on the laying of the cornerstone to the State Capitol of Louisiana at Baton Rouge by the Grand Lodge of Louisiana, in 1847. This should be sent out as one of our State Service Bulletins, in order to give this important information to the Craft and to preserve the record. To Brother Arthur we extend our thanks for his work of preparing this bulletin.

During the latter part of 1925 I requested the Grand Lecturers to give a talk on the principles and history and aims of our fraternity whenever the number of Masons present justified it, and in this they have heartily co-operated.

The system in vogue of designating District Chairmen to have charge of the service work throughout the State has not been as successful as was desired for the reason that they either could not or did not give sufficient amount of time and study to the work. My observation and experience has convinced me that there are a great many brethren who would gladly undertake the work of keeping posted on the different short talk bulletins and other Masonic current literature and delivering instructive and entertaining lectures in line with the Masonic Service program, without remuneration, if only given an opportunity to do so. The problem is to discover them. Many instructive lectures have been given along this line in the various Lodges throughout the State. I would be remiss in my duty if I should fail to make particular mention of the splendid work of Brother John C. Ayers, of Lake Charles, along this line. He has visited some ten or twelve Lodges for me within the past ninety days, and without exception the Lodges have reported an increased interest. Brother Robert Robson, of Lake Charles, has also done similar work. I suggest that any Master Mason in Louisiana who desires to serve the Fraternity in this matter write to the incoming Grand Master or the Grand Secretary, giving the name, number and location of each Lodge that he can conveniently visit in putting on the program of the Masonic Service work. I also recommend that Masters and Secretaries in their respective Lodges call for volunteers in this work; and that the literature of the Masonic Service Association now going regularly to every Lodge in the State be given wider circulation and publicity in local Lodges. Those who have not been reading THE MASTER MASON have no idea of the wonderful literary, Masonic, historic and philosophic interest that it is certain to command, and I wish every Mason in Louisiana would read it regularly.

RECOMMENDATIONS.

REVISION OF OUR LAW.

There are too many apparent contradictions in our present compilation of Masonic Laws; and too many edicts arranged under heterogeneous headings. Many subjects are covered solely by the General Regulations, while others are covered in both the General Regulations and the Constitution, making it too difficult in most cases, and practically impossible in many cases, for the man of even extraordinary intelligence to ascertain the correct law. Especially is this true when considering the changes made by this Grand Lodge from year to year, which by the nature of things cannot be found in our present edition. And the index is deplorably inadequate. To reprint the entire book at frequent intervals is too expensive. I recommend that a committee be appointed by the incoming Grand Master, or otherwise selected, to prepare a Masonic Code, with all of our laws properly arranged, and minutely indexed, and report the same to the Committee on Masonic Law and Jurisprudence and the Grand Master, and with their approval the same be printed and one copy be furnished to each Lodge and Grand Lodge Officer, and all other copies be sold; and that annually thereafter such changes in law as may be enacted by this Grand Lodge be printed on separate sheets of paper which shall contain the instructions to "Paste on page..... of the Masonic Code," and that these new laws be enclosed with the March or April circular of the Grand Secretary. Many other Grand Jurisdictions have such a Masonic Code, and Louisiana badly needs one.

Esoteric Work.

Due to the untiring work of our efficient Grand Lecturers and the other Masons they have interested in the esoteric work, a marked improvement is noticeable in the manner of conferring the degrees in all Lodges that have shown the proper interest, and the slothful in this respect are becoming fewer each year. In practically every Lodge in the State the work is more uniform today than ever before, and a continuation of the vigilance and instruction from the Grand Lecturers to the changing officers and newly-made Masons from year to year is the only hope of holding the ground that we have gained and make still further improvement in this respect.

Antiquated ceremonies and useless repetitions are working great injury to the cause of Freemasonry. Our opening and closing ceremonies consume entirely too much time. There is a difference of opinion as to the amount of time these ceremonies require. However, little it might be, that time could be better utilized by a short address on the symbolism, history, or principles of Masonry, etc., or the telling of some Masonic incident, or merely calling attention to our Masonic Service Association bulletins, which is too seldom done now. I suggest the following changes in our esoteric work.

In both opening and closing ceremonies in the Third Degree, let the procedure be as follows:—

Use our present esoteric work to the point where the Junior Deacon states that the Lodge is tyled, after which he shall not be required to say anything else, nor shall other questions be necessarily asked of him. After the Lodge has been purged, and the Senior Warden states that the number that compose a Lodge of M. M., eliminate all that follows up to the time when all present rise, requiring the W. M. to call up the Lodge and he instead of the J. W. make the announcement relative to the opening of the Lodge, using language appropriate therefor.

In closing after the Junior Deacon states that the Lodge is tyled. As soon as the J. D. makes this report, let the W. M. call up the Lodge and address them as follows:— "Altogether, Brethren, upon the * * *"; and from this point on proceed as per our present esoteric work.

Time is a measured portion of eternity in which we live now and always. The great rule of moral conduct is, next to God, respect time. Our time on this earth is momentary, and it is wicked to waste it. Time is life. Yet how foolishly we spend it, throwing enough odd hours into the rubbish heap to make us master of great fields of knowledge and service. He who kills time is killed by it.

"So teach us to number our days that we may apply our hearts into wisdom."

Elsewhere in my address I have recommended changes in our esoteric work to increase attendance and interest in our meetings; changes in the detail of Masonic Service Association program by putting the work in the hands of those who can and will give it their time and attention the preparation and publication of a Masonic Code and the annual changes in our laws; a change in our system of trials, which I think should be elective and given a fair trial as to its operation. There is some doubt in my mind about whether the transcript of the proceedings of all trials, which is now required under our law, constitutes an appeal, and I recommend that this be made clear. My recommendations with reference to the Masonic Home have been made to the Board of Trustees. I further recommend that we elect for the three degrees at one and the same time, leaving the right of objection for cause stated by any member, which objection should operate for a period of six months from the date of ballot by the Lodge, or the conferring of the preceeding degree, which ever is of the latest date. I also recommend that two negative votes be required to reject an applicant for the degrees.

Grand Lodge Certificates.

Whenever a charter to a Lodge is arrested or surrendered, and such action approved by this Grand Lodge, the Grand Secretary issues to each member in good standing a Grand Lodge Certificate of Good Standing, which gives the holder thereof the right of visitation (provided no objection is made thereto) for a period of one year. These certificates are mailed out by the Grand Secretary, if the member is clear of indebtedness, and provided he knows the address. In many cases I fear these individuals are not cognizant of their rights or of the value of these Certificates or how they can be obtained. The Grand Secretary now has on hand, uncalled for, the following Grand Lodge Certificates of Good Standing for former members of:

Sarepta Lodge 272	11	Certificates.
Hackley Lodge 351	26	"
Leesville Lodge 240	19	"
Cross Roads Lodge 354	20	"
For Entered Apprentices	2	"
Total	78

I recommend that the D. D. G. M. in each district affected secure the names of these individuals, try to ascertain their present whereabouts, if possible that he interview them to ascertain if they understand their situation; and also that the Grand Secretary notify said individuals at the address of the old Lodge of their Masonic status.

Certificates from Local Lodges.

Edict No. 62 reads: "That the W. M. of every Lodge receiving a charter shall, at the first meeting of said Lodge, cause notice of the fact to be sent to every Lodge from which the charter members hail, giving each Lodge the names of their members inserted in the charter."

Edict No. 249 reads: "In the absence of a showing to the contrary, it will be presumed that the W. M. of the newly chartered Lodge has performed his duty under the requirements of Edict 62. The membership of a brother ceases in the old Lodge from date of issuance of charter, without other conditions precedent."

There have been too many cases of overlooking Edict 81, which reads: "That the signature of a brother to a petition for a charter for a new Lodge was a nullity, if he had presented no certificate of good standing in his former Lodge, when the new Lodge was created under dispensation, and that, consequently, he never became a member of the new Lodge."

In order to try to clarify the confusion that has existed in this respect in the past, the following forms have been prepared during the year, of which the Grand Secretary has a supply.

Certificate.

.....Lodge No....., F. & A. M.

....., 19.....

CERTIFICATE.

.....Lodge No....., F. & A. M.

....., 19.....

Grand Secretary,

Grand Lodge of Louisiana, F. & A. M.

This will certify that Brother.....has paid all claims against him to....., 19....., and that there are no charges pending against him. Secretary.

I recommend that the Grand Lodge approve the use of these forms, without disparagement to other satisfactory forms, in order that this recommendation may have the effect of law, particularly as regards the Masonic standing of charter members to new Lodges.

RIGHT OF OBJECTION.

Our law is clear that no Mason can permanently estop an E. A. or F. C. by an objection, but that charges must be preferred and a trial had before he can be permanently estopped. And yet the opinion is held by some that under our law a visiting Brother M. M. can be permanently estopped from visiting a Lodge by the objection of a member of that Lodge, whether the objecting member be present at the Lodge at the time of the visit or not. Others hold the opinion that a visitor can be estopped only for one meeting at a time, and then only in case the objecting member of the Lodge is present.

I suggest that this question be definitely determined by an expression of the opinion of this Grand Lodge.

Public Education.

Freemasonry is and always has been vitally interested in the cause of public education.

But in the name of religion our public schools have been almost stript of religious instruction. This is due to the principle of religious freedom, which insures the separation of Church and State. This principle in operation has, in many cases, meant not only separation of Church and State, but actual refusal to permit any fundamental of religion to be mentioned in our schools. This has brought about a constantly increasing emphasis on civic, social and industrial aims, and a decrease in religious aims; and has put our public schools at the mercy of minorities with respect to religious matters.

As to who is to blame for the situation there is a difference of opinion, and very little, if any, good will be accomplished by going too much into detail in an effort to fix the blame. The real basis of the cause of this deplorable condition is the fact that adherents of all faiths have been far more concerned in seeing to it that the public schools should not teach anything inconsistent with their particular beliefs and practices, than to conserve in our schools the great fundamental principles of religion and morals upon which they all agree.

In this exclusion of religion from the public schools there is great danger. The situation will, in time, imperil the future of religion in this country, and, with religion, the future of the nation itself. A generation ago schooling was only a fraction of a child's education; the larger, and in many respects the more important, part of education was left to the home and the community. But the principle of separation of Church and State must not be so construed as to render the State a fosterer of non-religion or atheism. And yet we are in too great danger of this very thing.

While Freemasonry is not a religion, but interlaces all religious denominations, I recommend that each individual Mason seriously consider the gravity of the situation, and properly use his influence for the welfare of the nation in this respect. I also recommend the adoption of the following, or a similar resolution:

Whereas one of the cardinal principles of Freemasonry is a belief in God and the Brotherhood of Man, and men of various different religious beliefs are joined together for this purpose in our fraternity, and

Whereas the future welfare of the nation is dependent upon the education of its citizens, and the common school system of America, fathered and always supported by Free and Accepted Masons, has proven its worth to the nation, and there is great danger in the total exclusion of all religious instruction from our public schools; therefore,

Be it resolved by the Grand Lodge of the State of Louisiana that it is the sense of this Grand Lodge that religious instruction, at least to the extent that all denominations and creeds are agreed upon, should be taught in our public schools; and that each individual Mason should use his efforts to bring about such instruction in our public schools.

Suspension for Non-Payment of Dues.

The loss in membership by reason of suspension for non-payment of dues has been numerically large during the year. A little of this, and in my opinion only a very little, has been due to assessments and the increase in annual dues. Some of these will, of course, return. Relative to most of those who have dropped out because of the requirement which necessitates their support of our Masonic Home for Orphan Children, I am reminded of the process by which Gideon selected his army, and I feel that the membership in our Lodges today are without superiors in quality.

But too often members are dropped after notice has been mailed but which they failed to receive. I recommend that before any member be suspended for non-payment of dues or assessment the Lodge shall be required to send him a notice of ninety days of the intended action of the Lodge, which notice shall be delivered to him in person or by registered mail to his last known address, with return receipt requested. This would save some members from being suspended.

Conclusion.

The work of the year has been indeed a work of pleasure as well as service. Without specifying every individual member of my official family I desire to take this means of thanking each and every one of them. Not a single time has a call been upon them when it was possible for them to act that they have failed me. Due to the volume of work required of any Grand Master, it would be impossible for him to get along without the assistance and guiding hand of a most active, painstaking, devoted and efficient Grand Secretary, one who can and will relieve him of a great deal of work, such as my beloved brother, John A. Davilla.

The various Past Grand Masters, Grand Lecturers, many of the District Deputy Grand Masters, and several officers and members of the constituent Lodges have gone out of their way to assist me in the performance of my duties and otherwise to show their esteem and love for the cause of Freemasonry. Indeed, there have been many to whom I and all of you owe their thanks, who have realized that they should "Work for the night is coming when Man's work is o'er."

I desire to close with the words selected from a poem familiar to many:

Thou first great Cause, least understood,
Who all my sense confined
To know but this: that Thou art good,
And that myself am blind;

Yet gave me in this dark estate,
To see the good from ill;
And binding Nature fast in Fate,
Let free the human Will.

What blessings Thy free bounty gives,
Let me not cast away;
For God is paid when man receives;
To enjoy is to obey.

Yet not to earth's contracted span
Thy goodness let me bound,
Or Thee the Lord alone of man,
When thousand worlds are round.

Let not this weak, unknowing hand
Presume Thy bolts to throw,
And deal damnation 'round the land
On each I judge Thy foe.

If I am right, Thy Grace impart
Still in the right to stay;
If I am wrong, Oh teach my heart
To find that better way.

Save me alike from foolish pride
Or impious discontent,
At aught Thy wisdom has denied,
Or aught Thy goodness lent.

Teach me to feel another's woe,
To hide the fault I see;
That mercy I to others show,
That mercy show to me.

Mean though I am, not wholly so,
Since quickened by Thy breath;
Oh, lead me, wheresoe'er I go,
Through this day's life or death.

This day be bread and peace my lot;
All else beneath the sun
Thou knowest it best, bestowed or not,
And let Thy will be done.

On motion, duly adopted the address was received and referred to appropriate committees.

TRIAL OF PERCY J. PROSSER, JR.

In the matter of the trial of Percy J. Prosser, Jr., P. M. Linn Wood Lodge No. 167, who after the vacation of his office, was tried by that lodge for acts of malfeasance while Master and which case came before the Committee on Appeals at the Session of 1925 and was by them referred back to the Grand Lodge for action at this Session, for the reason that the lodge was without jurisdiction in the matter, the Grand Secretary reported that every provision of the law had been complied with and that the testimony in the case had been retaken, by a Special Commissioner in the person of W. Brother Milton W. Boylan, who had been duly appointed by the M. W. Grand Master.

On motion, duly adopted, the report of the Commissioner and the testimony was referred to the Committee on Appeals and Grievances.

GREETINGS FROM GRAND CHAPTER O. E. S.

The following telegram of greetings was received from the Grand Matron of the Order of the Eastern Star:

"The Grand Chapter of Louisiana O. E. S. sends cordial greetings and best wishes for the best Grand Session ever. May the coming year bring many blessings to your beloved Order."

JESSIE F. B. MILLIKEN, Worthy Grand Matron.

RECEPTION OF ORPHAN CHILDREN.

The Grand Lodge was called to refreshment at this point and twenty-four of the children from the Home at Alexandria, accompanied by the Superintendent, were admitted and entertained the Grand Lodge with singing, recitations and calisthenic exercises.

The entertainment was greatly enjoyed by the members of the Grand Lodge, who repeatedly applauded the efforts of the children. At the conclusion of the entertainment, the sum of two hundred and sixty-eight dollars and seventy-five cents was realized by voluntary subscription, to defray the expenses of transportation to and from the home.

The Officers and Representatives then repaired to the dining hall of the Mosque and enjoyed a splendid supper, which had been prepared under the direction of the Potentate and Officials of Jerusalem Temple of the Shrine.

FIRST DAY—NIGHT SESSION.

MOSQUE JERUSALEM TEMPLE,
NEW ORLEANS, LA., FEBRUARY 1, 1926.

The M. W. Grand Lodge, Free and Accepted Masons of the State of Louisiana, after prayer by Rev. Brother Robert H. Harper, Grand Chaplain, was called from refreshment to labor by M. W. Brother Haney B. Conner, Grand Master, this Monday evening at seven-thirty o'clock.

GRAND LODGE OFFICERS PRESENT.

All of the Grand Lodge Officers were present and in their respective stations.

GRAND REPRESENTATIVES PRESENT.

All of the Grand Representatives enumerated in the minutes of the afternoon session were present.

A quorum of the lodges being present, the Grand Master declared the Grand Lodge open for business.

REPORT OF GRAND SECRETARY.

Grand Secretary John A. Davilla, presented the following report, which was received and referred to the Committee on Audits and Accounts.

New Orleans, La., February 1st, 1926.

To the M. W. Grand Lodge of Louisiana F. & A. M.

Brethren:—I have the honor to submit the following as the report of my office for the year ending December 31st, 1925.

The Proceedings of the last Annual Communication were distributed among our Constituent Lodges and the different Grand Lodges with which we are in fraternal relations. The monthly circular has been printed regularly and distributed as required by law.

LODGES INSTITUTED.

Square and Compass U. D. at Kenner, in the Parish of Jefferson, was instituted on the 29th of April, 1925, by J. Paul Haller, Deputy Grand Master, assisted by John A. Davilla, Grand Secretary, and Ira Weingrun, Grand Marshal. Dispensation was dated April 9, 1925.

LODGES CONSTITUTED.

Theodore Roosevelt Lodge No. 415, constituted February 9th, 1925, by J. Paul Haller, Deputy Grand Master, in the city of New Orleans.

Alco Lodge No. 416, in the town of Alco, Parish of Vernon, constituted on February 15th, by Edwin F. Gayle, Grand Senior Warden, assisted by James H. Rowland, Grand Junior Warden.

Leesville Lodge No. 240, in the town of Leesville, Parish of Vernon, constituted on February 14th, by Edwin F. Gayle, Grand Senior Warden, assisted by James H. Rowland, Grand Junior Warden.

COMMISSIONS RECEIVED.

For Herbert Wesley Chapman of New Orleans, as the Representative of the Grand Lodge of Scotland near the Grand Lodge of Louisiana. Commission dated May 7th, 1925.

For Herbert W. Kaiser, of New Orleans, as the Representative of the Grand Lodge of Mississippi near the Grand Lodge of Louisiana, Commission dated June 17th, 1925.

For Sam Stone, Jr., of New Orleans, as the Representative of the Grand Lodge of North Carolina near the Grand Lodge of Louisiana, Commission dated June 23rd, 1925.

For Ira L. Pope, of Franklinton, as the Representative of the Grand Lodge of Colorado near the Grand Lodge of Louisiana. Commission dated August 3rd, 1925.

For Edgar E. Pressburg, of Franklinton, as the Representative of the Grand Lodge of Colorado near the Grand Lodge of Louisiana. Commission dated August 3rd, 1925.

COMMISSIONS ISSUED.

To Miguel Funes of Matanzas, as the Representative of the Grand Lodge of Louisiana near the Grand Lodge of Cuba. Commission dated February 13th, 1925.

To Francis Edward Nichol of Killan, Alberta, as the Representative of the Grand Lodge of Louisiana near the Grand Lodge of Alberta. Commission dated March 2nd, 1925.

To Ben F. Bateman, of Lucy, as the Representative of the Grand Lodge of Louisiana near the Grand Lodge of Tennessee. Commission dated March 2nd, 1925.

To Ray E. Gile of Merrilan, as the representative of the Grand Lodge of Louisiana near the Grand Lodge of Wisconsin, vice Robt. Bartholemew, deceased. Commission dated March 14th, 1925.

To W. G. Blewett of Kamsack, as the representative of the Grand Lodge of Louisiana near the Grand Lodge of Saskatchewan, vice W. Fawcett, deceased. Commission dated June 30th, 1925.

ARRESTED CHARTERS.

About midway during the year, the Charter of Montgomery Lodge No. 168 was arrested by the Grand Master and is now in my care, together with their minute book. The report of the lodge was made in regular course and all claims against them have been paid. No demand has been made for their books of account or other property, as I felt that I must be limited in my action by the direction of the Grand Lodge.

The Charter of Dubach Lodge No. 277 was arrested by R. H. Brooks, D. D. G. M., by direction of the Grand Master, about the 15th of January. The Charter and books of the lodge are in my possession. The lodge has reported and paid all dues.

SURRENDERED CHARTER.

I have had placed with me the Charter of Woodworth Lodge No. 331, together with the minutes of a communication held on the 10th of December, 1925, at which it was decided to surrender the Charter. Eleven members out of a total of 36 were present at the meeting, of which some 23 were non-residents. The lodge has reported and paid dues for 1925.

I am also in receipt of a certified copy of the minutes of Red Land Lodge No. 148, held on the 16th of January, 1926, at which it was decided to surrender their Charter, nineteen out of a total of twenty-eight members being present.

I am also in receipt of the Charter and books of this lodge.

BONDS OF OFFICERS.

It is of interest to the Craft of the State to note that, under the general form of official bonds now in effect for the past three years, we have been able to collect the following items:

July 15th, $500.00 for account of the failure of the Bank of Pollock in the interest of Anchor Lodge No. 261, against a loss of $502.50, $500.00 being the amount of the risk.

December 10th, $252.55 in the interest of Cotton Valley Lodge No. 335, due to the failure of the Bank of Cotton Valley.

DUPLICATE CHARTERS ISSUED.

October 12th, 1925, to Curtis T. Hines Lodge No. 317, original being destroyed by fire.

October 27th, 1925, to Union Fraternal Lodge No. 53, original being deteriorated and useless.

January 11th, 1926, to Shongaloo Lodge No. 352, original being lost or destroyed.

In closing, I desire to express my appreciation of the work of the greater majority of our Lodge Secretaries. As to the minority, we might charitably ascribe their shortcomings to lack of experience. To the credit of the former, I might say that their work is, in the main, typewritten and, whenever otherwise, is clearly and legibly written. In the latter instance, the work shows every evidence of haste and occasions considerable correspondence in order to fix the intent of the writer, and while upon this point I will say that some show positive lack of attention and promptness in correspondence. The office of the Grand Secretary if altogether dependent upon the work of the Lodge Secretaries, neatness and legibility are prime requisites and promptness in responding to correspondence stamps the party as a workman worthy of his hire. The importance of this office in a lodge cannot be too strongly stressed and every effort should be made to place only competent and energetic brethren in the position, as the collection of the revenues and the arrangement of numerous details and, in fact, the effectiveness and life of the institution is in his hands.

My relations with the Grand Master and his official staff have been exceedingly cordial and pleasant and I must express my appreciation for the many courtesies received at their hands. The work of the office is exacting and absorbing and these little attentions serve to lighten the load considerably.

Fraternally yours,

JOHN A. DAVILLA,

Grand Secretary.

REPORT OF BOARD OF DIRECTORS OF THE GRAND LODGE HALL.

The Board of Grand Lodge Hall Directors, presented the following report, which was received and ordered made part of the printed proceedings.

New Orleans, La., February 1st, 1926.

To the M. W. Grand Lodge of Louisiana, F. & A. M.

Brethren:—Your Board of Grand Lodge Hall Directors met on the 5th of February, 1925, and proceeded to organize with Grand Master H. B. Conner as President
A. G. Ricks, Grand Treasurer, as Treasurer
John A. Davilla, Grand Secretary, as Secretary and Past Grand Masters Prentiss B. Carter, L. E. Thomas, Rudolph Krause, Emil Sundberry, Joseph Sinai and John W. Armstrong.

Of this number there were present: Grand Master Conner, John A. Davilla, Grand Secretary, and Past Grand Masters Carter, Sundbery and Armstrong, Brother Sinai being absent on account of illness and Brothers Thomas and Krause being called home after the Grand Lodge Session.

Bids for the demolition of the old Temple property were opened and considered and that of the Southern Demolishing Company finally accepted, they agreeing to pay the Grand Lodge $2600 for the old material and to complete the work within sixty days.

Preamble and resolutions were adopted authorizing the Board of Grand Lodge Hall Directors and the Grand Master to borrow money and to mortgage the property of the Grand Lodge for the purpose of constructing a Masonic Temple and office building in the City of New Orleans.

At this meeting, resolutions were adopted providing for a Bond issue of $1,500,000.00 secured by our property.

At the meeting of the 23rd of February, Past Grand Master George A. Treadwell was appointed on the Board, vice Past Grand Master Joseph Sinai, who died on the 21st.

At the meeting of the Board held on the 28th of March, it was reported that Caldwell & Co., the purchasers of the Bond Issue, had paid the Grand Lodge the sum of $1,438,450.05, this including $950,000.00 of the principal and $5,500.05 for account of accrued interest. The balance of $1,432,000.00 is deposited in the following banks, and bears interest at 4.55 per cent on daily balances:

Continental Bank & Trust Co., Shreveport	$500,000.00
Louisiana National Bank, Baton Rouge	550,000.00
Bank of Baton Rouge, Baton Rouge	232,000.00
Covington Bank and Trust Co., Covington	125,000.00
Bank of Commerce, St. Francisville	25,000.00

At this time, a form of advertisement was adopted and sealed bids for the erection of the building were called for, to be opened on the 23rd of May.

On that date, the bids were publicly opened and award made as follows:

James Stewart & Co., General Contract	$1,144,350.00
Virginia Bridge & Iron Co., Steel Construction	280,600.00
Union Electric Plumbing Co., Plumbing	160,811.00
J. W. Hull Heating and Ventilating Co., Ventilation	59,675.00
Rantz Engineering & Machine Works, Refrigeration	3,845.00
Cutler Mail Chute Co., Mail Chutes	1,965.00
Rogers Higgins Co., Oil Burning Equipment	3,080.00
Kaestner and Hecht, Elevators	86,835.00
Total	$1,747,161.00

The above being on the basis of an 18-story building.

At the meeting of August 29th, upon the recommendation of a special committee, the Real Estate firm of Latter & Blum were appointed Brokers for the rental of the new building, by vote of the Board. Occupancy of the upper floors of the building has been promised by October 1st, 1926, and of the lower portion, by March, 1927.

Submitted for the Board,

JNO. A. DAVILLA,

Secretary.

REPORT OF THE MASTER OF LOUISIANA RELIEF LODGE No. 1.

W. Brother Ira Weingrun, the Master of Louisiana Relief Lodge No. 1, presented the following report which was received, and ordered made part of the printed proceedings.

New Orleans, La., February 1st, 1926.

To the M. W. Grand Lodge of Louisiana.

Brethren:—It is my pleasant duty to present to you the Annual Reports of Louisiana Relief Lodge, in accord with your law, for the period since your last Annual Grand Communication.

The general character of the work varies little and differs mainly in volume. I can only say that it has always been our endeavor to handle our funds judicially and to weigh the attendant circumstances so as to obviate imposition. In this we are protected by our membership in the Relief Association of the United States and Canada and their valuable card index of professional beggars and frauds.

It was my pleasure in company with the Grand Master and the Grand Secretary to attend the 16th Biennial Session of the Association at Chicago on the 8th and 9th of September, in company with our Grand Master and Grand Secretary. While there we were joined by Past Grand Master Prentiss B. Carter and Bro. A. F. Barrow, the former of whom had gone ahead and attended a meeting of the Executive Committee of the Masonic Service Association and the latter being in Chicago en route to Seattle on business. These brethren remained with us and were also registered as delegates.

The Session was largely attended and the proceedings were highly instructive and deeply interesting. As a matter of fact, besides the matter of contact with these leaders in the Masonic Relief work of the country, the reading of the various papers and the discussion and interchange of opinions make of these sessions a post-graduate course which cannot fail to be of interest to all in attendance. M. W. Bro. Walter Stockwell, Grand Secretary of North Dakota, was elected President, and Denver, Colorado, was selected as the next place of meeting in 1927.

The Secretary will present the details of receipts and expenditures in his statement, which follows.

Fraternally submitted,

IRA WEINGRUN,

Worshipful Master.

Lodges of the City of New Orleans, January 4th to 14th.

I have revisited many lodges and have issued 68 new certificates. The brethren are taking more interest in the work than ever before.

The lodges have uniformly given me flattering testimonials of my visits and labors. I have been treated kindly and fraternally by all the brethren, and would fain hope that my labors have been productive of some good to the Craft.

I take this opportunity of thanking all the brethren who have assisted in making my labors so pleasant.

REPORT OF COMMITTEE ON MONITOR.

The Committee on Monitor presented the following report which was duly adopted.

New Orleans, La., February 1, 1926.

Most Worshipful Grand Lodge of the State of Louisiana:

Brethren—The Committee on the Monitor hereby submits and recommends for your consideration what is practically a complete manuscript of the Monitor. Work on this undertaking has extended back over several years, but aggressive action on the part of the Committee during the past year has been successful in completing the great task. Suggestions have been freely borrowed from the earliest as well as the latest available Monitors, and the Committee has been eager to make this book the best of its kind. Adequate and comprehensive instruction has been compiled under the following heads:

Opening the Lodge.
Entered Apprentice.
Fellow Craft.
Master Mason.
Instituting Under Dispensation.
Constituting a Lodge.
Reception of Visitors.
Installation of Officers.
Installation of Grand Lodge Officers.
Dedicating Masonic Halls.
Laying Corner-stones.
Funeral Service.

Copies of Dispensation and Charter with full information how to secure each.

Suggested Blank Forms, outlined procedure for all business which may come before the Lodge.

Respectfully submitted,

G. C. HUCKABY, Chairman,
JESSE A. TAYLOR,
THURLOW W. PARISH,
A. F. BARROW,
GEO. J. GINSBERG,
Committee.

REPORT OF THE BOARD OF TRUSTEES MASONIC HOME FOR ORPHANS.

The Board of Trustees of the Masonic Home for Orphans, at Alexandria, presented the following report, which was received and ordered made part of the printed proceedings.

New Orleans, La., January 26, 1926.

To the M. W. Grand Lodge of Louisiana F. & A. M.,

Brethren:

The report of the last session of the Grand Lodge covers the transactions of the Board up to and including its meeting of December 6th, 1924. Since that time, the Board has held six meetings.

It met in New Orleans on February 2nd, 1925, the entire membership being present, and approved draft of reports which were later presented to the Grand Lodge, accepted a proposition of the Chicago Bridge and Iron Works to erect a 50,000-gallon water tank for $3,180.00 and authorized the preparation of specifications for a fuel gas connection to the Home besides consummating the purchase of part of the furnishings of the Home.

On February 4th, a meeting was held for the purpose of organizing the Board for the ensuing year. The personnel of the Board was not changed, Brother H. H. White having been re-elected to succeed himself and the officers of the board for the previous year were all re-elected as follows:

L. E. Thomas, Chairman

H. H. White, Vice-Chairman

Geo. A. Treadwell, Secretary-Treasurer.

M. W. Brother Rudolph Krause reported that he had inspected the bonds in possession of the Treasurer and verified the cash on hand, having been appointed for that purpose by the Chairman, and that both were in amounts as stated in the Treasurer's annual report.

The Board reconvened in Alexandria, La., on March 13th, for the purpose of considering unfinished matters in connection with the completion of the building and furnishing. It was brought to the attention of the Board that the architects had been compelled to refuse a certificate to the contractor for the reason that while the stipulated amounts provided in the contract for reservation against labor and material liens at the completion of the building were sufficient in amount to complete constructon, still there was no available cash to pay for labor ad interim and that construction could not be completed for the next sixty days and that advances could not be made to the contractor out of the reserve funds without the consent of the Fidelity and Deposit Company, of Baltimore, who were bondsmen for the contractor. After the meeting, it was arranged with the bondsmen that we were to pay sufficient amounts on architect's certificates each week to cover the payroll and other necessary expenses of the contractor in completing the Home.

The Board next met in New Orleans on May 23rd, holding a morning and an afternoon session. Superintendent Cooper requested that he be permitted, with the approval of the Grand Matron, to circularize the Order of the Eastern Star asking that the different Chapters make it a practice to each clothe, at least, one child in the Institution but it was decided that it would be better to hold the matter in abeyance for a while longer.

It was also decided to dedicate the Home on the 24th of June at 10 a. m.

Considerable matters of detail relative to the completion of the Home were brought up and acted upon.

The Board next met in Alexandria on June 24th on the occasion of the dedication of the Home, when the contract was awarded for the laying of a 4-inch gas connection to the Home. The architects reported the building as practically completed with but approximately some $400.00 additional work remaining to be done and the building was formally accepted as substantially completed without waiver of any of our rights under the contract as to the financial obligation due to and from the contractor. The dedication exercises took place at 2:30 p. m., M. W. Brother Ira W. Sylvester of the local Board being Master of Ceremonies and M. W. Brother H. B. Conner, Grand Master, officiating, assisted by the officers of the Grand Lodge. A dedicatory address was delivered by M. W. Brother L. E. Thomas, Chairman of the Board, copies of which will be distributed during the Grand Lodge session and will be made a part of the proceedings.

At the conclusion of the dedicatory exercises, the Board was again convened.

It appearing that such action would be necessary, the Chairman and Secretary-Treasurer were authorized to borrow funds from the Marine Bank & Trust Company, New Orleans, not to exceed $30,000.00 in order to meet existing obligations and operate the Home for the remainder of the year, pledging the revenues as at December 31, 1925. These loans have since been paid.

A Special Committee which had been appointed to adjust differences with the contractor in respect of the compensation for delays and extra work, approved items amounting to $14,879.65.

The Board again convened in New Orleans on October 24th. The Chairman reported that the bond company had paid all claims against contractor Casey except some small balances in dispute and that all liens which had been put upon the property in respect thereof had been cancelled and the Treasurer was authorized to pay the Bond Company $5,828.79 balance due under our contract with the exception of $281.49 which was held against future claims.

It was pointed out that the present concrete excavation for a swimming pool on the grounds was several feet too deep for drainage purposes and that it would cost about $1,400.00 to raise the bottom.

It was decided to do nothing for the present and have the excavation fenced in for the winter.

The Superintendent was instructed to gravel the road from the entrance of the ground to the front of the building and also to outfit a complete laundry so that the washing and ironing could be done on the premises.

The Grand Consistory of Louisiana, A. A. S. R. M., tendered to the Home a library at a cost not to exceed $2,500.00.

The following resolution was unanimously adopted:

RESOLVED, by the Board of Trustees of the Masonic Home for Orphans under the jurisdiction of the Grand Lodge, Free and Accepted Masons of the State of Louisiana, that we hereby disapprove the views and sentiments expressed by Dr. John H. Cooper, Superintendent of the Home, in his letter dated June 27th, 1925, in regard to the dismissal of Miss E. E. Gunby from her position as Matron of the Home.

That said letter was a purely personal one of the Superintendent and that the Board had not approved it and had no knowledge of it until it was later given publicity by its recipient direct and through others;

That this Board knows of nothing whatever in the teachings of the Christian Science Church that conflicts with the teachings of Freemasonry and we do know that Masonry recognizes absolute tolerance in religious beliefs as to all faiths;

We recognize that the Superintendent has full authority to employ and discharge all employes, but we do not approve the sentiments expressed in his letter and regret that his views are not in harmony with those of the Board on this subject and we hereby express our unqualified disapproval thereof and have so notified him.

The Home on June 24th opened with six children, orphans of Brother Region and wife, who died the same day of pneumonia. Since then there have been added some 37 more children, so that we have 44 children in the home on the date of this report.

On January 17th, 1926, the Chairman of this Board and the Grand Master visited the Home and made a thorough inspection of the same. A meeting was also held with the local Board and the Superintendent and a thorough discussion was had of any and all conditions connected with this Home and which we are sure will prove most helpful for the future.

The Home is doing a wonderful work and too much cannot be said of its importance in a humanitarian way. The report of the Superintendent is attached as a part hereof and will show his activities during the past year.

We are bringing down a few of the boys and girls that the brethren of this Grand Lodge may see some of their own children and we trust that you will visit the Home whenever you are in the vicinity of Alexandria.

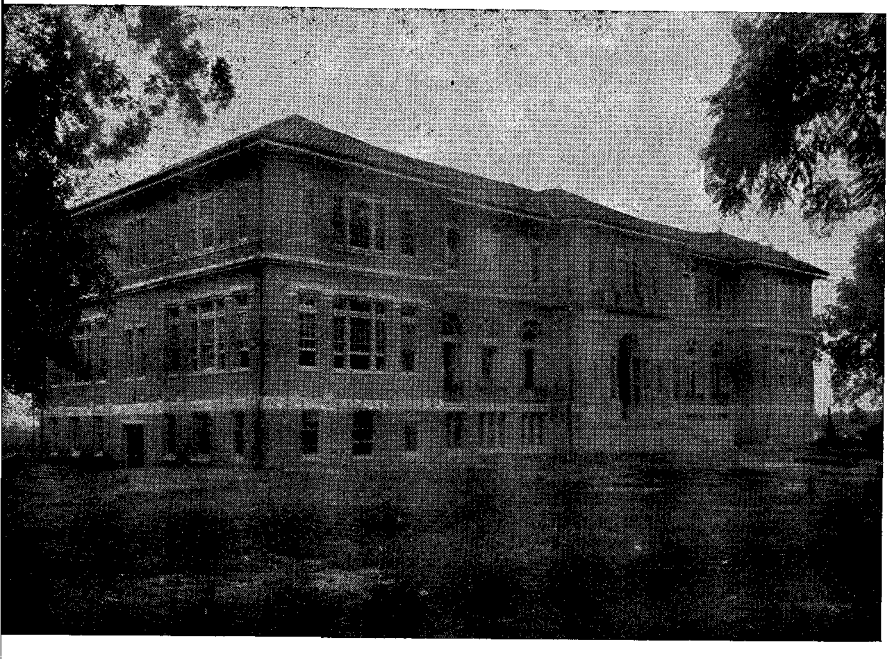
We feel that our local Board should be given more authority and responsibility in the administration of the affairs of the Home, and that the Superintendent should consult them freely at all times and that they should visit the home frequently and keep in thorough touch with the situation.



Masonic Home for Orphans, June 24, 1925.

The Grand Chapter, O. E. S., has notified your Board that it has $25,000.00 ready with which we can erect some special improvement on the grounds and we thank them most sincerely for the same.

We are also very grateful to the various Lodges and Chapters O. E. S. for their generous help in providing for our furniture and fixtures.

The Knights Templar of New Orleans and many other friends have likewise aided the Home in a most substantial manner. A report of all donations received is herewith submitted.

We believe that within the next two years it will be necessary to erect a dormitory to care for our increasing population and we would recommend that our revenues be increased by requiring each candidate who receives the Entered Apprentice Degree to pay $5.00 additional to his regular fees to the Lodge, the same to be for the Home. This will place no added burden upon the Lodges. The Lodges should collect this amount and remit the same with their annual returns.

The term of Bro. G. A. Treadwell expires this year and it is necessary to elect a member of the Board for a term of five years.

Thanking one and all for their cordial co-operation during the past year, we are,

Fraternally Yours,

L. E. THOMAS, Chairman.

The first children admitted to the Masonic Home for Orphans. Children of Robert B. Region, of W. M. Baker Lodge No. 388, who died March 14, 1924.

Total expenses	$5,049.33	$12,376.16
Excess of expense over income	$2,783.66	$10,116.99

No income is set up from tax on lodges for the reason that the proceeds as at December 31, 1924, were used in constructing the Home and the proceeds as at December 31, 1925, are properly considered as income for 1926, as they should be used for the expenses of the latter year. As a matter of fact, the tax as at December 31, 1925, amounts to $42,750.00 (exclusive of returns from one lodge) and the liabilities as at that date were $42,143.16, so that there is but $606.84 remaining for the expenses of operation for 1926.

Based upon the expenses of approximately six months' direct operation of $10,116.99, as shown, and considering that the number of children cared for was few in the early part of the period, it would appear that the total expense of operation for 1926 will be approximately $24,000.00

COMMITTEE ON AUDITS AND ACCOUNTS.

The Committee on Audits and Accounts, presented the following report which was received and ordered made part of the printed proceedings.

New Orleans, January 25, 1926.

To the M. W. Grand Lodge, F. and A. M. of Louisiana:
Brethren:

We, your Committee on Audits and Accounts, report that the Chairman of the Committee has made a detailed audit of the books of the Grand Lodge for the year 1925, and are glad to state that the maintenance of the records continues to be of the same high efficiency as the Committee has found to characterize the work during the entire encumbency of the present Grand Secretary and his office force.

FINANCIAL CONDITION

The financial condition of the Grand Lodge as at December 31, 1925, not including dues and degree fees receivable as at that date in respect of which reports had not been received from constituent lodges, is presented in the following statement of assets and liabilities:

Assets.

The Grand Treasurer had on deposit in banks	$ 8,883.64
There was petty cash in the possession of the Grand Secretary of	250.00
There was on deposit in banks, proceeds of the sale of bonds (with interest at 4.55% per annum)	1,432,000.00
And certificates of deposit and deposits in respect of funds contributed for the new Temple of	238,868.53
There was due and receivable from Masonic bodies:
For rent	1,096.03
For cemetery lots	819.50
For dues reported but not remitted	20,620.00
For bond premiums	42.22
The accrued interest receivable on bank deposits was	40,923.33
There had been advanced to the Home for Orphans, in excess of tax collected	1,095.20
There was due from suspended lodges	177.52
There were insurance premiums paid in advance of	145.65
The Grand Lodge owned property carried on the books as follows:
Temple property at cost	198,883.21
Furniture and fixtures depreciated to	3,167.68
And there had been invested in the new Temple building, including interest paid and accrued on bonds	199,103.05
There were deferred charges as follows:
Repairs, 535 Iberville Street	5,771.11
Discount on first mortgage bonds	67,050.00
Bond expense	4,565.64

And in respect to the Widows' and Indigent Masons' fund, there are Liberty Bonds of a par value of $12,500.00 in the possession of the Grand Treasurer, which cost	12,737.37
Making total assets of	$2,236,170.64

Liabilities.

There are accounts payable and funds collected from lodges under suspension of	$ 899.77
There is a charter fee paid in advance of	50.00
And a fee for a dispensation not yet granted of	50.00
The accrued interest on bonds is	34,375.00
There belongs to the Widows' and Indigent Masons' fund, in accordance with the 1922 resolution	24,464.02
And there are first mortgage bonds outstanding of	1,500,000.00
Making total liabilities of	$1,559,838.79
So that the excess of assets over liabilities, which is the net worth of the Grand Lodge is	$ 676,331.85

Of this net worth, $428,248.34 represents contributions and interest thereon received towards the construction of the new Temple. The net worth, other than that, increased $3,125.61 as compared with December 31, 1924.

The Widows' and Indigent Masons' fund was augmented $6,150.68 by the operation of the resolution creating it, and now stands at $24,464.02, of which $12,737.37 has been duly invested in Liberty Bonds.

During the past year, first mortgage 5½% bonds of $1,500,000.00 were sold. There became available thereby $1,861,198.34 for the construction of the new Temple, as follows:

Bonds sold		$1,500,000.00
Discount on sale		67,050.00
Net proceeds from bonds sold		$1,432,950.00
Contributed by lodges and individuals, and interest thereon		428,248.34
Total amount available		$1,861,198.34
Paid out on new Temple	$178,699.26
Interest paid, in excess of interest received (not including accruals)	26,952.08
Expenses of bond issue	4,565.64
		210,216.98
Balance available		$1,650,981.36

Taking into consideration the discount at which the bonds were sold, and the interest element on the discount, the Grand Lodge is paying 5.98167415% per annum interest on the net amount of $1,432,950.00 borrowed. The discount of $67,050.00, carried in the assets as a deferred charge, should be charged off in annual amounts over the twenty years covered in the bond issue in proportion to the net proceeds which were received from the bonds outstanding at the end of each year and we have computed a schedule setting out the proper amounts of these annual charge offs and given it to the Grand Secretary.

The deferred charge of $4,565.64, covering bond expenses, should be treated likewise in relation to the outstanding bonds and a similar schedule has been prepared relative thereto.

The deferred charge in respect of repairs at 535 Iberville Street is being written off over the term of the lease and the $5,771.11 set up represents the portion chargeable to the period from January 1, 1926 to September 30, 1927.

The Temple property is set up at $198,883.21. This represents the cost of the land and the old buildings, now demolished. It would take considerable research to develop figures so that the cost of the land and the cost of the buildings could be separated, and in the case of the "Krause" property, so-called, an arbitrary separation of value would have to be made. As the present value of the land, as competently appraised, is much in excess of the amount set up, it has been left undisturbed, representing the actual investment of the Grand Lodge in its property.

REVENUE AND EXPENSES—1925.

The revenues and expenses of the Grand Lodge for the year 1925 were as follows:

REVENUES:

Annual dues and degree tax as at December 31, 1924		$50,848.00

Total expenses	$ 4,281.97	$14,680.86
Net income	2,357.41	.....
Net loss	.....	5,165.56

The net excess of $1,083.91 in expenses over income in 1925 is comparable with a net income of $17,502.32 in 1924. The more adverse result, totalling $18,586.23, in the main due to loss of income from the old Temple property.

The following is a summary of increases and decreases in income and expenses, contributing to this result:

Decreases in 1925 income under 1924:

Annual dues and degree tax	$ 1,420.00
Dispensations issued	100.00
Diplomas and certificate sales	152.00
Interest received	129.63
Net income, Masonic Social Rooms	486.76
Net income, old Masonic Temple	13,090.09
Net income, "Krause" property	1,803.02

Increases in 1925 expenses over 1924:

General expenses	831.34
Exchange	16.19
Printing and postage	275.70
Grand Lodge session	5.44
Dues, Masonic Service Association	161.60
Social room furniture charged off, etc.	.94
Moving expenses	843.52
Rent, 535 Iberville St., prior to occupancy	210.79
Net expenses over income, 535 Iberville St.	5,165.56
	$24,692.58

LESS:

Increase in 1925 income over 1924:

Masonic Cemetery	$ 2,094.78

Decreases in 1925 expenses under 1924:

Office expense	107.11
Printing proceedings	164.86
Grand Master's expense	730.20
Grand Lecturer's expenses	139.00

Appropriations	500.00
		$ 6,106.35
Net decrease in 1925 income, compared with 1924		$18,586.23

BUDGET—1926.

The committee submits the following suggested budget, estimating the income and expenses for 1926.

INCOME:

Annual dues and degree tax as at December 31, 1925	$48,600.00
Diplomas and certificates	150.00
Charters and dispensations	200.00
Sale of lots and interment fees, Masonic Cemetery	3,000.00
Total estimated income	$51,950.00

EXPENSES:

Salaries:

Grand Secretary	$ 4,000.00
Assistant and stenographer to Grand Secretary	4,000.00
Grand Lecturers	6,000.00
Grand Tyler	50.00
Organist	20.00
Chaplain	20.00
Chairman, Committee on Foreign Correspondence	200.00
Office and general expenses	4,500.00
Printing, stationery and postage	2,500.00
Expense, Grand Lodge session, 1926	6,100.00

Printing proceedings	3,150.00
Grand Master's expense	4,500.00
Jewel and apron, retiring Grand Master	175.00
Cemetery maintenance	1,500.00
Grand Lecturer's traveling expense	1,500.00
Dues, Masonic Service Association	1,700.00
Operating expense, 535 Iberville Street, over income	6,800.00
Louisiana Relief Lodge	3,000.00
Special Relief Fund	10,000.00
Total estimated expense		59,715.00
Net estimated expense over income		$ 7,765.00

The net excess of estimated expense over income is $5,860.00 greater than was estimated last year for 1925, and $6,681.09 greater than the actual excess of expenses over income.

The estimated expenses reach practically the same total as was actually expended in 1925, but the income has fallen off, the income from annual fees and dues as at December 31, 1925, being $48,600.00 as against $50,848.00 as at December 31, 1924, and three months net income of $2,722.78 from the old Temple property being absent.

The foregoing budget does not take into consideration either interest payable on first mortgage bonds nor interest receivable on bond money on deposit in banks, as this is a proper charge and credit to the cost of the new building up to the time that it is completed and ready for occupancy.

We find that proper fire and liability insurance is carried and that fidelity bonds are in force, as follows:

Grand Secretary	$25,000.00
Grand Treasurer	25,000.00
Assistant to Grand Secretary	2,500.00

COMMITTEE ON FOREIGN CORRESPONDENCE.

The Committee on Foreign Correspondence presented their usual report on the review of the proceedings of other Grand Jurisdictions, and asked that it be included in the printed proceedings.

On motion, the report of the Committee was received and their request granted.

The Committee also presented the following additional report, which was duly adopted:

New Orleans, La., February 1, 1926.

To the M. W. Grand Lodge of Louisiana, Free and Accepted Masons:

Brethren—We your Committee on Foreign Correspondence, respectfully report that they have carefully considered the matters referred to them in the address of the Grand Master and recommend the adoption of the follwing resolution:

Resolved, That the action of the Grand Master in receiving certain representatives of other Grand Lodges and in appointing representatives to other Grand Lodges be and is hereby approved.

Fraternally submitted,

JOHN A. DAVILLA, Chairman.

COMMITTEE ON CHARTERED LODGES.

The Committee on Chartered Lodges presented the following report which was received and ordered printed and action upon the appended resolution deferred until to-morrow evening.

New Orleans, La., February 1, 1926.

To the M. W. Grand Lodge of Louisiana, Free and Accepted Masons:

Brethren—Your Committee on Lodges under Charter beg to report that only one lodge, Clear Spring No. 247, has failed to report. Strange to say, a remittance of $122.00 reached the office of the Grand Secretary on the 12th of January, unaccompanied with any letter of advice and repeated correspondence has failed to produce either a reply or the report.

The Lodges of the State have conferred 5805 degrees and raised 1902. The losses from dimissions, suspensions, deaths, etc., aggregating 1988. The present number on roll is 34,905, a gain of only 408 over last year. We note from the reports that the Grand Master has arrested the charters of Montgomery Lodge No. 168 and Dubach Lodge No. 277. In these cases, we have no recommendation as the items will no doubt be passed upon by another committee. However, in the cases of Woodworth Lodge No. 331 and Red Land Lodge No. 148, whose Charters and books are in the hands of the Grand Secretary, we beg to submit the following resolution:

Resolved, That the surrender of the charters of Red Land Lodge No. 148 and Woodworth Lodge No. 331, be and are hereby accepted and that the Grand Secretary be authorized to issue certificates of good standing to all of the membership of these lodges in good standing.

Fraternally submitted,

HOLLACE H. BAIN, Chairman,
CHARLES C. HARD,
OCTAVE GARSAUD,
WILLIAM C. WRIGHT,
FRANK J. HERMAN,
Committee.

COMMITTEE ON LODGES UNDER DISPENSATION.

The Committee on Lodges Under Dispensation, presented the following report which was received and ordered printed and action upon the appended resolution deferred until to-morrow evening.

New Orleans, La., February 1, 1926.

To the M. W. Grand Lodge of Louisiana, Free and Accepted Masons:

Brethren—Your Committee on Lodges Under Dispensation beg to report that Square and Compass Lodge of the town of Kenner, Parish of Jefferson, was instituted under dispensation on the 29th of April, 1925.

They have during that time conferred sixty-five degrees and have raised 13 and have paid all dues and fees and are applying for a charter. The application shows fifty-four signatures, all of the signers coming from other lodges have presented the proper certificates of good standing.

Your committee therefore, beg to present the following resolution:

Resolved, That a Charter be granted to them as Square and Compass Lodge No. 417.

Fraternally submitted,

DELOS R. JOHNSON, Chairman,
ARCHIE L. CLINE,
JAMES I. RICHARD,
Committee.

SPECIAL COMMITTEE ON REVISION OF TRIAL LAW.

This Special Committee presented the following report, which was received and referred to the Committee on Masonic Law and Jurisprudence.

January 25, 1926.

To the M. W. Grand Lodge of Louisiana, F. and A. M.: Brethren:

We, a special committee appointed by the Grand Master, for the purpose of considering the present method of conducting trials of members by lodges, recommend that the regulations be amended so as to provide for the alternate methods, at the choice and discretion of each lodge, of trial by lodge or by Commission, and to carry this out recommend that the present Article VII of the By-laws or General Regulations be repealed and that Article VII as submitted herewith be substituted and adopted in place thereof:

We further recommend that if this substitution is made, the attached resolution be adopted:

Fraternally submitted,

GEO. A. TREADWELL, Chairman.
L. E. THOMAS.
JOHN W. ARMSTRONG.
B. B. PURSER.
H. W. KAISER.

ARTICLE VII.
ON TRIALS, PUNISHMENTS AND APPEALS.

Section 1. All charges of unmasonic conduct against a brother must be in writing, and clearly specify the offense or offenses complained of; be signed by the party making them; contain the names and the residences of the witnesses, and be presented to the Worshipful Master of the lodge to which the brother accused belongs, or in whose jurisdiction he may reside, if a sojourning brother. The Worshipful Master shall then, without making known to the lodge the nature of the charges, or the names of any of the parties thereto, submit the same to a committee of three members of the Lodge, to be by him appointed, who shall investigate the matter, and endeavor to reconcile the parties making the charges and the accused, if the matters be merely personal; and should they fail to effect an amicable arrangement, or the charges be of such a nature as to require the action of the lodge, they shall report accordingly.

Sec. 2. When the committee has reported that a trial is necessary, the Secretary of the lodge shall serve upon the accused, in person or by registered mail, a copy of the charges, the names and addresses of the witnesses relied upon to prove the same, and notify the accused to answer the charges in writing within ten days of the service thereof, and to furnish the names and residences of his witnesses.

Sec. 3. At the first regular meeting of the lodge after the expiration of ten days, whether the accused has answered or not, the lodge shall fix the time for trial.

The Secretary shall summons the party accused and all the witnesses who are Masons, to appear at the time appointed. Should there be witnesses who cannot attend the lodge or the trial commission hereinafter provided, as the case may be, the Worshipful Master shall appoint a committee of three members to take the testimony of such witnesses. Should it be necessary to take testimony outside of the jurisdiction of the lodge, a committee from another lodge may be used to take such testimony. The committee taking any testimony shall give due notice to the accused of the time and place of taking such testimony; shall reduce the testimony to writing and cause it to be affirmed by the party giving it.

Unless the lodge shall have adopted the commission form of trial, hereinafter provided, all the members of the Lodge shall be summoned to be present at the trial.

Sec. 4. In all proceedings with relation to the trial the Junior Warden, assisted by any other member of the order in good standing, if desired by him, shall act as prosecutor, and the accused may be defended by himself or any other member of the order in good standing to be selected by him. If the accused shall fail to select a representative or to appear in person the Worshipful Master shall appoint a brother to act for him, with whom all proceedings shall be contradictorily conducted.

Sec. 5. After all testimony has been taken, the accused and the Junior Warden or their respective assistants or representatives may argue the case, the representative of the lodge having the privilege of opening and closing the argument.

Sec. 6. On the day fixed for trial, if the lodge has not adopted the commission form of trial as hereinafter provided, the lodge shall first determine by a majority vote of the members present whether the several votes to be taken shall be by a rising vote or by written ballot. In voting by written ballot the Secretary shall call the roll and each member shall deposit his own ballot as his name is called.

The trial shall commence with the reading of the charges and the answer, after which shall be heard all testimony of witnesses named and of such others as may have been discovered. The taking of testimony shall be followed by the argument, after which the accused and the complainant, if other than the Junior Warden, shall retire and the lodge shall proceed at once and without further debate to vote on the guilt or innocence of the accused. A majority of votes cast shall convict.

Sec. 7. If the accused brother be found guilty, then the vote shall be taken in the following order, for the different degrees of punishment: First, expulsion, for which a three-fourths vote shall be necessary; second, indefinite suspension, for which a two-thirds vote shall be necessary; third, suspension for a fixed period of time, for which a majority vote shall be necessary.

Before voting upon suspension for a fixed period of time the Worshipful Master shall entertain all motions fixing said period. After all motions have been made, the vote shall be taken, first upon the longest period proposed.

Should the convicted brother not be expelled or suspended he will stand sentenced without any further vote to reprimand in open lodge. The judgment of the lodge, whether it be expulsion, suspension or reprimand, shall go into effect at once and the Secretary shall immediately notify the brother and the Grand Secretary of the judgment of the lodge.

Sec. 8. Whenever the accused cannot be found or has failed to answer or appear in person or by representative appointed by him and shall have been convicted during his absence and without having been notified of the charge, he shall upon demanding it have a new trial granted him, provided he shall establish to the satisfaction of the Grand Master or the Grand Lodge that he had no knowledge of the charge or the proceedings.

Sec. 9. Each lodge shall determine by a majority vote of its members present, after due notice to its membership, whether or not it shall adopt the commission form of trial or the lodge form of trial as established by this Grand Lodge. The method adopted by a lodge shall continue in force and effect for not less than twelve months and thereafter cannot be changed more than once in every twelve months, and then only by a majority vote of those present at a meeting of the lodge after due notice of the proposed change. If the commission form of trial is adopted, the procedure shall be governed by Section 10 to 16 of this article, both inclusive.

Sec. 10. If the lodge has elected to conduct trials by commission, at the same meeting at which the lodge fixes the date of the trial it shall be the duty of the Worshipful Master, Senior Warden and the junior Past Master present at the lodge at said time to select from the membership of the lodge the names of seventy-five members of the lodge excepting therefrom the first five elective officers and those residing more than ten miles from the domicile of the lodge. These names shall be placed upon separate slips of paper of uniform size and color and thereupon placed in a secure box or receptacle which shall at all times be in charge of the Worshipful Master. In lodges having seventy-five members or less, the names of all qualified members excepting the first five elective officers and those residing more than ten miles from the domicile of the lodge shall be placed in the box or receptacle. The names in the box or receptacle not drawn as provided for in the following sections shall remain therein until the Trial Commission is finally selected. The seventy-five members whose names have been selected as aforesaid shall be summoned for the day fixed for trial.

Sec. 11. Thereafter but at the same meeting the Secretary of the lodge shall draw from said box or receptacle twenty-five slips and record the names written thereon in the minutes of the lodge. If during the course of the drawing it shall become known to the Worshipful Master that a member whose name is drawn is ill or not qualified or that for any good and sufficient reason he will not be able to serve if chosen, the Worshipful Master may order that such member be excused and thereupon the Secretary shall draw another name from the box in place of such excused member.

Sec. 12. At the time fixed for trial the accused and the Junior Warden may each file challenges to not exceeding five of the members whose names were drawn and recorded, making a total of not more than ten challenges. It shall not be necessary to assign any reason for any challenge. After the challenges, if any have been exercised, the Worshipful Master shall immediately select by drawing from such members who have not been challenged a Trial Commission of eleven members and shall designate one of the said Trial Commission to be Chairman. It shall be obligatory on every member so selected for the Trial Commission to serve unless excused by the Worshipful Master.

Sec. 13. Any vacancy in the membership of the Trial Commission caused by illness, death or by action of the Worshipful Master excusing a member thereof, shall be filled by drawing a name from those remaining in the box or receptacle originally containing the seventy-five names.

Sec. 14. Whenever it shall appear, after all challenges are made and excuses allowed, that an insufficient number of names remain from which to appoint the Trial Commission, ten additional names shall be immediately drawn from the aforesaid box or receptacle and the accused and Junior Warden may each challenge two of such members whose names are so drawn and the unchallenged members shall then be subject to appointment as hereinabove provided, and so on, until the Trial Commission is completed.

No challenge shall be allowed by reason of any informality of procedure in drawing the names therefrom.

Sec. 15. The Trial Commission while in session shall be presided over by the Chairman, who shall designate one member thereof as its Secretary. The Worshipful Master shall attend all sessions of the Trial Commission and all questions involving Masonic law shall be decided by him.

Sec. 16. The Trial Commission shall decide the matter and determine sentence immediately following the taking of the testimony and the hearing of the arguments, with no one present but themselves. All proceedings before the Trial Commission, including hearing of testimony, argument, and vote upon the guilt or innocence of the accused and upon the penalties to be fixed are to be governed by the provisions hereinabove set out for trial by the lodge. The findings and judgment shall be reduced to writing, signed by the Chairman and immediately delivered to the Worshipful Master and shall by him be declared the judgment of the lodge, and shall be recorded in the minutes of the lodge.

Sec. 17. When any brother shall have been convicted and sentenced he shall, on giving notice in writing within thirty days after receiving notice of his sentence, be allowed an appeal to the Grand Lodge, and shall immediately forward to the Secretary of the trial lodge a statement of the grounds upon which he relies for a reversal of the verdict and sentence of the lodge. Any brother taking an appeal from a sentence against him, and failing to forward to the Secretary his reasons for a reversal, shall have his appeal dismissed.

Any member of the lodge of which the accused is a member feeling aggrieved by the action of the lodge, may appeal therefrom to the Grand Lodge, and the appeal shall be proceeded with and take the same course, so far as may be, as is provided for in the case of an appeal by the brother who has been convicted.

The lodge shall transmit to the Grand Secretary immediately upon the conclusion of a trial, whether an appeal is taken or not, a complete transcript of all the proceedings, documents and testimony in the case, to be reviewed by the Committee on Appeals and Grievances. Should the Grand Secretary find the transcript incomplete, he shall, under the instructions of the Grand Master, order the lodge forthwith to complete the transcript and in case the lodge shall neglect to send up the transcript in the first instance, within the time required, or shall refuse or neglect to complete the transcript in thirty days after notice to that effect, the Worshipful Master and the lodge shall be held guilty of contempt and be punished accordingly.

Sec. 18. If a sentence of expulsion or suspension be reversed or annulled by the Grand Lodge, the brother shall thereby be restored to membership in the lodge. A brother who has been expelled or indefinitely suspended cannot be restored to Masonic privileges except by the Grand Lodge on the recommendation of the lodge which expelled or indefinitely suspended him, which recommendation must be adopted by the lodge by the same proportionate vote required for expulsion or indefinite suspension. An application for reinstatement in cases other than suspension for non-payment of dues, shall be read at a stated meeting, and laid over for action until the next stated meeting, due notice having been given in writing to members of the lodge of the intended action.

Sec. 19. No lodge shall give any other notice of the expulsion or suspension of a brother than to the Grand Secretary, which it shall do immediately, and the Grand Secretary shall, within one month after receiving the same, send notice thereof to each lodge in this jurisdiction, and to each Grand Lodge.

BE IT RESOLVED, That each and every constituent lodge of the Grand Lodge of the State of Louisiana, F. & A. M., may within ninety days after the meeting of this annual communication of the Grand Lodge determine by majority vote of its members present, after due notice to its membership, whether or not it adopts the commission form of trial or the lodge form of trial as established by this Grand Lodge.

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED, That the form of trial so adopted by a lodge shall continue in force and effect for not less than twelve months and thereafter cannot be changed more than once in every twelve months, and then only by a majority vote of those present at a meeting of the lodge after due notice of the proposed change.

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED, That the Grand Master is instructed to issue a special letter of instructions to each constituent lodge calling attention to the requirements for trial as provided by the By-laws and General Regulations and each lodge shall immediately notify the Grand Secretary of the method of trial adopted.

BE IT RESOLVED, In the event any lodge that does not adopt the commission form of trial within ninety days as set forth in this resolution, it shall be held to have elected to continue the lodge method of trials until it shall have taken definite action under Section 9 of this report.

THE NATIONAL MASONIC TUBERCULOSIS SANATORIA ASSOCIATION.

The Grand Secretary reported that he had in hand a quantity of correspondence relative to The National Masonic Tuberculosis Sanatoria Association, soliciting the co-operation and membership of this association, and asked that it be referred to the Committee on Audits and Accounts for their consideration and report.

On motion, duly adopted, the correspondence was received without reading, and referred to this committee.

UNFINISHED BUSINESS.

The following items of unfinished business laid over from last session were called up for action:

Resolved, That the Constitution be amended as follows:

Amend Article VIII, Section 1, to read as follows: Each Chartered Lodge shall pay to the Grand Lodge One Dollar for each member borne on roll during the year and two dollars for each degree conferred, provided that no chartered lodge shall be required to pay dues for the then current year for any member who dies, is suspended or expelled or dropped, during the year, nor for any member who joins by affiliation during the year, whose dimit was issued during the same year.

(Signed) J. S. COOPER, W. M. Vivian Lodge No. 314.
J. C. LINER, W. M. Graham Surghnor Lodge No. 383.

A motion to adopt the resolution was lost and it was not adopted.

RESOLUTION BY L. E. THOMAS, P. G. M.

Whereas, the Grand Lodge of the State of Louisiana, has required the proceedings of all trials in constituent lodges to be forwarded to the Grand Lodge for review, by the Committee on Appeals and Grievances and by the Grand Lodge, making the work of that Committee more important, therefore,

Be it resolved by the Grand Lodge of the State of Louisiana, F. & A. M., that Article I, Section II, Paragraph 4, of the By-Laws and General Regulations of the Grand Lodge be amended and re-adopted to read as follows:

Article I, Section 2, Paragraph 4—On Appeals and Grievances Committee, which committee shall be composed of seven members, of which not less than three shall be Past Grand Masters and others shall be Past Masters of Lodges, and at least five members of said committee shall sign any report that is made to the Grand Lodge of all such matters as may be referred to said committee.

Upon motion, duly seconded, the amendment was adopted.

REQUEST FOR CHANGE OF DOMICILE PROGRESSIVE LODGE No. 262.

The following communication was received from Progressive Lodge No. 262, and referred to the Committee on Chartered Lodges:

To the M. W. Grand Lodge of Louisiana, Free and Accepted Masons:

Brethren—We respectfully submit the following facts for your consideration:

(a) Interest in Progressive Lodge 262, Lutcher, La., has been on a steady decline for the past five years.

(b) The membership has steadily dwindled, until now we have but one hundred eighteen members.
(c) Lutcher as an industrial center has declined very much, due to the fact that the mill has been "cut out".
(d) At the present time scarcely a dozen Masons reside in the town of Lutcher.
(e) The active members of the lodge, have for the past ten years come from the town of Garyville.
(f) At the present writing we have something like twenty-six members living in Garyville.
(g) At the present writing every officer of the lodge lives in Garyville.
(h) At the last election, no one could be persuaded to accept the Master's chair and it was only after careful consideration that the present Master accepted; and it required a special meeting held at the last moment to elect and install him.

In view of the above facts, the principal officers of the lodge decided that for the good of the Order, the lodge should be moved from Lutcher to Garyville. With this in mind, a special meeting was held; and it was duly moved, seconded and carried that all members be notified that on January 30th inst., a meeting would be held for the purpose of submitting to the members the above facts; and that a vote be taken on the matter. These notices were mailed to every member of the lodge. The meeting was held, and it was decided unanimously that the move be taken.

We shall build our own lodge, and feel that this should stimulate interest in general.

In view of the facts set forth, we petition the Grand Lodge to act favorably.

Fraternally yours,

W. S. FRAZEE, W. M. Progressive Lodge No. 262.
H. C. COTHAM, Secretary Progressive Lodge No. 262.

RESOLUTION BY P. G. M. L. E. THOMAS.

Past Grand Master L. E. Thomas, offered the following amendment to Article VII, Section 3 of the Constitution, which was received and action thereon deferred until the next Annual Grand Communication.

I move that Article VII, Section 3, of the Constitution of the Grand Lodge be amended and readopted as follows:

ARTICLE VII.

Section 3. The officers of each lodge shall consist of a Master, Senior Warden, Junior Warden, Treasurer and Secretary, Senior and Junior Deacons, and Tyler, and such other officers as may be deemed necessary by the lodge; the first five of the above named officers must be chosen by ballot, provided it shall be legal for the lodge or the Grand Lodge by unanimous consent, to permit any designated officer to cast the ballot for the lodge; all officers except the Tyler must be members of the lodge. In all elections, both in the Grand Lodge and in the constituent lodges, a majority of all the votes cast shall be necessary to an election. No brother can be elected as Master of a lodge, unless he has served as Master or Warden.

RESOLUTION BY P. G. M. L. E. THOMAS.

Past Grand Master L. E. Thomas, offered the following amendment to Article VI, Section 8, of the General Regulations, which was received and laid over until to-morrow night for action.

I move that Article VI, Section 8, of the General Regulations of the Grand Lodge be amended and readopted so as to read as follows:

ARTICLE VI.

Section 8. Should the petition for initiation or degrees be rejected, the applicant shall not reapply to any lodge under this jurisdiction before the expiration of six months from the date of the rejection, nor then in any other lodge than the one in which he first applied as long as he resides within its territorial jurisdiction, unless that lodge shall waive the same by a majority vote of those present at a stated communication, nor shall he petition any other lodge, where he may subsequently reside, outside of the territorial jurisdiction of the rejecting lodge without receiving the recommendations of at least five members of the lodge by which he was rejected, two of whom must be of the first three officers of the lodge; and the Secretary shall immediately notify the Grand Secretary of every rejection in the lodge, which notice the Grand Secretary shall, within one month after the receipt of the same, forward to each lodge in this jurisdiction.

RESOLUTION BY P. G. M. L. E. THOMAS.

Past Grand Master L. E. Thomas, offered the following resolution, which was on motion duly seconded, received and referred to the Committee on Audits and Accounts:

To provide revenues for the Masonic Home for Orphans located at Alexandria, La.

BE IT RESOLVED, by the Grand Lodge F. & A. M., State of Louisiana, that the revenues of the Masonic Home for Orphans, located at Alexandria, Louisiana, shall from and after this date be as follows:

First: There is hereby levied a special assessment of $1.00 per capita per annum against every member, including life members on the roll during any one year of every Masonic Lodge that is a constituent member of the Grand Lodge of the State of Louisiana.

Second: There is hereby levied against each Masonic Lodge in the State of Louisiana $1.00 per degree for each degree conferred, which assessment is levied against each Lodge in this State that is a constituent member of the Grand Lodge.

Third: Each Constituent Lodge in the State of Louisiana, shall collect from each petitioner, which is elected, on or before he receives the Entered Apprentice Degree, the sum of $5.00 for the benefit of the Masonic Home for Orphans, which shall be in addition to the fees, which the said candidate shall pay to the lodge in accordance with its By-Laws. That all of the foregoing assessments, dues and fees, shall, be collected by the Secretary and remitted to the Grand Secretary of the Grand Lodge at the time he makes his annual returns for the then current year, and each lodge in the State shall be held responsible therefor.

That this resolution shall go into effect from and after February 15th, 1926.

RESOLUTION BY P. G. M. PRENTISS B. CARTER.

The following resolution by Past Grand Master Prentiss B. Carter, was received and referred to the Committee on State of the Order.

That Section 1, of Article 1, of the General Regulations be amended by striking out the word first as occurring in the second line and inserting in lieu thereof, the third.

The section as amended so as to read: Each Annual Grand Communication shall be held in the City of New Orleans, on the third Monday in February, etc.

Grand Master Haney B. Conner, then addressed the assembled representatives as follows:

Brethren of the various Grand Lodges, extending around this great earth, upon which we live, you are manifesting by your presence, representing these various Grand Masonic Jurisdictions, the great universality of Free Masonry, an institution which is older than any other fraternal organization, which works together, cementing men into that close bond of fellowship, working for the betterment of mankind. It is of great value, and pride, to all of us to know that the Grand Lodge of Louisiana enjoys the kindly fraternal relationship given us by your respective Grand Jurisdictions, and we are glad, tonight, to have you here as their representatives with us at this time on the One Hundred and Fifteenth Grand Communication of the Grand Lodge of Louisiana. I hope that you will take back to your several jurisdictions the very cordial greetings of the Grand Lodge of Louisiana, and our wishes for a most healthful, successful and peaceful hereafter, upon your report to each of your respective Grand Lodges.

Brethren, you will join with me in giving to our distinguished Brethren, the Private Grand Honors, three times three, upon the Master sign, taking your time from me.

WORSHIPFUL BROTHER L. E. THOMAS:

Brother Grand Master, and Brethren, we have with us tonight Most Worshipful Brother George W. Bolton, Representative of the Grand Lodge of New Hampshire, who will make the response for the different Grand Jurisdictions.

M. W. BROTHER GEORGE W. BOLTON:

Most Worshipful Grand Master, and Brethren of the Grand Lodge of the State of Louisiana:

I find myself in a most embarrassing situation, to attempt to respond to the fraternal and cordial welcome which you have extended to the representatives of the various jurisdictions with which we are in fraternal accord, and I, as the representative of the Grand Lodge of New Hampshire, take pleasure in extending, not only for myself, but on behalf of all of the various representatives of the various jurisdictions here, sincere thanks for the cordial and fraternal greetings that you have extended.

Most Worshipful Grand Master, this ceremony has been questioned by some Grand Jurisdictions, as to the necessity or the use for it. Possibly it serves no use in one respect, but one of the first sentences that I heard in Masonry, at the time I was initiated, was that Masonry was a beautiful system of morality, veiled in allegory, and illustrated by symbols. This, Most Worshipful Grand Master, as you have so well stated, symbolizes one of the greatest facts in Masonry today---its universality. No matter where one may travel, upon any part of the civilized world, he can meet brethren. Though he cannot understand the language, the silent grip of the hand and the mystic ties will introduce him to a Brother, though he is far from his country. And so we are come to consider that this symbolism, though in one sense of the word is nothing, that we are here as ambassadors, as representatives of all of the Grand Jurisdictions. Our fraternal intercourse with this Grand Lodge symbolizes that fraternal and cordial feeling that should exist among Masons everywhere.

Without sentiment, and without symbols, Masonry would be as a sounding brass and a tinkling empty cymbal, but with it we know the valuable lessons that are taught, valuable because by them we are having, not only communication with each other, but which we can use to our own benefit in many ways. Let us, Grand Master, and Grand Brethren, communicate, when you go home to your various Grand Jurisdictions that you represent here, and say to them that today was a Red Letter day in Masonry, and I hope to God that harmony will prevail in the Grand Lodge, and that you can say to your various Grand Jurisdictions that this was a Red Letter day, and a Red Letter session, in the history of the Grand Lodge of the State of Louisiana.

And furthermore, when speaking of these symbols, Most Worshipful Grand Master, we cannot be too earnest or strenuous in endeavoring to impress them upon the minds, not only of those that we initiate, but on the minds of the members of the lodges at various times, whenever conditions favor it.

As I said, I am placed in an embarrassing situation. I have not been able to attend the meetings of this Grand Lodge as I should have and wanted to. I came here on this occasion, and I shall never regret my coming. I may not have been of any benefit to the Grand Lodge by doing so, except for my presence here.

Now, my Brethren, I wish to close, and, when we study these symbols, by which we meet fellow-men, my which we are made better men, better citizens, better husbands, let us so live, in the language of the immortal poet:

> So live that when thy summons comes to join
> The innumerable caravan which moves
> To that mysterious realm where each shall take
> His chamber in the silent halls of death,
> Thou go not, like the quarry slave at night,
> Scourged to his dungeon, but sustained and > Soothed by an unfaltering trust, approach thy grave
> Like one that wraps the drapery of his couch
> About him, and lies down to pleasant dreams.

The representatives were accorded the private Grand Honors and invited to seats in the East.

ORATION.

MOST WORSHIPFUL GRAND MASTER:

Brethren, I deem it a special honor to have had the privilege of appointing, and to have had him serve during the year, under my administration, as the Grand Chaplain of this Grand Lodge, our distinguished Brother Robert H. Harper, who is also the Grand Orator of this Grand Lodge, and who will, at this time, deliver the grand oration to the Grand Lodge and its delegates.

WORSHIPFUL BROTHER ROBERT H. HARPER:

Worshipful Grand Master, and Worshipful Grand Lodge of the State of Louisiana:

The sacred obligation of a Mason to his brothers and to all within the circle of his fraternal association is no warrant for an arbitrary limit of helpfulness, for a kind of aristocracy of service confined alone to the initiated. For in a charge at closing to Master Masons we find these words: "These generous principles are to extend further. Every human being has a claim upon your kind offices. Do good unto all." Also, in the Entered Apprentice Degree, one of the three great duties inculcated is the duty we owe our neighbors. And this duty to our neighbors cannot be limited by any tribal or racial barriers, by any national or geographical bounds, much less by the walls of the Lodge. A great Teacher told of a man who went down the road to Jericho and fell among thieves, who wounded him and stripped him of his raiment and departed, leaving him half dead. And there came certain of his own race that way and they passed by on the other side. And it remained for a man of a despised and alien race to minister unto the wounded man with such true charity that his noble deed has shone down through all the ages. Thus we learn that our neighbor is the man in need, whoever and wherever he may be. You will also remember that in the state we are admonished to be quiet and peaceful citizens, opposing disloyalty and rebellion, and obeying the laws and respecting the authority of the land in which we dwell and the protection of which we enjoy. So, my dear brothers, with the warrant of the phrase quoted above, "Every Human Being," I ask you at this time to think of the place of the Lodge within the community, the town and the city, of the institution of Masonry within the nation and within society, an institution whose obligations and responsibilities must be as boundless as human need and as wide as the dispersion of mankind. And we may cherish the hope that Masonry, like the little leaven that leaveneth the whole lump, by the pure principles of our art may more and more extend its influence for good in society and in the state.

Masonry is at home in all lands and in all human conditions, and by reason of that we ofttimes speak of the universality of Masonry. But God himself, Who gave all men all earth to love, ordained that man should love one spot above all the spots of earth. That is the spot which gave him birth and which holds his dwelling-place. So Masons are under peculiar obligations to that particular land in which they dwell. Let us inquire, then, if the lofty principles of Freemasonry give us any peculiar mission to our own society and to our own state and nation.

The Good Book declares: "Faithful are the wounds of a friend." It is not treason to our people and to our country to confess that we have not yet realized the ideal nation in this land, that we have not altogether made this a land where the highest sit at meat with the lowest and brotherly love prevails. Indeed, we must confess that we have not altogether realized the dream of those who signed the Declaration of Independence and of those who fought to put down tyranny in the land, many, many of whom were members of the Craft. It is well to be optimistic, but optimism must rest upon a firm foundation. It is unwise to cry: Peace, Peace," when there is no peace, when the lurid lightning zigzags the skies and play with tongues of flame among the ebony masses of clouds when the mighty wind arises and the thunders roll from pole to pole. To do so would be to number ourselves among the lying prophets whom stern old Jeremiah condemned in the days of ancient Israel. But true optimism will recognize the errors that mar our social and national life and seek the way to sweep the temple clean.

Our nation is founded upon the belief in God. If such is not the case, it is a farce to put on the very coins of this nation the high motto and the great confession, "In God We Trust." It is profitless to read the mighty history of those who came to this country to find a place where they might worship God according to the dictates of their own conscience, if this nation does not believe in God. Indeed, our fathers came to this country to find a place where they might worship God according to the dictates of their own conscience, but not one of them came to this country to find a place where God is not. If such came, their names have not survived on the page of history. We have a non-sectarian government, but that does not mean that we are a nation of pagans and infidels. Masonry is a non-sectarian institution, but that does no mean that we have no God. Masonry is built upon faith in God, and we have a mission in this day to keep alive the faith we learned at Mother's knee, and the faith which has been inculcated at our sacred altars. For we are living in an age of loose thinking concerning the eternal verities which we as Masons cherish—eternal verities which have made our nation great. When men in our land, who have achieved unto distinction in their chosen field, can stand up in their fancied might and, seemingly for the sake of a cheap fame, declare: "I am an infidel," "I am an agnostic," it is time for those who do believe in the eternal things which make life worth while to look well to their own faith and to affirm their own belief that God is still in His heaven and that all may yet be well with the world.

The problem of human inequality is the great problem which has ever cursed mankind. It is that problem which has caused widowed mothers to weep and children cry for bread, which has devastated fair lands and demolished palaces of art, which has brought that inhumanity to man which has made "countless thousands mourn." And we rejoice that in a Masonic Lodge we meet on a common level, a level which means equality. Despite all the barriers which men have built between themselves, it is good to look a man in the face and know, in the language of Robbie Burns: "A man's a man for a' that," though he wear the rough garb of the poor or the purple of a king. We believe that on the common level of Masonry we have attained unto the only real democracy which the world has known, a plane of brotherhood and of service where all distinctions are levelled and where honors come only to those who have worked their way among the ranks and demonstrated their fitness to serve and to lead. And this real democracy is needed in the land at large. It would be a thing of ridicule, if it were not a travesty and a tragedy, in a government proudly conceived to be "of the people, by the people and for the people" to behold an aristocracy of wealth, an aristocracy of place, or "codfish aristocracy," or what-not. No advocate of special privilege is a true democrat, and we may behold many in our land seeking for themselves special privilege. One man wants his street paved though all the other fellows may have to dwell beside the mud. One man wants the highway by his place though others may dwell by the quagmire. These are just common examples of special privilege seeking which mar a true democracy.

Our Fraternity is now engaged in the building of a beautiful temple to tower above one of the chief streets of this city, a city which we believe is destined to be among the greatest of cities in the American Union. With fitting solemnity and with notable features the corner stone of this building was laid on yesterday by Worshipful Grand Master Conner. For this great day we pay our tribute of love and esteem to the memory of Joseph Sinai, whose broad vision and indomitable will initiated the work and made it possible, in the good providence of the Supreme Architect, for those who came after him, to take up the trowel which fell from his once mighty hand and continue with that which he had made the supreme aim of his life. And we may look upon this great temple as a fitting symbol of the place of Masonry in society and in the state. It is firmly grounded in Mother Earth, down among the busy throngs of men, men the workers, men our brothers, all around us, but it is destined to rise in beauty and strength, like two certain pillars which stood in King Solomon's temple, but far above the surrounding housetops and upward toward the sky, mighty but beautiful symbol of the true Mason's aspiration toward God. To the ancient people of Israel we are forever indebted for the knowledge of the only true and living God. And to them we are indebted for the original type of the noblest architecture which the world has known. For in the splendid temple which King Solomon builded on Mount Moriah there were united two primal instincts and aspirations of men—to build and to worship. It was not the golden covering of the temple walls and the precious stones which further adorned them, not the golden roof which gleamed richly in the morning light when the sun rose over the Mount of Olives, that gave the temple its greatest glory. The greatest glory of the temple was the altar and the Holy of Holies which the splendid temple enclosed—the sanctuary of the only true and living God. Our temple is destined indeed to rise in beauty and strength, to awaken the admiration of men through the ages for its grand dimensions and for its symmetry of line and proportion. But its greatest glory will be the altars it encloses, and the worship which men there render unto the Supreme Architect, and the brotherly service which they go out to give every day. And as this beautiful temple shall stand in the very midst of a great and teeming city, so let us believe that Masonry is in the very midst of a great and teeming people for a great and noble purpose. The cardinal principles of Freemasonry are needed in the land at large, among our neighbors, our friends and fellow-countrymen.

But some man may well ask how we are to extend our influence into society and into the state. We cannot carry on an extensive advertising campaign, for such would be contrary to the practice and desire of Masons. We cannot employ press agents to exploit our good deeds and sing our praises. That would be repugnant to the spirit of Masonry. We cannot shout our principles from the housetops. We are even cautioned not to allow our zeal for the Order to draw us into argument with those who may ridicule it. How, then, are we to extend our influence into society and into the state?

In the ancient temple, from which we take the most of our symbolism, there was one ceremonial which has not survived unto the present day. That was the ceremonial of the scapegoat. The scapegoat was led to the door of the tabernacle or the temple and over his head were confessed all the sins of all the people, and he was then led away into a land not inhabited. The meaning of the ceremony was that the scapegoat bore all the sins of the people far away. But in this day we have no scapegoat to bear our sins away into a land not inhabited. There is no such thing as community atonement. There is no en masse goodness. There is no en masse Masonry. We may sometimes think of the responsibility of Masonry, but that is only a fiction of the mind used for the sake of convenience. Masonry has no responsibility. But the men who compose Masonry have each an awful responsibility which must be rendered one day at the judgment bar of God. And I ask you and you here tonight: How are you discharging your responsibility as a Mason in your several stations in life? Such a question should not be entirely out of order, when we learn from the report of the Grand Master that some individuals of the Craft have landed during the past year in the federal penitentiary, some have robbed and stolen, and some have been kept on the roll of some of the Lodges. You and I are called upon to exemplify a correct and lofty citizenship to our fellows. It is not our business to mend the laws of our land but to keep them. Anything that is written in the laws of our land and the Constitution of the United States demands our allegiance as good Masons and citizens. We cannot exemplify a true respect for law and exert the influence of a good citizen by becoming particeps criminis of bootleggers and hi-jackers, who despise both law and life, and fear not God nor regard man. So I believe, my brothers, that if we live as Masons should, we shall exemplify a high and lofty citizenship and in our several communities and in our several stations in life we shall not fail to exert a wholesome influence for good upon the people among whom we dwell. And if indeed "every human being has a claim upon our kind offices," we cannot live unto ourselves alone. We must remember that the Lodge is within the community, within the town and within the city, and we must live not for ourselves alone but also for those among whom we dwell. While Masons have built many beautiful temples of wood and stone, temples made with hands; while we are now engaged in building a great and splendid temple here, we realize that these earthly houses are only poor material symbols of our spiritual houses not made with hands. It is the great task of Masons and the chief end of Masons to fashion these spiritual temples of character. And as the temple in the ancient time sent its benign influence abroad, drawing thousands upon thousands to the sacred brow of Mount Moriah, so the influence of a true temple of character cannot fail to go as far as the man himself is known.

There is only one thing in the universe which can come between a Mason and the true ideal of his character, and that is SELF. The eternal quest of a Mason is for the light and his journey is always to the East. And a Mason must never pass between * * * and * * * , a Good Mason must not stand in the way of the light which would otherwise shine upon the most sacred places of his experience and illumine his soul with the divine truth. So self is the only thing which can stand in the way of a Mason's duty. Many a man has found that the only enemy he has to fear in this world is himself. Let not self come between you and your duty, my brothers; let not selfishness mar your Masonic character and service and shut out the light from your heart. But give yourselves freely unto the designs of the Supreme Architect and the light freely received will fill your own soul with abiding happiness and reflect beams of love and joy into the hearts of others.

The thanks of the Grand Lodge were extended to Brother Harper for his wonderful address.

COMMITTEE ON STATE OF THE ORDER.

The report of the Committee on State of the Order, submitted to the Grand Lodge at the last session and appearing upon pages 115 to 119 of the Proceedings of 1925, was called up for action, but owing to the lateness of the hour and in order to obtain the sentiments of the representatives, the Grand Master appointed a special committee, consisting of W. Brothers Leon S. Haas, Edward

K. Herrmann, and Duncan Bell to call them together and ascertain the instructions that they had received from their various lodges, as the report, including questionnaire, been distributed during the year to the different lodges, so that they might be fully informed as to the items involved.

Their being no further business, the Grand Lodge was called from labor to refreshment, to resume labor to-morrow evening at 6:30 o'clock.

SECOND DAY'S SESSION.

MOSQUE JERUSALEM TEMPLE,

NEW ORLEANS, LA., FEBRUARY 2, 1926.

The M. W. Grand Lodge, Free and Accepted Masons, of the State of Louisiana, after prayer by Rev. Robert H. Harper, Grand Chaplain, and was called from refreshment to labor by M. W. Brother Haney B. Conner, Grand Master, this Tuesday evening at six thirty o'clock.

GRAND LODGE OFFICERS PRESENT.

All of the Grand Lodge Officers were present and in their respective stations.

GRAND REPRESENTATIVES PRESENT.

All of the Grand Lodge Representatives enumerated in the first night's session were present.

A quorum of the lodges being present, the Grand Master declared the Grand Lodge open for business.

CHANGE OF DOMICILE OF PROGRESSIVE LODGE No. 262.

The Committee on Chartered Lodges to whom was referred the request of Progressive Lodge No. 262, for a change of domicile from Lutcher to Garyville, reported that they had given the matter careful consideration, and were fully satisfied that the future existence of the lodge, depended upon this change and they so recommended.

On motion, duly adopted, the report of the committee was received and their recommendation adopted, and the change of domicile authorized, from Lutcher to Garyville in accordance with the petition.

COMMITTEE ON LODGES UNDER DISPENSATION.

The following resolution attached to the report of the Committee on Lodges Under Dispensation, was duly adopted.

Resolved: That a Charter be granted to Square and Compass Lodge as Square and Compass Lodge No. 417.

And the issuance of the Charter was authorized accordingly.

COMMITTEE ON CHARTERED LODGES.

The following resolution attached to the report of the Committee on Chartered Lodges, was duly adopted:

Resolved, That the surrender of the Charters of Red Land Lodge No. 148, and Woodworth Lodge No. 331, be and are hereby, accepted and that the Grand Secretary be authorized to issue certificates of good standing to all of the membership of these lodges in good standing.

and the surrender of these Charters was duly authorized.

COMMITTEE ON APPEALS AND GRIEVANCES.

The Committee on Appeals and Grievances presented the following report which was received and adopted seriatim, as noted and finally adopted as a whole.

To the Most Worshipful Grand Master, Right Worshipful Grand Wardens and Brethren of the Grand Lodge of Louisiana:

Before taking up the matters of appeal, I am constrained to say a few things in regard to the sanctity of the laws of God, of Masonry, and of the State.

"Law is our master," and Masonry must serve the Master. Cicero, in one of his brilliant legal arguments, announced that we must all be servants of the law in order that we may be free. In being obedient to the law, Masonry and Masons must recognize the necessity of the existence of rules of conduct binding upon all, and recognize the equal necessity of each and every Mason giving conscious and whole-hearted heed to the rules."

"I am not unfamiliar with the fact that there are some Masons, thank God they are comparatively few in number, who deliberately misconduct themselves to the extent that they practice, or covertly connive, at the violation of a rule of conduct constitutionally enacted by our people and having to do with the forbidding of the use of intoxicating liquors for beverage purposes. The man who professes to stand up for law and its protective guaranty—and what Mason does not—and who at the same time gives countenance to and acquiesces in or in any way connects himself with the deliberate violation of a duly enacted and established law of our land, gives the lie, whatever his standing, pretensions or preachments, to his protestations of virtue. No one can preach obedience to the law he likes and disobedience to the law he does not like, and be fit or loyal or consistent or masonic."

Many of you Brethren know that I am of a timid and retiring disposition, easily frightened, and so I trust that you will be as patient and kindly with me as you possibly can.

We submit the following report of our review of the cases submitted to our Committee:

ROOSEVELT LODGE No. 415
vs
E. TURCI.

The accused was charged with unmasonic conduct, in that he had violated the 18th Amendment, the Volstead Act and the Hood Act, and had been convicted in the United States Court on violations of these laws.

The Lodge accepted his plea of guilty, with his explanatory statement, and suspended him for the term of one month.

For this, an appeal has been taken on behalf of Free Masonry.

We recommend that the appeal be sustained as to the inadequacy of punishment, and that the accused be indefinitely suspended.

On motion, duly seconded, the report of the Committee was adopted.

ROSEMARY LODGE No. 278
H. W. WELLS.

In this matter, the accused was charged with violating the liquor laws of the country. He had previously been convicted in the criminal courts. While he was found guilty in court, the Lodge declared that he was not guilty by a majority vote of members. We deem the record conclusive of his guilt, and recommend that the appeal be sustained, and that the accused be suspended for a period of five years.

On motion, duly seconded, the report of the committee was adopted.

vs
J. W. CHELLETTE.

In this case the accused was charged with disturbing the proper relations between the husband (a Mason) and his wife. He denied having disturbed the relations, by pleading guilty to the specific acts charged. The Lodge, by a vote of 9 to 6, acquitted him. Your Committee learns that the husband and wife are reconciled and, in the interest of peace and harmony, recommend that the appeal be dismissed and that the finding of Not Guilty be affirmed.

On motion, duly seconded, the report of the Committe was adopted.

M. D. GUYNES.

The accused was charged with embezzlement of funds belonging to his employer, amounting to some $2,400.00. He pleaded guilty in writing and, by proper vote, he was indefinitely suspended.

We recommend that the appeal be dismissed and that the verdict and sentence be affirmed.

On motion, duly seconded, the report of the Committee was adopted.

ELTON LODGE No. 349

H. D. WALLACE.

The accused had formerly lived at Elton. About sixteen months before he was charged he moved to DeRidder. He was a member of a Lodge in North Louisiana. He pleaded to the jurisdiction of Elton Lodge to try him, which plea was overruled. However, under the Grand Lodge's decision, Proceedings of 1924, Pages 209 and 210, this plea should have been sustained.

We, therefore, recommend that the appeal be sustained and the proceedings dismissed, with the right of his home Lodge to entertain the charges and take such action as they may deem proper.

On motion, duly seconded, the report of the Committee was adopted.

J. S. MACKIE.

This is the second trial, the former having been set aside by the Grand Master for insufficiency of punishment. The charge was violating the chastity of the wife of a Master Mason, with her consent. A careful reading of the record and a hearing of the parties constrains us to believe that the accused is guilty. We are loath to disturb the finding of guilty and the sentence of indefinite suspension and we, therefore, recommend that the appeal be dismissed and the verdict and sentence be affirmed.

On motion, duly seconded, the report of the Committee was adopted.

DeQUINCY LODGE No. 279

JOHN AMACKER.

This is a charge of violating the Prohibition Laws. At the time of trial the accused was a member of Ocean Lodge No. 144, was not present at the trial, and made no plea to the jurisdiction of the Lodge to try him. He was found not guilty by a vote of 42 to 26, notwithstanding the record shows conclusively that he was guilty and that he had been convicted and paid his fine in the State courts.

We recommend that the appeal be sustained, the verdict reversed, and the accused sentenced to suspension for a period of five years.

On motion, duly seconded, the report of the Committee was adopted.

GOLDONNA LODGE No. 293

D. J. REED.

In this case the accused was charged with embezzling postal funds. His answer was, that while he was short in his accounts, it was purely a mistake in bookkeeping and that he did not wilfully embezzle anything. However, the Lodge found him guilty and, by a proper vote, suspended him indefinitely.

We recommend that the appeal be dismissed, and that the verdict and sentence be affirmed.

On motion, duly seconded, the report of the Committee was adopted.

RAYNE LODGE No. 313.

DR. J. D. HUNTER.

The accused was charged with circulating, repeating and causing to be circulated and repeated vile and infamous slanders against the good name and character of the wife of a Master Mason, who is also the mother of a Master Mason, and, by persuasion and threats, protecting and defending from justice a profane who was charged with assaulting and attempting to violate the chastity of the wife and mother.

A voluminous record was made up and the Lodge acquitted the accused.

From a careful reading of the record and hearing some witnesses, four of the Committee believe that the Lodge was correct in acquitting him and recommend that the appeal be dismissed and the verdict of acquittal be sustained.

One member of the Committee believes that the accused was guilty and should be indefinitely suspended.

The motion was made and duly seconded to sustain the action of the Lodge, which was lost.

It was then moved and seconded that the minority report be adopted, the appeal sustained, and that the accused be indefinitely suspended, which motion was duly carried, and the accused, therefore, stands indefinitely suspended.

L. R. AUSTIN.

A careful reading of a voluminous record satisfies us that this is a matter in which the finding of the Lodge itself should not be disturbed. We, therefore, recommend that the appeal be dismissed.

On motion, duly seconded, the report of the Committee was adopted.

ANCHOR LODGE No. 261

CHARLES S. CHRISTIAN.

This is an appeal from a finding of guilty on the charge of embezzlement and the sentence of expulsion. We recommend that the appeal be dismissed and the sentence affirmed.

On motion, duly seconded, the report of the Committee was adopted.

FRIENDS OF HARMONY LODGE No. 58

FRANK SIMONE, JR.

This record is not as full as it might be. At the same time your Committee are satisfied that the record discloses a willful and continuous refusal to obey the proper summons of the Lodge, and we recommend that the appeal be dismissed and the sentence of indefinite suspension affirmed.

On motion, duly seconded, the report of the Committee was adopted.

JOSEPH GEBHART.

The accused was charged with getting drunk and with driving an automobile while in an intoxicated condition. He pleaded guilty to drunkenness but, for some reason not explained by the record, the charge of driving the automobile while in an intoxicated condition was dropped and expunged from the record.

From our investigation of the matter, we are satisfied that the accused is an habitual offender and lived in constant disregard of the law. Therefore, your Committee recommends that the appeal be sustained, and that the sentence of reprimand be set aside and the accused be suspended for five years.

On motion, duly seconded, the report of the Committee was adopted.

C. A. EGLIN.

The accused is charged with embezzlement, and it appears that at the time he applied for membership he was even then an embezzler. We see no reason why he should not be expelled from the Order. Therefore, your Committee recommends that the appeal be sustained and that the accused be expelled.

On motion, duly seconded, the report of the Committee was adopted.

NEW RIVER LODGE No. 402
R. M. SMITH.

The record in this case comes to the Committee under the resolution of review, no appeal having been taken so far as the record shows. A reading of this record shows that the wife of the accused obtained a divorce from him on testimony deemed sufficient by the civil court on a charge of adultery.

When the Lodge trial was had there seems to have been some reconciliation between the accused and his divorced wife, and very little interest seems to have been taken. The Lodge found the accused not guilty. The Committee is not inclined to permit the members of the Craft to play fast and loose with their marital relations in life and in the courts and, while no appeal has been taken, under the supervisory jurisdiction of the Grand Lodge, we are constrained to recommend that the verdict be set aside and a verdict of guilty entered herein, and that the accused be suspended for two years.

On motion, duly seconded, the report of the Committee was adopted.

SIMCOE WALMSLEY LODGE No. 359

J. C. BROWN.

No appeal appears in the record as to this case. Under the supervisory jurisdiction, however, we believe that the verdict of not guilty should be set aside and one of guilty entered in lieu thereof, and that the accused should be suspended from the rights of Masonry for the years 1926 and 1927, and your Committee so recommends.

On motion, duly adopted, the report of the Committee was adopted and the accused stands suspended for the years 1926 and 1927.

GRAHAM SURGHNOR LODGE No. 383

LYNN D. BROOKS.

The accused was charged with causing the fall of a Master Mason because he obtained evidence, as an under-cover man, of a violation of the liquor laws on the part of a Master Mason. While a member of a lodge in New Orleans, he was charged in the Lodge at Monroe. He made no plea to the jurisdiction of the Lodge. He was convicted and suspended for a term of one year, and appealed.

The Committee recommends that the appeal be sustained and that the verdict and sentence of the Lodge be reversed.

On motion, duly seconded, the report of the Committee was adopted.

O. M. HOLLINGSWORTH.

The accused is a druggist. He was suspected of violating the prohibition laws, especially by selling "Jake," which is the trade name for Jamaica Ginger, and which contains 90 per cent. grain alcohol. He was convicted and appealed to the Supreme Court, which remanded his case for a new trial. In the Lodge he was tried and acquitted. The Committee believes that the record clearly shows him to be guilty of a Masonic offense and recommend that the appeal be sustained and a verdict of guilty be entered and that he be suspended for a term of three years.

A substitute motion was made to sustain the action of the Lodge in acquitting him, which was duly seconded and carried.

M. T. HALL.

The accused was charged in the Federal criminal courts with conspiracy to steal automobiles and transport them into another State and sell them. He was tried and convicted, and sentenced to eighteen months' imprisonment in a Federal prison at Atlanta, Georgia. While serving this sentence he was charged with the offense in the Lodge, pleaded guilty and was sentenced to be reprimanded. No appeal has been taken in this case. We cannot believe that the punishment is sufficient. We recommend, under the supervisory jurisdiction of the Grand Lodge, that the accused be expelled.

On motion, duly seconded, the report of the Committee was adopted and the accused stands expelled.

QUITMAN LODGE No. 76

ELMER I. YOUNG.

The accused was elected treasurer by a number of Masons who expected to take a pleasure trip. As such, they made monthly deposits covering a period of nearly three years to cover the expense of the trip. The accused embezzled the funds, some $2,000.00, and was unable to pay the depositors when they called on him for the money. By some peculiar system of reasoning, the members of the Lodge acquitted him, which we think was a serious miscarriage of justice. The matter has been appealed by three Past Masters of the Lodge. Your Committee recommends that the appeal be sustained, the verdict and sentence of the Lodge set aside, that the accused be declared guilty and be expelled from the Fraternity.

On motion, duly seconded, the report of the Committee was adopted and the accused stands expelled.

ORLEANS LODGE No. 397

M. E. HART.

In the matter of this appeal there was no dispute as to the facts, the sole matter being an interpretation of the law of jurisdiction in the City of New Orleans. We, therefore, beg leave to refer the matter to the Committee on Masonic Law and Jurisprudence.

On motion, duly seconded, the report of the Committee was adopted and the matter was referred to the Committee on Masonic Law and Jurisprudence.

GRAHAM SURGHNOR LODGE No. 383.
A. J. COOK.

The accused was charged in the criminal court with drunkenness and disturbing the peace, and was found guilty and confined to jail. While in jail, having been charged with offenses on December 22, 1924, February 16, March 19, and April 1, 1925, he became drunk on "Jake," which had been stored in the jail. We infer from the record that the accused is almost beyond reform and, while no appeals has been taken, under the supervisory jurisdiction of the Grand Lodge, we recommend that the sentence of the lodge be set aside, and that the accused be indefinitely suspended.

On motion, duly seconded, the report of the Committee was adopted and the accused stands indefinitely suspended.

HIRAM LODGE No. 70
J. A. McAVOY.

No appeal has been taken in this matter, and the record has been sent up simply for review. The record discloses the statement of fact, which we deem it proper to call to the attention of the Grand Lodge. A married man and a Mason, a resident of Baltimore, met a Louisiana lady and pretended to be single. He later admitted that he was married, but claimed he was obtaining a divorce from his wife. During the period of a number of months he courted the single woman and obtained loans of money from her, from a few dollars at a time up to several thousand dollars. She finally went to Baltimore and found he was living happily with his wife and that no divorce had been sought. The Committee thinks his conduct was so outrageous that the sentence of expulsion should be placed of record, notwithstanding no appeal was taken.

On motion, duly seconded, the report of the Committee was adopted.

MONTGOMERY LODGE No. 168
vs
J. T. QUINALTY.

This is the second trial and second conviction of the accused, the first having been set aside and the case remanded.

After hearing the accused in person and a number of witnesses, we feel that the verdict and sentence of indefinite suspension should be sustained, and so recommend.

On motion duly seconded, the report of the Committee was adopted. (P. G. M. Purser having represented the accused was recused.)

W. J. TISON.

The accused was charged with habitual drunkenness and put upon trial upon four distinct charges. He was found guilty and indefinitely suspended, from which verdict and sentence he appealed.

The Committee recommends that the appeal be dismissed and the verdict and sentence of the lodge be affirmed.

On motion, duly seconded, the report of the Committee was adopted.

MACKIE LODGE No. 122

C. E. TOMMIE.

In this matter the accused was charged with improper conduct with a female. The Committee recommends that he be suspended for two years.

On motion, duly seconded, the report of the Committee was adopted.

FELLOWSHIP LODGE No. 217

vs

B. F. PERKINS.

An examination of this record indicates that the accused should be indefinitely suspended and your Committee so recommends.

On motion, duly seconded, the report of the Committee was adopted.

vs

B. E. WOODS.

The accused was charged with refusing to obey or answer the summons of the lodge and refusing to obey or answer the summons of the Grand Master, who was within one hundred yards of his home.

His offense was flagrant and he made no appearance or answer to the charges. The lodge acquitted him. Your Committee recommends that the verdict of the lodge be set aside and that the accused be declared guilty, but, on account of the fact that he has been a Mason nearly half a century that he be suspended for two years rather than expelled.

On motion, duly seconded, the report of the Committee was adopted.

vs
BUN WATTS.

The record was so incomplete in this matter that it was referred to the incoming Grand Master for such action as he might see fit to take.

JAMES A. CHRISTIAN.

The accused was charged in the criminal courts with embezzlement and convicted and the Supreme Court affirmed the decision. The Lodge, however, acquitted him. We recommend that the finding of the Lodge be reversed, annulled and set aside, that the accused be declared guilty and expelled from the order.

On motion, duly seconded, the report of the Committee was adopted.

JEFFERSON LODGE No. 191
LEON C. WEISS and J. HOWARD WEINER.

These members were accused of conspiring to and actually preventing the conferring of any degrees during the current Masonic year by the improper use of the black ball. The entire record depends upon circumstantial evidence as to the secrecy vel non of the ballot.

The Grand Lodge, at this session, ruled that the secrecy of the ballot could not be inquired into. Hence, nothing can be done in this case.

The Lodge found the accused not guilty and the appeal being dismissed the situation is as if no appeal had been taken.

On motion, duly seconded, the report of the Committee was adopted.

There are other cases in our hands in which no appeals have been taken, but are simply up for review. We have reviewed these and, inasmuch as the records appear to be reasonably regular and the sentences fairly in accord with what we believe to be right, we make no recommendations. The charges and sentences are as follows:

Operating a still in violation of law: Expulsion.
Embezzlement: Indefinite suspension.
Embezzlement: Expulsion.
Seducing two little girls, sisters: Expulsion.
Adultery with Master Mason's wife: Indefinite suspension.
Adultery: Expulsion.
Adultery: Expulsion.
Public Drunkenness: Suspension for six months.
Retailing Liquor: Indefinite suspension.
Retailing Liquor: Suspended for ten years.
Retailing Liquor: Indefinite suspension.
Adultery with Master Mason's wife: Expulsion.
Wife Desertion: Expulsion.
Embezzlement: Indefinite suspension.
Fighting Between Members of Same Lodge: The aggressor was indefinitely suspended and the one who provoked the difficulty by his manner was suspended for one year.
Malicious Mischief: Acquitted.
Failure to Obey Lodge Summons: Suspended for six months.

Fraternally submitted,

COMMITTEE ON MASONIC LAW AND JURISPRUDENCE.

The Committee on Masonic Law and Jurisprudence presented the following reports which were received and adopted seriatim, as noted and finally adopted as a whole.

REPORT OF COMMITTEE ON MASONIC LAW AND JURISPRUDENCE.

To the M. W. Grand Lodge of Louisiana, F. & A. M.:

Your Committee on Masonic Law and Jurisprudence would respectfully report that we have carefully examined the address of the M. W. Grand Master and have given special attention to that portion of said address referred to this Committee and would report as follows:

On official acts of the Grand Master as outlined in his report, your Committee approves the same as being in conformity with Masonic law and precedents established by this Grand Lodge. Some few expressions of opinion by the Grand Master in his report on official acts have nothing to do with the official acts themselves and, therefore, are not considered, either for approval or disapproval by this committee, but we are only reporting on that portion of the report giving his official action taken on each matter submitted for his consideration, and the same are hereby approved.

In regard to dispensations granted and dispensations refused, your Committee would likewise approve the action of the Grand Master in all of these cases which have been carefully reviewed by your Committee.

In regard to his report on rulings and decisions rendered during the past year, your Committee would approve and endorse the same as strictly in accordance with Masonic law and precedent as established by this Grand Lodge, except in the following matters, to which special attention is hereby directed. These may be enumerated as follows:

RULINGS AND DECISIONS.

Decision No. 3—In this case the Grand Master declined to rule as to whether Albert Pike Lodge No. 376 should refund dues collected from Don Carlos Ryan. The records of the case shown on page 141, Grand Lodge Proceedings of 1925, that the accused was expelled and if so, and the Lodge collected any dues from the date of his expulsion by the Lodge, the same should be refunded to him.

Your Committee would report further, that in all these appeals the Committee on Appeals and Grievances should state the facts more clearly and also the action taken by the constituent Lodge, because in several of these cases the record is very incomplete insofar as the finding of the Committee is concerned. Our opinion is, that if the Lodge finds a brother not guilty and the Grand Lodge subsequently expels him, the expulsion would only date from the time of the action taken by the Grand Lodge, and any dues collected in the meantime the Lodge would be subject to hold the same, because he was simply in the attitude of a Mason under charges who had been found not guilty by the Lodge, but only repremanded and, therefore, he was not prohibited from visiting the Lodge, and he enjoyed Masonic privileges to a limited extent, until his case should be finally decided by the Grand Lodge. It is true that if the Lodge expels a brother and the Grand Lodge reverses the sentence, this reversed action takes effect from the date of his expulsion and he is restored to his membership, because the Grand Lodge decided that he was not guilty, but on the other hand, if he is acquitted by the Lodge, then he is in good standing so far as the Lodge is concerned until the matter is finally decided by the Grand Lodge, which if they shall find a verdict of guilty, and expel a member, the expulsion would date from the time the penalty was found by the Grand Lodge.

Decision No. 6—In this case the Grand Master ruled that the candidate was ineligible for the degrees on account of the loss of his little finger and a portion of each middle finger.

Your Committee approves this decision, but would call your attention to the fact that in this case, as well as all others, where there is any physical defects, it is necessary to obtain dispensation from the Grand Master to permit the candidate to be balloted upon.

Decision No. 10—In this case the Grand Master held that where a candidate had been elected to receive the E. A. Degree and a complaint was lodged against him by a member of the Lodge, that at the end of six months it was not necessary for him to reapply and the Lodge could proceed to confer the Degree.

We infer from this statement that the brother complaining only requested an investigation and did not lodge a protest against the petitioner receiving the Degree, because if a protest is filed against one elected to receive the E. A. Degree, it operates the same as a black-ball and is good for six months, and at the end of this six months the applicant must reapply and his petition take the regular course. We presume, however, from the statement made by the Grand Master, that it was only a complaint or request that the matter be investigated. Our Grand Lodge is very jealous as to the rights of any protest against a profane receiving the degrees over his protest and it is recognized as operating the same as a black ball, unless it is made permanent, according to the laws of the Grand Lodge.

Decision No. 11—We would recommend to strike out the last paragraph of the Grand Master's decision, which says "in case of questionable jurisdiction a waiver of jurisdiction should be granted." This was unnecessary, for the decision of the case, if jurisdiction is questionable, the matter is to be submitted to the Grand Master to pass judgment. In the case submitted it appears that the brother was accessible to the Lodge and, therefore, no waiver was required between Pitkin Lodge at Cravens and the Lodge located at Fullerton.

Decision No. 16—Your Committee recommends that the last paragraph of this decision be stricken out as it is no part of the ruling. This paragraph commences with the words: "I will, however, add that in my opinion this law is defective and I think should be changed," etc.

The opinion of your Committee in regard to this particular case from Alco Lodge No. 416, where more than a year has elapsed from the time of the E. A. Degree, and he desires to proceed with his advancement. We believe that the candidate should make his formal application, then when the candidate is ready for ballot he should come before the Lodge and stand his examination in open Lodge the same as any other candidate and then can be immediately balloted upon for his worthiness to receive the next degree. His proficiency being passed upon the same as under the present law and, therefore, it is proper for the Lodge to examine him in the E. A. Degree before balloting upon him for advancement.

Decision No. 18—Being an application for interpretation by Oliver Lodge No. 84 in regard to the construction of Edict 70 and 167 and Edict 262.

Your Committee approves the ruling and decision of the Grand Master. Masonic jurisprudence draws a line of distinction between a candidate who has never received any of the degrees and one who has received one or more degrees in the order. You can only stop one who has received one or more degrees by filing charges and not by simply notifying the Master that you want to register an objection, but in case one has not received any degree, you can file an objection which holds good for six months, or you can file a permanent objection as authorized by Masonic law by so stating at the time.

This distinction is made in regard to the two situations.

Decision No. 32—This case is very similar to the one decided by this Grand Lodge in 1924, and found in the report of the Committee on Masonic Law and Jurisprudence, page 209, and refers to the other section of the law quoted by the Grand Master and is a decision rendered by the Grand Master Nos. 13 and 40 for the year 1924 rendered by M. W. Bro. Jos. Sinai, Grand Master. The Grand Lodge in the year 1920, page 168, upheld the opinion of Grand Master Krause, that where a brother is sojourning had been tried by Hope Lodge and was a member of Unity Lodge, located at Houma, La., and desired reinstatement, he should apply to Hope Lodge, being the one that tried him, the same is held by the Grand Master in decision 32, but Brother Sinai, Grand Master, in Decision Nos. 13 and 40 of 1924, decided the reverse.

In order to settle this matter for the future, this Committee recommended, and the report was unanimously adopted, that in the future, that the trial of a sojourning brother only applies to a brother living outside of the State of Louisiana and does not apply to brethren living in this State, who were members of Lodges in this State, but that such members had a right to be tried in his own Lodge, but any other Lodges had a right to prefer charges for unmasonic conduct. This is covered fully on page 210 of proceedings of 1924, and this is the law of the Grand Lodge at the present time and, therefore, any trial by Hope Lodge of a sojourning brother, who was a member of Rayne Lodge, was contrary to the Edicts of this Grand Lodge and that Rayne Lodge should act upon his case for reinstatement.

We trust that the Lodges will take cognizance of this edict and be governed accordingly in the future and when they have charges against a brother for unmasonic conduct they will refer the same to his home lodge for trial.

Decision No. 34—Strike out the words: "Or get the candidate to write a new date in the old one."

Decision No. 45—The Grand Master's ruling in reply to request from Mackey Lodge No. 122, that since no appeal had been taken in the case of a trial, the Lodge had the right to order a new trial by majority vote of the Lodge. Our Grand Lodge regulations do not provide for new trials, except where a brother was absent and had no knowledge of the trial, and all transcripts must now be sent to the Grand Lodge for review. We doubt the wisdom of a Lodge on its own motion ordering a new trial of a case that has been disposed of and the evidence heard. If this is to be permitted, the Lodges will be in a continual strife and turmoil over the trial of any brother charged with unmasonic conduct. Our law does not recognize new trials except as set forth in Article VII, Section 6, but it does give any brother the right of appeal and if he fails to exercise that right within 30 days, he is not entitled to any new trial by the Lodge itself under the law.

Edict No. 158 is repealed.

Decision No. 51—Being an opinion as to the eligibility of a candidate whose parents were never married. Such a candidate is not eligible for the degrees of masonry, unless he has been legitimated under the laws of the State, and we desire this to be emphasized as set forth in the Grand Master's opinion.

Decision No. 52—The Grand Master practically ruled that if the Committee reports unfavorable on an applicant the Master should consider this report as an objection on the grounds of unworthiness. However, your Committee holds to the opinion that the candidate must be balloted upon regardless of the report of the Committee. The report of the Committee is made in an official way for information of the members of the Lodge and it is naturally presumed that every member will heed the recommendation of a Committee in making such a report, but the candidates should be balloted upon, regardless of the report of the Committee.

Decision No. 55, Paragraph 3—The Grand Master ruled that any individual member of any Lodge has the right to object to any unworthy material being taken into Masonry, regardless of whether the objecting brother be a member of that same Lodge or not. This is true, but no brother who is not a member of the Lodge has the right to file a protest with the W. M. that will operate the same as a blackball. His opinion is given in the nature of a recommendation and should be given due consideration by the W. M. but he is not compelled under our law to observe the same and it may be ignored. which the W. M. cannot do as to a brother of his own Lodge. It is, of course, the duty of every W. M. to give careful consideration to any and all information received concerning a candidate, but a man who is not a member of the Lodge does not stand in the same position as one who is a member of the Lodge that has the right to do so, although the W. M. should give due consideration to all information received concerning any proposed candidate.

Decision No. 61, Paragraph 3—Opinion is asked as to the status of life members. The opinion of your Committee is that a life member is exempt from payment of dues to his constituent Lodge and likewise exempt from paying dues to the Grand Lodge, because the Grand Lodge dues are not levied against the individual members, but against the Lodge for each member on the roll. If any special assessments are made against the various members of the constituent Lodge, then it is levied against the life members the same as against all other members and the Lodge is only the mediary through which the same are collected. However, as stated by the Grand Master. this must be made clear in the by-laws of each Lodge dealing with the subject of life members.

Decision No. 64—The opinion of your Committee in this case is that no practicing attorney who is a Mason should collect any fee from any brother represented by him in a Masonic Lodge trial. It is unethical, as the brother is supposed to represent the accused when requested on account of friendship and not for pecuniary considerations.

Decision No. 70—The Grand Master, in regard to taking testimony in a case pending in Pine Grove Lodge No. 288, held that it was necessary for the witness to sign his testimony. The law is not sufficiently definite to require this; it only states that his testimony must be affirmed as true by the party making it. This can be done in presence of the commission taking the testimony, because a witness might object to signing it, and yet be willing to affirm that it is true. For this reason this paragraph should be stricken from the decision, as the witness is not compelled to sign, although if he be willing to do so, it is a very wise thing to require him to affix his signature to his testimony.

Decision No. 81—At the close of this ruling the Grand Master stated that if the vote be favorable it should be referred to the Grand Lodge for its consideration. This is the case where a Brother desired reinstatement by Noble Lodge from a sentence of suspension, which had been affirmed by the Grand Lodge. To make the language clear, the Grand Master's opinion should have stated that if the vote of the Lodge be favorable by a two-thirds vote of those present after due notice, that the matter should be referred to the Grand Lodge for its consideration, because in all cases where a sentence of suspension has been affirmed by the Grand Lodge, it requires the same vote of the constituent Lodge for his reinstatement as that required to fix the penalty in the first instance.

Decision No. 85—Your Committee cannot agree with the Grand Master in regard to his decision. This is a case where a brother was charged with embezzlement and indefinitely suspended and no appeal was taken to the Grand Lodge. At that time the transcript was not required to be sent to the Grand Lodge. We must apply to the case the law as it is and not as we would like to have it. The applicant served his sentence in the penitentiary and applied to the Lodge for reinstatement. Our opinion is that the Lodge, by the required two-thirds vote, after due notice to the membership, could vote to reinstate the brother, no appeal having been taken at any time to the Grand Lodge.

The statement of the Grand Master that the candidate does not come under the tongue of good report, because he was sentenced to the penitentiary, refers to the case of a candidate who is applying for the degrees and did not apply to a case where the candidate is applying for reinstatement. A brother might have been found guilty and sent to the penitentiary and afterwards reformed and become a good man. We cannot agree with this opinion, but we are compelled to rule that as the law stands at the present time, the Lodge may act. Of course, under the present law since all transcripts are sent to the Grand Lodge for action, it will also in the future be necessary, after the Lodge takes its vote for reinstatement to get the approval of the Grand Lodge before it will become effective.

Decision No. 86—In this case the Grand Master held that an application for degrees by a man employed as a stillman in an alcoholic plant occupied a dubious position and could not render an opinion as to his eligibility.

The opinion of your Committee is that the law of the Grand Lodge does not apply to such cases. The law quoted by the Grand Master refers to the manufacture and sale of intoxicating liquors as a beverage. Such manufacture or sale at present is prohibited by the Eighteenth Amendment to the Constitution of the United States, and a man who is openly engaged as a stillman in an alcohol plant does not come under the prohibition act, as he cannot be making alcohol for beverage purposes, but only for scientific, medical or industrial purposes, under the law. Therefore, we see no reason why he should not be eligible as a candidate, his moral qualifications to be passed upon by the Committee and the Lodge to which he applies.

With the suggestions and corrections to clarify the language in many of these cases, your Committee approves the other rulings and decisions of the Grand Master and would recommend that the same be made the judgment of this Grand Lodge.

We append the following resolution:

BE IT RESOLVED by the Grand Lodge that the official acts, dispensations granted and refused, as well as the rulings and decisions of the Grand Master as reported in his address for the year 1925, at the session of the Grand Lodge in 1926, be and the same are approved, except with the corrections and amendments as set forth in the opinion of this Committee as embodied herein.

Committee on Masonic Law and Jurisprudence.

Your Committee on Masonic Law and Jurisprudence to whom was referred the recommendations and other doings of the M. W. Grand Master, would fraternally report as follows:

RECOMMENDATIONS.

No. 1: Revision of Our Law—Your Committee approves the recommendation that a complete and new codification of our regulations and edicts and decisions is very much needed and those that conflict should be eliminated, but we believe this will require the employment of a thoroughly competent Mason to do this work and will cost considerable if done properly. Considering our present financial condition, we believe this work can be postponed until we are in a better position to pay for the same.

No. 2: On Esoteric Work—This is referred to the Committee on Work, but this Committee views with some concern such radical changes in the present work with which our brethren are thoroughly familiar.

No. 3: The recommendation for one ballot to apply for all three degrees has been rejected more than once by this Grand Lodge and as that is a matter on which this body is competent to pass judgment, we submit the same without recommendation, leaving it to any brother who may desire to present an amendment to our laws on this subject.

No. 4: Right of Objection—Your Committee is of the opinion and so recommends that no brother can file a permanent objection to the brother of some other regular Lodge visiting his Lodge. This objection must be made at each meeting by a member present at the time.

No. 5: Religious Instruction in the Public Schools—Your Committee has carefully read the reasons of the Grand Master and his proposed resolution. We cannot agree that it is for the best interest of Masonry to adopt the same in its present wording. What religion will you teach is the vital question? Masonry does not profess to be a religion. Our fraternity is strong in its championship of the public schools and we would not want to do aught to bring about discord in our various religious beliefs.

No. 6: Suspension for Non-Payment of Dues—We believe the present law is sufficiently clear and, if observed faithfully by the Secretaries, no change is necessary.

No. 7: We approve the action of the Grand Master in regard to the By-Laws of Mazzini Lodge and would recommend that compensation of all officers be fixed, when anything is allowed, at a definite amount and never on a percentage basis. Page 51.

No. 8: We call attention to the many numerous cases of Lodge trials in which the Grand Master ordered new trials and expressed the opinion that Lodges on their own motion could order new trials. We do not find this to be in harmony with the jurisprudence of this Grand Lodge and should not be done. All transcripts under the present law must be sent to the Grand Lodge.

It is certainly contrary to the spirit of the Constitution of our country that any man should be put in jeopardy twice for the same offense. It is rather a bad precedent for a Lodge after trial to find a brother "not guilty" and then turn around and try him again and find him guilty. We recognize the right of the Grand Master or the Grand Lodge to order a new trial if the law has not been observed, the same as the Supreme Court does in a criminal case, but our Regulations make no provisions for a new trial except where the brother was absent and had no knowledge of the proceedings, in which case he may demand a new trial.

The question also arises: How many new trials will you have? Would you just keep trying the brother until you got the penalty you wanted inflicted or had him set free? Additional trials would keep the Lodge and its members in constant turmoil and strife. Certainly one is bad enough; let us not prolong these unfortunate affairs.

The correct remedy is by an appeal to the Grand Lodge, which can be taken by the Grand Master or any member of the Lodge trying the case.

This your Committee recommends for the future.

Committee.

The Committee presented the following report which was duly adopted.

Your Committee on Masonic Law and Jurisprudence to whom was referred the appeal of Brothers B. B. Purser, Ray Magurder and M. J. Allen, from the action of Amite City Lodge No. 175 from its action of suspending these brethren for non-payment of dues on account of informality or irregularity in the proceedings, would report that we find the form of the notice issued by the Secretary to substantially comply with the Grand Lodge regulations.

However, in the case of Brother B. B. Purser, he has filed an affidavit that he never received any notice from the Secretary or the lodge and therefore in his case, the action of the lodge was illegal and the suspension was null and void and we so hold in his case. As to the other appellants, their appeal is dismissed.

Respectfully submitted,

L. E. THOMAS, Chairman,
Committee on M. L. and J.

The Committee on Masonic Law and Jurisprudence further reported:

Your Committee on Masonic Law and Jurisprudence to whom was referred the amendments to Article VII of the General Regulations, would report favorably on all the proposed amendments except in Section 10 we would strike out the words "and those residing more than ten miles from the domiciles of the lodge" in two places. We believe the adoption of these changes in our trial code will materially simplify our trials and prove helpful in the solution of all such matters.

Respectfully submitted,

L. E. THOMAS, Chairman,
Committee on M. L. and J.

On motion, duly seconded, the report of the Committee was received and the amendment adopted seriatim with the exception of Section 10 in which the deletion of the words "and those residing more than ten miles from the domicile of the lodge" was allowed, which section was adopted as amended and the report of the special committee and the amendments were adopted as a whole.

AMENDMENT TO ARTICLE VI, SECTION 8 OF THE GENERAL REGULATIONS.

The Committee on Masonic Law and Jurisprudence reported favorably as to the adoption of the above amendment, which had been presented on last evening. On motion, duly seconded, the report of the committee was received and the amendment was duly adopted.

COMMITTEE ON NECROLOGY.

The Committee on Necrology presented the following report, which was adopted by a rising vote.

New Orleans, February 2, 1926.

To the Grand Lodge of the State of Louisiana in Annual Communication:

Brethren—We your Committee on Necrology beg leave to report that during the year 1925, three hundred and eighty-seven of the brethren, members of the lodges constituting this Grand Lodge, have passed away from this life to that beyond. They have gone from all walks of life, and from all degrees of economic and social condition, from the most modest and moderate to that of affluence and wide recognition. As we contemplate the roster of our dead of the year, it is borne in our minds and hearts afresh that these differences are of the outward and surface life only. We have no rule by which we can measure the real worth of human lives accurately. We only know that every human being who is loved is important; that each who possesses the confidence of his fellow men is worth while, and, above all, that each life is supremely important to itself. We know that each of these, our departed brethren, must have been loved and trusted or they would not have been of our brotherhood; we know that, in practically all cases, their departure has left unspeakable grief and bereavement among their immediate families and we recommend that, at the proper moment and in appropriate manner this Grand Lodge express its sympathy with all who mourn. We sorrow with them.

Among those who have gone from us, certain ones, on account of peculiar service to our cause and to this Grand body should have special mention. They are:

Joseph Sinai, Past Grand Master of this Grand Lodge.

Adolph Gustave Ricks, Grand Treasurer for twenty-six years, holding that position at the time of his death.

The lives and activities of these brethren are appropriately commemorated in the report of the Grand Master.

We mention also that shortly after the Annual Grand Communication of 1925 Brother Charles E. Cormier, Past Deputy Grand Master, departed this life.

Brother Cormier was a native of Massachusetts, had lived in New Orleans for many years and was a member and Past Master of Louisiana Lodge No. 102. He was a merchant by occupation, was a public spirited man of noble soul and pure character.

Dr. N. B. Null of Ruston, Past Grand Senior Warden, died in December, 1924, the fact of his demise not being known in the Grand Lodge at its meeting last year. Dr. Null was born at old Viena, La., and spent his life in the near vicinity of his birthplace. He had charge of the affairs of this body as acting Grand Master at a peculiarly trying time and discharged his duties with fidelity, courage and ability.

These are gone from us and all who loved them and all whom they loved. Each in his place has left his impression on all with whom he came in contact and the lesson of each life is completed.

Life runs on through the succeeding generations, and, we believe, tends to a destiny of transcendent good in human brotherhood on earth. For each individual we hope for a destiny of usefulness and good beyond the life of earth.

We bow in submission to the Divine will, manifested in the law of physical life ending inevitable in death. We trust the Divine goodness that our hopes shall not be in vain.

COMMITTEE ON WORK.

The Committee on Work presented the following report, which was duly adopted.

February 3rd, 1926.

To the Grand Lodge of the State of Louisiana, F. & A. M.:

Brethren—We your Committee on Work to whom was referred the recommendation of the Grand Master relative to the forms in use in opening and closing the lodges, beg leave to report, that while we appreciate the motive for the said recommendation, we believe the brethren prefer to retain so much of these ancient ceremonies as now are in use and recommend that no change be made.

G. W. GAINES,

Committee.

TRIAL OF W. BROTHER PERCY J. PROSSER OF LINN WOOD LODGE No. 167.

The Committee on Appeals and Grievances, to whom this matter was referred at the opening session of the Grand Lodge, reported in favor of a trial by the Grand Lodge. The M. W. Grand Master, thereupon read a statement from Brother Prosser, stating that he would not appear for trial either in person or by representative, and would abide by the findings of the Grand Lodge in the matter.

New Orleans, January 29, 1926.

Mr. H. B. Conner,
Most Worshipful Grand Master,
Grand Lodge of La., F. & A. M.,
New Orleans, La.

My dear Sir and Most Worshipful Brother:

In answer to the summons of the Grand Lodge relative to charges of un-Masonic Conduct by Linn Wood Lodge No. 167, permit me to advise that I have been before the Grand Lodge Committee and have given all the evidence in my possession and if it pleases you I would be pleased to submit my case to the Grand Lodge on the evidence contained in the transcript and humbly crave your mercy.

Permit me to further advise that I have returned to Linn Wood Lodge No. 167 all funds which the Secretary claimed was due, same being the sum of five hundred ($500.00) dollars.

Truly and fraternally yours,
(signed) PERCY J. PROSSER, Jr.

Grand Senior Warden, Edwin F. Gayle, was appointed by the Grand Master as attorney for the defense.

The Committee through its Chairman, presented in detail to the Grand Lodge the testimony which had been taken by the Commissioner appointed by the Grand Master, after which the Grand Lodge proceeded to vote upon the guilt or innocence of the accused.

The vote in favor of guilty was unanimous, following which a motion to suspend indefinitely was unanimously adopted, and Brother Percy J. Prosser, Jr., who was the Master of Linn Wood Lodge No. 167 in 1924, was declared indefinitely suspended from that lodge and the Order, and the Grand Secretary was directed to so notify the accused and his lodge.

RESOLUTION BY GEORGE J. GINSBERG, GRAND PURSUIVANT AND W. O. WATSON, GRAND STEWARD.

Brothers Geo. J. Ginsberg and Warren O. Watson, presented the following resolution, which was received and referred to the Committee on Masonic Law and Jurisprudence:

Amending Article VI, Section 5 of the General Regulations.

Be it resolved, by the M. W. Grand Lodge of Louisiana, F. & A. M. in 115th Annual Communication assembled, That Article VI, Section 5 of the By-Laws and Regulations of this Grand Lodge be amended and re-enacted and same is hereby amended and re-enacted to read as follows:

"A separate ballot for each applicant shall be required and if the ballot be favorable it shall entitle the applicant to receive the three degrees; but no degree after the first shall be conferred upon the applicant until he shall have proved himself by examination in open lodge to be well versed and proficient in the degree, or degrees, which he may have received. Provided that if any member shall request of the W. Master of the Lodge that a ballot be taken on the advancement to the degrees of F. C. and M. M. of any applicant the same shall be granted."

GEO. J. GINSBERG, Grand Pursuivant.
WARREN O. WATSON, Grand Steward.

REPORT OF SPECIAL COMMITTEE.

The Special Committee to whom was referred the report of the Committee on State of the Order, with attached questionnaire for candidates and investigating committees, with the view of meeting with the different representatives and ascertaining the sentiments of their lodges in these particulars, presented the following report:

Your Committee to whom was referred the proposed "Questionnaire" have carefully considered same, and while we believe the object and purposes of the Committee on State of the Order were made with every good intention, yet we have come to the conclusion that the Investigating Committtee of Lodges are better qualified to perform this duty than any one else, and while the questions would be answered, this would in no way prove the correctness of same, and we believe that the best interest of the Fraternity can be served by the Investigating Committee.

We therefore respectfully recommend that this proposed "Questionnaire" be indefinitely postponed.

Fraternally submitted,
LEON S. HAAS, Chairman,
EDW. K. HERRMANN,
DUNCAN BELL,
Committee.

On motion the report of the committee was received and adopted, and a motion to adopt the report of the Committee on State of the Order, together with the amendments affecting the questionnaire to candidates was lost.

RESOLUTION BY W. BROTHER WARREN O. WATSON, W. M. BATON ROUGE LODGE No. 372.

W. Brother Warren O. Watson presented the following resolution, which was laid over until to-morrow for action:

BE IT RESOLVED, That Section 3 of Article X, of the General Regulations, be amended by striking out in the third line the language "in writing, stating the amount due" and inserting instead the language "in person or by registered mail, to his last known address, with return receipt requested, stating the amount due."

This Section as amended, Any member of a Lodge, indebted for one year's dues or assessments, or, if a life member, for assessments; may be summoned by the lodge in person or by registered mail, to his last known address, with return receipt requested, stating the amount due, etc.

WARREN O. WATSON, W. M.
Baton Rouge Lodge No. 372.

There being no further business, the Grand Lodge was then called from labor to refreshment to resume labor to-morrow night at six thirty o'clock.

THIRD DAY'S SESSION.

MOSQUE JERUSALEM TEMPLE,
NEW ORLEANS, LA., FEBRUARY 3, 1926.

The M. W. Grand Lodge, Free and Accepted Masons, of the State of Louisiana, after prayer by Robert H. Harper, Grand Chaplain, was called from refreshment to labor by M. W. Brother Haney B. Conner, Grand Master, this Wednesday evening at six thirty o'clock.

GRAND LODGE OFFICERS PRESENT.

All of the Grand Lodge Officers were present and in their respective stations.

GRAND REPRESENTATIVES PRESENT.

All of the Grand Lodge Representatives enumerated in the first night's session were present.

A quorum of the lodges being present, the Grand Master declared the Grand Lodge open for business.

COMMITTEE ON STATE OF THE ORDER.

The Committee on State of the Order, presented the following report:

Your Committee on State of the Order, to whom was referred a resolution to change the time of meeting of the Grand Lodge to the third Monday in February, finds that in the next twenty years to-wit, 1928, 1931, 1939, 1942 and 1944, the time named coincides with Mardi Gras in New Orleans, when accommodations are unattainable, except when arranged for far in advance at very high rates. The second Monday in February conflicts with Mardi Gras in 1929, 1932, 1934, 1937 and 1945 also five times in the next twenty years. The present time—the first Monday does not conflict until 1940. The fourth Monday is subject to the same criticism as the first, that is to say that it interferes with the end and beginning of the month.

It is not practicable to move the time forward to the third Monday in January. In times past when lodges were fewer in number, it was not difficult for the Grand Secretary to get reports from lodges and prepare for the first Monday in February. As it is now, it is only by the most arduous and unremitting work that he is ready for the session. The third Monday last month fell on January 18.

Your Committee feels that any proposition to change the date that has prevailed for many years should be well and carefully weighed. It is impossible to fix a date that will not be inconvenient to some one and we recall the old proverb that refers to jumping from frying pans into fires.

If a great majority of the Grand Lodge, however, feel that a change should be made, in our opinion the law should provide that the meetings be held on the third Monday in February except when that date coincides with Mardi Gras they shall be held on the second Monday.

Fraternally submitted,

GEORGE A. TREADWELL, Chairman.

Upon motion, the report of the Committee was received and adopted and the resolution which had been presented by Past Grand Master Prentiss B. Carter, failed of adoption, and the date for the opening of the Grand Lodge will remain as heretofore, the first Monday in February in each year.

The Committee also reported:

The Committee on State of the Order to whom has been referred that part of the Grand Master's address regarding the tangled situation of the financial affairs of Progressive Lodge No. 26, recommend that the matter be referred to the incoming Grand Master who we are sure will use his best efforts to adjust the matter.

We suggest, too that consideration should be given to whether or not charges should be brought against the brothers concerned for neglect of duty or failure to account for funds of the lodge.

Fraternally submitted,

GEORGE A. TREADWELL, Chairman.

On motion, the report of the Committee was received and duly adopted.

COMMITTEE ON AUDITS AND ACCOUNTS.

The Committee on Audits and Accounts presented the following report which was duly adopted:

Your Committee on Audits and Accounts to whom was referred a resolution to provide revenues for the Masonic Home for Orphans, which re-enacts the resolution now in force, with the addition that each petitioner for the degrees of Masonry shall contribute $5.00 for the benefit of the Home in addition to the fees, paid the lodge, recommend that the resolution be adopted.

Fraternally submitted,

GEORGE A. TREADWELL, Chairman.

and the resolution of Past Grand Master L. E. Thomas, on this subject, was declared duly adopted.

The committee further reported:

The Committee on Audits and Accounts has before it a series of communications from the National Masonic Tuberculosis Sanatoria Association, organized and incorporated by the Grand Lodge of New Mexico, together with a number of resolutions, which they ask us to adopt, all with a view of enlisting us in their movement for relief and hospitalization of consumptive Masons.

They tell us that, according to an estimate based on governmental compilations, as to the number of deaths in the entire country and the principal causes; there were forty-seven deaths last year of Louisiana Masons from tuberculosis and there are four hundred and twenty-three living cases of sufferers.

They recite to us in detail five specific cases of Louisiana brethren, naming them, who were ill or died in El Paso, wholly assisted or but partially helped by their lodges or the Masons of Louisiana, and as a charge upon the public charity of Texas.

They go into details and offer convincing arguments as to the need and worthiness of their project.

The resolutions submitted provides:

Resolution No. 1. Approving the action of the Grand Lodge of New Mexico in organizing the Association, accepting the invitation extended to us to participate in the organization, management and control of the movement; providing for a representative of the Grand Lodge of Louisiana, to serve on the Board of Governors and recognizing the Association as the Agent of this Grand Lodge, in carrying out a National program for relief and hospitalization of the sick and prevention of tuberculosis among American Freemasons and their families.

Resolution No. 2. Pledging the co-operation of this Grand Lodge in a National Masonic Educational campaign to disseminate knowledge as to the cause, relief and cure of tuberculosis and as to preventive measures, and instructing the Grand Master and the Committee on Education to arrange for open meetings and lectures on the subject in the Constituent of this jurisdiction.

Resolution No. 3. Appropriating a specific sum as decided by the Grand Lodge for emergency aid for needy tubercular Masons now in the southwestern states, seeking restoration of health.

Resolution No. 4. Pledging this Grand Lodge to contribute its share of the cost of construction of a National Masonic Tuberculosis Sanatorium, based upon the membership in this jurisdiction, this share to be later determined by the Governing Board of the Association by agreement with our Grand Master and a Committee to be appointed by him to advise and assist him in this work.

We, your Committee, fully recognize and appreciate the importance and necessity of the work and fully, completely and unreservedly endorse the movement. We regret to report therefore, that at the present time, with the financial burdens the Grand Lodge has assumed, and the temporary loss of revenue to the Grand Lodge, incident to the demolition of the old Masonic Temple and construction of the new Temple, resulting in the present revenues not being nearly equal to the expenses we are forced to recommend that action on the suggested resolution be indefinitely postponed, for the foregoing reasons in respect of those carrying appropriations and for the reason that it is not fair and proper to adopt those not carrying appropriations and accepting participation in the movement, unless and until we are in a position to carry our share of the financial burden.

We recommend, in lieu thereof, the adoption of the following:

Resolved, That this Grand Lodge looks with favor and approval and fully endorses the objects and plans of the National Masonic Tuberculosis Sanatoria Association, and regrets that at the present time, it is not in a position to directly participate therein.

Fraternally submitted,

GEORGE A. TREADWELL, Chairman.

On motion, the report of the Committee was received and the appended resolution duly adopted.

The Committee further reported:

The Wayfarer's Club of Whipple, Arizona is composed mainly of Master Masons in the United States Veterans Bureau Hospital No. 50, suffering from tuberculosis, and is endeavoring to raise $16,000 to complete a Club Building at the Hospital.

The Grand Lodge of Arizona has approved and endorsed the work of the Club and has set aside $1,000, starting the building fund and the Order of the Eastern Star of Arizona has set aside $225.00 for furnishings. By permission of the Grand Lodge of Arizona, an appeal for funds has been made to the Masonic Bodies of the United States. The work and labor of the Club seem worthy of the highest commendation, but we regret to report that in our opinion this Grand Lodge is not in a present position to participate therein by financially responding to the appeal.

Fraternally submitted,

GEORGE A. TREADWELL, Chairman.

On motion, the report of the Committee was received and duly adopted.

The Committee further reported:

The Committee on Audits and Accounts, to whom was referred the reports of the Grand Treasurer and the Grand Secretary, find that these reports are in accord with the books and records previously audited by the Chairman of this Committee, and recommend their adoption.

Fraternally submitted,

GEORGE A. TREADWELL, Chairman.

On motion the report of the Committee was received and their recommendation duly adopted.

RESOLUTION BY P. G. M. GEO. A. TREADWELL, CHAIRMAN OF THE COMMITTEE ON AUDITS AND ACCOUNTS.

M. W. Brother Geo. A. Treadwell, presented the following resolution which was duly adopted.

Resolved, That there shall be set aside each year, five thousand dollars, out of the revenues of the Grand Lodge, for the relief of widows and indigent Masons, which, plus interest on any accumulated funds, shall be subject to the order of the Grand Master, each year for dispensing relief, and that the unexpended balance shall be invested in interest bearing securities.

Be it further resolved, That any and all previous resolutions relative to the setting aside of relief funds, be and are hereby repealed.

Fraternally submitted,

GEO. A. TREADWELL, Chairman,

Committee on Audits and Accounts.

COMMITTEE ON MASONIC LAW AND JURISPRUDENCE.

The Committee on Masonic Law and Jurisprudence, verbally reported favorably upon the resolution submitted on last evening by W. Brother Warren O. Watson, of Baton Rouge Lodge No. 372, and recommended its adoption. On motion, the report of the Committee was received and the resolution, which proposed an amendment to Section 3, of Article X of the General Regulations, was duly adopted.

The Committee on Masonic Law and Jurisprudence, verbally reported without recommendation the proposed amendment of W. Brothers Geo. J. Ginsberg and Warren O. Watson, to Section 5, Article VI, of the General Regulations. The Committee stated that a similar resolution had been brought forward for the past several years, and that they preferred the Grand Lodge to use its option in the matter. A motion to adopt the amendment was made and lost and the amendment was not adopted.

The Committee on Masonic Law and Jurisprudence further reported:

New Orleans, February 3, 1926.

To the M. W. Grand Lodge of Louisiana, F. & A. M.

Brethren—Your Committee on Masonic Law and Jurisprudence to whom was referred the actions of the Grand Master in dealing with certain Lodges, Discipline, Arresting Charters, etc., would report as follows:

MASONIC DISCIPLINE.

We commend the zeal of the Grand Master in protecting the good name of Our Order by writing the various Lodges concerning their duty in this respect. The importance of this matter cannot be emphasized too often and our Lodges must realize their own serious responsibility in upholding the moral law and preserving our good name unsullied.

We are known by our fruits and any blot upon our Escutcheon is injurious to the Fraternity as a whole, as well as the local Lodge that may be directly affected by the misdeeds of any of its members.

BRETHREN HEED WELL THIS LESSON.

In regard to the Certificate Association to teach the work your Committee commends the assiduity of these faithful brethren in dispensing the secret work, but we desire to impress upon them the importance of confining their activities solely to the purpose for which it is organized and not to ever directly or indirectly undertake, as an organization, to attempt to influence the activities of the Grand Lodge.

"Stick to your bush," and you will serve a most useful purpose for the good of the Craft.

We do not wish it understood that we are suggesting that these Associations are in the slightest degree undertaking to exercise any such influence, but we are only expressing a word of caution in this respect.

We approve the action of the Grand Master in dealing with the Shrine Grotto Association at Baton Rouge.

Our Fraternity must refrain from taking part in all gambling of speculative schemes to raise money.

This Grand Lodge has already declared itself fully on this subject in 1924.

We understand the Grand Monarch of the Grotto has arrested the Charter of the local Grotto at Baton Rouge for its violation of the laws of that Organization.

No Shrine Temple had aught to do with the Circus, though a few individual Shriners may have done so. The Imperial Council of the Mystic Shrine likewise forbids all such schemes for raising money.

CHARTERS ARRESTED.

Your Committee approves the action of the Grand Master in arresting the Charter of Montgomery Lodge No. 168. It appears from the record that the affairs of the Lodge and the local situation demanded drastic action and the only course to pursue was to arrest the Charter. We recommend that the case be considered by the incoming Grand Master to take such action as he may deem proper.

We likewise approve the action of the Grand Master in having arrested the Charter of Dubach Lodge No. 277, and recommended that his action be sustained until this Grand Lodge, or its Grand Master may determine whether the same shall be restored.

We likewise commend his action in having reprimanded Solomon Lodge No. 221. We suggest that the incoming Grand Master take up this question and take such action as he may deem proper after conference with the Officers and members of said Lodge.

In the case of Jefferson Lodge No. 191, your Committee cannot but view with deep concern the seriousness of the situation as disclosed by the report of the Grand Master. It is contrary to the Edicts of this Grand Lodge for any inquiry to be made into the result of the ballot on Candidates. See Section 4, Article VI of the General Regulations and Edicts 43-221-222-227-260 and 275.

We cannot, as your Committee approve the course of procedure in this case. We deprecate very much the fact that any brother would so far forget himself as to cast a blackball from any illfeeling or other unworthy motive, but will not an investigation into who cast the blackball if sanctioned in this Grand Lodge result in far greater harm and especially so when it is in direct violation of our Masonic Law. Let us uphold our Statutes and Edicts regardless of individual cases. In the case of Merryville Lodge No. 329, your Committee believes that an appeal should have been taken and the Lodge not threatened with the arrest of its Charter, if it did not order a new trial and meet out a more severe penalty. In the future let all trial cases be duly appealed to the Grand Lodge, and leave our Lodges free to act without coercion by our Grand Lodge Officers, except to urge upon all Lodges their duty in upholding the good name and reputation of our Fraternity.

We approve the form of certificates, as well as the suggestion of the Grand Master in regard to organization of Lodges under Dispensation.

The law requires the Grand Secretary to check over carefully and approve the signatures to every petition to form a Lodge U. D., and to see that the same are accompanied with the necessary certificates of good standing, or a demit in due form. We urge upon the future Grand Masters not to consider any such petition unless he is furnished with such certificate of the Grand Secretary.

Respectfully submitted,

L. E. THOMAS, Chairman

M. W. Brother Geo. A. Treadwell, Past Grand Master, was elected to fill the five year term on the Board of Trustees of the Masonic Home for Orphans.

The Officers elected and appointed were then duly installed by Past Grand Master L. E. Thomas.

The following resolution presented with a verbal recommendation of the Committee on Masonic Law and Jurisprudence was duly adopted; the resolution being presented by the representatives of Arcadia Lodge No. 126:

BE IT RESOLVED, By the Grand Lodge of Louisiana, in Annual Communication assembled, that Arcadia Lodge No. 126, of Arcadia, La., be and is hereby authorized to sell its present lodge building and real estate, for such price and consideration as it may deem proper and adequate for the purpose of investing the proceeds of the sale in a new building to be erected in that town by the lodge.

No further business appearing, Grand Master J. Paul Haller, after prayer by Rev. Robert H. Harper, Grand Chaplain, closed the Grand Lodge of Louisiana, in ample form, until the One Hundred and Sixteenth Annual Grand Communication, to be held in the City of New Orleans, on the seventh day of February, 1927, at two thirty o'clock P. M.

Attest: JNO. A. DAVILLA, Grand Secretary.

J. PAUL HALLER, Grand Master.

"The years of man are the looms of God, let down from the place of the sun,
Wherein we are weaving always, till the mystic weave is done;
Weaving blindly, but weaving surely, each for himself his fate,
We way not see how the right side looks, we can only weave and wait;
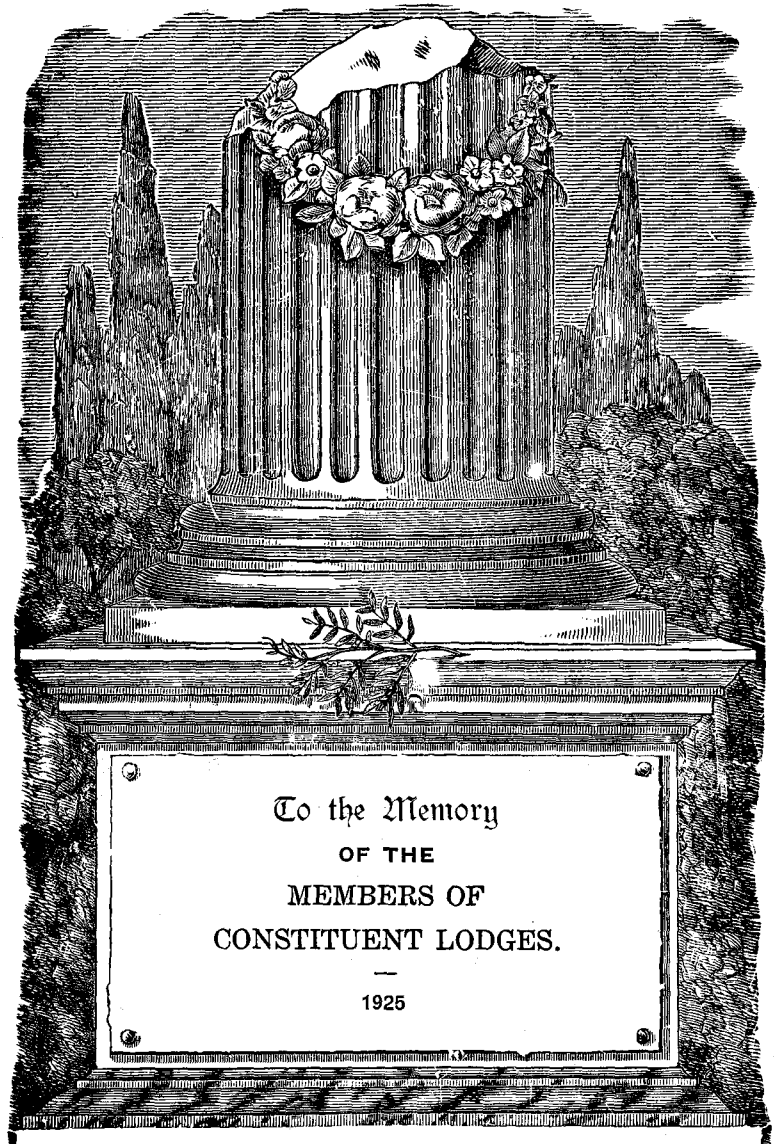
But looking above for the pattern, no weaver need have fear,
Only let him look clear into heaven, the Perfect Pattern is there."

OUR MASONIC JOURNAL, ENG.



"There's a memory dear that is dimmed by a tear
When a friend passes on from our sight;
There's an evergreen spray on the silent way,
There's a beacon that shines through the night—
There's the record of soul written there on life's scroll
That will live when the spirit has fled;
There's a place set apart in the depth of the heart Filled with love for our cherished dead."

To the Memory

OF

M. W. GRAND MASTER

1923

Representative of the Grand Lodges of Colorado and Mississippi

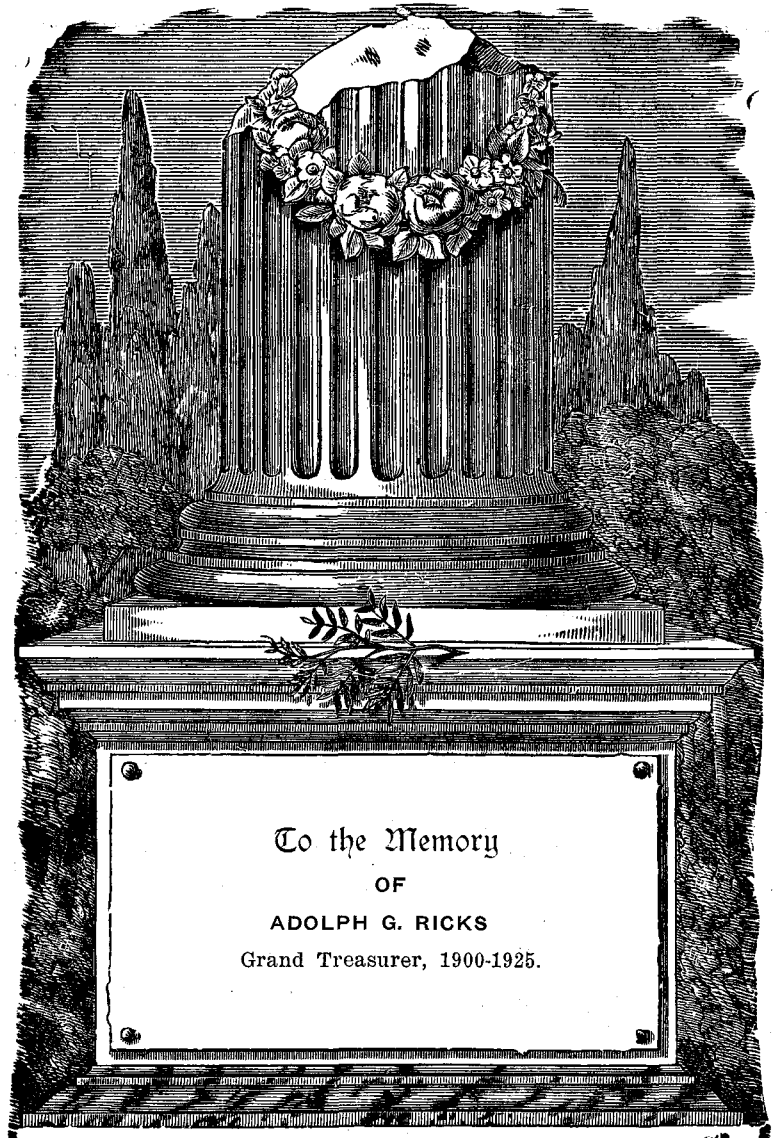
Died, February 21, 1925.

"Sleep calmly on; thy noble life,
With cares and love replete,
Has left on us its impress rife
With memories fond and sweet.

"Sleep on, dear one; such lives as thine
Have not been lived in vain,
But shed an influence rare, divine,
On lives that here remain."

OUR HOME JOURNAL, ENG.



Weep not that his toils are over, weep not that his race is run;
God grant that we may rest as calmly when our work like his is done.
Till then we would yield with gladness our treasures to Him to keep.
And rejoice in the sweet assurance, He giveth His loved ones to sleep.

REPORT OF COMMITTEE ON FOREIGN CORRESPONDENCE

APPENDIX,

FOREIGN CORRESPONDENCE.

In submitting this, our Sixth effort for the Committee on Foreign Correspondence, we are impressed by the fact that the percentage of net gain in membership in nearly every instance appears to be materially reduced in proportion to other years and that the decrease is due mainly to suspensions for non-payment of dues. All in all it is not an unhealthy indication and the Order as a whole will be the better for the elimination from the rolls of those who value so lightly the privilege of connection with an institution such as ours. It is self evident, that we are on the eve of a healthier condition and that the net result will show an aggregation of brethren with unabated interest intent solely in advancing our principles.

It is also interesting to note that the various Grand Lodges are evidencing a decided advancement in the matter of educating their membership in the aims and objects of the institution. The plans of the Masonic Service Association of the United States are being followed, in the main, and we, who are in harness, need no prophet to foretell the beneficial result.

Masonry of to-day, as a matter of fact, has struck its stride and is marching forward, with positive objectives, the accomplishment of which will mark an epoch in our history.

We are presenting herewith reports as to our examination of the proceedings of sixty-five Grand Lodges, confining our efforts to the presentation of facts, without comment, leaving to our readers such inferences as they may be disposed to draw.

Alabama—1924.

The One Hundred and Fourth Annual Communication was held at Montgomery on the 2nd, 3rd and 4th of December, 1924.

Four hundred and thirty-three lodges were represented.

Louisiana was ably represented by Brother John B. Bethea.

The Grand Master said in the opening of his address:

> "It is my judgment that the greatest hindrance to progress and to the development of real brotherhood is that men from timidity or from suspicion induced by false rumor, or a natural inclination not to mix with their fellows, remain strangers to each other. We want to get away from all this and let's begin now by touching elbows with all the brethren, giving each other the handclasp of friendship and brotherly regard, telling each other who we are, and passing judgment on no one until we know all the facts, or at least make inquiry to ascertain the facts, from each viewpoint.

"Such an attitude will obviate many misunderstandings and give us that faith in human nature and in our ownselves that will add much to the sum total of human happiness and our own peace of mind."

He reports four lodges instituted under dispensation.

Four dispensations were issued to past masters to open lodges in the absence of the master and wardens.

One dispensation was granted to permit the election of a worshipful master in a case where the duly elected officer refused to be installed.

Eight corner stones were laid. It is gratifying to note the Grand Master's statement as to his district deputies:

"I have found our District Lecturers, as a rule, anxious to be of service to the Craft and willing to aid me in anything I have called upon them to do. They are all qualified to do the work required of them and in my judgment have rendered efficient service during the past year.

"I wish to express to them my thanks for their co-operation and zeal in the cause of Masonry. They can be, and have been, most useful and gracious in rendering such service as I have required of them."

The Grand Lodge of Guatemala was recognized.

M. W. Brother Bert S. Lee, Past Grand Master of Missouri and General Grand Master of the General Grand Council of the United States was a visitor and addressed the Grand Lodge.

The various reports on the Masonic Home at Montgomery covers some fifty-eight pages, all of which reflect credit upon the brethren of Alabama. It was our personal privilege at one time to visit this great institution and we came away impressed with the fact that the Masons of the State were in no wise luke warm in its support.

The report on Foreign Correspondence is by Brother Fred Wall. He reviews the proceedings of sixty-one jurisdictions and gives Louisiana 1924 courteous notice.

GEORGE A. BEAUCHAMP, Grand Secretary.

Alberta—1925.

The Twentieth Annual Communication was held at Edmonton on the 10th of June, 1925.

Eighty lodges were represented.

Louisiana was ably represented by Brother F. E. Nichol, the holder of our commission.

The representative of the Grand Lodge of Ohio, responding at the reception, said in part:

> "Representing, as we do, Masonic Jurisdictions spread over a very considerable part of the world, recalls to our minds the universality of the order and at the same time our very presence here, in our present capacity, indicates the unity of the organization and its aims. We regret the fact that in this century of enlightenment it should be possible, and is a fact that some of the brethren in foreign jurisdictions are today being suppressed by those in control of civil government from, it is claimed, motives of political expediency. We sympathize with these brethren who are denied those blessings of freedom of speech and action and spirit of toleration which is a fundamental teaching of our order."

The Grand Master reported the death of Past Grand Master George Murray on the 12th of January, 1925.

The Grand Master found it necessary to warn the Craft against the chain prayer nuisance. He granted dispensations for nine new lodges and constituted three lodges under charter. One corner stone was laid.

Fifteen District Deputy Grand Masters reported.

The Grand Treasurer reported a cash balance of $4,097.86.

Grand Secretary Taylor, who is also Custodian of the Work, says in the course of his report:

> "As a Custodian of the Work, I reviewed the work done by the officers of the lodge selected for the purpose of exemplifying the first degree and answered questions relating to the other degrees. The work was performed in a very satisfactory manner in all instances. Much has been done through this medium and through the intervisitation of lodges to establish a uniformity and perfection of degree work which is essential to the continued success of our lodges.
> "Valuable, however, as this undoubtedly is, we must not lose sight of the fact that this is only a means to an end. The ritual itself, after all, is but the shadow of the cohesive mass of fundamental truths embraced in Masonic teaching, and to say that a lodge is proficient merely because it has mastered its language, is to substitute the shadow for the substance and the forms and ceremonies for the truths. We must obtain ritual interpretation as well as ritual instruction. We must learn the true significance of the Masonic ritual in its relations to business life, to home life, to everyday intercourse and to social obligations. Masonic instruction does not imply only a delving into Masonic symbolism or research into Masonic antiquities. It means an effort to induce Masons to view in their true light the esoteric principles of our Order and to indicate the application of these principles in our daily intercourse with the world at large. The real Mason is he who practices out of the lodge those virtues inculcated in it. The practical application, then, is the ultimate end and aim of all Masonic study."

The oration by Past Grand Master Dr. R. S. Thornton of Manitoba is a masterful document, under the title of "The Great Symbol of the Craft." That the address was well received is evidenced by the fact that the rank of Honorary Past Grand Master of Alberta was conferred upon him.

The report on Foreign Correspondence was presented by Past Grand Master F. S. Selwood. Sixty-four proceedings are reviewed, each initialed by the particular member handling it. Louisiana, we note, is signed G. F. A., the initials of R. W. Brother G. F. Auxier. We wish to express to him our appreciation for his liberal and splendid report on Louisiana.

S. G. TAYLOR, Grand Secretary.

Arizona—1925.

The Forty-third Annual Communication was held at Phoenix on the 10th of February, 1925.

Thirty-one lodges were represented.

Louisiana's representative failed to attend.

Under the heading of visitations, the Grand Master thusly extols the beauties of his State:

"Brethren, it has been my good fortune to visit in an official capacity every lodge in this Grand Jurisdiction during the past year. As I traveled once again over almost this entire State, my eyes once more beheld the beauty of Arizona, wonderland of the great Southwest. Little do we realize, brethren, what a wonderful State we live in. With its sun-kissed valleys and majestic mountain ranges; its great forests, tumbling waterfalls, pine-clad hills, giant cacti and blossoming deserts; with its scenery, indescribable in its beauty, might and grandeur, and that greatest of all natural wonders, the Grand Canyon of the Colorado River—when we view all these things, brethren, the heart of finite man is touched, and we realize, as never before, the almighty omnipotence of the Great Architect of the Universe, at whose creative fiat these, as well as all things else, were made. From the snow-clad peaks of the San Francisco mountains to the polka-dotted shadows of the Sulphur Springs Valley; from Montezuma's Well and that great outdoor museum of natural history, the Petrified Forest, to the turbid waters of the mighty Colorado River at Yuma; from the matchless scenery of the new highway across the mountains into Clifton to the ancient ruins of the Casa Grande; from the grandeur of the Grand Canyon to the Mexican border—all this great wonderland, unspoiled in its God-given beauty, may be reached over roads which are a delight to the traveler and tourist."

The Grand Master visited every lodge in the state.

Five joint or district meetings were held during the year.

One lodge was constituted.

The Grand Master did not seem to be impressed with the value of a connection with the Masonic Service Association. However, the Committee on Masonic Service and Education failed to agree with him and later reported:

"The Committee has also caused to be sent to the Secretaries of the Lodges the monthly publication, 'The Master Mason.' Also the Monthly Short Talk Bulletins of the Masonic Service Association have been sent out this last year the same as heretofore. These Bulletins are of especial value to Study Clubs, or any other Masonic activity no matter in what form or direction it may take, and it is the firm belief of this Committee that if the issuance of these Bulletins was the only activity of the Masonic Service Association the existence of that body would be justified and the expense to this Grand Lodge in doing its mite to support the Association is one of the best investments it can make."

The Grand Master reported the deaths of Past Grand Masters Fletcher M. Doan and Alexander G. Oliver.

We take pleasure in reproducing his expressions relative to the relation of Masonry to the Church:

"On more than one occasion I have taken pains to call attention to the fact that Masonry is not a religion, and should not even be remotely so considered by the most ardent of its members. Its true purpose is to help make men better. The church should be zealously supported by all good and true Masons in its effort to convert humanity to a firm and unshakable belief in the wisdom, goodness and mercy of Almighty Jehovah. Having been requested to contribute a statement as Grand Master in furtherance of a 'go to church' movement in this city, I took occasion to express the following:

" 'The church should be the soul of every community. A direct reliance upon divine providence is utterly essential to the well being of the individual, the family, the state and the nation. Yea, even the hope of the world rests in the church. We have 'reformed' the Bible out of our public schools and almost 'reformed' it out of some of our churches. A sincere, whole-hearted return to the undimmed faith of our forefathers is much to be desired.

" 'As Grand Master of Arizona Masons, I would direct the attention of all Masons to the fact that Masonry is not a religion. It cannot take the place of the church. Its true mission in this regard is to point, with never-failing accuracy, straight to the door of the church. Every Mason should be a regular communicant at some church."

The Grand Master's address, as a whole, was an able document, dealing with all of his activities during the year. He had decided opinions and did not hesitate to express them.

The Grand Treasurer reported a balance of cash amounting to $6,252.17. The total assets of the Grand Lodge are placed at $225,-948.39.

Two charters were granted.

Grand Orator, Brother Toler R. White, delivered an address upon the origin of Freemasonry which appears to have been appreciated by his hearers and was ordered printed in the proceedings.

A pleasing event of the session was the laying of the corner stone of a new Masonic Temple at Phoenix.

CLEMENT H. COLMAN, Grand Master.
GEORGE J. ROSKRUGE, Grand Secretary.

Arkansas—1924.

The Eighty-first Annual Communication was held at Little Rock on the 18th of November, 1924.

Four hundred and thirty-three lodges were represented.

Louisiana's representative, Brother H. D. Bowers, was in attendance.

The Grand Master said in opening:

"You have come here from every nook and corner of our State as the representatives of more than 33,000 Masons. The interest of so large a body of Masons as that which you represent must necessarily be varied and important. They will demand of you your best thought, attention and deliberation. For what you do at this Communication will not be limited in its results to an hour or a day; but will perhaps affect the history and welfare of Masonry in this country for ages to come.

"Therefore, I have confidence that your deliberations and actions will be characterized by such intelligence, justice and moderation as will conduce in the highest degree to the stability, progress and prosperity of our beloved institution."

He paid seventy official visits.

The death of Past Grand Master James S. Reamey is reported.

Four dispensations for new lodges were granted and one refused.

Six corner stone laying ceremonies were had.

Four charters were arrested.

Forty-eight dispensations were granted for various purposes.

From the report of the Board of Finance, we learn that the Grand Lodge has assets in the shape of securities amounting to $207,350.00 and a cash balance of $4,275.66.

The report of the Board of Trustees of the Masonic Orphan's Home and School shows that the guests number ninety-eight. The Board concluded their report with the statement:

"We may say in conclusion that the Masonic Orphans' Home and School of Arkansas is not an 'average' charitable institution; it is not an 'average' orphans' home; it has been our pride all these years that it is above the average, in every essential detail. Masonry is not an 'average' institution and it is fitting that in the conduct and management of our Home we seek a higher level than the average. The result of this ambitious purpose shows in the splendid product and fruitage of the Home.

The address of the Grand Orator P. C. Goodwin was an able effort and its delivery must have been thoroughly enjoyed.

The following extract is presented:

"Freemasonry contains the Gospel of Love in all its parts, and the Gospel of Love is the world's antidote for intolerance and prejudice.

"Love has no quarrel with Christian, Jew, Mohammedan, Confucian, Buddhist, or any other creed, and this spirit of love and kindly feeling for mankind is Masonry's crowning glory.

"It respects every religious faith and belief, and honors every honest believer, whatever his individual or church creed may be. All men who believe in the Fatherhood of God are thus tolerant, and the critics and religious zealots who denounce Freemasonry as Godless are obviously ignorant, intolerant and unjust to their fellow man.

"Freemasonry is out of necessity an aid to every association of men whose purpose is the amelioration of the human family. It has no dogma, no bigotry and no ism to cloud, to darken and to restrict its human work, or to limit the splendor of its glorious achievements in the cause of humanity. Freemasonry is an institution destined to endure through the long lapse of ages, a venerable fabric which time cannot weaken, nor persecution shake, nor revolution change. Kingdoms and Empires have been entombed in the cemetery of Time; thrones have crumbled into dust; kings and nations have moulded away; but through all these vicissitudes Masonry has endured and stands today like a golden monument in the value of humanity, against which the surging waves of the ocean of time dash, only to brighten its lustre.

"Morality and humanity are her foundations; Truth and Virtue are her pillars of strength, and Brotherly Love is the High Priest that ministers at her altars. It is the prayer of Masonry that peace and love should destroy discord and war, and enthrone concord and humanity in all the nations of the earth."

STORM O. WHALEY, Grand Master.
FAY HEMSTEAD, Grand Secretary.

British Columbia—1925.

The Fifty-fourth Annual Communication was held in the City of Kamloops on the 18th of June, 1925.

Ninety-nine lodges were represented.

Twelve Past Masters were in attendance.

Past Grand Master N. H. Nash represented Louisiana.

The Grand Master said in opening:

"It is my great privilege to welcome you today to the 54th Annual communication of our Grand Lodge in this good City of Kamloops, the 'Inland Capital' as it has been so often called. It is not the first time that we have gathered in this city. By a strange co-incidence our 20th Annual Communication was held here exactly 34 years ago today, day for day, on the 18th and 19th of June, 1891; and it is a matter of congratulation to ourselves that M. W. Brother A. McKeown (the twelfth to hold the high office of Most Worshipful Grand Master) who presided at that meeting in 1891, is yet in our midst and with us here again today. Kamloops Lodge, No.

10, was then but five years old. It is with pleasure that we recall names of the founders of Kamloops Lodge, the first Lodge, still surviving, that was warranted by our Most Worshipful Body. Most of them have since passed on. The W. M., the late Rev. Darrell W. Horlock, S. W., Dr. Sibree Clark, subsequently Grand Master of this Grand Lodge, Treasurer Brother J. A. Mara, Brothers Dr. Simon Tunstall and J. R. Burnyeat, afterwards of Vernon, were founders as were also James Ogden Graham still living in Victoria and the Junior Warden, and E. Stuart Wood then and still now its revered Secretary. All these are honoured names in the history of our Province and of our Craft."

Three lodges were constituted and two instituted. Four corner stones were laid and one Masonic Hall was dedicated.

The Grand Master says further in relation to his visits.

"One of the pleasures of a Grand Master is that of visiting the Constituent Lodges of his Jurisdiction, and my journeying of over 8,000 miles has been most happy in this connection. I found wherever I visited a wonderful Masonic spirit, and the Brethren hungering for more light in Freemasonry, which makes me feel that the words of Kipling that 'East is East, and West is West, and never the twain shall meet,' do not apply to the great family of Freemasons, who are one in thought as they are in purpose and ambition. The meetings were largely attended. Where possible joint meetings were arranged to great advantage. Old acquaintances were thus renewed, new friends were made, and views in regards to our ancient institution were broadened and enlarged."

He paid forty-two official visits.

Fourteen District Deputy Grand Masters submitted reports, all of which indicated the progress and prosperity of the Craft.

The report of the Grand Historian carries the following unique statement:

"For four years past Acacia Lodge has set apart one meeting for a "Grandfathers' Night," and this year April 16th was selected as that evening. After the regular officers had concluded the business of the Lodge, the Worshipful Master requested R. W. Brother J. A. Logan to take his position of authority in the East; and, as previously arranged, all chairs were filled by Brethren who possessed the double qualifications of being both Past Masters and Grandfathers. The Entered Apprentice degree was then conferred by the Worshipful Master upon two candidates and perhaps it is needless to say, that the degree was presented in a perfect manner in every particular, as these officers had received it from their Masonic Grandfathers, thus proving to the Brethren present not only that they had lost none of their ancient skill and efficiency but that the ritual of our Freemasonry is remaining unchanged from one generation to another, and is both in its working and in its ideals worthy of its title of "The Ancient and Honourable Order of Freemasons." We trust that we shall be privileged for many years to come to meet these officers on future Grandfathers' Nights in our Acacia Lodge."

The report of the Finance Committee shows a balance to the general fund of $9,750.58; the war relief fund, $1,079.37 and bonds to amount of $17,000.00.

Two charters were granted.

Foreign Correspondence is by W. A. De Wolf Smith, Grand Secretary. He prefaces his report with the statement:

"It is scarcely necessary to remind our readers that in the past few years new societies, or associations or orders based upon or claiming connection with Masonry have been established in the republic to the South of us with a prodigality rivalling France in the eighteenth century.

"It is gratifying to note that many Grand Masters, as well as writers of these Reports, apparently realize that it is time to call a halt, and more or less practicable suggestions are offered to remedy this state of things. Just how effective these remedies may be remains to be seen, but we fear that none of them strikes at the root of the evil.

"The efforts by certain bodies derived from the Ancient and Accepted Rite to secure recognition by regular and legitimate Masonry still continue, and we regret to report that many Grand Lodges are yielding to the pressure—some in a follow-my-leader game, and others more or less honestly in pursuit of the will-o'-the-wisp known as 'Universal Masonry.' "

His review is of a high order of excellence and will easily rank with any that it has been our pleasure to scan.

We appreciate his very liberal fraternal notice of Louisiana and thank him for personal allusions.

W. A. De WOLF SMITH, Grand Secretary.

California—1924.

The Seventy-fifth Annual Communication was held at Los Angeles, October 14th to 17th, 1924.

Among a number of visiting brethren, the name of Past Grand Master B. B. Purser of Louisiana is noted.

Representatives from four hundred and seventy-six chartered lodges and twenty-one under dispensation were in attendance.

The Grand Master said in opening his address:

> "We are met to-day in our Diamond Jubilee Anniversary. This means that there is three-quarters of a century of completed Masonic history in this jurisdiction. What a splendid record it has been. No Mason can give consideration to that record but with a feeling of great pride. Those who established Masonry upon this coast during the turbulent days of the gold rush builded far better than they knew. The heritage is all ours. But with that heritage goes a trust—a trust to do even a little better than any of our predecessors. Need I say that we will be faithful to that trust? With seventy-four years of completed Masonic history behind us, but with our eyes resolutely on the future; with seventy-four years of well-charted course behind us, and with the real ideals of the Fraternity steadfastly before us, we will be faithful to that trust and carry the standard of Masonry even a little farther forward, and write the name of Masonry even a little brighter upon the scroll of time."

and later:

> "Succinctly, the various functions performed by me during the year were:
> "The constitution of each of the thirty-nine lodges to which charters were granted at the last session of the Grand Lodge;
> "The granting of twenty-one dispensations for the formation of new lodges;
> "The institution of five lodges under dispensations;
> "The installation of the officers of sixty lodges;
> "The laying of the cornerstones of three Masonic Temples;
> "The laying of the cornerstones of eight school buildings;
> "The laying of the cornerstone of the Courts and Library building at Sacramento;
> "The laying of the cornerstone of the Scottish Rite Cathedral, at San Jose;
> "The dedication of six new Masonic Temples;
> "The dedication of the new buildings at the Decoto Masonic Home;
> "The dedication of the University Masonic Club House at Berkeley;
> "The visitation of lodges in all inspectorial districts in the State, including the five special districts and the Territory of Hawaii; and

"The visitation of nineteen individual lodges. All which is intended to convey the story that I have been in personal touch with each of the 505 lodges in our jurisdiction.

"In addition to the above, I was present at many committee meetings, a number of Masters and Wardens Association meetings, and many minor functions,—the year being devoted, as promised at the outset, to the performance of the duties and responsibilities of the office.

"In performing these various duties, a distance in excess of 38,000 miles was traveled. I traveled the entire jurisdiction up and down, crossing and recrossing. I have been in every county in the jurisdiction with the exception of two, and in every community of any size, and in many of such communities several times."

The following item will be of interest:

"The year has been replete with memorable events, with high lights in Masonry as well as in my own career. It would be very difficult to say that any one event stands out more prominently than all other events, but at least among those that will always remain as outstanding was the raising by me, on July 14th, for Highland Park Lodge No. 382, of the 'Biggest Mason in the World,' John Aasen. Brother Aasen is eight feet nine and one-quarter inches tall and weighs five hundred and sixteen pounds. The raising took place in the spacious lodge room of Hollenbeck temple. It was estimated that fourteen hundred Masons witnessed the ceremony and that over one thousand more had to be turned away for lack of room to accommodate them. Brother Aasen proved to be a very receptive candidate, and the degree was voted to be as impressive and event as ever witnessed."

Twenty-one lodges instituted under dispensation during the year.

The reports of seven boards of relief are presented.

The Diamond Jubilee of the Grand Lodge was celebrated with an elaborate program on the night of the 14th of October.

The reports of the two Masonic Homes cover some seventy pages, all showing that these institutions are supported and maintained in a style commensurate with the dignity of the Grand Lodge of our great and beautiful sister state.

Twenty-one charters were granted.

The Committee on the Report of the Grand Secretary, pay that officer a well deserved compliment when they say:

"Our present Grand Secretary has continuously served in that capacity for the past seventeen years, and like wine, grows better with age. In his case it may be truly said that 'times does not wither, nor old age decay.' He devotes every minute of his time to Masonry and especially to the Masonic Homes, and is a hard, tireless, conscientious worker with a splendid personality."

The following extract from the report of the Board of Trustees of the Masonic Homes discloses the source of income:

> "The major source of income is derived from the twenty-dollar contribution required by the Constitution to be paid by petitioners for the degrees and by applicants for affiliation from outside jurisdictions. The gross sum paid from this source in the last twelve months amounted to $185,180. The Constitution provides a per capita tax on the membership of 50 cents for the benefit of the building fund, and 25 cents for the maintenance account, a total tax on the lodges of 75 cents a year per member. Our membership is now more than one hundred thousand, and this tax thus produces now in excess of $75,000 a year. The members of the lodges contribute nothing toward the support of the homes except as it may be indirectly so considered by coming from the lodge treasuries."

We only regret that further details of the report cannot be reproduced for the benefit of our brethren. Suffice it to say that they have assets in cash and securities amounting to $423,484.75 of which $415,159.75 is a permanent endowment fund.

The Committee on Masonic Education presented an elaborate outlining plans for a speaker's bureau and for literature, the work being under the direction of an Executive Secretary. The Committee recommended that the Grand Lodge withdraw from the Masonic Service Association of the United States. This recommendation was finally acted upon favorably by the Grand Lodge.

Twenty-one charters were granted.

The Committee on the George Washington Memorial recommended an appropriation of $5,000.00 in addition to $13,002.00 already contributed, provided that this sum shall be their final donation and that no further donation be made for this purpose.

The resolution was prefaced by the following statement:

> "Your committee is led to make this recommendation to aid, for it is convinced that neither of the two methods usually chosen, namely a drive for funds, or an assessment on the constituent lodges for several successive years, is desirable or should be undertaken in this grand jurisdiction, removed so far as we are from the site of the memorial, and with scant prospect of any considerable number of members of the fraternity in this state ever seeing same when completed."

Brother Jesse M. Whited presents his fifth report on Foreign Correspondence, which is in topical form. The review is extensive and highly educational, covering one hundred and fourteen pages of gripping interest.

DAVID J. REESE, Grand Master.
JOHN WHICHER, Grand Secretary.

Canada—1925.

The Seventieth Annual Communication was held in the City of Hamilton, Ontario, on the 15th of June, 1925.

Three hundred and fifty-eight lodges were represented.

R. W. Brother H. C. Tugwell represented Louisiana.

The Grand Masters of the Grand Lodge of Massachusetts and Quebec were visitors.

The Grand Master reported the deaths of three Past Grand Masters during the year. M. W. Brethren A. T. Freed, W. R. White and John E. Harding.

Eight dispensations were granted for new lodges.

Under the topic of Masonic offenses, he says:

> "There is perhaps no more disturbing characteristic of the times in which we are passing than the evidences which we constantly see of the prevalence of dishonesty in high places and among those who are in positions of authority and trust, and I have been greatly disappointed to find on the part of a number of our lodges a reluctance amounting almost to an unwillingness to deal with those who have been accused and convicted of offences of a serious and criminal nature. In one instance the unwillingness was so pronounced that I finally took the case into my own hands and suspended the offending Brother. The matter is too serious to be passed over in silence. It is a very plausible argument for the lodge to say that the offending Brother is not a criminal at heart, that he has simply made a mistake which will not be repeated, and that it is not the part of Masonic charity to strike a man who is already down. One can understand and appreciate the desire to assist one who has fallen to rehabilitate himself; it is no more than our duty. But surely the lodge owes a duty to the Craft at large as well as to the offending Brother. Masonry is not a thing of to-day only, or of this locality alone. It is a great system and a world-wide organization. It is built upon a foundation of mutual confidence and respect. Its usefulness, its very existence depends upon the maintenance of a standard in its membership, and upon the ability of a foreign jurisdiction to receive with confidence and safety those whom we permit to carry our credentials. And Canadian Masonry would soon forfeit the position which it now holds if, through a mistaken idea of our duties as Masons, we hesitate to purge the Order of those who have brought dishonour not only upon themselves but upon the Craft, and allow them to continue in the free exercise of our rights and privileges wherever they may go."

The subject matter of the above is so applicable to our own jurisdiction that we have repeated it here for the especial benefit of our membership.

He reported his attendance at the Bi-centinary of the Grand Lodge of Ireland.

The Grand Treasurer reported a bank balance of $18,404.36 and investments amounting to $329,740.92.

The Semi Centennial Fund is credited with investments amounting to $104,856.33.

Thirty-three District Deputies reported in detail the result of their visitation.

Six charters were granted and two dispensations continued.

The Board of Benevolence granted 698 applications for relief aggregating $102,551.00.

The Committee on Appeals and Grievances reported on fourteen cases.

The Board on the condition of Masonry open their report by stating:

"The reports of the District Deputy Grand Masters and of the other officers of Grand Lodge bear testimony to the general harmony and prosperity of the Craft in this jurisdiction during the past year. The unusual activity in degree work which characterized the years immediately following the world war has not continued, and perhaps it is well that we should devote some of our energy now in incorporating into the structure the material that was then offered. The invariable teaching of our leaders has been that numbers in themselves do not constitute strength, and that character is a much more important consideration than the mere numerical accessions to our membership rolls. Unlike many sister benevolent societies our appeal to prospective members has always been of an indirect nature and canvassing has been discountenanced. The care with which a selection is made has always been recognized as one of the safeguards of the institution, and has not only resulted in a singularly harmonious and vigorous membership, but has also won for the fraternity a well deserved place in public favor as representing a very commendable type of citizenship."

The report, as a whole, while local in some matters can be said to cover the general situation. The board makes a diagnosis of existing conditions and prescribe remedies where they appear to be necessary. They pay due credit to the district deputies for faithful performance of duty. A careful reading of their reports shows the praise to be well deserved.

And, last, but not least, we come to the splendid correspondence report of Past Grand Master William N. Ponton. We might say en passant that he is one of the outstanding reasons on the North American Continent.

He reviews the work of sixty-six Grand Jurisdictions and is not sparing with his comment. He shows broadness of vision when in the review of North Dakota, he says:

> "The Grand Master is very severe on the Ku Klux Klan and of the brethren who belong to it. He impresses us as being almost too unyielding in his interference with brethren as to their liberty of action in connection with matters that have nothing to do with Masonry. In this connection he actually visited personally and promptly ended a debate because the members of the lodge were not penitent and he brought away their charter and records with him. While we believe in upholding the dignity of the Grand Master and Grand Lodge, we think that much can be brought about by conciliation and recognition of the fact that there are different points of view which may be honestly maintained with regard to matters that are outside of Grand Lodge."

We hold no brief for Ku Klux Klan but can say "Them's our sentiments."

Louisiana receives very kindly treatment and we assure Brother Ponton that we appreciate his friendship, more than type can express.

Colorado—1924.

The Sixty-fourth Annual Communication was held at Denver on the 16th and 17th of September, 1924.

One hundred and twenty-nine lodges out of a total of one hundred and thirty-nine were represented.

Louisiana's representative was not at the session.

The address of Past Grand Master Withrow, on behalf of the representatives and at their reception, presents a thought worth while. It is a pleasure to extract the following:

> "The Grand Representative feature of our Grand Lodges seems to furnish a means of communication by which the Fraternity may be brought into closer touch.
> "As I have said, it is a large contract, but if it could be even partially accomplished the result would be desirable in proportion. The friendly unostentatious advances of others sometimes affords the means of bringing together factions, each of which has said and done too much to get together of their own accord. This kind of intervention provides the means of escape from humiliation of either party.
> "This looks impracticable on account of its size, but human beings are human beings, there is more good in them than bad, the bad may be changed into good, if it can be done without either party making any surrender to the other, conceit and pride must be abolished, both may have been wrong at some stage of the trouble. In other words, neither party gives way, but at the suggestion of a friendly party, they both forget their troubles and start again on a new and acceptable basis.
> "It may look large, visionary and impossible, but at this age we sometimes accomplish things that were formerly treated as impossible; we are using space and air for the transmission of news, as well as for navigation and commercial purposes; we are beginning to learn that we know very little of the earth, air and water all around us. We have a direct illustration of the principle in the recent settlement and getting together of the great nations of Europe on very important subjects which did threaten to again involve the peace of Europe."

The Grand Master personally visited 33 lodges and either in person or by deputy laid nine corner stones, seven of which were for educational institutions and dedicated one new lodge hall.

Two dispensations were granted for new lodges.

The Grand Treasurer reported assets amounting to $70,387.35, in cash and invested funds.

Seldom has it been our good fortune to read a more scholarly address than that of Grand Orator Newsome. Its reading grips the attention from start to finish. We can imagine how much its delivery must have been enjoyed by the brethren.

Two charters were granted.

The Grand Treasurer reports cash balances amounting to $32,137.35 and $70,387.35 in invested funds.

Foreign Correspondence is by Brother Stanley C. Warner, who presents a splendid resume of the different proceedings and pays ample notice to Louisiana 1924, for which he has our appreciation.

Connecticut—1925.

Eight Emergent Communications were held during the year.

Four Masonic Temples were dedicated. Three corner stones were laid and one lodge was constituted.

The One Hundred and Thirty-sixth Annual Communication was held at Hartford on the 4th of February, 1925.

One hundred and twenty Lodges, a 100% attendance, is reported. This is a remarkable showing and is indicative of the interest taken by the lodges in Grand Lodge affairs.

Louisiana was represented by Past Grand Master William F. English.

The Grand Masters of Vermont, New Jersey and Rhode Island were visitors.

Speaking of the condition of the Craft, the Grand Master says:

> "Brethren, you will remember that I pledged you all my humble powers for service and I assure you that they have been expended to the best of my ability. Providence has blessed me with health and a year of harmony among the lodges and Craft that cannot be exceeded. One new lodge has been constituted, three corner stones have been laid and four Temples dedicated. These facts, together with the knowledge that more of this sort of work awaits my successor speaks well for the prosperity of Freemasonry in Connecticut. A wonderful addition to our Masonic Home is in process of erection. The numbers have increased but better still the idea is growing that the making of a Mason does not end but rather begins when he has had the sublime degree conferred upon him."

He granted forty-two dispensations for various purposes.

No decisions involving new law were made during the year.

The Grand Master paid fifty-two official visits to home lodges besides visiting several neighboring Grand Lodges.

The Grand Treasurer reported a cash balance of $18,953.45.

The Grand Lodge of Venezuela was recognized.

The following section of a report is quoted for the benefit and guidance of our own membership:

> "That each Lodge in this Jurisdiction be required to remit to the Grand Secretary ten ($10.00) dollars for each and every initiate and affiliate from sister Grand Jurisdictions during the year which amount in toto shall be appropriated for the purposes of the Masonic Charity Foundation."

Foreign Correspondence is by Grand Secretary George A. Kies, whose reviews are always enjoyable, because he appears to have the happy faculty of selecting the most interesting and salient points and does not hesitate to criticise.

Delaware—1924.

The One Hundred and Nineteenth Annual Communication was held at Wilmington on the first of October, 1924.

Twenty-one lodges were represented.

Louisiana's representative was not in attendance.

The Grand Masters of Massachusetts and New Jersey with other officers of their Grand Lodges were visitors.

The Grand Master visited each of the twenty-two lodges of the State. He granted twelve dispensations for various purposes.

The Grand Master said in conclusion:

> "It has been my great privilege to meet in close and intimate contact with Masons from every part of the State, as well as from every jurisdiction of the United States, and from several foreign countries. From them, I have learned much of the real spirit of Masonry, of its brotherhood and of its efforts to uphold the light which brightens the path of human progress.
> "All this has lead me to believe that the institution has possibilities of which it is itself but barely conscious. Aroused and united, its force could hardly be overestimated. Who knows but that the Supreme Architect has preserved it throughout the centuries for the purpose of carrying out some great design not yet displayed upon His trestle-board.
> "To the Constituent Lodges, I leave this message, Keep up the interest! Give the new members instructions for their labors. If differences arise, endeavor to settle them for the best interest of Masonry and in a way that will leave no lasting scars.

"To the Fraternity as a whole:—Practice the teachings of Masonry in your daily contact with your fellows. There is nothing wrong with our ritual. There is nothing wrong with the institution itself. The fault lies with the member who is not and never was a Mason.

"To my mind, our serious fault is the lack of cohesion. Masonry does not claim to be an aid to business advancement, or a stepping stone to political progress. But there are many ways that we can lighten a brother's burden, guard his reputation, and aid in his laudable undertakings. Remember that each member is a part of the building material of which the Temple of Masonry is constructed. Strike at or injure a stone here or a timber there and the whole edifice itself is weakened and less able to withstand the storms, should we ever be in need of its protective shelter. Strengthen, repair and beautify the several stones and timbers, and the building, as a whole will be correspondingly improved. If Masonry is not what you want it it be, the fault may be with you.

"To repeat,—Let us have more cohesion. Let us stand united together. Let our influence be felt. Let it mean more to be a Mason. In closing, let me quote the words of Peter the Apostle: 'Honour all Men. Love the Brotherhood. Fear God.'"

The Grand Master ruled that it was improper for Masonic lodges to attend Divine services as such.

He also ruled that when a candidate appeared for initiation and it was discovered that he had an artificial foot, that his election should be declared void and his fee refunded.

These decisions met with the approval of the Committee on Jurisprudence.

He recommended that the secretaries and treasurers be bonded under a collective bond.

Past Grand Master Harry G. Noyes of New Hampshire addressed the Grand Lodge relative to the activities of the Masonic Service Association.

The Grand Treasurer reported assets in cash and securities amounting to $14,550.67.

The Grand Instructor reported visiting each of the twenty-two lodges at least three times during the year.

There are nineteen guests at the Masonic Home, the grounds and buildings of which are rated at $178,000.00. The operating expenses for twelve months were $14,742.11.

The report of the Committee on Education shows that $636.50 was disbursed for the higher education of students during the year.

The Committee on Instruction reported:

"Your Committee on Lodge of Instruction, wishes to report that they have been in attendance upon the several Lodges of Instruction held by the Grand Instructor throughout the State; also having visited the majority of the Subordinate Lodges, we find the same high standard of work being done throughout the jurisdiction.

"We again call attention to the lack of interest of some officers toward the several Lodges of Instruction held throughout the jurisdiction and suggest that the several subordinate lodges take such means as may be found necessary to insure attendance of their various officers in order that the work may be properly learned and to the end that there will not be the delay which has been occasioned in past years through the officers not being ready for installation promptly after the annual elections."

Foreign Correspondence is by Past Grand Master Thomas J. Day, who reviews the proceedings of sixty-five Grand Lodges and pays fraternal notice to Louisiana.

District of Columbia—1924.

The One Hundred and Fourteenth Annual Communication was held at the Masonic Temple, Washington, on the 17th of December, 1924.

Thirty-eight lodges were represented.

A number of stated and special Communications were held during the year. The former for routine business and the latter for constituting new lodges and for discussing matters in connection with the erection of the new Masonic Temple on Temple Heights.

At the meeting of the 14th of May, resolutions were adopted permitting the retirement of the veteran Grand Secretary Arvine W. Johnston by reason of his ill health and the burden of increasing years, he was made Secretary Emeritus at his current salary. We personally hold Brother Johnston in close friendship and while we regret the necessary outcome congratulate him upon this handsome arrangement.

Relative to dispensations, the Grand Master reports:

"Requests for dispensation have been frequent, the large majority of them being for authority to confer the degrees upon more than the constitutional number of candidates. Dispensations for this purpose have generally been granted, but for other purposes, such as to shorten the period between degrees and to receive petitions where the petitioner could not qualify in regard to period of residence, have been issued infrequently and only where a demonstrated emergency existed."

The Treasurer's statement shows $59,317.59 in cash in various funds and $223,100.00 in securities to the credit of the Masonic Temple Fund.

The Grand Lodge of Roumania was recognized.

The Masonic Employment Bureau report having placed in positions 304 and 494 applicants, with a total overhead expense of $847.40.

One charter was granted.

A communication was held on the night of December 27th.

Thirty-nine lodges were represented.

The representative of the Grand Lodge of Louisiana did not attend.

Reports of Committees involving matters initiated at the November meeting were adopted.

Officers were elected and we must acknowledge our pleasure at greeting our good friend and brother Roe Fulkerson as Grand Master. Gifted with an attractive personality and a wondrous amount of energy, capped with a high degree of ability we are sure that his term of administration will be marked with more than usual activity in the District of Columbia.

The report of Past Grand Master Lurtin R. Ginn, as President of the Masonic and Eastern Star Home, as well as the statistical and financial statements filed in connection, show that institution to be in splendid shape and with assets amounting to $378,424.70.

The Foreign Correspondence is by Past Grand Master George W. Baird. He reviews the proceedings of seventy-seven Grand Lodges and covers one hundred thirty pages of closely printed matter, with work that we have grown to expect from his trained brain and skilled fingers. We appreciate his courteous notice of Louisiana.

England—1924-1925.

We have before us, reports of Quarterly Communications in pamphlet size. At the Session of the 3rd of September, 1924, the Board of General Purposes reported that the Grand Master had appointed the Prince of Wales as Provincial Grand Master for Surrey, the Duke of York as Provincial Grand Master for Middlesex and Prince Arthur of Connaught as Provincial Grand Master for Berkshire.

The Board again found it necessary to condemn the Chain Prayer letter.

Sir Alfred Robbins, as Chairman of the Committee also reported at length on the success of Masonic Million Memorial Fund, through which it is proposed to erect on ground adjoining the present Grand Lodge Hall on Great Queen Street, a magnificent Masonic Temple by the contributions of English Masons throughout the world.

At this Session, there was read the report of Sir Alfred Robbins on his visit to the United States. It is a most remarkable document, but just such as might be expected from this distinguished and accomplished Mason and profounded scholar.

He covers his trip in detail and is profuse in his expressions of appreciation for courtesies received and ends with his general impressions and conclusions, from which we present this section:

> "Since my return home, I have had both time and opportunity to consider generally what I had learned from this visit to the United States; and the chief lesson I drew from all my experiences— and this is a counsel to be given to Brethren on both sides of the Atlantic—was to avoid hasty judgments formed on first impressions. In regard to such differences as are plainly visible between the system of Grand Lodge and Lodge government in the United States and our own jurisdiction—differences, it is ever to be understood, in degree but not in doctrine—national characteristics and local circumstances always and most steadily have to be borne in mind. A marked divergence in national psychology accounts for the one difference which to the Englishman is most apparent, and that is that what we as Masons present to the mind's eye is in America represented to the bodily vision. It is impossible openly to speak more on so delicate a matter; but I would record the opinion that the manner in which the dramatic story of our earliest-known workings has developed into the acted drama now seen across the Atlantic, demands closest study from those Masons, both English and American, who desire to know what are the differences in practice here and there, and how and why they arose."

At the Quarterly Communication of the 3rd of December, 200 guineas was contributed from the Fund of Benevolence for the assistance of such hospitals and charities as the Board of Benevolence might select.

Recognition was accorded the following Grand Lodges:

The National Grand Lodge of Colombia, at Barranquilla.

The National Grand Lodge of Colombia, at Cartagena.

The Grand Lodge of the Republic of Colombia, at Bogota.

The Sovereign Grand Lodge of Colombia, at Barranquilla.

At the Communication of the 4th of March, 1925, the Duke of Connaught was unanimously reelected Grand Master. The Grand Treasurer was also elected. Under English rule, the remainder of the officers are appointed.

The portrait of Lord Ampthill which had been painted by order of the Grand Lodge, was unveiled in open Grand Lodge. It will be hung in Grand Lodge Hall. For thirty-two years, he was a Provincial Grand Master. He has served as Pro Grand Master for 17 years. He is a high type of English gentleman, well able to stand at the helm and guide the Craft and withal, he is plain and unassuming, as we who had the pleasure of attending the peace celebration of 1919 can testify.

The sum of 500 guineas was contributed to the fund being raised for the purpose of renovating St. Paul's Cathedral.

At the Communication of the 29th of April, all officers were installed.

At the Communication of the 3rd of June a lengthy report from the Committee on Peace Memorial was read and adopted and recognition was accorded to the Grand Lodge of Ecuador and Chile.

The DUKE OF CONNAUGHT, Grand Master.
R. COLVILLE SMITH, Grand Secretary.

Florida—1925.

The Ninety-sixth Annual Communication was held at Jacksonville beginning the 21st and ending on the 23rd of April, 1925.

One hundred and nineteen lodges were represented.

Louisiana's representative E. M. Sessums was in attendance.

The Grand Master says in the opening of his address:

> "You will be delighted to learn that at no time in the history of our Grand Lodge have we been so favorably situated. The bonds of indebtedness on this building have been retired with the exception of $14,000 in Home securities. The property of our Home at St. Petersburg is entirely clear of incumbrance. The majority of our lodges are functioning splendidly, with substantial balances to their credit.
> "The future is indeed bright for Masonry, for it is founded upon principles which insure its perpetuity, and composed almost wholly of men of sterling character striving for the success of its missions, proud of their identity with it and jealous of its good name. The foundation is well laid and we have only to continue to build, until the resplendent beauty of our Temple will reflect around the world, proclaiming us the benefactors of mankind and the defenders of virtue and justice."

Four lodges were constituted and five instituted during the year.

Twenty-two dispensations were issued to confer degrees short of time, twenty to elect and install officers and two to re-open a dark ballot and a number of requests for dispensations were refused, as reasons were insufficient. Seventeen corner stones were laid. Among the decisions, we find:

> "Q. One of our lodges suggested that the payment of $2.00 for the posting of a candidate in each degree be made to them by a lodge in another grand jurisdiction, for whom the degrees were conferred by courtesy.
> "A. I informed the Florida Lodge that it is not the custom for our lodges to make any charge whatever for courtesy work, and advised that unless requested to do so, we did not present courtesy candidates with lambskin aprons to be retained as their personal property. (This is not intended as a ruling.)"

With the exception of the apron item, this is Louisiana practice, yet we see no reason why that should not be included with the service.

The Grand Treasurer reported a cash balance of $52,869.43.

Isn't human nature the same the world over? Note these extracts from the report of the Grand Secretary:

> "There are some people who seem to think the proper and only way is to put off doing a thing until the last possible moment. That we have some of this class among our secretaries is shown by the fact that although our regulations now give them more than two months in which to make their annual returns, the following lodges failed to have their returns in this office within the required limit. . . . .
> "If the secretaries of these lodges have so many outside matters to attend to that they do not have time to properly attend to the lodge business, others who do have the time and ability, should be selected to fill this most important office."

The Committee on Address of the Grand Master pay him a well merited compliment:

> "A careful consideration of the address of the M. W. Grand Master convinces your committee that he has conducted a term of faithful service to the Craft. He has been courteous, dignified, wise and discreet in the administration of the affairs of this Grand Lodge, and the Grand Lodge is to be congratulated that by reason of the vast amount of time, labor, thought and devotion expended by the Grand Master in its behalf, the cause of Masonry has been greatly conserved and enhanced in this jurisdiction."

The Committee on Work reported that four schools of instruction were held and satisfactory results obtained.

Four charters were granted.

Our Florida brethren have every reason to be proud of their Masonic Home. The report of the trustees shows that it is well equipped and maintained. The cost of improvements and maintenance for twelve months was $62,286.85.

The following resolution was introduced and acted upon as noted:

> "Resolved: That the Board of Trustees of the Masonic Home of Florida be and they are hereby authorized and empowered to sell the buildings and real estate now used and occupied by the Masonic Home of Florida, if in their opinion it shall seem proper so to do, provided the consideration therefor shall not be less than $500,000.00 and provided further that such sale shall be approved by the Grand Master, Deputy Grand Master, Senior Grand Warden and Junior Grand Warden of this Grand Lodge.
> "Resolved, Further, That in event of such sale, then the said Grand Master, Deputy Grand Master, Senior Grand Warden, and Junior Grand Warden of this Grand Lodge in conjunction with the Board of Trustees of said Masonic Home of Florida, be and they are hereby constituted a Building and Purchasing Committee, to proceed to select a site, purchase or procure the same, and purchase or build another property for the installing of such Masonic Home as in their judgment may be necessary and proper, and that for such purposes, the proceeds of such sale or so much thereof as may be necessary, shall be applied by them, therefor.
> "Upon motion of Brother F. B. Duryea duly carried, the resolution was amended by increasing the minimum consideration for which the property might be sold from $500,000.00 to $1,000,000.00.
> "Upon motion the resolution was adopted as amended."

Memorial pages show the deaths, after the session of Past Grand Masters Silas B. Wright and Reginald H. Cooper.

Brother Wright was for years the able chairman of the Committee on Foreign Correspondence up to the time that he was stricken with paralysis, he had reviewed the proceedings of ten Grand Lodges. This work is printed with the proceedings followed by the following:

> "NOTE—After writing the foregoing portion of his review, Brother Wright was taken seriously ill and was unable to finish it. He passed away April 25th, two days after the closing of the Annual Communication of the Grand Lodge.

"As it would cause a long delay in printing our Proceedings to wait for another to finish it, it was thought best to print what he had written, leaving the balance of the review for another year."

WILBER P. WEBSTER, Grand Secretary.

Georgia—1925.

The One Hundred and Thirty-eighth Annual Communication was held at Macon on the 28th and 29th of October, 1924.

Five hundred and eighty-five lodges were represented.

Louisiana's representative was not in evidence.

Grand Master Hamrick opened his address with the statement:

"Our great Order is a constant inspiration to unity of purpose, fraternity of action. We are bound together for a common purpose—mutual advancement and mutual benefits. As the spokes of a wheel become nearer to each other as they approach the hub, the source of motion, so may be found in our Union th key to greater power, broader vision, and a more exalted outlook on life.

"It is the men who lead useful lives, quietly doing life's duties, who make good homes, thus making good communities and good states, who, unseen and well-nigh unknown work out their existence in bettering and uplifting those about them.

"Those are the men who are truly great: and this standard requires neither wealth, prestige nor applause. The vast majority of us may live up to this standard and become justly entitled to the respect of our fellow men.

"May we ever remember that each of us is a free-born, God-created, God-fearing, integral part of Masonry, and that its vigor and benefits are in large measures dependent upon our individual, practical application of its teachings in our daily lives and duties."

The Grand Master's address of some thirty-nine pages is a strong document covering all of his official acts.

He paid seventy-eight official visits, constituted four lodges, dedicated two Masonic lodge rooms. Seven corner stones were laid.

Referring to decisions, he says:

"Many of these questions could have been answered readily, if the Worshipful Master had only had before him his Masonic Manual and Code of Georgia. I therefore urge upon all Masters of Lodges to purchase a Code and to read and study it and never permit it to be out of his immediate care and to invariably look up these questions of Masonic Law, and in so doing he will save the Grand Master much needless correspondence."

He found it necessary to arrest seven charters and says in connection:

"It is always sad to see a lodge, once the pride of the members, surrender its charter, but when a lodge fails to function and this condition continues it is best that the charter be surrendered and the members go to some other lodge that is carrying out and putting into work the real principles of the Order."

Three charters were granted.

The Temple Trustees reported cash and security to amount of $49,512.04 to the credit of the new Temple Fund.

The Grand Lodge awards a medal to any brother who attends the Grand Lodge sessions, twenty-five consecutive times. This year, five such medals were awarded.

Past Grand Master James W. Taylor, ninety-one years, with a record of seventy consecutive years of a Masonic connection, was present for the sixty-fifth time.

The Grand Lodge maintains a Masonic Home besides having a Charity Fund, which is disbursed by a committee. There are now in the Home 73 boys, 81 girls and 2 old ladies. From the reports we would judge that the institution is splendidly equipped and supported.

The boys have their own printing establishment and were recently presented with one linotype and one intertype machine by Brother T. J. Carling, a member of the Board of Trustees.

The official organ of the Grand Lodge "The Messenger" is printed by these boys.

Foreign Correspondence is again by our accomplished friend and Brother Raymund Daniel. His work this year is prefaced by a splendid thesis on the Involution of Freemasonry.

His review is of his usual high standard of excellence and as a whole, is a splendid compendium of the work of the year.

JAMES D. HAMRICK, Grand Master.
FRANK F. BAKER, Grand Secretary.

Idaho—1925.

The Forty-eighth Annual Communication was held at Pacatollo on the 8th of September, 1925.

Seventy-one lodges were represented.

Louisiana's representative was not present.

The Grand Master reported one corner stone laid and one Masonic Temple dedicated.

We are impressed with the following decision of the Grand Master:

> "Ques. Where, under a resolution levying an assessment of $10.00 per member to be used in paying off the obligations of the lodge, a member fails or refuses to pay such assessment, could he be suspended the same as for non-payment of dues?
> "Ans. He could not be suspended for such non-payment, inasmuch as our regulations permit suspension only for non-payment of dues or un-Masonic conduct, and I do not believe that the non-payment of such assessment could be construed to mean 'un-Masonic conduct.'"

While the decision met with the approval of the Committee on Jurisprudence, we fail to see why an assessment imposed in a regular way for a legitimate purpose should not be treated as dues, and failure to pay should not meet with the same penalty.

The Grand Master recommended that action be taken for or against the matter of patronage of the Order of De Molay for Boys and says in connection:

> "The Grand Lodge must likewise understand that so soon as it gives approval to this boys' society, it will be called on to approve a similar society for girls. Of the forming of societies, clubs, et cetera, each seeking to bask in the light of Masonic sunshine, there is no end unless the Grand Lodge itself shall determine it. In fact, evidence is not lacking that Masons are seeking to do through clubs or kindred organizations many of those things which should be done in or through the lodge as proper lodge functions, or else left undone altogether as improper. Whether the Grand Lodge may deem it wise to enter upon this undertaking and place on its subordinate lodges the responsibility entailed in thus assuming direction of the lives of the children of Masons, it alone has the right and duty to determine."

The Grand Lodge, later failed to adopt the recommendation.

The Grand Treasurer reported total balances amounting to $23,577.54.

One charter was granted.

Twelve cases were passed upon by the Committee on Appeals and Grievances.

Grand Orator, Brother J. G. Eldridge, delivered a splendid address, which we are told was thoroughly enjoyed by all. Passing over several paragraphs of his introduction, the last of these is selected because of its uniqueness and because of its developing the title of his talk:

"The conditions of preparation for this occasion have been really unique, for my last three months have been spent in Government service in the heart of the Kaniksu National Forest, one of the wildest spots in the whole United States. For nearly all that period I saw no door, no furniture, no road, no bridge, no vehicle (except an occasional Forest Service airplane far overhead, scouting for fires), and, strangest of all, none of womankind; but I also smelt no dust and no gasoline; I heard no honking horn, nor crowing rooster. Beavers, porcupines, bear, deer, bobcats, cougars, and two-foot trout do not, as a rule, advertise their presence through uplifted voices, but all were there in abundance. Books there were none—save the great Book of Nature, and that was there in all the glory of 'purple mountain majesties,' ice-born streams, and cathedral-arched forests. So what I have to offer you can hardly savor of academic midnight oil or the lore of libraries, but will, I hope, reflect in some slight measure the rugged simplicity and primitiveness of the great woods. At least, I have no ornate oratory for you—only a plain statement of what I will call a 'A Mason's Creed.'"

He says further:

"Every man has a creed. Do you dispute that? Do you say, 'Oh, no, I leave creeds to the ministers and theologians; I have no creed'? Then you are wrong. Not merely the one who recites, 'I believe in God the Father Almighty, Maker of Heaven and Earth', but just as truly the man who by his life and conduct says: 'I believe in lying, I believe in stealing—in adultery—in profaning the name of Almighty God', has his creed!

"Now, after having made plain that every man has and must have a creed, let us ask, 'what are the greatest landmarks of Masonic faith?' I believe they are four, and as follows:

"First, a Mason believes in God. No man can ever sincerely enter the door of Anglo-Saxon Freemasonry without a belief in the One,

"Growing out of a Mason's belief in such a God, comes his belief in Prayer. Because God is a Person, a Father, infinitely interested in every man, His children instinctively turn to him in petition, thanksgiving and worship. Just as no two human beings are physically or mentally alike, so also will no two have exactly the same conception of God or of the meaning of prayer; but men everywhere, in all places, and at all times, have brought the dominant desires of their hearts to an Infinite Being—and that is prayer.

"In the third place, Masonry believes in the Word of God. That Great Light of Masonry can never be displaced from our Altar. By it we are taught to govern our lives and regulate our conduct. In it we find revealed the whole duty of man. I realize that in theory this great Landmark requires only the Book of Law of the particular religious faith of a country, but practically we of the Craft in America are either Christians or Jews, and for both much of the Bible is held as a common sacred possession. No modern research of scholars, no recent discoveries of science, no theories regarding the unfolding of life can mar or take away the essential beauty, truth, and abiding value of the Holy Word. In it God has given us a revelation of His Will and His dealings with men, and, above all this, of His Infinite Love.

"The fourth great Landmark of our Creed is Belief in the Immortality of the Soul.

"Of all the symbols of Freemasonry is it not true that the Acacia is the only living one? As such it is both beautiful and deeply significant. Not directly is this great doctrine of immortality inculcated in the ritual, but by implication it is made most evident that Masons believe with all their hearts that they shall not lie down in death like the beasts of the field, never to rise again, but that they have an immortal part which shall never, never, never die."

The Grand Master was empowered to arrest the charters of lodges that had failed to attend the sessions of the Grand Lodge for a number of years unless a reasonable excuse be furnished.

Brother John W. Shore presents his second report on Foreign Correspondence. He reviews the proceedings of sixty-eight Grand Jurisdictions and says in his foreword:

"Throughout the jurisdictions there is a much more optimistic tone prevalent than in the reports of a year ago with regard to the affairs of the fraternity. The abnormal rush of applicants for the degrees has ceased, and the influx has steadied to proportions which indicate healthy growth. The diminution in new applications is everywhere a source of satisfaction to those who voice the sentiments of the craft. The new material is being assimilated satisfactorily, and, with but few exceptions to prove the rule, is operating for and toward a perpetuation of true Masonic principles.

"The fraternity as a whole has pledged itself anew to a belief in and the practice of Brotherly Love, Relief and Truth:

"First, in a larger toleration, and a refusal to be drawn into ephemeral disputes and wranglings;

"Second, in the insistence that all forms of Benevolence shall be fully maintained or even increased in spite of diminished revenues and mounting expense;

"Third, in the widespread adoption of measures to disseminate light and knowledge on matters of moment to the craft."

Louisiana receives fraternal notice.

The One Hundred and Eighth Annual Communication was held at Indianapolis on the 26th of May, 1925.

The volume opens upon the pictures of the Grand Master for 1925 and that of the Grand Master for 1926, the Grand Instructor and that of the genial countenance of our colaborer Grand Secretary William H. Swintz.

At the opening meeting preceding the Grand Lodge session, the assembly was addressed by Federal Judge Robert C. Baltzell, a member of the fraternity upon the duty of Masons as good citizens. The section relative to law enforcement is herewith presented.

"The eyes of the world are fixed upon the United States, watching our efforts as a nation to establish prohibition, and if prohibition fails in this country, it will be because we have failed to do our duty as good, loyal, American citizens, and it will cause all foreign nations to lose their respect for, and confidence in, us as a nation, and it will be a blot upon the civilization of the world that can never be erased. There is a certain responsibility resting upon each and every citizen to see that our laws are enforced, and one can not shirk that responsibility and shift it to the shoulders of the officials or to his neighbors and say to the public that he is doing his part in holding up the standards of good citizenship in his community. The responsibility of teaching patriotism and loyalty not only falls upon the various bodies organized for that purpose, but a certain responsibility also falls upon the shoulders of the parents of our land to teach their children honesty and respect for the law. The real source of the trouble lies in the fact that parents and grown-ups in general disobey the laws of the land too much. Children witness this. They see the Volstead Act trampled under foot and gain the impression that they, too, may trespass. The parents of our country today owe a greater duty to their children than ever before because of the fact that we are living in an entirely different age, and the standard of morals is, in many localities, reduced from what it was when some of us older people were young, and our boys and girls should be taught from earliest childhood to respect and obey the laws of our land, and if the parents teach their children in this way and show respect for and obedience to the laws themselves, their children will willingly follow their example."

Five hundred and forty-four lodges out of a total of five hundred and fifty-four were in attendance.

Nineteen Past Grand Masters were present. Louisiana's representative failed to materialize.

The Grand Master writes at length upon the merits of the George Washington Memorial and the Sojourner's Club at Fort Bayard, New Mexico, to the latter of which, a check for $500.00 was sent by his direction.

He invariably ruled that no Masonic function, except funeral services were permissible on Sunday.

Sixteen corner stones were laid, and six Masonic Temples were dedicated. Two new lodges were instituted.

Seven dispensations were issued permitting the election of officers, where the election for good reasons had not been held before the time provided for by law. Thirteen were granted in order to fill vacancies.

One charter was arrested and the functions of six lodges were suspended for thirty days and one for sixty days for insubordination.

The splendid report of the Grand Master covers ninety pages and is as complete a document of its kind that has come to our notice. It is a record of a year of hard, earnest work and a credit to himself and his Grand Lodge. He closes:

"Brethren, Masonry is engaged in a bigger field of labor today than ever before, and needs bigger, better Masons now than ever in the annals of history, and you who can, and will, a service render, are doing the will of Him who gave you life, health and power to do.

"Then, when in Memory's Garden you are plowing, plow deep a furrow that will reveal the memory of the Mother, whose prayers ascended to God above your play and prattle at her knee, that you might grow and become a big, broad-minded manly man.

"Then plow another furrow in the Garden of Memory, deep and wide, that will reveal the memories of your Mother Lodge, where, while at the Altar, prayers of the earnest, faithful Mason, were offered to God, that you might grow Masonically, and become a big, broad, true-minded, manly Mason."

The Grand Treasurer reports balances in all funds amounting to $330,004.73.

The report on the Masonic Home is full of absorbing interest. It is located at Franklin, Indiana and consists of sixteen units, located upon two hundred and twenty-three acres of land. The various Masonic bodies and the Order of the Eastern Star have built particular units. The buildings house a total of three hundred and thirty-eight guests.

The death of William Ridley, Grand Master during the year 1910 was reported.

One charter was granted.

The review of the proceedings of other Grand Lodges is by Past Grand Master Elmer F. Gay, who submits his twelfth report.

He reviews the proceedings of fifty-four Grand Lodges, but fails to touch upon Louisiana. We regret this exceedingly as his Grand Lodge was not neglected in the output of our proceedings. His work is what must be expected from one of his experience in Masonic matters and in this particular line.

Membership, 124,102.

ALBERT W. FUNKHOUSER, Grand Master.
WILLIAM H. SWINTZ, Grand Secretary.

Iowa—1925.

The volume is prefaced with the picture of the Grand Master for 1924-25. The man visualized through the presentation is just the character one would expect to find from the life history which follows:

> "As a life habit, Brother Moore quietly and effectively does the things that make up good citizenship. If called for jury duty he attends and serves without excuse. If a public measure meets his approval he labors for it—if it does not, he opposes it vigorously regardless of who proposes or favors it. He will perform a duty, as he conceives it, rather than dodge the issue. He does not make promises easily or casually, and when he does make them they are strictly and literally kept. He is Irish enough to enjoy a 'bit of discussion' either with sticks or words, and fears no opponent on his own account. But if he finds that an altercation may injure a friend more than himself or more than he considers the triumph of his contention really worth, he will forego or conciliate, difficult as that course may be to one who is also a descendant of Scotch Covenanters.
> "Brother Moore abhors sham, and detests deceit. Those whom he finds practice deception or attempt trickery are henceforth no friends of his, and are often informed of that fact and the reason therefor. Quick in forming estimates of his fellow-men, if he discovers he has misjudged their acts or motives none is more prompt and manly in acknowledgment of error in the matter. His own inate sincerity is convincing, and has served to bind countless friends to him 'with hooks of steel.'"

The Eighty-second Annual Communication was held on the 9th of June, 1925.

Four hundred and seventy-one lodges were represented. Thirteen Past Grand Masters, four Past Grand Senior Wardens, and eleven Past Grand Junior Wardens and seven Past Grand Treasurers were in attendance.

The Grand Master said in opening:

"Brethren, the year of my trusteeship is drawing to a close. If a year ago, with a full appreciation of the great honor conferred upon me, I accepted the responsibilities of Grand Master with many misgivings of my ability to measure up to the place, I now lay down those responsibilities with both satisfaction and regret. There is the natural feeling of relief in relinquishing duties heavy, continuous and often irksome. There is regret that it will no longer be my privilege to enjoy the close touch with so many thousands of Iowa Masons, thoroughly imbued as they are with the principles of the Fraternity, and united as they are in splendid forward-looking programs that have been formulated and directed by those eminent Masons whom you have in past years honored as Grand Master. If I have, even in a minor measure, maintained the high ideals of these men and directed my efforts to maintain and forward what they have so well planned, I am content. Permit me to say that no plan of theirs or labor of mine would be of value without the fine spirit and active co-operation of the whole Craft. A desire to do and a willingness to unselfishly serve has been evident in every part of the jurisdiction."

The address as a whole, is a business document, indicative of considerable thought and carrying a number of suggestions and recommendations for the betterment of the Grand Lodge.

Four Masonic Temples were dedicated. Nine corner-stones were laid. Two dispensations were issued or new lodges and two lodges were instituted under charter.

We regret to note that the Grand Master has felt it necessary to take exception to the work as at present conducted by the Masonic Service Association of the United States and to serve notice of severance of connection. However, under his recommendation, the matter of final withdrawal has been left to the new Grand Master, who will be guided by the recommendations of an advisory committee.

Iowa was the birthplace of the association and has a highly developed service of its own and we are only hoping that they may see fit to reconsider their action and remain as members of the association.

The Grand Master says in closing:

> "I have had few recommendations to submit to you and these I have already directly or incidentally covered. The Fraternity in the jurisdiction is active and prosperous. In every way Providence has smiled upon us. Harmony prevails. Everywhere the Craft is eager to forward the great purposes of the Fraternity. Everywhere there is prompt response to any plan that promises a better fulfillment of our pledges. Everywhere is willing and unselfish service offered. For me the year has been busy, pleasant and profitable. It has been no small privilege to be permitted to have close personal touch with Iowa Masonry. If in that touch I have been permitted to render some service and afford some pleasure to the Craft, I am more than paid for every effort. If I were to add one more word, it would be of encouragement or admonition. Let all understand the great purposes of Masonry. Let all hold fast to its fundamental principles. Let all realize that membership carries not only privilege but responsibility. Let all remember that while privileges are common to the Craft, responsibilities are personal. Let it not be truthfully said that we are selfish or self-centered but that every noble thought and precept taught us shall be carried into our lives to make in our communities for better manhood and higher and more appreciative citizenship. Only by so doing can we be justified to ourselves and to the world."

Twenty-one District Schools of Instruction were held during the year, the average attendance being 33.

The Grand Secretary thus feelingly speaks of the death of Newton R. Parvin, Grand Secretary, who died on the 16th of January, 1925.

> "It is not my purpose here to usurp the duties of the Committee on Fraternal Dead, who will report the passing away of our beloved Grand Secretary Newton R. Parvin and pay fitting tribute to his many virtues, but I wish briefly to pay a personal tribute to his memory. During the seven years of my association with him, I always found him kind, thoughtful and courteous, and it was ever a pleasure to give him my best service. That he was the same to others is evidenced by the many letters we have received paying merited tributes to his personal worth and ability."

The report of Grand Secretary and Librarian, C. C. Hunt, upon the library is an exhaustive document which not only shows clearly his intimate acquaintance with his duties, but is an exposition of his scholarly attainments.

The Grand Treasurer reported a cash balance of $91,761.01.

The Grand Charity Fund has assets amounting to $400,129.97.

The report of the Committee on Masonic Sanitarium shows that the Grand Lodge has been particularly fortunate in being able to purchase through them and from a brother Mason, property particularly adapted for the purchase of $50,000.00 against an estimated value of $150,000.00.

The Committee on Grand Lodge Recognition presented the following recommendation, which was adopted:

> "The Grand Body known as the 'Grand Orient of France' has in the past year invaded the jurisdictional rights of several Grand Bodies of the United States and this Committee feels that this Grand Body should sever our fraternal relations with said Grand Orient until such time as this matter is adjusted to the satisfaction of our sister Grand Jurisdictions."

Three Charters were granted. Before going further, we want to pay full credit to Brother Charles C. Hunt for the splendid appearance and general arrangement of the proceedings, with the many marginal reference annotations, any item of information can be instantly located.

And last, but not least, the address by Brother Harry F. Aywood upon "Masonry and the Constitution" and that upon "The Great Task assumed by Abraham Lincoln and the Burdens He Had to Bear" by Bro. Joseph Benjamin Oakleaf, we have been entranced with the reading both and we know that their rendition must have held the Grand Lodge in rapt attention during their deliverance.

As far as the Foreign Correspondence report of Past Grand Master Louis Block is concerned, there are only two authorities in the United States, he and Brother Michie of South Carolina, and we will close at that. We appreciate his close personal friendship and, more than anything else, his very kind personal allusions. Thank you, Brother Block.

Mempership, 85707.

THOMAS W. WELLINGTON, Grand Master.
CHARLES C. HUNT, Grand Secretary.

Illinois—1925.

The Eighty-sixth Annual Communication was held at Chicago on the 13th of October, 1925.

Nine hundred and eleven lodges were represented.

Ten Past Grand Masters were present.

Louisiana was represented.

The Grand Master says, in opening:

> "In keeping with our long established custom I take pleasure in submitting to you my report for the Masonic year just closing. Conditions in general are good. The Craft is working harmoniously, and from the number of temples being built and the increase in membership as shown by the returns to the Grand Secretary we may conclude that Masonry in Illinois is still in a flourishing condition. I have had the pleasure of visiting many lodges throughout the state and in each have been most cordially received. The fraternal spirit and interest manifested indicate that both the lodges and their officers are interested in the work and ready to conform to our laws and customs. In most cases where the law has been violated it has been more through ignorance than intention, which gives fresh emphasis to the ever-present need for study of our Masonic jurisprudence.
> "No great achievements mark the progress of the Craft this year, yet no serious matter has arisen to disturb us. while we are congratulating ourselves on this pleasant condition we are reminded that the year did not pass without bringing us our share of sorrow and distress."

Thirteen new Masonic Temples were dedicated and fourteen Lodges were instituted.

In connection with the tornado of March 18, 1925, the sum of $83,976.94 was subscribed by the Lodges in response to an appeal of the Grand Master, for the relief of Masonic sufferers.

The Grand Treasurer reports total assets to the credit of the various funds amounting to $814,598.24.

Fourteen Charters were granted.

The reports of Managers of the Masonic Homes at Le Grange and at Sullivan show that they are splendidly maintained and our brethren of Illinois are to be congratulated upon having these magnificent institutions.

The oration by Grand Orator Charles S. Deneen upon the "Reign of the Law" was of a high type of excellence and of such a character as to grip the attention of an audience. In the course of his address, he said:

> "The times are out of joint now, not because our scheme of government is wrong, but because of lack of honesty and courage in our public officials and because our people have drifted away from the old standards. It is not necessary to particularize, for the facts are so generally known that each one can make the application within his own knowledge. It is not too much to say that we have men in public office who depend for their support upon those classes which are in chronic rebellion against authority. Such officials bring the law into contempt and its administration into disgrace. It is generally suspected that some are in league with criminals for political preferment or financial gain. The general state of lawlessness is in part due to their misconduct and misfeasance. It goes without saying that laws are useless where officials nullify them. It never was intended that public officials should determine what laws should be enforced. It is plain, then, that no real advancement can be made in checking crime until officials are placed in power who have the desire and the will to enforce the law. It is equally plain that the people who desire better things must elect better officials who have higher standards in the administration of public office."

The Finance Committee reports total assets in cash and securities amounting to $473,028.00.

Past Grand Master Elmer E. Beach presented the report on Foreign Correspondence.

He says in his foreword:

"A spirit of optimism appears throughout most of the reports of Grand Masters. Freemasonry seems never to have rested on more solid and lasting foundations. There has been a steady and substantial growth in numbers, but more important than numerical growth is the greater understanding of Masonic principles and ideals."

Louisiana receives liberal mention. The address of Grand Chaplain Harper on "Facing the East" being liberally quoted.

R. C. DAVENPORT, Grand Master.
OWEN SCOTT, Grand Secretary.

Ireland—1924.

The Grand Lodge met in Stated Communication at Dublin on December 27, 1924.

The Grand Master not being able to attend, the Deputy Grand Master presided in his stead.

In his address, he dealt at length upon Bicentenary Celebration which was to be held in June, 1925, and says in connection:

"Next year, as you all know, the Grand Lodge of Ireland celebrates its bi-centenary. It is a very proud thing to think of, that this, our Grand Lodge, has lasted undisturbed and unshaken for so long a period as two full centuries. It is a claim which no other Grand Lodge in the world, not even the Grand Lodge of the mother of Masonry across the Channel can sustain, because in Ireland, with the exception of a trivial difference of opinion between a few lodges and those in authority which only lasted for a short time, just about one hundred years ago, we have remained an absolutely united Grand Lodge (applause). Long may we continue to do so, and from what I have seen in the past two years I think I may say that the spirit of unity in Masonry over the whole of Ireland was never stronger, if as strong, as it is today."

He reported that seventeen new lodges had been constituted during the past year.

In reference to the fund for the restoration of Masonic Temples damaged or destroyed during the civil war, he states:

"The Grand Master's Restoration Fund is a thing I would like to say a few words about. The demands upon that fund did not amount to nearly the large sum to which I first expected. A great many of the Provinces who suffered damage put their own shoulders to the wheel and were, I will not say too proud, but were too public spirited to come and make any demand upon the fund at all. They decided to do their own restoration. Others, of course, principally in the West, were not so fortunate. They were not able to do so, because Masonry is not very easily carried on and the numbers are few upon the Atlantic seaboard. I am glad to be able to tell you that all the more pressing cases have been already dealt with. A few weeks ago I signed cheques and sent them out to those more pressing and necessitous Lodges, and the Grand Secretary has received acknowledgments in very grateful terms from them all. I think I may say that there is no necessity for asking for any further subscriptions to that fund. I think we have ample to meet the requirements."

He reports that the Masonic School for boys and that for girls and the Jubilee Annuity Fund have been beneficiaries by neat amounts from requests.

THE EARL OF DONOUGHMORE, Grand Master.
HENRY C. SHELLARD, Grand Secretary.

Kansas—1925.

The Seventy-ninth Annual Communication was held at Wichita on the 25th and 26th of February, 1925.

Three hundred and thirty-two lodges were represented. W. Bro. Homer T. Harden, Louisiana's representative, was at his post.

The Grand Master says in opening:

"It is well for us, as we come to the higher places on the trail of life, to pause and look backward; to see where we have been walking, and note the beauty spots we could not see in passing; to rejoice at the triumphs over evil and error; to regret taking the wrong fork of the trail a while back when we so well knew the right one; and to gather inspiration for the effort before us, no matter where the road may lead.

"In this opening hour it is profitable that we visualize the scenes following the dawn of the new era which gave us the true God, and the higher ideals upon an unshakable foundation; to recall the pillar of fire and cloud by which the Great Jehovah led the chosen people; and to realize that His goodness and guidance has never failed Christian people and nations, nor can it. The failure of the tribes of earth's history is directly traceable to human weakness and disobedience of GOD'S law and direction."

and further:

"Our great concern is not so much in numbers, but in the implanting of the precepts of Masonry. The making of real Masons and not mere members. The building into every life the fundamentals of manhood and the principles of this speculative science of ours. The development in all men of those cardinal virtues and correct tenets, which will give them the mastery of themselves, and the ability to serve their fellows, our country and our God. The elimination of all political methods in our Lodges and the substitution therefor, open frankness and intelligent consideration of all questions. The selection of officers by the 'Who best can work or best agree' method, starting them at the bottom and working them regularly through the chairs so that when they become Worshipful Master their attitude may be devout and humble and their service a masterful one. Constantly considering all men as our brothers, and exercising a beneficent influence in our communities."

The address, as a whole, is a strong document, the Grand Master dealing with conditions as presented during the year with the hand of a veritable master. He does not hesitate to award merited praise, but is not slow to administer reproof when needed.

The Grand Treasurer reports assets in cash of $36,318.63, and $58,200.00 in securities.

The Grand Secretary's report covers some 52 pages of detail connected with the operations of his office.

He reports three Lodges constituted and one instituted.

Fourteen cornerstone ceremonies were held and one Masonic Temple dedicated.

The oration by R. W. Brother Charles A. Loucks, Deputy Grand Master, was a masterpiece of thought. We present a few selections:

"Men are not great except through the accomplishment of high purpose. Good thoughts, high ideals and great resolutions avail nothing unless converted into action. The process of accomplishment is divided into three parts: thought, resolution to do, and action conformable thereto.

"We, as Master Masons, have high duties to perform. We are here today because of the compelling force of those magic words—'human brotherhood.' While we meet in peace a war-worn world is torn by jealousies and animosities. The very atmosphere is vibrant with discord and the clash of human passions. What the world needs more than anything else is to learn the lesson of brotherly love, and in all the earth there is no organization so well equipped as ours to carry and teach the lesson.

"The great compelling power that governs the world is moral character. Entering into moral character are certain elements which are as essential and necessary as is a firm foundation to a building. The Master Mason who would best perform the trust reposed in him must first look to his own character. He must be sure that he is endowed with its essential elements. He must be honest, industrious, prudent. He must have courage, patience, fortitude. He must possess right habits of life.

"If you would fulfill your trust—if you would be of service to mankind—a benefactor of the race—learn endurance of labor with the tools you possess. Gird yourself for the battle that is on, and remember always that 'he serves best who serves most.' "

The Committee on Necrology report the deaths of Past Grand Masters Watson Miller Lamb and Edward W. Wellington.

Seven Charters were granted. Foreign Correspondence is by that dean of the faculty, Albert K. Wilson, Grand Secretary. That should bar comment, except to say that his work is of its customary high order of excellence. We appreciate his kindly treatment of Louisiana.

Kentucky—1925.

The One Hundred and Twenty-fourth Annual Communication was held at Louisville on the 21st of October, 1924.

Six hundred and twenty Lodges were represented.

The Grand Master says in opening:

"While our membership has not increased during the past year as much as it did during the war, however, we have had a very substantial, healthy growth, our roster showing at this report 72,603 members in 613 Lodges. The character of our membership is the most important element of our strength, and to its purity we should apply our zeal. Ours is a fraternity which emphasizes not the spectacular, but the simple fundamental principles of a worthy life; a fraternity whose mission is to build character in men, which will find its truest expressions in private and public morality, and which will exhibit in all human relations the divine wisdom of love. My ambition for every Kentucky Mason is that he may catch the real vision of Masonry—the vision of service and usefulness."

The Grand Master paid seventy official visits, besides attending the laying of the corner-stone of the George Washington Memorial on the 31st of October and the meeting of the Association on the 24th of February.

Under the head of complaints, the Grand Master reports:

"Protests were received against Stanton Lodge No. 352, for carrying as a member in good standing a brother who had killed a brother Mason and member of his Lodge. This brother had been tried, convicted and is serving a ten-year sentence in prison. It appearing that the Lodge and Fraternity were being criticized for not giving this man a Masonic trial, I immediately took the matter up with Stanton Lodge and am advised that charges were preferred September 9, 1922, and that the detailed report of the trial shows he was tried and found not guilty. They also advise that he has been suspended for non-payment of dues and so reported to the Grand Secretary."

We are not criticizing, but must at least say in comment that it does seem that when a Mason is sentenced to a ten-year sentence in the State Penitentiary for the murder of a brother that he should not be allowed to escape with such a simple sentence. We note, however, that the Committee on Jurisprudence later submitted an amendment to the law, to care for such cases in the future:

"Provided, however, that when a member shall be convicted of a felony in a State or Federal Court, such member shall automatically stand suspended from date of beginning of confinement in penitentiary from all the rights and privileges of Masonry, and shall not be reinstated within one (1) year from the date of his release from imprisonment, and thereafter only upon application as provided in Section 181 of the Constitution."

He reported one charter arrested for cause.

The Grand Treasurer reported a cash balance of $221,426.70 and $24,000.00 in invested funds.

The report of the several Masonic Homes reflect true Masonry in action. Kentucky has long been noted for the splendid care taken of its dependents and these reports fairly teem with sentiments that stand out as an object lesson to other jurisdictions. It is a pleasure to quote from the report of the President of the "Old Masons' Home" at Shelbyville:

> "Furthermore, the Old Masons' Home cannot be likened to an asylum, sanatorium, a public or charitable institution, for it is entirely different from those of such characters, and requires a more considerate and patient management. It is a Home in which every eligible resident has a right to occupy—a right by virtue of his membership as a Mason; and in his declining years, devoid of strength and the means of support, he is entitled to full consideration as a brother Mason—and in nowise as a mendicant or a charge. Misfortune or infirmity may have deprived him of resources, but his faith in Masonry and his brethren remains unshaken; so he stands as a peer among his brethren."

The Committee on Necrology preface their report with the following beautiful poetic selection:

> "A harbor there is where the ships go out—
> Frail little ships they are;
> With white sails poised to the kiss of the wind
> Over the gleaming bar.
> Over the great wide world they go,
> Breasting the foaming tide;
> Until they rest in the havens afar,
> Where the dark storm never strides.
> Some never return from their distant quest,
> Lost, and none knows where—
> And the years go by, but never again,
> Over the seas they fare.
> And where is the harbor from whence they sail,
> Under the blue above?
> The harbor is found in the hearts of men;
> The ships are their words of love."

The following resolutions were adopted:

> "Resolved, That any man who obtains by purchase, or otherwise, intoxicating liquors or narcotic drugs from an illegal vendor of the same, or in violation of the laws of the United States of America, is hereby declared to be ineligible to be received into a Masonic Lodge under the jurisdiction of the Grand Lodge of Kentucky; and any Kentucky Lodge knowingly electing such a person, shall forfeit its charter.

"Resolved, That the Grand Lodge of Kentucky hereby declares it to be a Masonic offense for any Masons within its jurisdiction to purchase or possess intoxicating liquors, or narcotic drugs, except in accordance with the laws of the United States of America. Any and all Masons so offending shall be proceeded against by his Lodge.

"The use of gambling devices of any nature, such as raffles, lotteries, punch boards, paddle wheels, spinning jenneys, and games of chance of whatsoever nature, for the raising of funds for charitable or other purposes, in connection with circuses, carnivals, theatricals, musicals, fairs, bazaars, games, shows, or entertainments of any description, whether held or operated under the auspices of any Lodge of Free and Accepted Masons itself, or any of its auxiliary organizations, such as clubs, band, drill team, drum or bugle corps, orchestra, glee clubs, etc., also the giving away of chances on prizes whether attached to admission tickets for such affairs, or otherwise, shall be strictly prohibited."

The United Grand Lodge of Queensland, and the Grand Lodges of Panama and Guatemala were recognized.

The Grand Lodge has had a committee busy with the collection of $1,500,000.00 for the erection of the new Orphan's Home on the outskirts of Louisville. The Committee reported that pledges for $1,160,000.00 had been realized and that against this $550,000.00 had been paid in cash.

Resolutions were therefore adopted permitting the Board of Directors to proceed with the plans and arrange for the building contracts as soon as it could be conveniently done.

The volume is embellished with the photographs of the retiring and the present Grand Master, the Grand Senior Warden and the Grand Junior Warden and the Grand Secretary. Each of them showing by their features that the Grand Lodge has chosen for its leaders men who are strong and forcible in character and fully capable to carry on its affairs to a successful issue.

The report on Foreign Correspondence is also prefaced with the picture of the Chairman, Past Grand Master William W. Clarke. He looks just a little serious, but that may be due to the worries of the job. It's just like housekeeping, ain't it, Brother Clarke? Never done.

Maine—1925.

The One Hundred and Sixth Annual Communication was held at Portland on the 5th of May, 1925.

One hundred and eighty out of a total of 206 were represented.

Brother Millard M. Coswell represented Louisiana.

Under the conditions of the Craft, quotes the records to show that in forty-odd years the proportion of members of the fraternity to the whole population had never been below three per cent and now rated at five and six-tenths per cent.

The brethren of Maine are to be complimented upon his splendid showing.

In a splendid deduction drawn from this fact, the Grand Master concluded that this large percentage has, by its example, left a strong impress upon the general character of the remainder of the population, without doubt it has. The sturdy character and thrift of our Maine citizens has left its impress wherever they have settled and if Freemasonry has added anything to their already sterling qualities, it has done a good work.

Under the heading of Decisions, the Grand Master says:

> "Nothing worthy of being classed as a decision has been passed upon by me. Many questions have been asked and answered by reference to the Constitution or reported decisions."

The Grand Treasurer reported a cash balance of $16,759.16.

A committee of three was appointed to confer with a like committee from the main Council of Deliberation, with a view of formulating some definite plan of Masonic activity.

The Grand Lodge acted adversely upon the request for recognition of the York Grand Lodge of Mexico, the Committee in their report using the language:

> "The truth of the Great Light may well stay precipitate action, 'Who made me a judge and divider over you?' Indeed, we have read so much on both sides of the question, and each, on paper, makes out such a convincingly clear case for itself, that we are rather forced to the conclusion, that when 'the house is swept and garnished,' and no longer 'a house divided against itself,' it will be time for us to consider such recognition. 'First be reconciled with thy brother, and then come and offer thy gift,' saith the Great Light, and we may well take that counsel as 'the rule and guide of our faith and conduct' in the matter of recognition of either opposing Mexican Grand Lodge."

This is strictly in accord with our views on the question.

Recognition of the Grand Orient of Belgium was withdrawn because of the removal of the Bible from its Altars.

The following amendment to the Constitution was adopted:

"No lodge shall suspend or expel a member from the rights of Masonry for non-payment of dues. The penalty of such delinquency shall be forfeiture or suspension of membership; and that only after due trial, as in other Masonic misdemeanors.

"A brother suspended from membership for non-payment of dues will be restored by the payment or remission of the amount due at the time of his suspension at any time within five years thereafter; but after that time he can be restored only upon his application and a unanimous vote of the Lodge, after payment or remission of the amount in arrears."

M. W. Brother Charles H. Callahan, Grand Master of Virginia, was a visitor and addressed the Grand Lodge.

The Grand Lodge voted to withdraw from the Masonic Service Association.

Foreign Correspondence is by Grand Chaplain, Rev. Brother Ashley A. Smith, who very ably reviews the proceedings of sixty-four Grand Jurisdictions and pays fraternal notice to Louisiana.

Manitoba—1925.

The Fiftieth Annual Communication was held at Winnipeg on the 10th of June, 1925.

The book opens upon the picture of the Grand Master of 1925, attired in the regulation English dress, and next, but not least, the picture of my old friend, James A. Ovas, Grand Secretary, seated at his desk in the office. The only comment we have to make, is that he looks too serious, and not at all like the smiling brother who visited us in February, 1925. It is a pleasure to note that he was later presented with a beautiful bouquet of twenty-five roses, one for each year of his service.

Ninety-seven Chartered Lodges were represented.

Louisiana was represented by R. W. Bro. Hebert J. Smith.

The Grand Master said in opening:

"The three original Lodges which thus formed our Grand Lodge were Prince Rupert's Lodge, Lisgar Lodge and Ancient Landmark Lodge, and the total membership in the Province at that time did not exceed two hundred members. From this small beginning Grand Lodge has grown until at the present time we have one hundred Constituent Lodges and approximately twelve thousand members.

"It was indeed a momentous occasion for Free Masonry in this Great West, and the brethren of those days must have been endowed with great faith and vision to accept the responsibility of forming a Grand Lodge in a territory which spread from the Great Lakes to the Rocky Mountains, but this vision and faith in the future of our country has been typical of the men connected with this Province from the days of the Selkirk Settlers down to the present time.

"With a justifiable pride in our past, let us hope that in entering upon the new era now dawning our enthusiasm will be increased and that our constant aim will be the making of Freemasons and not members only. Then shall this Grand Lodge of Manitoba continue to redound to the glory of Freemasonry and the heritage of Masonic history to which we are heirs."

We further quote the Grand Master under the topic of Lodge Secretaries:

"A good Lodge Secretary is a 'gem of purest ray serene,' such are 'born, not made.' If you have a good one, hang on to him, and if a poor one, make a change. Some may be paid too much, many are paid too little. An ideal Secretary will neither feel that he is the whole Lodge nor attempt to run it his way, but will in all things pay deference to the Master for the time being and be a power for good in the Lodge."

Eleven District Meetings were held during the year, the Grand Master personally attended ten. He speaks kindly and graciously of attentions shown to himself and Grand Secretary Ovas during their visits to the Grand Lodges of Louisiana and Tennessee. The pleasure was all ours.

The Grand Master says that he traveled approximately 14,000 miles visiting in his own and sister jurisdictions.

Eleven District Deputy Grand Masters reported.

The financial reports show credits to the General and Benevolent Fund of $162,634.77.

The Committee on the Condition of Masonry sounded a warning note when they say:

"Your committee finds that there is a general tendency towards carelessness with respect to attendance at the regular meetings of the Lodges in every part of the jurisdiction. An analysis of this discloses some of the reasons and suggests some things that can be done to correct them.

"(a) Members are not sufficiently impressed with the importance of their responsibility to attend regularly.

"(b) Lack of sufficient care and thought in the planning of meetings to make them interesting to the members.

"(c) Tardiness in opening the Lodge and waste of time in despatching the business of the meeting.

"(d) A lack of intimate relationship by emphasizing that absence has been noted.

"The responsibility for correcting these rests upon the Worshipful Master, Wardens and Secretary of the Lodge. Your committee offers the following suggestion:

"Your committee is not entirely satisfied with the reports respecting the work of the presiding officer in many of our Constituent Lodges. It should be very definitely understood that Lodges are not created for the purpose of passing Masters through the chairs and making Past Masters. Unless a prospective Master has shown some aptitude for the work and has already given some evidence of the zeal necessary for the performance of the duties in a manner that will be creditable to the Craft, his Lodge and himself, there can be no justification for his election. Nor can there be any justification for conferring the rank of Past Master on any one who has simply served a term as Master without having given to that office the devotion which it demands. There are many essential factors in the work of the Master of a Lodge. He should be competent to do the necessary Ritual Work and give evidence of his competency by the frequent performance of it. He should realize that the honor, reputation and usefulness of the Lodge are in his hands, and be prepared to study the problems that come up so that he can, by exercising his talents, plan and direct the activities in a way that will make for real progress. From the information which comes before your committee, this unfortunately is not always the case. It would appear that these Masters are not aware of the requirements of the office and consequently do not give the thought necessary to a proper appreciation of the responsibilities and to the performance of the duties that are essential to success."

One Charter was granted.

Fraternal relations were severed with the Grand Orient of France by reason of their assuming control of a spurious organization styling itself "The Ancient Scottish Rite of Universal Freemasonry," which is domiciled in Pennsylvania and claims the right to confer the symbolic degrees.

Five lodges were constituted during the previous year.

The Committee on Investments reported securities on hand amounting to $161,470.00.

The beauty of the splendid address of Grand Chaplain Rev. William A. Cunningham is best shown by the following extract:

> "Man is a citizen of two worlds, but he has no skill to realize the world of spirit apart from the aid of the world of sense. If he ask, wistfully, about the life to come, the only answer is one expressed in the images and colors of the life that now is. As often as he tries to ponder, reverently, what is the essential nature of God, he finds himself thinking of the Eternal in terms of those moral qualities which he sees dimly enough, in the noblest men. He cannot help himself; there is no other way for him to think. Truth, justice, mercy, and goodness in God, however they may differ in degree, else they mean nothing to us. Long ago Ovid said that 'our measure is in our immortal souls,' and our faith not less that our philosophy rests upon the fact that there is an angel in man, something akin to the Eternal, making our highest thought and vision valid. No doubt that was what Plato meant when he said that by the art of measurement the soul is saved—that is, by measuring up to the Angel within us we attain to the truth; by reading the reality of life through the highest, we learn its meaning and value. If so, we have our marching orders and the path of attainment is made plain to the humblest, and no one need err therein or lose his way."

The report on Foreign Correspondence is by Deputy Grand Master J. Walker Reid, who presents a most interesting and instructive piece of work and pays fraternal notice to Louisiana.

ALBERT L. CROSSIN, Grand Master.
JAMES A. OVAS, Grand Secretary.

Maryland—1924.

The Two Hundred and Sixty-first Semi-Annual Communication was held at Baltimore on the 13th of May, 1924.

The report of the Committee on Credentials show that the representatives of one hundred and twenty Lodges were entitled to seats.

The event of the Session was the presence of Sir Alfred Robbins, President of the Board of General Purposes of the Grand Lodge of England and Special Envoy of their Grand Master to the Grand Lodges of the United States.

The Illustrious Brother addressed the Grand Lodge at considerable length, stating his pleasure at being able to visit our country at this particular time and at the same time expressing his appreciation of the warmth of his reception. The address is characteristic of the man and is replete with complimentary expressions relative to American Freemasonry and a desire for a close bond of union between English-speaking Masons the world over.

At the conclusion of his talk he was elected Honorary Grand Senior Warden of the Grand Lodge of Maryland.

The Grand Treasurer reported a cash balance of $7,002.93.

The Grand Lecturers reported as to the condition of the Craft:

> "Lodges of instruction were held periodically in all parts of the state and at convenient times so that every county Lodge had an opportunity to receive help in the work. Much progress has been made in exemplifying the ritual and the officers of the various lodges are becoming proficient in their work. Also, it is noted with much pleasure and gratification the interest shown in building new temples for Masonic occupancy only. Several Lodges are already working on plans to remodel their present quarters, and several more are negotiating for ground and buildings of their own. Throughout the entire jurisdiction much activity is being shown and increased interest in the work of the Lodges is being manifested."

The One Hundred and Thirty-eighth Annual Communication was held at Baltimore on the 18th of November, 1924.

Louisiana's representative was not in attendance.

Again the report of the Committee shows one hundred and twenty-one Lodges entitled to representation, but does not show how many were actually in attendance.

The Grand Master, for he says:

> "As usual, we have been very busy in our official capacity, but as we have no Jurisprudence Committee, our numerous acts will stand for the guidance of the craft, which reports indicate, has progressed, whether our advice has been good or bad."

His closing admonition to the Craft is worthy of general consideration and application:

> "Masters should be particularly careful to see that no member goes unscathed who violates the civil or moral law, nor who transgresses the laws of honor and manhood. Remember the dignity and high ideals of our fraternity. Be more concerned with teaching the brethren rather than raising a large number of candidates. Look well to the outer door, and do not overlook the fact that it should swing outward as well as inward, and should our good name be traduced, do not forget that the honor and good name of Masonry is in your keeping."

The Grand Treasurer reported a bank balance of $4040.55

One Charter was granted.

The brethren are considering the installation of a Masonic Home. The fund for this purpose is credited with cash and investments amounting to $43,395.22.

Brother Henry Branch, Chairman of the Committee on Foreign Correspondence, prefaces his report with the statement that > "There seems to be a great revival of interest on the subject of Education, a most encouraging prospect for those whose supreme idea is LIGHT."

He reviews the proceedings of fifty-three Grand Lodges and pays fraternal notice to Louisiana.

GEORGE COOK, Grand Secretary.

Massachusetts—1924.

Eighteen Special Communications were held during the year. One of these was called for the purpose of attending the funeral of Past Grand Master Everett C. Benton, three to participate in the celebration of the Fiftieth anniversary of Lodges, two to assist in the celebration of the one hundredth anniversary, one to join in the celebration of the one hundred and twenty-fifth anniversary, four corner-stones were laid and the Williams Memorial Building of the Masonic Home was dedicated.

Quarterly Communications were held on the 12th of March, 11th of June, 10th of September and the Annual Communication was held on the 10th of December. At the first of these sessions, Sir Alfred Robbins of the Grand Lodge of England and the Grand Master of Connecticut and Vermont were present.

The Grand Master in a splendid address cautioned the Craft against giving public entertainments for revenue; against the holding of raffles or games of chance, and dealt at length upon the unauthorized use of the word Masonic as applied to clubs and other organizations composed of members of the fraternity.

Sir Alfred Robbins then addressed the Grand Lodge on the subject of his mission to the United States.

At the two following communications, business of particular interest to the Grand Lodge was transacted.

At the Annual Communication of the 10th of December, two hundred and forty-seven Lodges were represented, and the Grand Master recounted the events of the year. During the course of his address he states that, together with the Grand Secretary, he attended the meeting of the Masonic Service Association and says that they left the meeting fully convinced that it was well worth the continued support of the Grand Lodge.

The Grand Master reported having attended eighty Masonic functions during the year.

The Deputy Grand Master paid sixty-four official visits.

The volume is handsomely illustrated with pictures of Grand Officials and of Sir Alfred Robbins and of the different cornerstone laying ceremonies and gotten up in a most attractive style. Our congratulations go to Brother Hamilton for results achieved.

DUDLEY H. FERRELL, Grand Master.
FREDERICK W. HAMILTON, Grand Secretary.

Michigan—1925.

The Eighty-first Annual Communication was held at Grand Rapids, beginning on the 26th of May, 1925.

Four hundred and sixty-four lodges were represented.

Seventeen Past Grand Masters were present.

Bro. John H. Hawks, Louisiana's representative, was in attendance.

The Grand Master said in the opening of his address:

> "The past year has been a strenuous one for the Grand Master, but, on the whole, a very happy one; coming into contact and forming friendships with the members of the Craft in every section of the State, is full compensation for the time and energy spent. I have tried to make my administration one of constructive building, and, if it meets with the approval of the fraternity, I am well repaid. The few disagreeable tasks that fall to the lot of the Grand Master have, in the past year, been satisfactorily and happily adjusted, so that peace and harmony reign supreme throughout the entire jurisdiction. The year has been one of steady and prosperous growth; our gain in membership satisfactory; the Angel of Death has passed by our Grand Lodge Family this year, but many of our Brethren have gone from their labors on earth to everlasting refreshment in the Paradise of God. Let us ever cherish their memories and be inspired thereby to great and noble deeds."

The Grand Master reports at length upon the details of his work of the year and under the heading of Decisions says:

> "Although I have had a great many enquiries submitted during the year, there were very few but what could be answered by referring to the Blue Book; there are not many questions which arise but what the present approved decisions cover, and, being of the opinion that it is not good practice to encumber the record with decisions which are not essential for a correct interpretation of the law, I have concluded not to submit any with this report."

The Grand Lodge has in effect the Blanket Bond such as we have in operation, covering the financial officers of the Grand Lodge and the Constituent Lodges.

Five Lodges were constituted. Fourteen Masonic Temples were dedicated.

Nine corner-stones were laid. Four of these were for public schools, five for Masonic edifices and one for a public building.

Four dispensations were issued for New Lodges.

The Grand Treasurer reported a cash balance of $42,940.55 and $41,500.00 to the credit of the General Fund. Other funds are credited as follows:

Masonic Home Maintenance Fund	$ 63,012.07
Masonic Home Charity Fund	8,004.78
Masonic Home Cottage Building Fund	103,927.00
Masonic Home Soldier Relief Fund	283.53

Grand Secretary Lou Winsor feelingly refers to the personal attention of the brethren during an illness of two months. It was our pleasure to meet our good friend during the month of September and we must say that he showed no evidences of his then, recent trial and bid fair to remain wth us for sometime to come.

The Grand Lecturer reported that he had held one hundred and thirty-two schools of instruction, with a total attendance of 20,851.

One thousand dollars was appropriated in favor of the Eastern Star Villa at Adrian.

A committee of three was appointed to investigate the activities of all organizations that require a Masonic connection as a prerequisite to membership.

Five Charters were granted.

One matter of note in connection with the proceedings is the very evident spirit of good fellowship prevailing between the officials themselves and the membership. It was our privilege to have accompanied our late Grand Master Sinai to one of the sessions during his term of office and we agreed, after leaving, that our Michigan brethren had a brand of goodfellowship peculiarly their own and one that discounted our much-wanted Southern brand.

Our good friend Bishop Gallagher again presents the report on Foreign Correspondence. This is his second and it is of the same high standard as the first.

He reviews the proceedings of sixty-eight Grand Lodges and does Louisiana full justice. The report covers some five hundred and sixty-seven pages, which present a complete digest of Masonic happenings during the years 1924 and 1925 so delightfully written as to grip and hold the attention of the reader. We realized our own deficiencies while reviewing it and only hoped that we had been so favored. Brother Gallagher fills a niche all of his own.

ARTHUR J. FOX, Grand Master.
LOU B. WINSOR, Grand Secretary.

Minnesota—1925.

The Seventy-second Annual Communication was held at St. Paul on the 21st and 22nd of January, 1925.

Two hundred and fifty-five lodges out of a total of 292 were represented.

Louisiana was represented by Bro. William R. Smith.

From the splendid address of the Grand Master, we cull the following:

> "There are those continually coming here, and too often those to the manor born, openly endeavoring, nay boasting, of their desire to overthrow our Republic (handed down to us, by Washington and his illustrious followers, through bloodshed and deprivations they endured, leaving us the greatest heritage ever enjoyed by the gift of men). Do we want to wake up and find ourselves in the condition that many of the European Nations are in at this time? Do we want or invite such possibilities?
> "Our conduct seems to imply that we do invite it by our seeming lack of thought and action. We daily note the Judges of our courts, in passing sentence upon law violators, cause the deportation of those whom the court has power to return to the countries from whence they came.
> "But what help will you give to the same courts, when you fail to preserve and defend this, our land, by your failure to cast your ballot which you are entitled to do and should do, as much as any soldier obeys his superior officers? You cannot be deported, but should you escape your clear duty by your neglect of the right of franchise, one of the most valuable rights you possess? Such neglect is what has been and is ailing our land today. We should awaken each other to our true responsibility in this regard, else some day we may find ourselves awakened by a more serious situation.
> "As Masons, good men and true to our Country and its institutions, let us view the landscape, then act, and not let the burden fall so heavily upon the shoulders of our women voters, who have already displayed a proportionately greater interest in the affairs of government for the limited time they have enjoyed, than altogether too many of the men, recently are showing."

Five Lodges were constituted, and four instituted, six cornerstone laying ceremonies were held and two Masonic Temples were dedicated, the Grand Master in addition paying a number of official visits to subordinate Lodges and to neighboring Grand Lodges.

The Grand Master reports at length upon the meeting of the George Washington Memorial Association, and upon the proposed new Masonic Home, the site of which, he says, is the most beautiful of any in the United States. We can vouch for this, as we had the pleasure of visiting it shortly after its purchase. The Grand Master's address, of some sixty-two pages, is a splendid document, ably written and shows the work of an active and efficient official.

Grand Secretary Pettigrew and Grand Chaplain Ashley of South Dakota were visitors.

The report of the President of the Masonic Home, whose personal acquaintance we enjoy, covers some fifty-one pages of detail information, all of which make a splendid exhibit of the fraternal spirit of our Minnesota Brethren.

The Committee on Fraternal Work at Rochester, the location of the Sanitarium of Mayo Brothers, shows the work done by the brethren of that City in the nature of calls upon the sick and other attentions to sojourning brethren. This is truly a Masonic service worthy of emulation.

The following resolution was adopted:

> "Resolved, That the sum of $500.00 be appropriated to cover the expense of alterations and furnishing of an office for the Representative of the Grand Lodge at Rochester, Minnesota."

The death of Past Grand Master A. S. Stebbins was reported.

The oration by Grand Orator Dr. Charles H. Mayo was a masterpiece, just as we might expect from one of his national reputation. We only wish that space would permit the reprinting of one-half of it. However, we present the following extract:

> "Education then is the one big thing for us and it is the one big job for us as Masons. We are doing it and doing it in a wonderful way. Just think of the changes that have come in your own time, all you older men. I remember my mother pouring the tallow candle in the old forms with strings in. Then the first electric light carried about, working from a battery, the Edison light; and the telephone and telegraph. Then the air ship conquering the air and the under-sea boat with work to do. I used to sneak out to the barn and read Jules Verne's 'Under the Sea,' 20,000 feet or so. Mother Shipman 350 years ago put out her prophecy 'Carriages without horses will go,' and 'Thoughts around the world will fly in the twinkling of an eye.' Now, we have our broadcasting and wireless. So when one looks back over the age of men 500,000 years, and only a few thousand years he has been worth anything above the animal. In the old pyramid days, were pictures of men pulling on the rope, hundreds of them, —man power. What have we got today? Every person in this country has 64-horse power behind him. That is our power plant. Will our world go back? As we look back and see what happened to the Greeks and Romans, Spain in her day, Portugal, all of those great people have gone down. Will we go down like them? No! just because we have within a half century developed power behind men? The transmission of thought is yet to come; undoubtedly it can be done by a few in a limited way today, but only a few. But when we think of King Tut's tomb, made 3,500 years ago, showing that man had fine furniture, many articles that are worth copying now, things that were worth while."

Foreign Correspondence is by Bro. E. A. Montgomery, Chairman, who reviews the proceedings of sixty Grand Lodges, and does full justice to all, including Louisiana. However, we just want to say that we disclaim the authority of the tropical review of the year 1923. It was not signed, but we are averse to claiming credit. The Grand Master of that year thought it best to use a new broom.

HAYDEN FRENCH, Grand Master.
JOHN FISHEL, Grand Secretary.

Mississippi—1925.

After their usual public reception the night before, the One Hundred and Seventh Annual Communication was held at Jackson on the 24th of February, 1925.

Three hundred and sixty-one Lodges were represented.

Past Grand Master Harry T. Howard, our representative, as is customary with him, was present.

Under the heading of Law Observance, the Grand Master says:

"The man who buys and drinks bootleg liquors has no more respect for law than the one who makes it and the one who sells it, and neither buyer nor seller can be a Mason, for Masonry teaches reverence and obedience to ALL law. An American Mason is one who believes in the Holy Bible, the Declaration of Independence, the Constitution of the United States, the public schools, and the supremacy of the law over all other beliefs, creeds or edicts.

> And the purpose of Masonry is to make men understand more perfectly their relationships and obligations to God and their fellow men that He may be glorified and that manhood may be purified and magnified."

He reports the death of Past Grand Master Charles H. Blum.

Three Lodges were constituted during the year and three were instituted.

One Masonic Temple was dedicated.

The Grand Master personally laid five corner-stones and two were laid by proxy.

Under the heading of Lotteries, we quote:

> "All forms of lottery, raffle, and games of chance in connection with Masonic enterprises or entertainments, either direct or indirect, are unmasonic and not permissible. This includes the selling or buying of tickets that entitle the holder to a chance at something, and the selling or buying of something, with or without value, and giving or receiving tickets that entitle the holder to a chance to win something."

The Grand Master was quite active in the matter of visitations, besides attending a number of the Lodges of the state he attended the Seventy-fifth Annual Communication of the Grand Lodge of California and attended the session of the Masonic Service Association at Chicago.

The Grand Treasurer reported a credit of $108,259.61 for the various funds and $259,505.00 in securities to the credit of the Endowment Fund.

The following amendment to the law was adopted:

> "Sec. 9. Subordinate Lodges shall not initiate, pass, or raise any candidate, nor admit to membership any non- affiliated Mason engaged as principal or employee, as a saloonkeeper, nor one who unlawfully makes, sells, or habitually buys whiskey unlawfully."

We note one ruling of the Committee on Law relative to courtesy work, that the Lodge requesting the work done should be notified what the expenses shall be and an agreement reached. Our interchanges of such courtesies with our Sister State have been so many, that we regret to see any such question arise. We have no such charge. There should be reciprocity.

We are pleased to note the presence of M. W. Brother B. B. Purser, Past Grand Master of Louisiana.

The election of the Grand Master for the succeeding year, Bro. T. Q. Ellis, must have been an incident that will long be remembered, for after addressing the Grand Lodge briefly, he spoke to his father and in one of the neatest and most affecting talks we have ever read, ascribed all of his success to his parent. The father's response was equally as appropriate, and we can but imagine the scene.

We digress a moment to pay our tribute to the masonry of Mississippi. With nothing but the rivers and streams and a geographical boundary separating us, we are of the same breed and blood and are especially gratified in testifying to the high standard of character and the splendid masonic status of the brethren of our Sister State. With a little over 300 majority above us in the matter of masonic population, they are maintaining two Masonic Homes, the one at Columbus and the other at Meridian, both of which are splendidly endowed, and while our date of organization antedates theirs some five years, their material progress surpasses ours, for very obvious reasons. We have locked horns in our earlier history, but are the very best of friends for all that and at present doff our hats and say: "All hail to the brand of Masonry they have in Mississippi."

The last report on correspondence was by Past Grand Master Henry Clay Yawn. We regret to see that he has retired, but presume that he has good and sufficient reasons. We also regret that our proceedings did not reach him for review and will ascribe the blame to the Grand Secretary, who receives three copies each year for distribution.

Membership, 34,700.

THOMAS Q. ELLIS, Grand Master.
EDWARD L. FAUCETTE, Grand Secretary.

Missouri—1924.

The One Hundred and Fourth Annual Communication was held at St. Louis on the 21st of October, 1924.

Four hundred and seventy-four lodges were represented.

From the introduction to the address of the Grand Master, the following is selected:

> "What do we care about the antiquity of our Fraternity? What does it matter whether our ancestors did or did not participate in the building of King Solomon's Temple? Neither pedigree nor ancestry can make any institution or individual great. Not what Freemasonry was yesterday, or a thousand years ago, but what it is today and what it shall be tomorrow, and likewise what is each of us today and what we shall be tomorrow, these are the all-important questions to the good Freemason and the true man everywhere.
> "We should elect to our Fraternity only those men who are good and true, and then the symbolic story of the ritual in the various degrees should be given to the candidate in a sincere and earnest manner by only those sincere and earnest Freemasons who exemplify out of the lodge, in their daily lives, at home and in business, the sublime lessons and truths which are intended to be taught the candidate. Unless we stand before the candidate as clean and true men, the language of the ritual will be as sounding brass and tinkling cymbals, falling on deaf ears because the candidate, knowing us, will likewise know that the ceremony is mere hollow mockery. We cannot honestly ask the candidate to wear his apron spotless unless we keep our own aprons clean from the stain of sin in this life."

This specially selected item is commended to some of our newly elected Masters:

"I find that the finances of many Lodges are conducted in a rather slip-shod manner. There is no effort made at the beginning of the year to lay out a plan or budget to meet the necessary expenses of the year.

"I also find that a great many lodges are spending more money for cigars and sandwiches than they are for charity to the distressed. I believe that this growing evil would be corrected if the Lodges would each get on a budget system, and, therefore, I urge them to prepare carefully and adopt, at the beginning of each administration, a budget for the ensuing year."

The Grand Master's address is a strong and comprehensive document, covering every detail of his activities during the year.

The item touching upon the Public Schools is particularly strong:

"Twenty-five centuries ago Diogenes said: 'Education is the basis of the Greek State.'

"Freemasonry has always stood for the education and enlightenment of the masses with equal opportunity for all children, and to that end, I urge all Freemasons at all times to support and develop our public school system, including alike the rural schools, the city schools, teachers' colleges and the State University. The public school systems of the several states are the very foundation stone of our government, and the best means for the education of the American children and, certainly, the only proper means for the Americanization and amalgamation of the constant stream of foreigners and their children coming to our shores. Let us make the public school non-partisan, non-sectarian and for all the children of all the people, all the time."

He reports the visit of Sir Alfred Robbins, during the week beginning April 21st., at which time a Special Communication of the Grand Lodge was called for the reception. Brother Robbins, who was the bearer of a special message of good will from the Grand Master of Masons of England, delivered a brilliant address following his creation as an Honorary member of the Grand Lodge. His visit to the United States was greatly appreciated and will serve to cement the bond of friendship between the Mother Grand Lodge and the Grand Lodges of this country.

The Grand Master here reports upon one of the pretty incidents of his term and that is the account of a visit paid to Brother Joseph S. Halstead, who was 106 years old on the 4th of March. The Grand Master says of the visit:

> "I found him frail in body, but alert in mind. He received us with great cordiality and it was a genuine pleasure to see how very much he appreciated our visit. He was born on the fourth day of March, 1818, during the administration of James Madison and all of the Presidents of the United States except the first four have been sworn into office on his birthday. He became a Freemason in 1842 and has belonged continuously to the order since that time. He was personally acquainted with Henry Clay and at one time attended his family as physician. He was able to recall having heard General Lafayette deliver an address in 1825. Mrs. Halstead is also alive and has passed her 95th birthday. At the time of the birth of Brother Halstead in Louisville, Ky., Missouri had not yet been admitted to the Union. Brother Halstead made four trips from Kentucky to Missouri on horseback prior to the Civil War. He began the practice of medicine in Kentucky, but came to Missouri in 1841 and began the practice of medicine at Richmond, but after one year, returned to Kentucky, where he practiced medicine until 1860. One of the most precious relics which Brother Halstead exhibited to us was the walking cane of Henry Clay which had been presented to Dr. Halstead by Mrs. Clay after the death of her husband."

A handsome photo engraving is shown of Brother Halstead and the Grand Master on the occasion of the visit.

The Grand Master complains that Secretaries and many others have fallen into the habit of writing to him for opinion, without taking the trouble of looking up the law. This has a most familiar sound. We can almost imagine the statement coming from our own G. M.

The question of affiliating tentatively upon Certificates of Good Standing appears to have caused some confusion, which the Grand Master settles by ruling that affiliation is not accomplished until the dimit is granted by the Lodge original membership. However, we are reminded of a case occurring during the current year, where one of our members was affiliated by a St. Louis Lodge in this way and registered as a member without a dimit. This condition was cured however, by the Grand Master of Missouri directing his Lodge to drop the name. This particular Secretary evidently was under the impression that the Missouri law was general in its application.

The address of the Grand Master is such as we might expect from his strong features as protrayed at the opening of the proceedings. One does not need to refer to the biographical sketch to be reminded of his strength of character and more than usual ability.

The Grand Secretary reports ten Lodges constituted during the year.

Thirty-nine corner-stones were laid and six Lodge halls dedicated.

The sum of $46,310.00 was paid to the Trustees of the Masonic Home, this being the total of a special tax laid on initiates.

The Grand Treasurer reports a cash balance of $90,583.41 and $40,000.00 in securities.

The oration by Rev. Brother Russell Henry Sanford was a masterly effort. We regret that space permits the reproduction of only his concluding paragraph:

> "After all, the query which many sections of the public are disposed to address to us as to the social function of Masonry would better be answered in the conduct of Masons than by our words. We can, to be sure, assure them that Masonic secrecy veils no sinister program; that Masonic Ritual is but a colorful way of imparting great lessons about life, which all men are better for learning; and that Masonry stands for Brotherhood, for Faith, for Hope and for Constructive Effort. But our words will carry little conviction if our actions belie them. Therefore, it is for us, as individual Masons, in exemplification of our heart-felt loyalty to Masonry, to make the most of our opportunities in our several honorable callings, by the best plans we can devise, in the best spirit our neighbors can desire. Then in the proportion of our performance along these lines, the world will understand that the Masonic Fraternity is a mighty army of righteousness, generously devoted to the service of ALL our fellow-men, and thereby to the greater honor and glory of God, the Father of Mankind."

Brother Stratton D. Brooks, President of the State University, delivered a striking talk on "Slaves of Habit," which ought to be in the hands of every Mason.

The deaths of Past Grand Master C. C. Biggar and Past Grand Master William F. Kuhn and of Grand Secretary John R. Parson were reported.

The reports of the Relief Board and of the Employment Board are worthy of much favorable comment.

Foreign Correspondence is by Rev. Bro. C. C. Woods, Past Grand Master, whose review is, as we say in Louisiana, "par excellence." He is liberal with his space and each item of interest in the different proceedings is appropriately captioned.

ORESTES MITCHELL, Grand Master.
FRANK R. JESSE, Grand Secretary.

Montana—1924.

The Sixtieth Annual Communication was held at Great Falls on the 20th and 21st of August, 1924.

Two hundred and ninety-two Lodges were represented.

Louisiana is always assured of representation in the person of Past Grand Master Francis D. Jones. We feel honored in having his personal acquaintance.

In reference to the matter of advancement to "so called higher degrees," the Grand Master says:

> "One of the best moves made in recent years to improve the quality of Masons was to compel all brothers to wait one year after being raised before applying for any other branch of recognized Masonry in Montana.
> "I have talked with many high-minded Masons, who are pleased to say that Montana Masonry now has a better chance to improve. Many of the candidates have told me that they appreciate what the Grand Lodge has done for them in that instead of rushing through the so-called higher degrees they have had a chance to better understand more about the three degrees than they would have had, had they been permitted to advance hurriedly."

He attended the meetings of the Masonic Service Association and of the Annual Communication of the Grand Lodge of North Dakota.

Under the head of Relief we quote:

> "Brethren, this world is full of trouble and sorrow, and it seems that the whole world is applying to Masonic Institutions for aid in various ways. I am thoroughly imbued with and fully understand the meaning of the word CHARITY, as used in Masonry, and I have discovered that no item in our Masonic calendar is abused more than CHARITY, both in giving and asking.
> "Firstly, Masonic assistance in a financial way from the Grand Lodge should be a last resort. All Masons are members of some Lodge, and under our present method of doing, the Lodge should exert every effort to help a needy brother. If the Lodge will report that they have gone their limit, their appeal will be considered and aid can, in a limited way, be given from the Grand Lodge Permanent Relief Fund.

"A Mason in distress should exhaust his own resources first. Some cases have been presented where it was shown that the Lodge wherein membership was held had done nothing to relieve distress. Such requests coming to us under these circumstances have not been complied with."

We thoroughly agree with him and commend the reading of this extract to our Louisiana brethren.

The Grand Master's address is a strong document of some thirty-six pages and deals with the questions of the hour in a language leaving no doubt as to his meaning.

The Committee on Apportionment say in comment.

"You have brought to the office a dower of Masonic wisdom, garnered by you in the reaping of bountiful harvests from the many fields of Masonic endeavor in which you have labored for many years, from the humblest to the highest stations. Venus will not call you Adonis, but the Queen of Sheba would not hesitate to address you as 'O Wise King Solomon.' Your strength, your sentiment, your heart and hands were at the command of the Craft during the year.

"This Grand Lodge is wealthier in having had you as Grand Master and may your strong hand and wise head be with us for many years, to help to safe harbors this grand old Masonic ship of ours."

The bank certificate attached to the Grand Treasurer's report reads:

"We beg to advise you that the credit balance on deposit in this bank in the name of 'Richard Lockey, Grand Treasurer,' is Fifty-three Thousand Six Hundred Fifty-eight and 41/100 Dollars ($53,658.41).

"There are also outstanding the certificates of deposit in the Permanent Relief Fund for Thirty-five Hundred Dollars ($3,500.00) and in the General Fund, Fifty-five Hundred Dollars ($5,500.00). These certificates drawing interest as heretofore."

M. W. Brother Theodore S. Henry of North Dakota was a visitor and addressed the Grand Lodge and was later elected an Honorary Past Grand Master.

An elaborate address upon the Sterling-Reed Educational Bill was delivered by Brother H. W. Swain. Every feature of the bill was thoroughly covered and we feel assured that the brethren must have enjoyed its delivery.

Grand Chaplain George David Wolfe delivered a wonderful address upon a visit to Ireland, the land of his birth. What he says about the beauties of the country we heartily endorse, as we were visitors there in 1919, but lack of space permits the reproduction of only the following matter of general interest in connection with his visit to St. Fins Barre's Cathedral at Cork:

"For all Thy saints who from their labors rest,
Who Thee by faith before the world confessed,
Thy Name, O Jesus, be forever blest.
Hallelujah!"

"That is the great hymn they sang. Well, the Cathedral was empty when I was strolling about looking at the things about the building, and up near the pulpit I saw a brass plate in the floor, about this long and this wide, and I looked down at it for a moment; then I rubbed my eyes and I looked at it again, and then I read every word of it. My friends were waiting for me at the door, and I said, 'You just wait there; I have something to do here,' and I went back and I copied the inscription off that brass tablet in St. Fin Barre's Cathedral. I will read it to you. Here is exactly what it was:

" 'In pious memory of the Hon. Elizabeth Aldworth, wife of Richard Aldworth of New Market Court, County Cork, Esq.

" 'Daughter of Arthur, 1st Viscount Doneraile. Her remains lie close to this spot.

" 'Born 1695, died 1775.

" 'Initiated into Freemasonry, Lodge No. 44 at Doneraile Court, in this county, A. D. 1712.'

"I was standing by the grave of the only woman that was ever made a Mason! My! but my eyes bulged out, I tell you, as I read that wonderful thing! I cannot tell you the real facts about Lady Mary Aldworth; I wish I could. But this brother of mine, who is a Mason, went to the Grand Lodge and got the archives. He could not give them to me, of course. He had the only books there are about it, and he is copying it for me, and I had hoped to have it here by this time, but he is a very busy man and it may be at Billings waiting for me now. I am utterly disappointed that I cannot read you this story. I will give it to you as he gave it to me.

"She was born in 1695; she got the First Degree in 1712, so you see she was only 17 years old, but that Irish girl had taken out some bricks and was listening, and in order to listen and hear better, she pulled out another brick, and that fell and clattered and then the brethren went out and they got Lady Mary and they had to do something with her, because she had seen most of that work, so they took her in. And I stood by her grave!"

An amendment to the law was adopted compelling the payment of $10.00 by every Entered Apprentice initiated for the benefit of the Masonic Home.

The following resolution was also adopted:

"Improper Use of Emblems. Resolved, that this Grand Lodge reprehends the practice indulged in by many Masons of using and wearing Masonic Emblems and signs for the purpose of attracting attention to wares or merchandise which they expose for sale. The use of the Square and Compass for other than Masonic purposes is hereby prohibited."

Past Grand Master H. S. Hepner presents the report on Foreign Correspondence. His work is a complete abstract of all of the proceedings handled and is a valuable compendium of the work of the year.

Liberal space is accorded Louisiana.

The writer appreciates the suggestion that he should be a Past Grand Master and can only say like the darky, who was asked to change the $20 bill: "Boss, I can't do it, but I appreciate the compliment."

HARLON L. HART, Grand Master.
CORNELIUS HEDGES, Jr., Grand Secretary.

Nebraska—1925.

The Sixty-eighth Annual Communication was held at Omaha on the 9th, 10th and 11th of June, 1925.

Two hundred and sixty-six out of a total of two hundred and eighty-six Lodges were represented.

In the course of the introduction to his address, the Grand Master said:

"My brethren, viewed in the light of existing conditions, Masonry in this jurisdiction has made wonderful progress the past year. Our brothers have been prompted by the high idealism that the Fatherhood of God and the Brotherhood of Man are above and superior to all other things on earth. We are living in a new age of thought, action, inspiration, and opportunities; many believe that we have left the moorings of our fathers and that we are sailing on unknown seas in an unknown bark, piloted we know not where, yet in spite of existing conditions, I feel that we are approaching the dawn of a new day, a new era, one in which men will see and understand each other in a different and clearer light, realizing that man's first duty to mankind will be human service, and that the greatest of all strength is the strength of unity, and that man's duty to man, to his country, and to his God is to be the paramount issue of this new day and age.

"The business of this Grand Jurisdiction has multiplied to such an extent that a Grand Master must devote most of his time to the duties of that office, and if it continues to grow, some plan must, sooner or later, be evolved to relieve him of the many present duties. Through the kindness of the lawyers of my judicial district, I have been able to devote much more of my time to the discharge of those duties than I expected. While I know of nothing that has been neglected or has suffered, yet had I been free to give more of my time, more could have been accomplished in the way of visitation of Lodges. Great are the opportunities at this time for a Grand Master who is so situated that he can give unsparingly of his time."

Four dispensations for new Lodges were granted during the year.

Ten corner-stones were laid. The Grand Master paid forty-eight official visits.

Speaking of the Masonic Homes, he says:

"These Homes came in response to the appeal of the helpless and dependent, made so by the death of the father or mother, in many cases both. It touched the heartstrings of the womanhood and motherhood of the Craft, and the sisters of the Eastern Star responded, to the honor and credit of the wives, daughters, mothers, widows, and sisters of the Fraternity, whose Fraternity teaches charity, truth and loving kindness, ever guided by the Star of love, of light, of hope, and of faith.

"When you visit the homes at Fremont, let me say to you that you will see only a part of the children that are being assisted.

"The Grand Lodge, through our Committe on Relief and Care of Orphans, is contributing to the support of many in their homes, believing that the home is the most important school of character where there is imbibed those principles of human life and conduct which endure through manhood and cease only with life. There the heart is open; habits formed, intellect awakened, and character molded. It is to be regretted that all our dependent children are not surrounded by the lasting influence of home and mother, but such is not possible. The brethren of this jurisdiction owe a debt of gratitude to the men and women who, without compensation, have taken of their time and money to manage these Homes, and they deserve great credit for the success which has crowned their efforts."

The Grand Custodian, Brother Howard B. French, presented his twenty-fifth Annual Report, which is not only highly creditable to him, but speaks volumes for the system followed in Nebraska for disseminating the ritual. Thirty-five certificates of proficiency were issued during the year.

The total resources of the Grand Lodge are placed at $373,629.16.

The oration by W. Bro. Matthew A. Hall, upon the subject, "According to Law," was a masterpiece and we feel sure that its rendition was thoroughly enjoyed by the Grand Lodge.

The York Grand Lodge of Mexico was recognized.

The following extract from the record has attracted our attention:

> "W. Brother Orville A. Andrews, Grand Junior Deacon, advised the Grand Master that Past Grand Master John A. Ehrhardt was in waiting, and Grand Master Dickson ordered that he be admitted. Brother Ehrhardt, seated in a wheel chair, was admitted into the Lodge room and taken to the altar, the representatives rising to their feet. Grand Master Dickson greeted and welcomed Past Grand Master Ehrhardt most cordially and heartily, and asked the brethren to join with him in giving him the Grand Honors, which was done. M. W. Robert E. French, Grand Custodian, said that fifty years ago he was Senior Warden when Brother Ehrhardt received the degrees, and he wanted to shake hands on this occasion."

M. W. Bro. Eberhardt with Francis E. White represented Nebraska at the London Peace Celebration in 1919. He has our sympathy in his affliction.

Three Charters were granted. We note the adoption of the following resolution:

> "Whereas: The Grand Chapter, O. E. S., has appropriated the necessary amount up to $15,000.00 for the support and maintenance of the Masonic-Eastern Star Home for Children,
> "I move that this Grand Lodge appropriate the necessary amount up to $15,000.00 for the support of the Masonic-Eastern Star Home for Children, and that this be referred to the Committee on Finance."

The following amendment to the law was adopted:

> "All secretaries and treasurers of subordinate Lodges shall be bonded by a surety bond of an approved corporate surety bonding company, in amounts sufficient to cover their respective needs. Each Lodge shall determine the amount of coverage required by it, and said amounts shall be certified to the Grand Secretary, annually, and he shall obtain a blanket bond covering all of said amounts, together with the bond required of the Grand Secretary. The cost of said blanket bond shall be pro rated among, and collected from, the several Lodges according to the amount of the coverage required by said Lodges."

We are glad to see the Grand Lodge falling into line on this matter. Louisiana has had it in operation for two years.

We regret to learn of the retirement of our good old friend, Francis E. White, as Grand Secretary, after twenty-six years of service. However, we presume he had reasons therefor and congratulate him upon the recognition accorded by the Grand Lodge in creating him Grand Secretary Emeritus with compensation.

A committee of five were appointed on Masonic Education and the sum of $1500.00 was appropriated for their expenses.

JOHN WRIGHT, Grand Master.
LEWIS E. SMITH, Grand Secretary.

Nevada—1925.

The Sixty-first Annual Communication was held at Reno on the 10th of June, 1925.

Twenty-three Lodges were represented. Louisiana's representative was in attendance.

The Grand Master of California was a visitor and was elected to honorary membership.

The Grand Master reports having paid twenty-one official visits.

The Grand Master says of the condition of the Craft:

> "All of the Lodges I have visited as heretofore detailed, are in sound financial condition. The average attendance in most of them is good when compared with the number residing in each constituent jurisdiction. While there are some who are indifferent in lodge work and Masonic interest, my observations have led me to believe that the very great majority are interested in the work which Masonry has to do and are constantly striving individually and collectively to translate their inclinations in this respect into intelligent activities to promote its ideals and aspirations. The information I have gained from the Brethren throughout the entire State strengthens this conclusion. While there are occasional cases existing of Brethren at odds with one another, in general, harmony prevails among the Craft. It is not strange that there are such instances; otherwise it could be said that Masonry had attained perfection. In general the Brethren are practicing Masonic principles in an earnest endeavor to either remove these isolated cases of dissension, or to confine them within the narrowest limits."

The sections of his address relative to education and obedience to the law are particularly strong and breathe the true Masonic spirit.

Grand Secretary Vanderlieth receives his share of well-merited praise.

In his report, he says of the state of the Craft:

"It will be noted that the gain for the year falls below that of last year, but it is a gratification that the Lodges are giving more thought to quality than to quantity, and though the gain is not as great, the number of degrees conferred, 482, exceeds last year's record by nearly 50.

"The Lodges are more generally observing the anniversaries of our patron saints, Armistice Day, November 11th, and Brother Washington's birthday. Educational programmes and rehearsal nights have increased, the interests of the public schools have received due attention, and evenings of pleasure and fellowship have been more numerous.

"The Masonic Service Association Committee of the Grand Lodge, with a like Committee in each Lodge, have awaken a greater interest in the work of the Craft, strengthened the Craftsman's consciousness, broadened his viewpoint and deepened his love for the real worth of Masonry's great work for God and fellowman, but much yet remains to be done along this line."

The Committee on George Washington Memorial Fund reported the state as having collected 72.05 per cent of its quota.

M. W. Brother David J. Reese, Grand Master, was a visitor and addressed the Grand Lodge.

The Masonic Service Committee reported that the work was progressing nicely and that every effort was being made to make it a success.

Grand Secretary Vanderlieth presents his twenty-second report on Foreign Correspondence.

He reviews the proceedings of forty-seven Grand Lodges in the United States, eight in the Dominion of Canada, and twenty-two in other countries, making a total of seventy-seven. His work is well done as usual and is decidedly interesting. We appreciate his review of Louisiana and his very kind personal reference.

CLARENCE L. YOUNG, Grand Master.
EDWARD D. VANDERLIETH, Grand Secretary.

New Brunswick—1924.

The Fifty-seventh Annual Communication was held in the city of Moncton on the 28th of August, 1924.

Thirty-two Lodges were represented.

Louisiana was present in the person of our representative, W. Bro. Alex M. Rowan.

The Grand Master said in opening:

> "During my two years as Grand Master of this Jurisdiction I have been impressed with the fact that we give too much thought and time to the material things and not enough to the teachings of this great Fraternity. The sentiment throughout the Masonic world today is a greater exemplification of the Masonic Teachings of Brotherly Love, Relief and Truth, and a desire to render service to our fellow man and the moral advancement of the world. The teaching of Freemasonry must be full of burning fervor so as to create a desire in the heart of every member to express these teachings in actions. We should not consider that Masonry is an Institution from which we expect to receive, but we should put forth every effort towards the advancement and betterment of Mankind, and thus make this world recognize that Masonry has that end in view."

He paid twenty-eight official visits.

One Lodge was instituted and one constituted.

He laid the corner-stone of the new Masonic Temple on the 17th of October, 1923, and dedicated it at the opening of this session.

He granted sixteen dispensations to attend Divine Service in regalia, eight to confer degrees at intervals shorter than customary and three to inter with Masonic burial service.

From the report of the Grand Treasurer, we glean that the Benevolent Fund has assets amounting to $21,353.32, all invested in securities. Other funds have substantial credits.

One Charter was granted.

The following resolution, which was adopted, supports the position of the Grand Lodge of Louisiana:

> "Whereas, the harmony which existed between York, Grand Lodge of Mexico, working in the English language, and the Grand Lodge Valle de Mexico, working in the language of the country, is and has been for years disturbed by a bitter controversy as to their respective claims to regularity and jurisdiction;

"And Whereas, this Grand Lodge of New Brunswick does not wish to support the claims of either of the parties as against the other, or to appear to do so;

"Therefore Resolved, That the recognition accorded by this Grand Lodge to York Grand Lodge of Mexico be withdrawn, and that this Grand Lodge do not for the present extend fraternal intercourse to any of the Grand Lodges in the United States of Mexico."

Six District Deputy Grand Masters presented reports as to the condition of the different Lodges.

Membership, 5739.

GEORGE D. ELLIS, Grand Master.
J. TWINING HARTT, Grand Secretary.

New Hampshire—1925.

The One Hundred and Thirty-sixth Annual Communication was held at Concord on the 20th of May, 1925.

Sixty-four Lodges were represented.

Louisiana's representative was not in evidence.

M. W. Brother Andrew L. Randall, Past Grand Master of Texas and Executive Secretary of the Masonic Service Association of the United States, was a visitor and addressed the Grand Lodge.

The Grand Master said in opening:

"All of us ought to rejoice that our Freemasonry is not something that has a rigid fixedness as its leading characteristic. While its fundamentals may not be changed or modified by any man or body of men, its life may be newly expressed; its habits may be again created; its thought may be advanced; its hopes may be redirected; its purposes may be reinterpreted; its ultimate end may be made more glorious, all because a vision of greater usefulness has permitted us to apply the old things in newer ways. We change not our Freemasonry, but we have begun, in our progressiveness, to apply its basic principles in new channels. We talk as much as ever, possibly more than ever, about this thing we call Freemasonry, but our feet have taken us into human paths where we may begin the process of applying those principles, both in our own lives and in the lives of others. This great change is epochal and distinctive, and is the assurance to every thoughtful Master Mason that our institution is an agency for the carrying out of some of the plans of the Great Creator in this world of ours."

Three corner-stones were laid and two Masonic Temples dedicated.

Eight District Deputy Grand Masters reported the result of their labors.

A motion of P. G. M. Harry G. Noyes that the Lodges be assessed one dollar per member, for a year's subscription to the Master Mason, it to have not less than sixteen pages of New Hampshire matter of Masonic and local interest, was laid over until the next Annual Communication for action.

Under our amendment to the law, adopted at this session, Lodges failing to answer roll call at the opening and closing of the session will be subject to a fine of $10.00. However, the right of appeal to the Grand Master is reserved.

The Grand Treasurer reported balances of cash and bonds to the credit of the various funds amounting to $55,383.49.

Our good friend, Grand Secretary Harry M. Cheney, again presents the report on Foreign Correspondence. He says in opening:

"This is my report No. 19. Instead of growing more irksome, the job of writing it has a growing fascination. How it could be otherwise, if one loves his Freemasonry, I cannot understand. Once I tried to escape the work. I encountered only a frown and an order to stay. I am suspicious that I shall now keep on until usefulness is exhausted, with somebody else as the jury to determine the fact.

"Herein will be found something about the other Grand Lodges, disclosed in the succeding page of tabulation of proceedings reviewed. A very few others would have been included had they arrived.

"I have by no means attempted to keep myself wholly out of these pages. I have tried not to put too much of myself therein. If we did not have birds the insects would starve us to death. If we did not have insects, there would be a birdless world. That is nature's balance. I have tried, in my writing, to create a balance, as to myself.

"When you reach the last page I hope that you will have got the impression that Freemasonry is marching on. Our fraternal opportunity is being more surely grasped by our Masonic masses, and there is no inclination to run away from it. There is a determination, easily to be detected, to make of our institution an agency for the carrying out o:

the Divine plans. We have become convinced that just that is the reason for our organic life. Let us cling to this—the other things will adjust themselves."

He reviews the proceedings of sixty-seven Grand Lodges in a style wholly his own. He is an enemy of the shears and presents one of the most interesting reports in our experience.

It is a few years since the writer first saw the light of day and he had had such a varied experience that he is not easily embarrassed, but when he read the review on Louisiana, he must admit to a blush when he scanned the highly complimentary personal allusions to himself. We appreciate this greatly, Bro. Cheney, and assure you that we reciprocate your sentiments.

BELA KĪNGMAN, Grand Master.
HARRY M. CHENEY, Grand Secretary.

New Jersey—1925.

The One Hundred and Thirty-third Annual Communication was held at Trenton on the 22nd and 23rd of April, 1925.

Two hundred and forty-three Lodges out of a total of two hundred and forty-four answered roll call.

Louisiana's representative is always present in the person of Grand Secretary Cherry, who holds our commission.

Delegations of distinguished visitors from the Grand Lodges of Pennsylvania, Delaware, Connecticut, Rhode Island, Texas and Virginia were introduced and appropriately received.

The Grand Master said in opening:

> "A condition of harmony and prosperity prevails throughout our Grand Jurisdiction, our Lodges are in excellent condition and the indications of continued growth and prosperity are all about us."

One Lodge was constituted during the year and seven instituted.

Eight corner-stones were laid.

The Grand Master paid ninety-three official visits and says in connection:

> "At least one visit has been made in each Masonic District.
> "I was accompanied on these visits by members of my staff and found the conditions existing in the several districts to be most satisfactory. We were cordially entertained and it is believed that these opportunities of meeting the brethren have been productive of much good. I regret that time does not permit a detailed comment upon each of the visits."

He paid, besides, nine visits to Grand and Constituent Lodges outside of his state.

The address is a live one, covering all of the National Masonic activities of the day, besides matters of local interest and shows the Grand Master was in the saddle every moment of the time and riding hard at that.

The death of Past Grand Master Walter Chandler, who served during 1906, was reported.

Seven Charters were granted.

The Board of Governors of the Masonic Home presented an elaborate report of its activities, illustrated by cuts of the different Home buildings, altogether making a presentment highly creditable to the Grand Lodge.

The writer might add that as the representative of the Grand Lodge of New Jersey near the Grand Lodge of Louisiana since the year of 1906, it always affords him particular pleasure to review the proceedings of this Grand Lodge and note its achievements. For the years of the life of the Masonic Service Association, it has been my pleasure to meet and greet their representatives and I am pleased to testify to their high type both as men and as Masons.

Foreign Correspondence is by the joint committee. Sixty-two proceedings are ably reviewed. We notice ours are initialed by Bro. Ernest A. Reed, who has our heartfelt thanks for courteous and fraternal treatment.

RALPH E. LUM, Grand Master.
ISAAC CHERRY, Grand Secretary.

New Mexico—1925.

The Forty-seventh Annual Communication was held at Silver City on February 16th, 1925.

Thirty-seven Lodges were represented.

The Grand Master said in opening:

> "We have assembled today in the Forty-seventh Annual Communication of the Most Worshipful Grand Lodge of Ancient, Free and Accepted Masons of the State of New Mexico.
> "This means that there is almost a half-century of completed Masonic history in the doings of this Grand Body since its organization.
> "What a splendid record we have passed on to those of tomorrow who are to carry on this great trust.
> "No Mason can give consideration to that record but with a feeling of great pride.

"Those who established Masonry in this State, a then Territory, during the turbulent days of early pioneering, 'builded better than they knew.'

"This heritage is ours. But with that heritage there goes a trust, a trust to do even better than they who established Masonry in New Mexico.

"I know that we, and those who will come after us, will, with steadfast purpose and with the ideals of the Fraternity ever before them, be faithful to that trust and carry the standard of Freemasonry still forward and write the name of this great organization a little brighter upon the scroll of time."

He gave sixteen dispensations to permit joint occupancy.

He reports that during the year, Bro. Wilbur Keith, Secretary of the Masonic Service Association of Texas, with a corps of assistants, gave a series of their interesting illustrated addresses on Masonic service throughout the State.

In this connection, the Grand Master says:

"At each of these places on both occasions of the visits of the Texas Brethren, the New Mexico Masons were very generous in their reception and entertainment of our neighbors. While in every city, the New Mexico Brethren exhibited every evidence of hospitality to our visitors, none were so generous as our Brethren of Carlsbad, where our entire party was given a rare treat by them when they escorted us through the famous Carlsbad caverns. This twentieth century wonder of the world was not only a revelation to our friends from the Grand Jurisdiction of Texas, but to your Grand Master as well. At Carrizozo we were joined by Past Grand Master Francis E. Lester and visited Fort Stanton, where our Texas Brethren inspected that institution, met and talked with a number of the Brethren confined in the hospital.

"I feel that the Grand Jurisdiction of New Mexico is greatly indebted to these good Brethren of Texas for their wonderful assistance in putting before the membership of our Grand Jurisdiction the Masonic Educational Service program, and I extend to them, as Grand Master of New Mexico, the sincere thanks and gratitude of this Grand Jurisdiction."

The Masonic Service Association, Masonic Relief Fund, the George Washington Memorial Association and the Masonic Tubercular Sanatorium are other important topics handled.

The various funds show a total balance of $98,117.05.

The Committee on Revolving Student Loan Fund, say in part:

"A total of thirty-seven loans have been made by this Grand Lodge in the two years of administration of this Fund by the same Committee for both years.

"The aggregate amount loaned, excluding several loans in process of completion, is $6,411.40. These loans have been made to nineteen young men and to eighteen young women. All loans are made to students attending institutions of higher learning, as provided for in the By-Laws of this Grand Lodge. Eleven of the beneficiaries of this Fund are at the University of New Mexico; five at the New Mexico State College; two at Montezuma College, East Las Vegas; one at the New Mexico Military Institute, Roswell; one in the New Mexico State Normal, East Las Vegas; three at the State Teachers' College, Silver City; one at the New Mexico School of Mines, Socorro; one at the University of Texas; two at Baylor University, Waco, Texas; one at the University of Colorado; one at the University of Michigan; two at the University of Arizona; one at Homer Institute, Kansas City, Missouri; one at the University of Nebraska; and two at Harvard University, Cambridge, Massachusetts.

"Loans in the total sum of $480.00 have been repaid in full; part-payments of loans have aggregated $465.48, and interest paid amounts to $26.30. Very few loans are in any way overdue as to payment, and the policy of this Committee has been not to discommode any worthy beneficiary of this Fund who is financially unable to repay the loan promptly when due, but to extend further time in deserving cases. It is the opinion of your Committee that all loans made are good and will be ultimately repaid."

Exhaustive reports were presented by the Committee on Fort Bayard Relief and Sojourners' Club and the Masonic Tuberculosis Sanitarium, all showing the great amount of good being done by the former and the absolute necessity of providing for the care of tubercular patients, in some way, in the beneficial environment of New Mexico.

Thirteen District Deputies submitted reports as to the condition of the Lodges under their care.

Past Grand Master Lucius Dills is Chairman of the Committee on Foreign Correspondence, but owing to illness and other matters which intervened, he does not present a review of other proceedings, but only a brief summary of his impressions of the whole.

ALPHEUS A. KEEN, Grand Secretary.

New South Wales—1924.

The Thirty-sixth Annual report of the United Grand Lodge of New South Wales shows that two Quarterly Communications were held beginning July 4th, 1923, to December 12th of the same year, and two Quarterly and one Special Communications were held beginning March 12th, 1924, to June 11th, 1924.

At the first session the Grand Master was proclaimed for the tenth term and the other officers were installed.

In his address the Grand Master stated that since he had first assumed the office the funds had increased £139,000 and the membership 30,523 and that during that time £360,000 had been expended in the erection of new Masonic Temples, while the masonic School caters to the needs, (to use his expression) "to seventy-two of the happiest little children this State of New South Wales contains."

At the quarterly session of September 12th the Grand Master reported attending corner-stone laying and dedication ceremonies, and found it necessary to warn the Craft against Co-Masonry, an order to which both sexes were admitted, and against the Ku Klux Klan, stating that he had been reliably informed that some brother had, at a banquet, made a talk in its interest and asserted that in the United States ninety per cent of its membership were Masons.

The Jurisdiction is divided into 12 Metropolitan and 41 Country Districts, each under a Deputy Inspector of Workings, or District Deputies, each of whom presented reports in detail. It is evident that the Grand Lodge has a splendid system of supervision.

One guinea or twenty-one shillings was added to each initiation fee to be credited to the Masonic Temple Fund. The Trustees of the Masonic School were authorized to purchase an additional eighty acres of land.

At the session of December 12th, 1923, the Grand Master reported the Constitution of fourteen new Lodges and again the various inspectors reported.

The other session bear reports upon matters of detail, of local interest only. Suffice it to say that the various reports show that the Freemasonry of New South Wales is the highest and broadest type and that it is making wonderful progress.

The different reports of the Board of Benevolence shows that the brethren regard their Masonry seriously and are doing their duty by their aged ones and their dependents.

Arthur H. Bray, Grand Secretary since August, 1888, resigned as Grand Secretary on account of advancing years.

The Foreign Correspondence Committee under the Chairmanship of Brother William Epps present one of the best topical reviews than it has been our pleasure to read in some time.

WILLIAM THOMPSON, Grand Master.
DAVID CUNNINGHAM, Grand Secretary.

New York—1925.

The One Hundred and Forty-fourth Annual Communication was opened in the Grand Lodge room in the City of New York on the 5th of May, 1925.

The number of Lodges represented is not noted.

Louisiana's representative was not in evidence.

The Grand Master said in opening:

> "We are gathered here in the 144th Annual Communication of this Grand Lodge to survey and appraise the events of the past year, and to legislate for the future.
> "We take up our duties with a deep sense of gratitude to Almighty God for His goodness and mercy and with thanksgiving for the manifold blessings bestowed upon us all.
> "The foundations of our institution, upon which we have builded, and upon which our forefathers in the Craft builded, remain secure, inviolate and undisturbed, and with unfaltering faith in the promise that the 'Foundation of God standeth sure,' we face the future with a firm and steadfast resolve that they shall ever so remain. 'Except Jehovah build the house, they labor in vain that build it.' "

The report shows that the Grand Master personally conducted some twenty Masonic ceremonies of dedication and corner-stone laying.

He granted fifty-seven dispensations for various purposes.

Nine dispensations were granted for new Lodges in the State and four for Lodges at Bucarest, Roumania.

The sum of $17,505.00 was appropriated during the year for Relief in Foreign Countries.

The Grand Master reported at length of his withdrawal of the Grand Lodge from the International Masonic Association, which was based upon the opinion of the Judge Advocate of the Grand Lodge, as follows:

> "It is therefore my opinion that before the Grand Lodge of the State of New York, or any of its duly accredited representatives, may hold Masonic intercourse or enter into any engagements affecting or incidental to Masonry as accepted by the Grand Lodge of the State of New York with foreign bodies or Grand Lodges, it is prerequisite that such a Lodge > or Grand Lodge must meet every requirement which the Grand Lodge of New York considers necessary for official recognition, and that such recognition has actually been granted by the Grand Lodge of New York."

He also reported upon the withdrawal from the Masonic Service Association of the United States.

The Grand Treasurer reported a balance on deposit of $163,523.79.

A number of Special Funds, dedicated to particular purposes, have handsome balances.

The report of the Superintendent of the Masonic Home and Hospital splendidly shows the work of these wonderful institutions.

Upon the recommendation of the Committee on Foreign Correspondence, recognition was accorded the following bodies: Grand Orient of the Argentine Republic; Grand Orient of Greece; Grand Orient of Turkey, Grand Lodge "Zue Brudertrue" at Liepzig, in Saxony; Spanish Grand Lodge at Barcelona.

The Committee on Foreign Correspondence reported their approval of the action of the Grand Master in withdrawing recognition from the Grand Orient of Belgium for the reason that they do not exact a belief in God from their candidates and the banishment of the Bible from their Altars, and submitted the following resolution, which was unanimously adopted:

> "Resolved, That the action of the Grand Master with reference to the Grand Orient of Belgium be, and hereby is, approved, and that the cancellation and vacation of our relations with the Grand Orient of Belgium be, and hereby is, ratified and confirmed."

Eleven Charters were granted. The proceedings of the Grand Lodge of New York cover so many items of activity that it is difficult in a brief review to cover all of them.

The report of the accomplished historian, R. M. Ossian Lang, upon the question of Masonic Origins, is supported by numbers of authorities and is altogether a thesis worthy of the attention of any Masonic student.

The report of the Committee on Social Education and Service, by M. W. Brother Townsend Scudder, and the various other reports on live topics of the day make not only interesting but educational reading and only cause this writer to regret that they cannot be placed in the hands of the brethren of his State.

The following resolution was adopted:

> "Resolved, That the Committee on Legislation and Law Enforcement be, and it hereby is, authorized to take and prosecute such proceedings of a civil or criminal character or both as may be necessary to prevent the unlawful use by any organization, corporation, or individual of the words

'Ancient Free and Accepted Masons' or 'Free and Accepted Masons' or the letters 'F. & A. M.,' or any other title, name or names that are similar to the name of our Fraternity and are likely to deceive and mislead men into the belief that such organization is a genuine Masonic body and to bring and prosecute any proceeding that may seem advisable and necessary to revoke the charter and vacate and set aside the certificate of incorporation of any organization, society, or corporation that has been created and exists in imitation of the Grand Lodge of Free and Accepted Masons in the State of New York or of any subordinate Lodge thereof, that falsely and fradulently represents itself to be a legitimate and genuine Grand Lodge or subordinate Lodge of Free and Accepted Masons as represented by this Grand Body, and that said Committee be authorized to seek, by legislation, such amendment or amendments to the existing laws as may be necessary to protect our Fraternity against the unlawful use of its name."

The committee on Foreign Correspondence of which Past Grand Masters S. U. Sawyer and A. S. Tomkins and Grand Historian Ossian Lang are members present and present their customary comprehensive review of the proceedings of the different Grand Lodges, making up, as a whole, one of the best tabloid histories of Free-Masonry for the time, extant.

WILLIAM A. ROWAN, Grand Master.
ROBT. JUDSON KENWORTHY, Grand Secretary.

New Zealand—1924.

The Thirty-fifth Annual Communication was held at Auckland on the 26th of November, 1924.

Two hundred and seventy-two Lodges were represented.

It is a pleasure to note that Bro. G. H. Watts, Louisiana's representative, was in attendance.

The Grand Master said in opening:

"The 'Wheel of Time' has brought us round to the Thirty-fifth Annual Meeting of the Grand Lodge, and in the ordinary course of events the gathering would be presided over by the Grand Master. You know, however, that His Excellency Viscount Jellicoe, who, for the past two years was not only our Chief Ruler but was also the Governor-General and Commander-in-Chief of His Majesty's Military and Naval Forces in this Dominion, left our shores yesterday for that country which even we Colonials think, and speak of, as the 'Homeland.'

"During the two years that His Excellency held office as Grand Master he never tired of striving to advance and uphold the highest ideals and best traditions of our ancient Craft, and, while we regret his departure, we feel that he has left New Zealand richer and Freemasonry stronger as the result of his work amongst us; and I am confident that No Grand Master of the past ever more truly endeared himself to us than the distinguished man who has just retired from office."

and further:

"During the last two centuries many once great institutions have been swept away by an ever-advancing wave of public opinion. They had outgrown their usefulness, the world no longer had time for them, and they died and are forgotten. Strange to say that it has been during the said period that Freemasonry has shown its greatest vitality, and certainly never in its recorded history was it a greater living force than it is today."

The various funds show cash balances amounting to £84,518.

The Grand Master was elected and the remainder of the officers appointed and the installation conducted with the pomp and ceremony usually followed by Grand Lodges following the English Constitution.

The following amendments to existing law were adopted:

"A Collective Ballot may be taken, provided that, if there be black balls equal to, or in excess of, the number provided for in the Lodge's By-laws excluding a candidate, each candidate shall be balloted for individually.

"A Member of a Lodge may resign his membership therein by announcement made by him in open Lodge or by writing under his hand addressed to, and received by, the Secretary."

The reports of the various benevolences show that our brethren of New Zealand in line with others descended from the Brother Grand Lodge of England are not unmindful of the needs of their unfortunate and needy brethren, or their widows and orphans, and in fact are liberal in appropriations for their support.

The newly elected Grand Master delivered a splendid address before the close of the Grand Lodge, from which it is a pleasure to extract:

"I have often thought that as Freemasons we have many privileges, and at the same time we have serious responsibilities. We belong to what we believe to be the oldest organization on earth today—an organization founded for the good not only of its members, but also for the good of humanity. It is quite true that its origin is lost in the mists of antiquity, but it is evident that its principles have been handed down from time immemorial. There are no politics in Freemasonry, no sect, no creed; but our guide is contained in the Volume of the Sacred Law, where we are told in its pages to meditate upon it day and night, and so to observe the things that are written therein, that thereby we may prosper and have good success. We are asked to notice and to act up to the Golden Rule: 'Do unto others as you would that others should do unto you.' We are directed to bear one another's burdens, to practise charity and benevolence. We are expected to avoid envy, slander, and tale-bearing. We are asked to encourage peace on earth and good-will between men in our everyday life. We are to lead clean lives. No man is perfect, but as Freemasons, if we endeavor to live up to the teachings of the Sacred Law as given to us by the Great Architect of the Universe, we shall be all the happier as individuals and, in consequence, the Craft to which we belong will be looked up to, honored and respected."

The book is embellished with photographs of the Grand Master and the Wardens clothed in their handsome regalia and photographs of the Past Grand Master's Jewel and Regalia presented to the retiring Grand Master Viscount (Admiral) Jellicoe, when he left New Zealand for the Mother Country.

WILLIAM FERGUSON MASSEY, Grand Master.
GEORGE BARCLAY, Grand Secretary.

North Carolina—1925.

The One Hundred and Thirty-eighth Annual Communication was held at Raleigh on the 20th and 22nd of January, 1925.

Two hundred and twenty-six Lodges were represented.

Bro. M. D. Haywood, Louisiana's representative, was in attendance.

Eleven corner-stones were laid during the year.

Under the heading "Appeals for Aid," the Grand Master says:

"Permit me to say just here that I am convinced some of our Lodges spend too much for entertainment and pleasure and to little for charity, thereby creating the thought in the minds of the profane that a Masonic Lodge is simply a place for amusement. It is wrong—a grievous wrong, my brethren, that will work untold harm if we permit it to continue. One of the fundamental principles of our great Fraternity is charity—to help the needy and distressed. We should practice what we teach, for the greatest good that we can do in this world is the service we render to suffering humanity. I, therefore, urge each subordinate Lodge to arrange its finances so that it will include not only the dues to the Grand Lodge, but likewise so much for charity, entertainment, and the necessary incidental expenses; and that it permit no more of its income to be spent for the last two combined than it does for charity."

The Grand Master thus ruled on the matter of domicile:

"Held, that a single man's home is where he eats, sleeps and has his washing done, and not where his mother resides, nor necessarily where he owns property."

We might add "Where he is registered and votes."

The Grand Auditor reports a cash balance of $22,323.52.

The Grand Secretary reports a net gain of 1237.

Rev. Bro. W. H. Frazer, Grand Orator, delivered the oration, upon the topic "Manhood and Masonry," from which we extract:

"Do you remember that beautiful scene in the 'Vision of Sir Launfal,' by James Russell Lowell, when he tells of the knight who went forth in the morning of his life with glistening mail and upon a buoyant charger to seek and recover the Holy Grail? Into the different climes he went, and sought for years and years in vain. When health was broken and hope was receding, when his mail was rusty and his steed was faltering and unsteady, with bowed head and downcast eyes he rode back to the old castle from which he had gone, and he found again the leper whom he had slighted as he went forth in the morning of life. But now he dismounts, takes the only musty crust of bread in his possession, breaks it in two pieces, and gives half of it to the begging leper. He turns to the brook hard by, breaks the ice over it, fills the battered cup hanging by his side, and presses the sparkling water to the lips of the leper. Then he realizes that he has found the Holy Grail, and that he was in possession of it all the while. Henry Van Dyke, in the story of 'The Other Wise man' tells the same story. If Masonry is to make her membership dynamic, she must inculcate this great truth, that they may find in the things that they are prone to overlook, the great discoveries of opportunity for service for which they are seeking."

The different reports on the Oxford Orphanage which housed at last report 194 girls and 181 boys, a total of 375 children, show that it has been in operation for 52 years and is still doing a wonderful work which reflects much to the credit of our North Carolina brethren.

The Masonic and Eastern Star Home at Greensboro has as its guests 46 old men and women, one of the old brethren 99 years of age. Who can conceive of a higher and better objective for Masonic effort than to care for the helpless.

The Grand Lodge is actively engaged in propagating the work outlined by the Masonic Service Association and apparently is meeting with considerable success.

One Charter was granted.

In one particular case, when a member of another Grand Jurisdiction applied to a North Carolina Lodge for affiliation with a certificate of good standing attached, this being permissible under the law of that State, the Grand Master ruled that the petition was illegally received, as the applicant should have attached his dimit. However, the Committee on Jurisprudence, while approving the action of the Grand Master, says:

> "However, that there may be no further misunderstanding of this important matter, and in justice to the brethren of other Grand Jurisdictions with whom this Grand Jurisdiction holds fraternal relation, your Committee recommends the adoption of the following regulation, to be annotated to Section 146, Code 1924: viz, The provisions of Section 146 of the Constitution shall apply to all applicants for membership from brethren holding membership in any grand Jurisdiction with which this Grand Lodge is in fraternal relationship, provided that the applicant is a bona fide resident of the State of North Carolna at the date of his application."

This could not apply to persons holding membership in Louisiana, whose affiliation in this way would be subject to dispute.

The reports of forty District Deputies testify to the condition of the Craft under their charge.

Foreign Correspondence is by Brother J. Edward Allen, who presents one of the ablest reviews of the proceedings that have come to hand.

He opens with a disertation on the Mexican condition, supported by extracts from statements of the two Grand Lodges in the City of Mexico and from reports of various brethren who have investigated matters, and concluded by stating:

> "This writer believes that North Carolina ought either to withdraw recognition from the Valle de Mexico, or to grant it to the York Grand Lodge. Either course is possible."

He also presents exhaustive reviews of the history of Freemasonry in Portugal and Belgium and as a result recognition previously accorded all of the above was withdrawn.

The work of Brother Allen, in its 419 pages, separately bound, is really a text book upon World-Wide Freemasonry and worthy of being kept by anyone for study and reference.

He is liberal with space and accords Louisiana four and one-half pages. He is rather free with his comment and evidently does his measuring with a North Carolina yard stick. At the conclusion of our reading, we had no doubt whatever that we had seen ourselves as others see us.

LEON CASH, Grand Master.
WILLIAM W. WILLSON, Grand Secretary.

North Dakota—1925.

The Thirty-sixth Annual Communication was held at Grand Forks June 16th to 18th, 1925.

One hundred and twenty-three Lodges were represented.

Past Grand Master Ralph L. Miller represented Louisiana.

Seven brethren each with a Masonic connection of over fifty years were introduced and presented to the Grand Lodge. One of these had been a Mason for seventy-one years.

The Grand Master said in opening:

> "It is with a heart overflowing with love and veneration for this great fraternity and with gratitude and affection towards my brethren that I open this Thirty-sixth Annual Communication.
> "I cannot help reflecting upon the happiness that has been mine the past year in doing a little something to keep the beacon light of our teachings before the eyes of the Masons of this jurisdiction.
> "This Masonic year has been a busy and, I hope, a profitable one. Your Grand Master has attended many meetings, written hundreds of letters, granted a score of special dispensations, written articles for the Grand Lodge Bulletin and other Masonic periodicals and has tried generally to keep in close touch with matters Masonic in this Jurisdiction."

He reported the death of M. W. Brother Edwin Hugh James, who served as Grand Master 1900-1901.

The Grand Lodge has a Masonic Service program in active operation. District meetings were held in all sections of the State, the Grand Master attending twelve.

The Grand Master reported at length the work of the Masonic Service Association at Chicago, November 11th and 12th, 1924.

He also visited the Grand Lodge of Montana.

One corner-stone was laid.

The Grand Treasurer reported a balance of $15,334.17 in cash and securities to the credit of the General Fund and $38,690.45 to the credit of the Relief Fund.

Grand Secretary Stockwell says in opening his report:

"In presenting our fifteenth report to this Grand Lodge we express our grateful appreciation for the continued confidence reposed in us, and desire to convey to the Grand Master and other Grand Officers our hearty thanks for many courtesies. It is a great satisfaction to be a part of an organization that is dedicated to the service of humanity, that is entirely altruistic in its purposes. The Mason who comes in touch with the work of a grand Lodge and does not have his vision broadened, his resolution strengthened, and his ideals enlarged has failed utterly to catch the spirit of our Great Order. During the past three weeks, at the suggestion of our Grand Master, we have been talking on the theme, 'Applied Masonry,' and we are convinced that more than ever before are the great principles of Masonry touching and influencing the lives of our membership. It is well, it is a hopeful sign and gives us courage for the future. We have problems to solve in the administration of our Lodges. There is need for leadership always but Masonry has always furnished leadership in the civic business and professional life of our communities and the state, so we have a right to expect that this same leadership will not be found wanting in the solution of any of our own Masonic problems."

The Grand Lodge of Panama was recognized and an exchange of representatives authorized.

An amendment to the law which provided that American Citizenship should be a prerequisite to applications to the Order in the State failed of adoption.

The various Committee reports, each of a high order of excellence, all indicate that the representatives to the Grand Lodge are men of superior education and ability. North Dakota, under its able leadership, is one of the most advanced and progressive in the United States. We might well all sit up and take lessons.

Brother George H. Phelps presents his third report on Foreign Correspondence. He has reviewed the proceedings of sixty Grand Lodges. One report in topical form was presented to the Grand Lodge and is shown in the body of the proceedings, the other by States, is printed as an appendix. Each of these show the result of faithful work and are highly creditable. For one thing he avoids the use of the shears.

Membership, 15,070.

THEODORE B. ELTON, Grand Master.
WALTER L. STOCKWELL, Grand Secretary.

Nova Scotia—1925.

The Sixtieth Annual Communication was held at Halifax.

Fifty-seven Lodges were represented.

The Grand Lodge was opened with a religious service, conducted by the Grand Chaplain.

The Grand Master said in the opening of his address:

> "The lapse of time has brought another Masonic year to a close. Its events are now history, its possibilities for good are now at an end; and we are gathered together in this historic city of Halifax on the occasion of the 60th Annual Communication of this Grand Lodge, to consult upon the work of the past, and to plan for the work of the future, as Masons have done in all ages before us.
> "The past year shows a net gain in membership of only 80. This is not surprising, when we realize the severity of the business depression which we have been passing through, aggravated no doubt by the regrettable industrial situation in the coal mining districts of our fair Province. Surely, the time has arrived when Capital and Labor can meet in a common ground. Have they not eyes to see that their interests are identical; that what hurts one equally hurts the other; that each is essential to our progress and happiness?"

He reported the deaths of Past Grand Masters John Hay and Murray Lawson.

Nine District meetings were held during the year.

The Grand Master paid seventeen official visits.

The Grand Treasurer reported cash in bank amounting to $5364.56 and securities amounting to $5000.00.

From the reports of ten District Deputy Grand Masters it appears that the Lodges have all been visited and carefully inspected during the year; in fact, the Grand Master complimented these officers for efficient services rendered.

The Masonic Endowment Fund is credited with securities amounting to $44,716.29.

Recognition was accorded to:

The Grand Lodge of Ecuador,

The Grand Lodge of Panama,

The Grand Lodge of the United States of Venezuela,

The National Grand Lodge of Colombia at Barranquilla,

The Grand Lodge of the Republic of Colombia at Bogota,

The National Grand Lodge of Colombia at Cartagena,

The Grand Lodge of the Republic at Guatemala,

The Grand Lodge of Peru,

The Grand Lodge Cuscatlan of Salvador,
The Grand Lodge of Honduras,
The Grand Lodge of Porto Rico.
The Grand Orient of The Netherlands,
The Grand Lodge Alpina, Switzerland,
The Grand Lodge of Vienna, Austria,
The Grand Lodge of Norway,
The Grand Lodge of Denmark.

Fraternal relations with the Grand Orient of Belgium were severed by reason of that Body removing the Bible from its Altars.

Grand Secretary James C. Jones presents his Eleventh Review of the proceedings of other Jurisdictions.

His report covers sixty-eight Grand Lodges and is written in a pleasing narative style and presents altogether an excellent compendium of Masonic events of the year.

He treats Louisiana, quoting from the oration of our Grand Chaplain, Rev. Robt. H. Harper, on the subject of "Facing the East." We appreciate his complimentary notice of this Scribe.

ARTHUR JAMES DAVIS, Grand Master.
JAMES C. JONES, Grand Secretary.

Ohio—1924.

The One Hundred and Fifteenth Annual Grand Communication was held at Cleveland on the 15th and 16th of October, 1924.

Five hundred and eighty-seven out of a total of six hundred and one Lodges were represented.

Louisiana was represented in the person of Bro. Otto H. Hohly of Toledo.

The Grand Master opened his address with feeling references to the deaths of Past Grand Masters Campbell M. Voohries, Isaac Kinsey, Edwin Lewis Lybarger and Grand Secretary J. H. Bromwell, the latter of whom has served in office continuously since October 24th, 1888.

Four new Lodges were reported instituted under dispensation.

Four Lodges were constituted.

Sixteen Lodge halls were dedicated and twenty-two corner-stones laid.

The Grand Master paid forty-two official visits.

Past Grand Master Louis A. Watres of the Grand Lodge of Pennsylvania and President of the George Washington Memorial Association, was a visitor and addressed the Grand Lodge at length on the aims and purposes of the Association.

The Grand Master's address of some fifty pages covers all of his official acts during the year in a masterly way. There is every evidence that his year of service was a busy one. A very interesting reference is made to the visit of Sir Alfred Robbins, President of the Board of General Purposes of the Grand Lodge of England.

The Grand Treasurer reports assets in cash and invested funds amounting to $419,611.97.

Grand Secretary Johnson in the opening of his report says:

> "To be able to report that all Returns and Grand Dues were received within the time-limit is a very pleasant task, but it can be safely ventured you have no conception o the vast amount of work and correspondence involved in accomplishing such a result."

We expect that every member of the Guild will readily echo Amen.

Four Charters were granted.

The Committee on Accounts show that the Grand Lodge has in its General Fund $416,373.51 in cash and investments.

Foreign Correspondence is by Past Grand Master O. P. Sperra, who reviews the proceedings of seventy Grand Jurisdictions and pays fraternal notice to Louisiana.

Membership, 187,701.

JAMES B. RUHL, Grand Master.
HARRY S. JOHNSON, Grand Secretary.

Oklahoma—1925.

The Seventeenth Annual Communication was held at Tulsa on the 24th, 25th and 26th of February, 1925.

Three hundred and eighty Lodges were represented.

Louisiana's representative was conspicious by his absence.

The Grand Master presented an excellent report of some sixty pages, opening with a discourse on the origin and philosophy of Masonry and following with the story of the work of the year.

In the company of the Grand Secretary, he practically covered the State visiting the Lodges and attending public ceremonies.

The section devoted to the Masonic Home shows conditions that are highly creditable to the Grand Lodge. The various other sections of the report show that he has not only had a busy term, for, as he states, his Masonic duties consumed two-thirds of the year, but also that he was equal to any occasion and entirely capable of dealing with the problems presented.

He reported the death of Past Grand Master Arthur James Weir, the Superintendent of the Masonic Home, and that of Past Grand Master Richard W. Choate.

Two Lodges were constituted and four instituted during the year.

The Grand Treasurer reported a balance of $31,061.53. The Grand Lodge had on deposit in the Bank of Carnegie the sum of $25,859.30 on March 28, 1924, when the bank failed. The report of the Board of Control of the Masonic Home fully corroborates the statements of the Grand Master. At the close of the year there were 114 residents and there were besides 80 non-resident members who were supported at their homes. The total amount expended for the maintenance of the Home for eleven months was $34,325.52.

Grand Orator Wm. M. Sexson addressed in a splendid talk upon Applied Masonry. We thoroughly enjoyed its reading and are satisfied that the Grand Lodge must have appreciated its delivery.

The proceedings are embellished, and we use the term advisably, with the pictures of M. W. G. B. Bristow, Grand Master for the current year, M. W. Bro. W. M. Anderson, Grand Secretary, and M. W. Bro. Joseph S. Murrow, the old Grand Secretary of the Indian Territory, now Grand Secretary Emeritus of the Grand Lodge of Oklahoma.

Brother Murrow, aged and feeble, was requested to address the Grand Lodge. One can imagine the impression created on the minds of the brethren, when they listened to the wonderful words of admonition from the lips of this revered old brother, concluding with:

> "But isn't it right that you should say to your own soul, to your own spirit within you, that is eternal, never dies, can't you say to that one, I'm going to prepare you for the future, I'm going to prepare you for the future, My soul, you must be prepared. Isn't that reasonable, isn't that right, isn't it real good sense? That Book tells you it is, it tells you that it is. Oh, my brethren, I may never see you again or say a word possibly, possibly never again, but these are my last words and with it goes a soul, even to the heart within me, to plead with you to prepare for your eternal place of happiness and joy and peace and eternal life.
> "Pardon me, Most Worshipful Grand Master, may I make a demonstration? My brethren, pardon the old man. I want to see as many of you as will meet me in Heaven by the preparation of the soul for eternal life through that Book and the Cause of that Book, the God of that Book, the life of that Book. Will you please let me see you stand? (The brethren stand.) Oh God! I thank my Heavenly Father; let Thy servant depart in peace, for my eyes have seen Thy salvation."

From the report of the Secretary of the Masonic Service Association Committee, the work of the bureau is well under way and is being enthusiastically received by the brethren.

An exhaustive report was presented on the Order of the Rainbow.

Five Charters were granted.

Foreign Correspondence is by Past Grand Master Thomas C. Humphrey, who reviews the proceedings of 57 Grand Jurisdictions in his customary able and pleasing style. He gives Louisiana courteous attention.

WILLIAM M. ANDERSON, Grand Secretary.

Oregon—1924.

The Seventy-fourth Annual Communication was held at Portland beginning June 11th and ending the 13th.

One Hundred and fifty-two Lodges were represented.

Louisiana's representative failed to attend.

The Grand Master reported three Lodges instituted, two constituted, three corner-stones laid and three Lodge halls dedicated.

He gave fifty dispensations for various purposes.

Thirty-five thousand dollars was loaned to three Lodges during the year, to assist them in rebuilding their Lodge halls.

The Lodges in Portland are engaged in an effort to raise $1,000,000.00 for the building of a Temple for the use of all of the Masonic Bodies located there.

Brother O. G. Hagmeier, Grand Orator, delivered a splendid address upon "Some of the Truths in Masonry," during the course of which he aptly said:

> "Often we find among our members men who have had the degrees of Masonry conferred upon them, and promptly forgotten; frequently we find men who, from the day of their raising as Master Masons, have not given the matter a single moment of thought or study. It is only through study that we are able to find the beauties contained within our ritual, and the truths within our Monitor; it is our duty as Masons to set the example, so that the newcomer in our ranks will realize that Masonry as an institution is not simply a Lodge, or its communications a place to meet his fellow man; but an organization that has for its object the search for truth, the exemplification of righteousness and the enlightenment of all mankind. Such is the nature of our engagement, and such is the reason of our existence."

The Grand Lodge has balances in various funds amounting to $802,888.41.

It is interesting to note that there are 46 residents at the Masonic Home and that the per cost of maintenance is $746.50 per year, or $2.073 per day.

The Committee presents an exhaustive report which is highly creditable to the Oregon brethren.

The Masonic Service and Employment Bureau reports that it has a card file of over 2000 Masonic employers and that during the year it has succeeded in placing in positions 77½% of the applicants for positions. This is a most excellent record and one of which they have every reason to feel proud.

Three Charters were granted and the Grand Lodges of Guatemala, United States of Venezuela and Czcho-Slovakia were recognized.

For the present, the Grand Lodge is raising its quota to the George Washington Memorial Fund by voluntary subscription.

The Committee on Necrology quote the following beautiful lines from Victor Hugo, in support of the doctrine of the immortality of the soul:

> "I feel in myself the future life. I am like a forest which has been more than once cut down. The new shoots are stronger than ever. I am rising, I know, toward the sky. The sunshine is on my head. The earth gives me its generous sap, but heaven lights me with the reflection of unknown worlds. You say the soul is nothing but the resultant of bodily powers. Why, then, is my soul more luminous when my bodily powers begin to fail? Winter is on my head and eternal spring is in my heart. Then I breathe at this hour the fragrance of the lilacs, the violets and the roses as at twenty years. The nearer I approach the end, the plainer I hear around me the immortal symphonies of the worlds which invite me. It is marvelous, yet simple. It is a fairy tale and it is history. For half a century I have been writing my thoughts in prose, verse, history, philosophy, drama, romance, tradition, satire, ode, song. I have tried all. But I feel that I have not said the thousandth part of what is in me. When I go down to my grave I can say, like so many others: 'I have finished my day's work.' But I cannot say: 'I have finished my life.' My day's work will begin again the next morning. The tomb is not a blind alley; it is a thoroughfare. It closes in the twilight to open with the dawn. I improve every hour because I love this world as a fatherland. My work is only beginning. My monument is hardly above its foundation. I will be glad to see it mounting forever."

M. W. Bro. J. R. N. Bell, Grand Chaplain, was installed for the forty-eighth consecutive time.

The Grand Lodge authorized the Trustees to expend whatever funds that might be necessary for the maintenance of Masonic headquarters at Portland during the triennial of the Grand Encampment of Knights Templar.

Foreign Correspondence is by Brother David P. Mason, who presents a valuable compendium of the different proceedings. In fact, a tabloid history of Freemasonry for the year. This might be modified by the statement, however, that he is most liberal with his space and particularly generous in his treatment of Louisiana, for which he has our heartfelt thanks.

Pennsylvania—1924.

In accord with their practice, four Quarterly Communications were held during the year.

At the meeting of March 5th it was reported that a donation of $250,000.00 had been made for the erection of a Home for Boys on the grounds of the Masonic Homes at Elizabethtown, the donor further agreeing, on the completion of the building, to contribute $200,000.00 additional for its maintenance.

And at the same session it was announced that another donor had contributed $50,000.00 for the benefit of the Masonic Homes.

And again, the brethren of Lancaster County raised $95,000.00 for the same purpose.

Our brethren of Pennsylvania are particularly fortunate in this respect and without doubt have a total of more splendid endowments for the benefit of their Homes than any other Grand Lodge.

The other Quarterly Communications involve current matters of Legislation and reports of the Masonic Homes. These institutions are splendidly endowed, and maintained and supported in a manner in keeping with the dignity of this large and prosperous jurisdiction.

The Annual Communication was held at Philadelphia on the 27th of December. One hundred and thirty Lodges were represented.

Past Grand Master Abraham M. Beitler, Chairman of the Committee on Clandestine Lodges, delivered an address, in the course of which he reviewed the past history of the operations of the Grand Orient of France in Louisiana and the facts leading to the discontinuance of fraternal relations by our Grand Lodge and the Grand Lodges of the United States from that Body, and led upon the organization of the Regional Grand Lodge of Pennsylvania by the Grand Orient of Spain and its subsequent abandonment by that Grand Lodge and adoption by the Grand Orient of France and presented the following resolutions which were unanimously adopted:

" 'Resolved, That the Grand Secretary forward to each of the Grand Lodges in the United States a copy of this report, calling their attention to the fact that the body which the Grand Orient of France has "taken under its wings" is authorized by the Grand Orient of France to create Lodges in every State, excepting Alabama, Iowa, Minnesota, Rhode Island and New Jersey, and that its power is to extend to those States if and when the fraternal relations now existing between the several Grand Lodges of those States and the Grand Orient of France ceases.

" 'Resolved Further, That this Grand Lodge, which has always firmly held and still holds the views expressed by our Right Worshipful Grand Master Brother Richard Vaux (set out in the foregoing report) respectfully and confidently asks its sister Jurisdictions to adopt those views as fundamental in Freemasonry, and requests those Grand Lodges which are in fraternal relations with the Grand Orient of France to give their adherence to those views and sever further relations with the said Grand Orient.' "

The Grand Master in his address condemns laxity on the part of recommenders to petitions and investigating committees and says:

"If recommenders and Investigating Committees do their full duty, they will bring to the Lodges an intelligence that will enable them to act in accordance with Masonic custom and will tend to promote a spirit of confidence that will in turn argue well for the harmony and prosperity of the Lodge, as well as preserve the Craft from injury" and against the misuse of the ballot:

"It has already been decided that 'the ballot is not to be polluted by petty malice,' and one who thus wields the power which Masonry gives him, and excludes from our Lodges those against whom there is no other objection, has been declared by Grand Lodge 'to violate his obligation, to be a foe to Masonry and false to every principle of duty and right, and unfit to belong to the Craft.'

He likewise, reproves such Lodges as are not charging an amount of dues that would be in line with their expenditure, and calls attention to organizations, composed of Masons, who avail themselves of fairs and raffles in order to raise a revenue and in unqualified terms touches upon similar organizations and publications that seek to commercialize Freemasonry.

Bro. Thomas F. Penman is Chairman of the Committee of Correspondence.

He reviews the proceedings of fifty-two Grand Lodges and pays fraternal notice to Louisiana.

JOHN A. PERRY, Grand Secretary.

Philippine Islands—1925.

The Thirteenth Annual Communication was held at Manila beginning on the 27th and ending on the 29th of January, 1925.

Seventy-two Chartered Lodges were represented.

Brother Amos G. Belis, the representative of Louisiana, was in attendance.

The Grand Master said in opening his address of welcome:

> "You come as representatives of a wonderful movement, as successors of those who in the dim past built temples and cathedrals and who took it upon themselves to regulate the conduct of the workers, making them efficient, loyal, and charitable, the better to carry to a successful completion the work in hand. From those legendary architects and wise builders we have taken our working tools and symbols which all teach great moral, religious, and scientific truths and have been handed down to us through the ages as a precious legacy to be preserved for the benefit and instruction of future generations.
> "The tenets of Freemasonry have stood the test of time and the fury of persecution and tyranny so successfully that they are now as they were at the beginning, fit instruments for the regeneration of mankind and the betterment and happiness of the human species. Brotherly Love, Relief, and Truth are the sublime arts in which every Master Mason must excel and are still an immediate and efficient solution for all human conflicts resulting from error and ignorance, sordid selfishness and lack of charity and benevolence among men.
> "Throughout the ages and everywhere the Royal Art has had a refining influence upon the customs of men, making them remember their common origin and establishing between them bonds of love and mutual agreement. There is not a nation or community in which Masonic societies have flourished that has not been the beneficiary of the salutary influence of our habitual exercise of benevolence, charity, tolerance and secrecy in word and action. Masonry has been provoked, excommunicated and persecuted in many parts of the world; but has at all times endeavored to keep aloof from religious and political contention and has insisted upon rejecting all that which may cause or provoke discord among men.

"The Philippines have always acknowledged that they owe Masonry an immense debt of gratitude and this explains the marvelous expansion of our tenets and procedure throughout the Islands. Here we have not only Lodges operating under our jurisdiction and others organized without its pale; but institutions of a more or less benevolent character have sprung into life which have adopted our methods and procedure and copied and imitated our emblems."

An evidence of their peculiar constitution is presented in the following motion which was duly adopted:

"Motion was made by Bro. F. A. Delgado, 'That Bro. Leo Fischer be appointed official interpreter for this Grand Communication, and that he translate all motions into Spanish or English, or vice versa.' Motion was seconded by Bro. Pedro V. Asuncion, and carried."

The Grand Master made the appointment.

Four dispensations for new lodges were issued during the year.

The report of the Grand Master, as a whole, is a strong document and speaks worlds for the splendid Masonic spirit shown by the brethren of our far away jurisdiction.

The Grand Treasurer shows assets amounting to 96,136.02 Pesos.

The Grand Secretary reports 65,914.54 Pesos collected for account of the Widows and Orphans Home.

The Grand Lodge of Czecho Slavia, Spain and Finland were recognized. From the vigorous address of the Grand Orator, Bro. Theodore M. Kalaw, we extract:

"My Brethren of the Grand Lodge, it behooves you and your lodges to face our local problems with the same decision and loyalty that have characterized the work of those that have gone before us. Your principal duty is to maintain and protect the unity of our Masonry because without that unity we cannot continue our labors. The terms spurious Masons and spurious lodges must disappear from our dictionary. There must be only regular Masons and lodges owing allegiance to the one Grand Jurisdiction and one law. For that Masonic unity we sacrificed much in 1917 and are ready to make still further sacrifices. Complete that work—do not destroy what we have built. Strive to make even the humblest citizen of the Philippine Islands a free man—free in the expression of his ideas and sentiments, in the profession of his religious beliefs, in the selection of his occupation, in the shaping of his life, in the pursuit of happiness.

The conventionalities elaborated by ignorance, superstition, fanaticism, greed, and caste spirit, regardless of whether or not they have been handed down to us by our forebears or bear the sanction of customs and tradition, are contrary to liberty. The intolerance that persecutes, the envy that slanders and defames, the sectarianism that sows hatred and discord, the oppression of the poor and lowly: all these are incompatible with brotherly love and freedom. Give us a new generation with a mind free from blemish, hereditary or otherwise, and with a spirit not bowed down by the weight of religious or intellectual slavery. To achieve this, look well to the operation and development of our schools, because in them the soul and intellect of the new generation are formed. And since the State is the incarnation of liberty and individual thought and must respond to the heart-beats of public opinion and protect the common interests from all deleterious influences, you must protect the schools of the State because they are your own and are intended to form our young people as we desire them formed: on the broad foundation of liberty of thought and liberty of conscience. Endeavor to prevent religious controversies and human disagreements from taking possession of the minds of our children at so early an age. They will themselves decide the fate of their souls when the time comes, and when that moment arrives, you have no right even to appeal."

Four charters were granted.

The Grand Lodge withdrew from membership in the International Masonic Association, the Masonic Service Associaiton of the United States and the Relief Association of the United States and Canada.

The following resolution was adopted:

"Whereas, it is a matter of general knowledge that a large number of alleged Masonic bodies have sprung up in these Islands under various denominations and auspices; and

"Whereas, a number of members of the lodges of our jurisdiction have gone over to other so-called lodges which have been declared irregular and clandestine by our Grand Lodge; and

"Whereas, many of such members were in good standing before they deserted our lodges and had until then been constant in their work for the good of the Craft from the time they first saw the light in Masonry, therefore be it

"Resolved, That Liwayway Lodge No. 81 petition, and it does hereby petition, the Grand Lodge of F. & A. M. of the Philippine Island to create a committee to investigate the cause of the multiplication of such alleged Masonic bodies of various denominations and origins, and make recommendations as to the steps that should be taken to suppress all bodies that may be considered by our Grand Lodge to be irregular and clandestine."

A resolution was presented, protesting against an attempt, by legislation, to make religious education compulsory in the Public Schools. The resolution was referred to a Committee, who failed to report at this session and no action was had.

Foreign Correspondence is by Past Grand Master George R. Harvey, who covers the proceedings of sixty-seven Grand Bodies in a very interesting review and does not hesitate to express his opinion. We appreciate his notice of Louisiana.

CHRISTIAN WILLIAM ROSENSTOCK, Grand Master.
NEWTON C. COMFORT, Grand Secretary.

Prince Edward Island—1925.

The Fiftieth Annual Communication was held at Charlottetown on the 25th of June, 1925.

Fourteen lodges were represented.

Louisiana's representative was not in attendance.

M. W. Brother A. J. Davis, Grand Master of Nova Scotia and M. W. Brother Allan P. Shatford, Past Grand Master of Quebec were visitors.

Ten Past Grand Masters attended the Session.

The Grand Master said in opening:

"It is for us in beginning the second half century of our existence to rededicate our lives to all that is great and good and true and to realize more fully our responsibilities as Masons so that we may be found ready and anxious to contribute our part in these strenuous times to our country's welfare and in the amelioration of the community in which we live. When our time comes to be removed by death from the Lodge below and we seek admission into the Lodge above may the record of our lives and conduct be such that it may be recorded of us that we have well and faithfully carried on the work so auspiciously inaugurated by our brethren 50 years ago."

He reported the deaths of Past Grand Masters John Yeo and Daniel F. McDonald.

He visited all of the lodges in the State, and says in this connection:

"I was much impressed with the spontaneous and hearty reception accorded us on the occasion of each and every visitation; the interestedness exhibted when being addressed and the generally admirable demeanor of both offcers and members. I endeavored to correct the thought, if such existed, that the institution exists solely for ourselves and that we are to get out of it all we can and give as little as possible in return; to impress the fact that the Craft exists for service and not for selfishness; not for narrow negations but to further certain great affirmations; that whatever of accomplishment is to be achieved by Freemasonry in worldly affairs is to be reached only in a reflected way in the individual lives of its votaries; that the honor of the Craft rests upon every single Mason and the extent to which this opportunity is embraced depends upon the amount of effort which each will make; that one brother's inconsistent life can bring discredit on the whole Craft, one brother's good deeds reflects glory on all his brethren. In reviewing the reports of the several lodges I find that in too many instances, I am sorry to say, the average attendance at the Communications is far short of what it should be."

The Grand Treasurer reported a cash balance of $1,352.64, besides assets amounting to $8,250.00 to the credit of the Benevolent Fund.

The celebration of the Fiftieth Anniversary was then proceeded with, the following program being observed:

"An historical sketch of Freemasonry in Prince Edward Island.

"The presence of Rev. Canon Shatford, P. G. M., of Quebec, and his preaching to us in St. Paul's Church.

"The presence of the Grand Master of Nova Scotia and the Grand Master of New Brunswick.

"Presentation of souvenir badges to all who should be present today the 24th.

"Parade in Regalia to attend Divine Service.

"Banquet this evening in the Victoria Hotel."

An examination of the menu would tempt one to believe that Prince Edward Island was in good old U. S. A. We are wondering what became of the liquid refreshment. However, we can overlook that, for they had rice on the table.

JOHN F. MARTIN, Grand Master.
ERNEST KEMP, Grand Secretary.

Quebec—1925.

The Fifty-fifty Annual Communication was held at Montreal on the 11th day of February, 1925.

Seventy-eight lodges were represented.

Brother C. R. Corneil, Louisiana's representative was in attendance.

M. W. Bro. Dudley W. Ferrell, Grand Master of Massachusetts, together with the Grand Treasurer and the Grand Marshal of that Grand Lodge were visitors.

One lodge was reported constituted and two instituted.

The Grand Master says:

> "I have discovered a want in our organization which has been somewhat embarrassing. There is no Committee of Grand Lodge for visiting sick brethren from other jurisdictions. On several occasions I have been advised of Masons in our hospitals here who would appreciate a visit. I have been obliged to call upon certain generously disposed brethren to perform this truly Masonic duty. I would, therefore, strongly urge that a Grand Lodge Sick and Destitute Committee be appointed and that a sum of money be granted by Grand Lodge to provide for this pressing need."

The Grand Master notes the need of a Grand Lodge Committee for visiting and to administer relief.

This is hardly a function of the Grand Lodge. Why not have the twenty-six lodges of Montreal co-operate and organize a Relief Board for the purpose.

The address of District Grand Chaplain Rabbi M. J. Merritt, was a beautiful line of thought, eloquently expressed. We quote:

> "A son of Israel takes pardonable pride in the two great contributions that he has made to the welfare and the uplift of the race. It has been the unique honor of Israel to be the pathbreaker to the lofty concept of a universal God of justice, right and truth. Israel it was that in the morning of the world opened up a well of spiritual truth and faith at which the countless millions since have slaked their thirst, and from which generation after generation has risen comforted, refreshed and blessed.
> "A son of Israel takes pardonable pride, too, in the knowledge that it was because a Jewish monarch, King Solomon, set himself to the task of building a temple in which were to be taught the sublime ideals of the fatherhood of God and the brotherhood of man, that this world wide and beneficient order came into being. The Bible, the first document in Masonry, tells how Solomon called in Hyram, King of Tyre, to aid him in its construction and how together with sundry materials the King of Tyre sent that unsurpassed and unrivalled architect, Hiram Abiv, son of a Jewish mother of the tribe of Naphtali and a Gentile father of the land of Tyre. In the very parentage of this architect from whose genius there rose this first Temple to the Universal God—mothered by a Jewess and fathered by a Gentile—we catch a vision of the spirit and the purpose of Masonry."

The Grand Treasurer reports the assets of the Grand Lodge in stocks, mortgages and cash to be, $207,551.19.

Foreign Correspondence is by Past Grand Master E. T. D. Chambers, who says in opening:

"A severe and protracted illness has interfered somewhat with the preparation of this report by the undersigned, especially as regards his usual Introductory Review of general Masonic history and progress during the period that has elapsed since the presentation of his last annual report.

"On the other hand, on account of the promptness with which most of the annual reports of proceedings of sister Grand Lodges were forwarded to him by his esteemed Most Worshipful Brother the Grand Secretary, he was enabled, while still enjoying a fair measure of health and strength, to perform the special duty entrusted to him by Grand Lodge, as Chairman of its Committee of Foreign Correspondence for the thirty-eighth time, namely the preparation, for the information of the Brethren, of a report upon each of the individual Grand Lodge volumes of proceedings received."

He reviews the proceedings of sixty-five Grand Lodges, presenting a most excellent digest of the work of the year. In the language of Rip Van Winkle, "May he live long and prosper."

WILLIAM J. EWING, Grand Master.
W. W. WILLIAMSON, Grand Secretary.

Rhode Island—1925.

The volume opens with the report of a Special Communication called for the purpose of laying the corner stone of the new Temple of Rising Sun Lodge No. 30, at East Providence on the 25th of October, 1924, and on May 15th, 1925, another Special Communication was called for its dedication. The Grand Master, on this latter occasion concluded his talk with the following impressive lines:

"I am not a pessimist, and no one has a more abiding faith in the destiny of Freemasonry. But I cannot shut my eyes to the fact that we are living in an unsettled and restless period. We must not ignore our responsibilities and our obligations as Freemasons. We shall find, I believe, in the exercise of real tolerance and true Americanism, a sure antidote for the ills of our day and generation. We must strive to understand the other man's viewpoint, to respect his opinions and his sentiments. We must resist every encroachment upon those truly American institutions, the public schools and the constitution. In safeguarding these bulwarks of the republic, the three million Masons in America will not be found wanting. They will give as freely tomorrow as they gave 150 years ago, their property,—their lives, if need be,—to secure to generations yet unborn the blessings of liberty and the pursuit of happiness.

"I like to think that a day may come when there shall be no strife or bitterness among the nations of the world,—'When man, though loving not his country less, shall, more than country, love his fellow man,'—when the brotherhood of man shall be a reality. That is the spirit and the idealism of Freemasonry, an idealism that has been its inspiration and encouragement through the ages past."

The One Hundred and Thirty-fourth Annual Communication was held at Providence on the 18th of May, 1925.

Thirty-eight lodges were represented.

Louisiana's representative failed to attend.

The Grand Master says of the condition of the Craft:

"Our numerical growth has not been quite equal to that of the last few years for reasons quite evident and well understood upon reflection by all. The times have not been very propitious and this fact is naturally reflected in Masonic growth as well as in almost everything else."

He granted sixteen dispensations to lodges to attend Divine services.

The Grand Master paid twenty-one official visits.

Referring to the Masonic Service Association, the Grand Master says:

"During the World War, owing to certain conditions over which we apparently had no control and for the time being could not be changed, the formation of the Masonic Service Association of the United States was a decided step in the right direction, so that in the event of any great national crisis of the future, whether it be war, pestilence, famine, conflagration, flood, earthquake or any other unwonted calamity we should be in a position to function immediately as a national unit for the relief and comfort of our Brethren and their families to the limit of our abilities.

"I look upon such a National Masonic Service or organization as comparable to a fire department. You hope that you will not require its service, you are satisfied to pay for the cost of service without its use, but when circumstances require the service you then have and can demand immediate response. This can be assured in no other way than thorough preparedness."

Seven District Grand Masters reported as to the condition of the lodges under their care.

The Grand Treasurer reported a bank balance of $33,249,72.

The Masonic Home Fund has securities to its credit amounting to $39,621.48. The Educational Fund has credits amounting to $29,-118.62.

The Grand Lodge of Guatemala was recognized.

Membership, 17,623.

HOWARD KNIGHT, Grand Master.
S. PENROSE WILLIAMS, Grand Secretary.

Saskatchewan—1925.

The Nineteenth Annual Communication was held at Saskatoon on the 17th of June, 1925.

One hundred and forty-four lodges were represented.

Louisiana's representative was not in attendance.

We commend the reading of the following extract from the Grand Master's address to some of our Metropolitan membership who find it inconvenient to attend lodge meetings:

"Every one of the sixteen District Meetings was a splendid success. Many of the brethren had to travel great distances (up to 125 miles) to attend. Such distances meant great personal inconveniences but in their enthusiasm in and for the cause of Freemasonry, they made the sacrifice. Such zealous Masons were a great inspiration to us all. We cannot estimate the influence of such gatherings on the various lodges of each District. The wholehearted support given and the interest shown were a revelation to me of the hold that Masonry has on the hearts of our brethren. We are sure that these annual gatherings of thinking workers have quickened the interest, broadened the vision and aroused a splendid ambition to excel in the work. New ties are formed, old friendships more strongly cemented and the various parts of the District and of the Grand Jurisdiction drawn closer together. The brethren have gone home more than ever determined to excel in ritualistic work and to practice faithfully, at all times, the excellent principles inculcated."

This is quite different to our understanding. However, he was supported by the Committee on Law and the Grand Lodge.

One lodge was instituted and one was constituted.

One lodge hall was dedicated.

The Grand Master says in conclusion:

> "One writer has said, 'The home is the most powerful agency in the development of Character.' We believe that all our interests and activities should centre in the home. There is a decided tendency to ignore this fact and throw on other institutions, i. e., the school and the church, the responsibilities that are inherent in the home. Le me say that no institution, however well organized, can take the place of the home. This involves definite responsibilities on those who, of their own free will and accord enter into a covenant for home building. Some of these responsibilities are obvious and are for the most part readily and cheerfully discharged. 'He that provideth not for his own is worse than an infidel.' Every Mason will admit that. Other responsibilities are not so readily admitted among men. They ought to be definitely accepted by the Fraternity. The home cannot exist and function, no matter how well the material side be looked after, unless it be established in the beauty and strength of morality. At our entrance into Masonry, we were given a white lambskin to impress upon us the necessity for a pure life. Elsewhere we are taught to hold sacred the home life of our brethren and to revere pure and holy womanhood. These obligations must be regarded as sacred. Every child has the right to demand to be well born, not perhaps in the sense of blue-blooded ancestry, but in not having to start life under handicap of physical or mental disability, due to the lapse of a parent who declined to take his responsibilities seriously. The child has the right to expect to be reared in a good home, not necessarily a luxurious home, but a home in which the 'Charities of father, son and brother' are held dear. As the child grows we should see to it that the school he must attend keeps ever before him lofty ideals of service and citizenship so that the characters of those who presently are to do the world's work and shape the world's life, may be established in uprightness and integrity. Thus may we do our part to establish the nation, not only in the strength but in the beauty of true morality."

Sixteen District Deputy Grand Masters presented reports.

The Grand Treasurer reported a cash balance of $4,699.96 in the General Fund. The Benevolent Fund shows a credit of $188,646.92 in investments.

The Grand Secretary says of the condition of the Craft:

"It is gratifying indeed to be able to report that notwithstanding the marked depression throughout the province during the year, the general condition of the Craft in Saskatchewan is most satisfactory and the membership shows a considerable increase. There are a few exceptions, but on the whole the situation is all that could be desired. This satisfactory condition of things is in my opinion due largely to the increased interest in the fundamental aims and ideals of the Craft stimulated during the past few years. My observations lead me to the conclusion that wherever you find the brethren emphasizing their faith and belief in the Fatherhood of God and the Brotherhood of Men, realizing that Freemasonry constitutes a great moral and intellectual force that can, by persistent effort, wield a mighty influence in the interests of good citizenship and interested in the building up of our great Benevolent Fund, there you find a healthy lodge. On the other hand, wherever you find a lodge that is not teaching and spreading broadcast the great moral precepts of our Institution, not standing as a unit for Service and Sacrifice, there you find a lodge that is more or less languishing."

Two charters were granted.

We regret that our space allowance will not permit the reproduction of the Address of Grand Chaplain G. H. Glover upon the subject "Our Masonic contribution to Canadian Life," as its reading grips the attention. The Grand Lodge must have enjoyed its delivery.

Foreign Correspondence is by Brother W. H. Thompson. He presents work of a very high order, but fails to include Louisiana.

GILBERT SWAIN, Grand Master.
W. B. TATE, Grand Secretary.

Scotland—1925.

A Quarterly Communication was held at Edinburgh on the 5th of February, 1925, was largely attended.

Charters were granted to two new lodges. In addition to these, petitions were received for charters for one lodge in Zululand and one at Port Said, Egypt.

The different District Grand Masters submitted reports.

The remainder of the proceedings shows minutes of the meetings of the Grand Committee and of statistical tables.

THE EARL OF STAIR, Grand Master.
DAVID REID, Grand Secretary.

South Australia—1925.

The Semi-Annual Communication was held at Adelaide on the 15th of October, 1924.

Forty-eight lodges appear to have been represented.

Louisiana's representative Bro. F. Olifent was in attendance.

The report of the Board of General Purposes, reviews the work of the past six months and petitions for five new lodges were received and granted during that period and referring to the new Masonic Temple being built at Adelaide, states that a bid of £117,987.00.

The work of excavation was begun on March 14th, 1924, and it was expected that the corner stone would be laid April, 1925.

The board recommended that the Grand Lodge appropriate £2,000 to the building fund.

The Grand Master was prevented from attending on account of illness and the Session was presided over by the Deputy Grand Master whose address showed that the membership had increased 100% in the 10 years ending with 1921, while during that time the civilian population had increased only 20%.

Six warrants for new lodges had been issued since the last session.

He also stated that the Australasian Masonic Conference would be held during the month of April, 1925.

On the 15th of April, 1925, a Special Communication was held at two-thirty in the afternoon for the purpose of laying the corner stone of the newly completed building in which the Grand Lodge was meeting, as the Grand Master of New South Wales said at the banquet which followed:

> "They had seen things in Adelaide. They had seen the Grand Master lay a foundation stone and occupy the building on the same day, and such progress had never been made to his knowledge before."

The Grand Lodge session was opened at 7:55 o'clock the same night. Louisiana's representative being again present.

As the Australasian Conference was to meet on the 16th and 17th of April, delegations of these distinguished Masons from the United Grand Lodge of Queensland, and the Grand Lodges of Western Australia, New Zealand, Tasmania and Victoria were present as visitors.

Grand officers were elected, appointed and installed.

The Grand Master's address showed that the Craft was prospering, eight new lodges had been constituted and a number of new Masonic buildings had been erected.

A Masonic banquet followed the session, the visiting brethren being guests. In accord with the English customs, the toasts were limited and brief and opened with that to the King and the Craft and the Tyler's toast, to departed brethren.

An admirable review written by each member of the Committee is printed with the proceedings but Louisiana is not included. We regret this exceedingly, as all Grand Secretaries are on our mailing list and are served with proceedings.

HON. THOMAS STANLEY POOLE, Grand Master.
CHARLES R. J. GLOVER, Grand Secretary.

South Carolina—1924.

The One Hundred and Eighty-fifth Annual Communication was held at Charleston on the 11th of March, 1925.

Two hundred and sixty-six lodges were represented.

Louisiana's representative was not in evidence.

The Grand Master said in opening:

> "I have read a great deal of the doings of the Grand Lodges and other Masonic Grand Bodies all over this fair land of ours, and the outstanding thing toward which they have directed their thoughts and efforts is Education. Everywhere, there is planning and striving for a better and higher education for the masses as well as for the Masons. We want our young men to become educated Masons, but if we educate the masses, we thereby take the longest possible step towards accomplishing our desires. If the more than three million Masons in this country of ours put their shoulders to the wheel of the great educational movements that are being fostered throughout the land, we will soon be able to dispel the ignorance and superstition which have so long held millions of our people in chains of slavery, and it will not be long before we can conquer man's greatest foe, error! When illiteracy has been banished from among our people, a higher Masonic education of our initiates will be the easiest thing we have to accomplish. This higher Masonic education is greatly to be desired. Masonry is not the conferring of the several degrees; that is merely a means to an end—the foundation upon which a moral and spiritual edifice is to be erected! But alas, how many of us stop when the foundation is laid! The wise man puts a foundation under his house—it may be rough, it must be strong. Then he encloses the building, embellishes it with paneled wainscot and corbelled arches; he furnishes it completely before he can fully enjoy it. Why should we, as Masons, stop with the foundation? Why not inclose our moral and spiritual building with the history of our order, embellish it with > the philosophy of Masonry, make it comfortable with the poetry and imagery that encrust our traditions! Then we can enter upon an enjoyment of that part of Masonry that is now almost a closed book to the great rank and file of our fraternity."

Two lodges were constituted and one instituted during the year. Quoting from the Grand Master's address:

> "In this connection, I would recommend a change in the name and duties of one of our Committees. We list a Committee on 'Fraternal Correspondence' and charge it with the duty of making a report on the Foreign Correspondent's 'Review of the Proceedings of Sister Jurisdictions.' This is not work, it is a pleasure. I believe this committee should have some work to do. I, therefore, suggest that the name be changed to the 'Committee on Fraternal Relations,' and that to it be referred all matters affecting our relations with other Grand Jurisdictions, and that the Foreign Correspondent's 'Review' be made a part of the Committee's report."

We doff our hat to Grand Master Creitzberg. We have a brand new view of our job. Well, no, wrong again, being a pleasure, we are inclined to suggest the elimination of the salary.

The Grand Master was diligent in the discharge of his duties as is shown by his reports as to visitations made, decisions made and dispensations granted.

Twenty-five District Deputy Grand Masters reported. We note from these that the Grand Lodge is endeavoring to raise the amount for the George Washington Memorial by voluntary contributions. Try an assessment. We had to, and went over the top for Louisiana without any trouble.

The Trustees of the Masonic Relief Fund reported a total of $29,692.41 expended for the relief of aged Master Masons and their dependents during the year.

M. W. Brother J. Claude Keiper, Grand Secretary of the George Washington Memorial Association, was a visitor and addressed the Grand Lodge on the subject of the memorial.

Foreign Correspondent John L. Michie serves us with the dessert for this meal in his Fifteenth Annual Report. He reviews the proceedings of sixty-eight Grand Jurisdictions in his usual breezy conversational style, one that is peculiarly his own and does not admit of duplication. The work is a treat and the only pity is that it cannot be generally read. There is only one Michie. The rest of us are in the Kindergarten.

South Dakota—1925.

The Fifty-first Annual Communication was held on the 9th of June, 1925, at Sioux Falls.

One hundred and twenty-two Lodges were represented.

Louisiana was assured representation, R. W. George A. Pettigrew, Grand Secretary, being the holder of our commission.

The Grand Master reported the deaths of three Past Grand Masters, James Lewis, Grand Master in 1896; John Aldebert Brown, Grand Master in 1902, and Robert Joseph McCaughey, Grand Master in 1906.

Three dispensations were granted for new Lodges.

Two Lodges were constituted.

One Masonic Temple was dedicated.

Three corner-stones were laid.

Sixteen dispensations for various purposes were granted.

The Grand Master paid five official visits, press of business preventing him from paying more.

The Grand Treasurer reported a cash balance to the credit of the General Fund of $13,331.22. The Grand Charity Fund has credits of $14,275.19 in cash and $103,750.00 in investments.

On the evening of June 9th the new library building which was erected at Sioux City at a cost of over $75,000 was dedicated by the Grand Lodge, following which the Fiftieth Anniversary of the organization of the Grand Lodge was celebrated.

Three Charters were granted.

Grand Orator Charles S. Hall delivered a splendid address on Education.

It was decided that all Secretaries and Treasurers of Lodges be bonded under practically the same form of bond used in this State. This is a move in the right direction. One of our struggling country Lodges after paying a premium of $3.52 for two years has already recovered $500.00 on account of the failure of the Bank of Deposit.

Foreign Correspondence is by Past Grand Master Charles L. Brockway, who presents one of his usual high-grade reviews of the proceedings of other Grand Lodges. We regret exceedingly, however, that Louisiana is unnoticed. The same condition prevails with our Grand Chapter. Three copies of our proceedings are sent to each Grand Secretary every year. Louisiana is still on the map and we are accomplishing some big things in the Masonic line and we want the brethren of South Dakota to be so informed. We shall expect notice next time.

The Thirty-fourth Annual Communication was held at Launceston on the 28th of February, 1925.

Twenty-eight Lodges were represented.

Two Special Communications were held during the year, one for the purpose of laying the corner-stone and another for dedicating a Masonic Temple.

The Grand Master reported that he paid 13 official visits.

The Pro Grand Master presented a brief statement of his activities during the year.

Two Grand Inspectors of Lodges and three Assistants reported the results of their labors.

Tennessee—1925.

The One Hundred and Eleventh Annual Communication was held at Nashville on the 28th of January, 1925.

Four hundred and fifty-nine Lodges were represented.

Louisiana's representative failed to attend.

Referring to the suspension of one Charter, the Grand Master says:

> "Information came to me that this Lodge was infested with moonshiners and bootleggers, and I commissioned Brother Landess to investigate the report and he did so and wrote me that the Lodge was divided into two factions, the 'wets' and the 'drys,' and that the wets were sufficiently numerous to prevent a two-thirds vote on any question which was presented to the Lodge, and that they and other members of the Lodge considered that they were entirely within their rights in engaging in the liquor business and that it was not a Masonic offence.
> "Upon receipt of this report, I commissioned Brother Landess to suspend the Charter of this Lodge. He deferred action in the matter for some months, hoping that the trouble could be adjusted in some other manner; but finally, failing in this, he took up the Charter, the seal, and the treasurer's and secretary's records, and the matter is now referred to the Grand Lodge for final adjudication."

Needless to say, his action was sustained by the Grand Lodge and the Charter was revoked.

Under the head of Rulings, the Grand Master reported:

"The questions asked me have run the gamut, from 'When is the full of the moon' to 'How to prevent lady applicants for membership in the Order of the Eastern Star from being blackballed.' I referred the first to the calendar and answered the second, 'It is none of our business.' "

The Grand Master's ruling No. 4:

"4. Can a Tennessee Lodge receive a petition for affiliation from a member of a Foreign Lodge (O'Tentosama Lodge No. 1246 or 1263, Yokohama, Japan,) on a certificate of membership and good standing?"

Yes.

He could never apply for Louisiana membership.

The Grand Master rendered a total of 50 decisions. In our opinion, the majority could have been obviated if the questioners had only read the code.

The Grand Treasurer reported a cash balance of $142,809.58.

The death of Past Grand Master Thomas Owen Morris was reported.

James S. McEwing, Grand Master of the Grand Lodge of Manitoba and James A. Ovas, the Grand Secretary, and Andrew L. Randell, Past Grand Master of Texas, were visitors.

Foreign Correspondence is by Past Grand Master H. A. Chambers. We are under obligation for his ample notice of Louisiana.

The report as a whole is both concise and comprehensive and is a splendid exposition of the work of the year.

Texas—1924.

The Eighty-ninth Annual Communication was held at Waco on the 3rd of December, 1924.

Four hundred and twenty-one Lodges were represented.

Our accredited representative was not in attendance, but Louisiana was there in the persons of R. W. Brethren Edwin F. Gayle, Grand Junior Warden, and John A. Davilla, Grand Secretary.

In accord with the custom of the Grand Lodge of Texas, the vacant chairs of Past Grand Masters D. Frank Johnson and John L. Terrell were occupied by beautiful floral pieces.

Forty-five brethren with a Masonic connection of forty years and over were called to the East and presented to the Grand Lodge.

The Grand Master reported eleven Lodges constituted during the year.

Nine Lodges were instituted under dispensation.

The Grand Master paid one hundred and three visits to the Lodges within the jurisdiction.

The Grand Master's address is some one hundred and fourteen pages in length and thoroughly covers every phase of his activities.

It is a pleasure to present the following strong paragraph from his conclusion:

> "As Masons, we are taught to labor and that the world itself will be an eternal witness of the acts that we have done; that we are noblemen of God's patent, and that our escutcheons and quarterings are to be found in Heaven's great book of Heraldry. But if this be so, if we are to record accomplishments worthy of such a record, we must preserve Masonry as the realm of peace and by our actions demonstrate the power of gentleness, which is too little seen in the world today. From none are the accomplishments and fruits of service withheld. Masonry admonishes us that he is a barren tree indeed that lives and spreads and encumbers the ground, yet leaves not one seed to generate after him. Consequently, if we are able to lend the slightest impulse to any great and laudable design, if we by association with other good men are enabled thereby to advance the cause of enlightenment and humanity and civic progress, that will be our measure and will, just as truly as for the greatest, 'be our sufficient, even though it be our sole reward.' "

The Grand Treasurer reported cash balances amounting to $46,234.59 to the credit of the different funds.

Eleven Lodges were constituted during the year.

A new trial law was adopted, the composition of the commission to be as provided in the following extract:

> "Not less than fifteen days before the time set for trial the Master, Junior and Senior Wardens, or any two of them, preferably all acting if possible, shall select from the membership of the Lodge a committee of three, taking care that they shall be fair and unbiased, which said committee shall, not less than ten days before the time set for trial, select from the membership of the Lodge twenty-four of such members who shall be fair, impartial and disinterested as far as possible; and if there be not twenty-four such members aside from the officers of the Lodge and said committee of three and the accuser, accused and his counsel, the remaining membership shall constitute and make up the list. A copy of said list shall be delivered to each, the accuser and the accused, and if there are twenty-four on the list each the accuser and accused shall have the right of secretly striking six of such names therefrom, and if there are less than twenty-four on the list the right of challenge of each shall be proportionately reduced, and the list shall, within two days, be returned to the secretary of the Lodge, and the first twelve unchallenged names on such a list shall constitute the trial commission."

The brethren were privileged to enjoy a beautiful address upon the subject "As a Man Thinketh," by R. W. Bro. Joe B. Hines, Grand Orator. The following thought is presented:

> " 'As a man thinketh in his heart, so is he.' A man is literally what he thinks, his character being the complete sum of all his thoughts.
> "The mere mouthing of all the ritual in the world cannot make a man a Mason, because Masonry is pure and holy. Masonry is divine. No matter what our rank in the Order may be, no matter to what heights we have climbed in the eyes of the Fraternal world, unless in our most secret being, we are Masons, we are worse than 'sounding brass and tinkling cymbals,' and the fruits of our profession and labors are vain."

Six Charters were granted. Past Grand Master Andrew L. Randell presented an able report upon the activities of the Masonic Service Association.

The following resolution was adopted:

> "Be It Resolved by the Most Worshipful Grand Lodge of the State of Texas, That this Grand Lodge affiliate with the Masonic Relief Association of the United States and Canada.
> "Be It Further Resolved, That this resolution be and the same is hereby adopted with the understanding that the dues in said association are not in excess of one-fourth of one per cent per capita, which shall not exceed $350.00 for the current year, which said amount or as much thereof as may be necessary is hereby appropriated."

The Board of Directors of the Masonic Home and School presented an elaborate report, complete in detail, of the operations of the institution for the year. We have never had the opportunity of visiting the Texas Homes, but we have seen the samples of the finished products as shown at every Grand Lodge Session and commend our Texas brethren for the great good they are doing. They are particularly fortunate in having on their directorate such high-typed, self-sacrificing brethren.

The record here states:

> "The Most Worshipful Grand Lodge of Texas, having completed its labors, was closed in due and ancient form with the following prayer by Right Worshipful Brother John J. Ray, as Acting Grand Chaplain, after which it was closed in due and ample form by Past Grand Master John Watson and the singing of 'Sweet Bye and Bye' by all brethren with all hands joined together,"

This is a ceremony peculiar to the Grand Lodge of Texas. It is impressive and evidences the Masonic spirit prevalent in our great Sister State.

Foreign Correspondence is by our good old friend, Past Grand Master S. M. Bradley, who reviews the proceedings of sixty-four Grand Lodges. His statistics show the Masonic membership of the United States to be 3,083,930, and that of the world 4,123,658.

We are under obligations to Brother Bradley for his liberal space allowance to Louisiana. However, we will remind him that it is rather different to estimate age from a photograph. It all depends upon the age of the subject at the time. Your estimate of Judge Carter's age is eleven years shy, Brother Bradley.

And again, we stand by any statement we make and reiterate that the Grand Lodge of Texas is honored in the person of is Correspondent.

Utah—1925.

The Fifty-fourth Annual Communication was held at Salt Lake on the 20th of January, 1925.

Twenty-four Lodges were represented.

Louisiana was assured of representation in the person of Past Grand Master Samuel Paul, our Grand Representative.

The Grand Master says of the progress of the Craft:

"The Lodges of the State are in almost every case prosperous and progressing, and peace and harmony prevail. Without exception the support given by the officers and members of the Lodges of this jurisdiction during the year has been most gratifying, and I again take the privilege of thanking them one and all.

He reported the death of Brother James D. Murdock, Past Grand Master 1899 to 1900.

Referring to decisions, he says:

"As has been the case in previous years, most of the questions asked by and communications received from officers of constituent Lodges could have been answered by reference to the Grand Lodge Code, without consulting the Grand Master. Some actions have been taken by constituent Lodges which were contrary to the Code. These have required communications setting forth the correct procedure and asking that such actions be rescinded."

Referring to Charity, he says:

"No calls have been made upon the Grand Lodge for charity during the past year except as authorized by last Grand Lodge Communication, although each of the constituent Lodges in this jurisdiction has provided generously for all calls made upon them. The Charity Fund of the Grand Lodge is increasing from year to year and in the future will no doubt be used for some organized charity work. In this respect I doubt not that in the coming years individual Masons will remember that the Grand Lodge has such a fund, which, when of sufficient size, can be put to work in such a way as to be a credit to this growing jurisdiction. One Lodge relieved a widow's home of a $500.00 mortgage, another expended nearly as much in money and labor in remodeling the home of another widow so a revenue may be derived therefrom."

He paid twenty-four official visits, covering 2290 miles by auto and the balance by rail.

Three corner-stone laying ceremonies were had and one Lodge was instituted.

The Grand Treasurer reported assets to the value of $16,441.49 to the credit of the General Fund and $14,041.22 to the credit of the Charity Fund.

The following resolution was adopted:

"Whereas: The Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-Day Saints, commonly called the Mormon Church, is an organization, the teachings and regulations of which are incompatible with membership in the Masonic Fraternity, therefore:

"Be It Resolved: That a member of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-Day Saints, commonly called the Mormon Church, is not eligible to become a member of any Lodge F. & A. M., in this State, and membership in such Church shall be sufficient grounds for expulsion."

The report on Foreign Correspondence is by Samuel H. Goodwin, Grand Secretary. His foreword is a splendid dissertation upon the subject of Freemasonry. His work is the finished product of a trained hand. His review of Louisiana does us full justice, and is appreciated.

Vermont—1925.

The One Hundred and Thirty-second Annual Communication was held at Burlington on June 10th and 11th, 1925.

Seventy-nine Lodges were represented.

Brother Henry S. Root represented Louisiana.

Past Grand Master Andrew Foulds, Jr., of New Jersey was a visitor and addressed the Grand Lodge in reference to the Masonic Service Association.

The Grand Master reported the death of M. W. Bro. Geo. W. Wing, the oldest living Past Grand Master.

Two new Lodge halls were dedicated during the year.

The Grand Master presented in detail a report of his activities and among other matters laid stress upon the necessity of realizing the full quota of 100% on its membership for the George Washington Masonic National Memorial. He stated, however, that 99% had been raised.

He presented a strong case in advocacy of the Masonic Service Association and recommended that a Committee of three be appointed to investigate its activities and report at the next session.

The Grand Treasurer reported Bank balances amounting to $58,166.46.

The Grand Lecturer reports that thirteen district meetings were held during the year. He reports that they were largely attended and speaks appreciatively of the interest shown.

In accord with the recommendation of the Grand Master a resolution authorizing the appointment of a Committee of Three to investigate the activities of the Masonic Service Association was adopted.

The Grievance Committee had nothing to report.

The occupancy of Masonic meeting rooms by the Order of De Molay was authorized.

Foreign Correspondence is by Past Grand Master Archie S. Harriman, who presented his usual able review, handling the work of sixty-four Grand Lodges in a way that grips the attention of the reader. The facts are stated and he does not hesitate to express his opinion and comment. Louisiana receives fraternal notice.

CHRISTIE B. CROWELL, Grand Master.
HENRY H. ROSS, Grand Secretary.

Victoria—1924.

Four Quarterly Communications were held during the year.

Louisiana's representative is reported to have been present at two of these.

We note that the chain prayer letter practice has crept into Victoria and is causing some little annoyance.

At the first meeting the Grand Treasurer reported the following balance:

General Fund £26,372
Benevolent Fund £72,094

The War Relief Fund has investments amounting to £18,398.

Twenty-five Lodges were consecrated during a period of ten months, and fourteen Masonic Temples were dedicated.

In accord with the rule under the English Constitution, the Grand Master was installed with an elaborate ceremony, when the remainder of the officers were appointed and invested by him with jewels of their office.

The address of the Grand Master, the Earl of Stradbrake, was a summary of the work of the year as well as a brief account of his trip to the Mother Country.

Grand Master Admiral Jellicoe of New Zealand was a visitor.

An interesting feature of the succeeding quarterly communication from London, from which he tells of the English customs. The following may be of interest:

> "The dinner was exceptionally fine. There were 400 Brethren present, and about 100 ladies assembled in the gallery to hear the speeches. Then after the dinner there was an excellent concert in the Lodge room itself. The whole of the arrangements in connection with the dinner and the concert were in the hands of 19 Grand Stewards, who issued all invitations and exercised a general supervision. A certain amount is allowed by Grand Lodge, but if this is exceeded the Stewards make up the difference, so that it is not unusual for each Steward to pay annually about £40 or £50. I do not think that the Grand Stewards of our Grand Lodge would care for this procedure to be adopted. Probably it would not even be considered.
> "I attended a London Press Lodge, called the Gallery Lodge, at the Frascati Restaurant, in Oxford Street. There were three Degrees, and the Lodge opened at 3 in the afternoon, and lasted until about 7:30, when the Brethren adjourned for supper. The work was excellently done. This Lodge restricts its membership to the men doing actual literary work in connection with the newspapers.
> "The rule in London is that no Brother, not a member of the Lodge, can take a seat at the supper table without a direct invitation from the Lodge itself, or on the invitation of a Brother thereof at the expense of this Brother."

At the communication of the 17th of December the Grand Master, the Earl of Stradbrake, was nominated.

The auditors reported combined investments amounting to £105,609.

Membership, 36,538.

THE EARL OF STRADBRAKE, Grand Master.
WILLIAM STEWART, Grand Secretary.

Virginia—1925.

The One Hundred and Forty-seventh Annual Communication was held at Richmond on the 10th of February, 1925.

Two hundred and forty-four Lodges were in attendance.

Louisiana's representative failed to materialize.

We extract from the Grand Master's address:

> "We have just emerged from a transitory period of tremendous import. The anxiety and nervous tumult consequent upon the recent World War aroused unusual interest in fraternalism. Men of all classes sought consolation and support in fraternal fellowship and association. Such a condition is not unusual; indeed, it is a common occurence in every period of great social and political disturbance and it takes years for such upheavals to strike a balance and restore the public mind to a state of normal peace and quiet. The fraternal atmosphere has, I think, materially cleared and our institution has in a large measure settled down to its pre-war status of calm and deliberate life. Improved by the unusual experience I believe that out of this mental agitation has grown a more intimate relation between the individual members of the Order, as well as a more profound sense of obligation towards each other. From observation and personal contact with a large number of our Lodges, whose membership have been materially increased in the last decade, I am certain that if we discreetly utilize this leavened force an institution of more potential power for good will be the inevitable result. We must, therefore, be alive to the imperative needs of the situation. Those in authority should immediately take advantage of the rare opportunity presented, commandeer this vitalizing influence, and by example lead it into new spheres of useful activity. The seed is sown and we can reap the harvest. This however, cannot be accomplished without an effort, but it can and will be accomplished by united purpose and persistent labor."

The Grand Master reports that he paid five visits to other Grand Jurisdictions besides visiting Lodges in his own State.

Five Lodges were instituted under Dispensation.

Thirty-two corner-stones were laid.

The Grand Master praises the services of his District Deputies and attributes their activity and zeal to the frequent conferences held by them at various parts of the State during the year.

He recommended an increase in the amounts of fees and dues, and says of appended Orders:

> "It has come to my attention that organizations making Masonry a basis for membership have been demeaning themselves contrary to the usages and laws of the Grand Lodge of Virginia. Every Grand Lodge claims and exercises the right to prescribe the conditions necessary to obtain membership in any Lodge under its jurisdiction. This is an inherent right exercised from the first foundation of Masonry. The Grand Lodge also claims and exercises the right to pass laws governing the Craft and this right cannot be questioned, therefore, in consequence of which sovereignty over the Craft the Grand Lodge has the undoubted right to prescribe the conditions under which a Mason can retain his membership. Masons as individuals, or in groups, or in organizations as Masons, are therefore amenable to the laws and authority of the Grand Lodge. Organizations whose prerequisite to membership is Masonic affiliation are Masons acting as such just as much as if they were a group of Brethren from a Blue Lodge, no matter how many degrees may intervene between that organization and the Blue Lodge. Therefore, as a consequence, they are amenable to Grand Lodge authority. As a consequence, also, the Grand Lodge by authority inherent in it can prohibit Masons as such from becoming members of any organization whose laws do not prevent and whose policies encourage a violation of a spirit of Ancient Craft Masonry."

The Finance Committee fixed the assets of the Grand Lodge at $399,380.59.

The death of Thomas Newman Davis, Grand Master 1903-1906, was reported.

Seven Charters were granted.

Fifty-eight District Deputies reported.

The report on Foreign Correspondence is by Past Grand Master Joseph W. Eggleston, who reviews the work of sixty-two Grand Lodges. His work is par excellence and above the criticism of a youngster such as the writer, who was born in 1858. We appear to have offended him in our last report, and now apologize, but say that while we have two Grand Lecturers, both are engaged in teaching the York Rite. There cannot be any more Scottish Rite Lodges in Louisiana.

CHARLES A. NESBITT, Grand Secretary.

West Virginia—1924.

The Sixtieth Annual Communication was held at Bluefield on the 12th of November, 1924.

One hundred and forty-nine Lodges were present.

Brother B. D. Gibson, the representative of Louisiana, was in attendance.

The Grand Master says of the condition of the Craft:

> "I am glad to report that Masonry has progressed in the past year, in this Grand Jurisdiction, and from such information as has come to my attention, I feel willing to submit the records for your examination.
> "Our Lodges seem, as a rule, to conduct their affairs in keeping with the Laws, Rules and Regulations of the Fraternity, and with a vision of the better and nobler things which are taught by our Ritual."

Twenty-four corner-stones were laid under the auspices of the Grand Lodge.

The following case is quoted without comment except that we must confess our ignorance of the fact that it was possible anywhere to receive the degrees of Masonry without previously applying to a regular Lodge:

> "Mr. Baker received the Entered Apprentice Degree on October 21, 1867; November 20, 1867, received the Second Degree, and December 23, 1867, the Master Masons Degree, in the Grand Jurisdiction of Massachusetts.
> "At that time it was necessary, after a man had been made a Master Mason, that he apply for membership in some Lodge. This formality Mr. Enoch Baker did not comply with and he, therefore, remained an unaffiliated Mason under the Laws of Massachusetts.
> "Mr. Baker desired to apply for membership in Western Star Lodge No. 11, of Huntington, West Virginia.
> "In taking this matter up with the Grand Master in Massachusetts, while he was willing to certify as to Mr. Baker having taken the Degrees in their jurisdiction, he was unwilling to issue a certificate or to grant him a dimit. "Under these conditions I held that we could not receive his petition in a lodge under our jurisdiction."

The Grand Master strikes the proper note when he says:

> "I also notice from these reports that only a few of the Lodges in this Jurisdiction have increased the dues since our last meeting. It is almost impossible to understand why any Lodge could attempt to run its affairs on yearly dues of two or two and one-half dollars per year.
> "No Lodge in this Jurisdiction can afford to collect less than five or six dollars for dues per year.
> "Every Lodge is a unit of this Grand Jurisdiction and it should be the duty of every Lodge to see that a liberal amount is expended each year for charitable work in the community in which a Lodge is situated.
> "Permit me to suggest to all of the Lodges in the Jurisdiction that the dues should be no less than six dollars per year."

West Virginia is still to realize its quota of $1.00 per man by popular subscription. Our experience has been that it can't be done. Why not assess?

Fifteen District Deputy Grand Masters presented reports as to the condition of the Lodges under their charge.

One feature of the session was the laying of the corner-stone of the Municipal Building at Bluefield.

Three Charters were granted.

The Foreign Correspondence report is by M. W. Brother George W. Atkinson, Past Grand Master. He has reviewed the proceedings of sixty-eight Grand Lodges. His work is as usual of the highest order and covers some one hundred and eighty-seven closely printed pages.

From the footnote attached to the report, we are advised that this is his thirty-fifth report. The Grand Lodge will be the loser when he retires.

Western Australia—1924.

Quarterly Communications were held during the year previous and upon the 26th of February, 1924, at which routine business was transacted.

The Annual Communication was held at Perth on the 22nd of May, 1924. Sixty-one Lodges were represented. Brother R. Russell, Louisiana's representative, was in attendance.

The Grand Master reported having paid twenty-six official visits.

Relative to the condition of the Craft, he says:

> "We average 65 members per working Lodge, and it seems to me this is just about the right size to enable brethren to get together, to learn each other's faults and virtues, in fact, to know each other. In Lodges running into many hundreds, and even thousands, there is little opportunity of the members getting acquainted by coming into personal contact with each other, and so that comradeship and friendship which the Craft is designed to promote becomes unreal and artificial, and in such an atmosphere Freemasonry cannot flourish. It may have numbers; it may have wealth; but it cannot have true fraternity."

The Grand Inspector of workings and his assistants reported that the different Lodges were prospering and were proficient in the Ritual.

The Grand Treasurer reports balances to the credit of different funds amounting to fifty-two thousand, five hundred and thirteen pounds sterling.

The Grand Anniversary Festival was held in the town hall, over four hundred brethren participating.

The report on Foreign Correspondence is by R. W. Bro. J. D. Stevenson, Grand Secretary.

He presents an excellent report which is altogether a splendid compendium of Masonic history of the year.

We appreciate this notice of Louisiana.

Western Australia—1925.

The volume opens upon a photographic presentation of the countenances of the seven Grand Secretaries of Australia. If we can be considered anything of a judge, we would say off hand that they are a good-looking bunch of fellows and a credit to the profession.

The reports cover the Quarterly sessions of the 28th of August, the 27th of November, 1924, and the 26th of February, 1925, and the Annual Communication of the 28th of May, 1925.

The proceedings of the Quarterly Communications show that the affairs of the Grand Lodge are splendidly managed and are in excellent shape.

Four new Lodges were reported constituted.

The Annual Communication was held at Perth on the 28th of May, 1925.

Forty-nine Lodges were represented.

The Grand Master said in opening:

"Worshipful Brethren and Brethren.—I have great pleasure in welcoming you to this, the 25th Anniversary Meeting of the Grand Lodge of Western Australia. I am glad that we have got such a good gathering, because I was afraid, from what the Grand Secretary told me, that a good many of our country members were doubtful of the wisdom of coming to Perth, owing to untoward circumstances, which meant that possibly they could not get anything to eat, so I am glad that many of you have braved the difficulties and are here present this evening. I am also glad that you are all here, because I am sure it is a very proud occasion for every member of the Grand Lodge of Western Australia when he looks back to the 25 years and sees what wonderful progress has been made."

The Grand Master says in relation to the Condition of the Craft:

"When the Grand Lodge of Western Australia was formed in 1900 there were 33 Lodges on the roll, with an approximate membership of 2,000. These numbers have now grown to 6,870, showing an increase of 377 for the year. There were 526 initiations during the past twelve months as compared with 576 the previous year. The great majority of the Lodges show an increase of membership, the most noticeable being Bridgetown 15, Gascoyne 13, Donnybrook and Wyalkatchem twelve each. The Lodges with the largest membership is St. John, with 139, followed by Swan with 133, Geraldton 119, Duke of Albany 118. We have now seventeen Lodges with a membership of one hundred and over. Our busiest Lodges in the matter of conferring degrees have been Wyalkatchem, Victoria Park, Bruce Rock, Swan, and Kalgoorlie, in the order named."

The different Inspectors of Workings reported as to the condition of the Craft under their abage.

Louisiana's representative presented an apology for his inability to be present.

Foreign Correspondence was by J. D. Stevenson, Grand Secretary, who presents a splendid piece of work and is not sparing with his comments.

Louisiana receives courteous treatment and Grand Master Sinai is commended for the strength and force shown in his address.

Membership, 6870.

REV. CHAS. OWEN LEAVER RILEY,
Archbishop of Perth, Grand Master.
J. D. STEVENSON, Grand Secretary.

Wisconsin—1925.

The Eighty-first Annual Communication was held at Milwaukee on the 9th of June, 1925.

Two hundred and seventy-two Lodges were represented.

Louisiana was represented by Brother Ray F. Gile.

The Grand Master reported the death of Past Grand Master Jesse C. Bradley, who served as Grand Master during 1905.

Nine Emergent Communications were held during the year, one for the installation of the Grand Junior Warden, four for cornerstone laying ceremonies, and four for the purpose of dedicating Masonic Temples.

Four decisions were rendered, each of which were in accord with Louisiana practice.

Sixty-one dispensations were granted for various purposes.

The Grand Master was called to preside over nine Masonic trials during the year.

He found it necessary to condemn the chain letter practice.

The Auditors reported total cash balances amounting to $85,547.25.

The Committee on Masonic Research reported as to their educational program of the past year, saying in connection:

> "That this great Fraternity is not functioning to its capacity is too evident to need discussion. To bring it to a greater efficiency is the most serious problem which confronts us. It appears to your committee that a more adequate conception of Freemasonry is a starting point for greater efficiency. To spread this better conception it is necessary to have talks by well informed brethren, and we most earnestly urge Masters of Lodges to have lectures given by brethren who can inspire a higher conception of Freemasonry. Every Worshipful Master ought to deliver at least a few talks each year on the symbolism and philosophy of Freemasonry. He is expected to give the Craft proper instruction. Until every Master really does qualify as being able to expound the symbolism and philosophy of Freemasonry and understands that which he professes to teach, we cannot expect efficiency."

Grand Secretary W. W. Perry was presented with a bouquet of twenty-five roses in token of his twenty-five years of service.

An amendment to the law was adopted, providing that Lodge trials shall be conducted by a commission of five, who shall not be members of the interested Lodge.

Two Charters were granted.

Past Grand Master Aldro Jenks presented his twenty-eighth Annual Report on Foreign Correspondence. As might be expected, the Grand Lodge is the gainer on account of his years of experience and the review is easily one of the best in the country. Our only regret is that Louisiana was not included.

Membership, 54,827.

FRED J. MARTIN, Grand Master.
WILLIAM W. PERRY, Grand Secretary.

Wyoming—1925.

The Fifty-first Annual Communication was held at Sheridan on the 19th of August, 1925.

Forty-one out of a total of forty-four Lodges were represented.

The Grand Master says, relative to the condition of the Craft:

> "The increase in membership has not been so large as in some preceding years, yet the past year has been one of material growth for Masonry in Wyoming. This is true not only in our largely increasing membership, but in the greater influence and respect the Order commands in every community where Lodges are located. The Grand Master is pleased to report that he is not aware of any serious dissension existing in any section of the jurisdiction."

The Grand Master paid nine official visits, one of these being to the Big Horn Masters' Club, which was attended by representatives of eight Lodges. He also attended the meeting of the George Washington Memorial Association.

One Lodge was constituted and one instituted.

The Grand Master decided that a petitioner who was minus one leg to the hip and whose deficiency was supplied with an artificial limb, was not eligible.

The Committee on Jurisprudence failed to agree with him and expressed their disapproval as follows:

> "As your committee understands this latter rule, it is that the final decision as to the eligibility in such a case must rest with the Worshipful Master of the Lodge, who we assume will, of course, consult other members of the Lodge, though the Grand Master may be asked for and may give his advice if requested to do so.
> "We are, therefore, of the opinion that the decision now referred to us should not have been a determinative one but only advisory in character so as to clearly leave the final decision with the Worshipful Master; and that it is incorrect to say that a candidate is ineligible if he cannot comply with all of the requirements of the ceremonies 'with his own body,' understanding those words to have been intended to mean his original body, and without any artificial substitute."

The following resolution was adopted:

"Inasmuch as the Holy Bible is the Great Light of Masonry and the guide by which Masons should direct their walk among men and Masons, and that already many Lodges and several jurisdictions have adopted the practice of presenting a Masonic Bible to each initiate upon his being raised to the Sublime Degree of a Master Mason,

"Therefore, Be It Resolved, That the Grand Lodge, A., F. & A. M. of Wyoming, in Annual Communication at Sheridan, Wyoming, recommend that the Lodges of Wyoming adopt the practice of presenting to each initiate such a Bible. And that the practice may be uniform, that the Grand Secretary be authorized to arrange for the purchase of such Bibles to be supplied to subordinate Lodges at cost plus transportation."

The report on Foreign Correspondence is by Grand Secretary Joseph M. Lowndes, who presents his twelfth Annual Review in this instance of the proceedings of fifty-seven Grand Lodges. He pays fraternal notice to Louisiana and says in his summary:

"One Grand Master welcomed his distinguished visitors by calling them the 'BIG MASONS.' This is one reason why the conscientious Masons are beginning to think that the profane only consider the "Three Degrees" as the gate-way to Masonry and it is a 'BIG MASON' they want to be, their only desire is to reach the '66th' by the easiest route. What is to become of the 'Blue Lodge Mason' if this attitude to Masonry should grow? Are we making 'Masons' or are we just sprouting a plant that is to 'bloom' when it reaches the ' 'steenth degree?'

"The writer has every respect for those organizations which draw their membership from the Masonic ranks, as there are many beautiful lessons taught and the aim of most of them is to make 'BETTER MASONS,' not 'bigger ones.' I know this, because I belong to some of them."

Membership, 7469.

FRANK S. KNITTLE, Grand Master.
JOSEPH M. LOWNDES, Grand Secretary.

Wyoming—1924.

The Fiftieth Annual Communication was held at Laramie on the 27th of August, 1924.

Forty-one of the forty-three Lodges were represented.

The Grand Master says in opening:

"We are grateful to the Great Architect of the Universe for the divine guidance and many blessings enjoyed during the past year, and the half-century now coming to a close.

"Freemasonry is well established in the Grand Jurisdiction and with the forty-four lodges within our State, reaching every community, our opportunities have become greatly extended to carry on the service of Brotherly Love, Relief and Truth.

"Masonry, with its conservative thought, unselfish spirit, and sincerity of purpose, is a steadying influence in the social, civic and commercial problems of every community."

He visited thirty lodges.

Two corner stones were laid, one lodge was constituted and one instituted.

The Grand Master reported a cash balance of $19,904.11.

An interesting episode of the session was the presentation to the Grand Lodge of Brother Melville C. Brown, the only member living within the jurisdiction who was present at the organization of the Grand Lodge fifty years previously. During the course of his talk, he said:

"I happen to be today the only one left of those who were present at the formation of our Grand Lodge in 1874. There were representatives present from each of the four lodges then existing in Wyoming. The second session of the Grand Lodge was also in Laramie. The third session was in Cheyenne, and fortunately, I was in attendance at each of these sessions. Now, today, I am feeling a little worn out and am unable to say much to you of interest. It has been said that man's conscience or spirit is greater than a city. I want to say to you that a man who lives up to his obligations as a Mason cannot be otherwise than a good man. I know it has happened to me. I am here now as some sort of a representative of this first and oldest organization. I am getting old and feeble. My time is not long to be with you, but I want to say in these, my last days, that my heart goes out to Masons everywhere and under all conditions. I know, as I shall go down to the dark valley and across the river, that warm and gentle hands will be reached out to greet me, hands of Masons whom I have known for years and years in this world. It cannot be long until I must pass away. It cannot be long until I go down into the dark valley to cross the river to the evergreen shore, and I know I shall meet many warm and gentle friends who will pilot me across the river and greet me on the evergreen shore. I will not detain you longer. I will say 'farewell and God be with you.'"

The record reads:

"Brother William A. Riner, P. G. M. (11), gave one of the most eloquent orations ever delivered before this Grand Body and at the conclusion the entire membership gave a well deserved applause."

But unfortunately, the address is not reproduced.

Foreign Correspondence is by Brother Joseph M. Lowndes. He reviews the proceedings of fifty-two Grand Lodges in an admirable report in narrative style and without the use of the shears. We regret that he failed to include Louisiana.

Membership, 7,207.

JOHN I. KIRBY, Grand Master.
JOSEPH M. LOWNDES, Grand Secretary.

Fraternally submitted,

JOHN A. DAVILLA, Chairman,
Committee on Foreign Correspondence.
