3 Hurt On Ride At Fair

A mishap at the Ingham county fairgrounds last Wednesday night August 4 sent cable cars on the 500 foot long Swiss Lift, a high sky ride along the Midway careening about as the pulleys supporting them slipped from the cables. Three persons among the 15 aboard the device were injured and required hospital treatment.

The injured: Mrs. Virginia Potter, 625 Kipling boulevard, 41, of Lansing, wife of State Senator

Faces Charge In Fair Case

Walter Roger Farr of Charlotte, charged with malicious destruction of property in connection with the accident at the Swiss Lift at the Ingham county fair last week pleaded not guilty when arraigned before Judge Roy Adams in Mason justice court this week. Judge Adams set his bond at $250, which was provided, and he was released to await trial.

Sheriff's officers said they will ask hearings in probate court on 2 other 16 year old youngsters who also were involved in the incident.

Don Potter, who suffered bone chip on her left elbow and a cut and bruises on her leg.

Mrs. Virginia M. Brenner, 3687 Dell road, 43, of Holt who suffered back injuries and multiply cuts and bruises.

Margaret L. Brenner, 9, her daughter, who had a knee bruise and suffered from shock.

The injured were treated at Mason General hospital and then discharged.

Ingham county sheriff's officers said 3 boys from Charlotte admitted causing the accident. They said they rocked and swayed cable cars as they came close to the ground.

Officers released them to the custody of their parents after questioning, pending the results of a further investigation and conference with Don Reising, Ingham county prosecutor.

Donald Reising, prosecuting attorney for Ingham county, said one of the boys, Walter Roger Farr, 18, of Charlotte, was charged with malicious destruction of personal property and malicious tampering with an exhibit at a county fair. The other 2 boys were juveniles.

Explaining the accident sheriff's officers said the rocking and swaying of the cars caused the cable to jump the pulleys and send the cars plunging and then whipping them back up in the air as the cable tightened.

The sky ride, is similar to a ski lift. It was one of the big midway attractions of the W.C. Wade shows. The show management was in no way to blame for the accident, fair officials said. The ride was back in operation Thursday. It was checked thoroughly by the state and given a clean bill of health.

Riding with Mrs. Potter were her 2 children, Patricia, 9 and Thomas, 8. They were uninjured.

Senator Potter, was standing near his mobile trailer on the grounds and saw the accident.

Mrs. Brenner's husband, Victor, was standing below the ride. An empty car fell to the ground and narrowly missed a passerby. The Brenner car crashed into a concession tent, which collapsed. Then the car swung up into the air again.

Potter said he looked up saw the car coming down. He said it appeared to be falling in steps and he rushed toward it thinking he might be able to catch his family, but the car swung upward to the highest point and started making another run.

Mrs. Potter said as the car swung upward her children seemed to be falling forward. She was injured when she grabbed them. About then, she said, she heard a woman scream.

Brenner said it looked for a moment as if his daughter would fall out of the car, but

5 Meet Death In Fiery Crash

Collision of a truck and a car on Howell road, near Williamston road, east of Mason Saturday night brought fiery death to a mother and her 3 children. Another person, among the 3 injured at the scene, died later in Mason General hospital.

The dead: Mrs. Mary Meier, 53 Grosse Point Park.

Lorraine J. Meier, 19, a daughter.

William J. Meier, 14, a son.

Anne M. Meier, 12, a daughter.

Lloyd Anson, 52, Byron, a passenger in the truck.

The injured include: William Meier, 50, Grosse Point Park, driver of the car and husband and father of the victims.

Robert Delbridge, 15, Byron, a passenger in the truck. Anson died of his injuries Monday morning.

The driver of the truck was Lloyd Wooden, 50, of Byron. Riding with him were his father, Jay, 78, also of Byron, Anson and Delbridge. Wooden and his father both escaped injury.

The Meiers were former residents of Mason.

Their car was moving west on Howell road. As they approached the scene of the crash several hogs started across the road. Meier swerved to avoid hitting them and into the path of the Wooden truck which was returning with 2 draft horses from the Ingham county fair. Delbridge and Anson were with the horses at the rear of the truck. One horse was slightly hurt.

The Meier family was enroute to Mason to visit a family friend, Dr. George Clinton, police said. Mr. and Mrs. Meier had lived in Mason until 1952 when they moved to Grosse Point Park. Meier is a vice-president of the Parke-Davis company.

Coroner Dorwin Hoffmeyer said 2 of the bodies were burned beyond recognition. A third body was badly burned. A fourth was found near a fence about 40 feet from the scene of the collision.

Meier is believed to have been thrown clear of the car before it burst into flames. Meier and Wooden attempted to get the 3 victims out of the car but were driven back when the gas tank exploded.

Wooden saw the pigs at about the same time Meier did and slowed down. The Meier car, also attempting to avoid the pigs, swerved into the path of the oncoming truck and was struck broadside, police said.

In attempting to rescue his family, Meier suffered burns, shock and a possible concussion. His condition Tuesday was reported as satisfactory at the Mason General hospital.

The bodies of Mrs. Meier and the children were removed to the Ball-Dunn Funeral home in Mason. Funeral services were conducted Tuesday at 11 a.m. at the St. James Roman Catholic church with burial in Maple Grove cemetery here. Rev. William J. Rademacher, pastor of St. James officiated. The Rosary was recited Monday night.

Pallbearers were D.D. Ewing, J.E. Swietzer, E. W. Walke, A.C. Denison, W.H. Bundesen, H.H. Bogin, R.E. Mottin, D.K. Foraker, C.W. Linger, R.E. Farrell, T.E. Harris, D.G. Neill, E.G. Millard, J.E. Hinkle, H.J. Barnhill, W. V. Kennedy, H.F. Seibert, H.C. Bell, D.A. Thielman, N.F. Pritzel, F.G. Guerrero, L.O. Austin, G.R. Pearsall and B.R. Plakke.

The Meier family lived in Mason for many years before moving to Grosse Point Park. Mayor Gilson Pearsall, a friend of the family, said. While here Meier was employed by Wyeth Laboratories, Inc., where he was the plant engineer. He came to Mason from the New York area in 1940.

The Meiers family had maintained a home in Mason since moving to Grosse Point Park. They had been planning to return to the Mason residence at 400 E. Elm street sometime in the future where they intended to make their permanent home.

Besides her husband, Mrs. Meier is survived by 2 brothers, Dr. John Cunningham of Montclair, New Jersey and Dr. James Cunningham of Tenafly, New Jersey. Both arrived in Mason Monday for the services.

Six high executives of the Parke-Davis company were in Mason Sunday to pay their respects and to visit Meier in the hospital. They were also in attendance at the funeral Tuesday.

City Bids Sad Farewell To 4 Victims of Crash

Over 300 persons attended the funeral service for Mrs. William Meier and her 3 children of Grosse Pointe Park who were killed in an automobile accident near Mason Saturday evening, Aug. 7.

Persons attending the service typified the many, many friends and associates that the Meiers family held dear to themselves. The president of Parke-Davis Company, the entire Parke-Davis board of directors, not to mention the Mason and Grosse Pointe Park friends came to pay their respects.

Although Grosse Pointe Park residents, the Meier family was always loyal to Mason from the beginning in 1940 when Meier took a job at Wyeth Laboratories, Inc. here as plant engineer.

In 1952 Meier accepted a position with Parke-Davis and company where he advanced to the office of vice-president.

Members of the Meier family were strongly tied to Mason and their Mason friends. They visited the city regularly and maintained 2 homes here, one at 400 E. Elm street and the other on S. Barnes street. They had planned for many years to return to Mason following Meier's retirement.

The home on Elm street was kept vacant for several years so the family could return for weekend visits and summer vacations.

Mrs. Meier was a woman entirely devoted to her church and family. She and her husband were the initiators of the St. James Roman Catholic church. Before the church was built Mrs. Meier opened her home for the church catechism classes.

Most of Mrs. Meier's time was dedicated to her family. The oldest daughter, Lorraine, had cerebral palsy, Billy, the only son, was afflicted with cystic fibrosis and Anne, the youngest daughter, had a chronic kidney condition.

Friends of Mrs. Meier said she was always caring for someone. "One side of Mary Meier that many people did not know about is that she lived most of her life with invalids." Mayor Gilson Pearsall, a close friend and former neighbor, said.

When the Meiers moved to Mason, Mrs. Meier watched over her husband's grandmother until her death. She also cared for her own mother and uncle.

While in Mason she was a member of the Mason College club and her husband a member of the Cub Scout Pack committee.

The area window breakers are on the move again.

Harold Ginter of Mason reported to the sheriff's department Wednesday, Aug. 3, that 2 picture windows, 3 feet by 4, had been broken during the night at the Alameda Elementary School.

Investigating officers found that 2 rocks the size of baseballs had been thrown through the windows at the front of the building.

This follows close on the heels of a window breaking spree in Mason 6 weeks ago that caused about $3,000 in damage when vandals went through town shooting out windows with BB guns.

Excitement reigned last Thursday as patrol cars rushed to the new Mason State bank Drive-In, 661 N. Cedar street about 10 a.m.

City police and sheriff deputies both answered the alarm. One there they found it was false. An electrical short circuit set off the warning.

Office Abolished

There will be one less office on the ballot in 1968. At Tuesday's session of the supervisors the office of county surveyor was abolished. After the term of William C. Berryman expires surveying services will be contracted.

Currently the Ingham surveyor is not on salary but is on a fee basis.

To The Rescue

MASON FIRE CHIEF Hugh Silsby is shown removing a child from a seat on the "Swiss Lift" following last Wednesday night's mishap at the Ingham County Fair. Three boys are blamed for the incident which injured 3 persons and required that firemen rescue 12 others from the high-wire amusement.

From Leslie to Lansing

Big Grass Fire Battled Along a 28-Mile Front

A gargantuan grass fire that swept along the New York Central railroad tracks from Leslie to Lansing, a distance of about 28 miles, gave firemen from 5 communities an all day battle last Friday, August 6.

Sirens and more sirens blew calling out Mason, Holt, Dansville, Leslie and Lansing fire departments while flames spread toward homes and over fields.

Approximately 43 firemen and 11 trucks answered the alarms. The winding trail of grass fires started at Kinneville and Eden roads just outside Leslie and popped up in various locations all the way

New York Central railroad tracks and College road. At one time there were 4 fire trucks and a fire fighting jeep all centered in the area attempting to control the blaze.

From the air the fire would have looked like 100 camp fires springing up here and there all along the railroad right of way.

Firemen said the fires were started by sparks from a New York Central train which went through Mason about 11 a.m.

Sparks from a hot box on the train showered Ingham county's tinder dry land along the tracks, starting the myriad of fires that mushroomed into full-fledged blazes, firemen reported.

Mason's fire units jumped from one fire to another. Ingham county sheriff patrol cars kept the fire fighting units informed by radio as to where a new blaze had broken out. As soon as a new fire was spotted, off the trucks would go.

Jumping from fire to fire showed wear and tear on all the volunteers and even on the some of the equipment. The rough terrain and continuous hard usage told on the

Mason grass fire jeep which lost its clutch in the middle of the wheat stubble field on College road.

The huge grass fire required the attention of every available volunteer fireman in Mason. Even some of the retired volunteers were pressed into action as the siren blew repeatedly Friday morning.

After the initial work of fire fighting, volunteers set about checking on smoldering ashes to insure that they didn't fire up again. A second blaze started up within the city limits of Mason just west of Barnes road Friday afternoon and firemen were called to put it out.

Some 5 patrol cars worked in the immediate Mason area to report and keep track of all fires. In some areas firemen left fires to burn themselves out as there was no damage that could be done. This made more men available in areas where homes were threatened.

Firemen said the same train went along quite a way past Holt road without starting another fire until it reached Aurelius road where more sparks flew, igniting surrounding grass.

At 4:30 p.m. Friday another grass fire broke out along Mason street in Mason.

Ingham Receives Road Cash

The state highway department has started distributing second quarter motor vehicle highway fund collections to Michigan counties and incorporated cities and villages.

Howard E. Hill, state highway director, said net receipts of the highway fund during April, May and June of 1965, amounted to $52,548,373, an increase of $3,508,891, or 7.2 percent, compared to the same period of 1964.

All state gasoline and diesel fuel taxes and license plate fees go to the Motor Vehicle Highway Fund.

After deduction of collection costs and the Waterways Commission's share, the money is distributed under provisions of state law which provide that 47 percent goes to the State Highway Department for use on state highways, 35 percent to the State's 83 counties for use on county roads and 18 percent to incorporated cities and villages for their roads and streets.

Under this formula, the State Highway Department will receive 24,697,735 as its share of the second quarter collections, while the counties will receive $18,391,931 and the incorporated cities and villages will get $9,458,707.

213 Acre Farm Given To Camp Ingham Inc.

A 213 acre farm valued at $80,000 to $100,000, near Highfields, the camp for boys near Onondaga, has been donated to Camp Ingham, Inc. The new farm facility is located only some 2 miles from "Highfield," where an administration building, including dining facility and lodging for boys, is presently under construction.

Focus at the farm facility will be on development of program—not only farming, but various trade and technological subjects. Buildings at the farm facility appear favorably adaptable to use for shop, classroom, and indoor recreational purposes as well as for farming. "Highfields", which has a fresh stream running through the property suitable for damming and 28 acres of wooded area, will be developed as a park-type camp and the residential area.

It is expected, as program is developed, that some of the boys will also live at the new location.

Both Highfields and the new facility will be operated by Camp Ingham, Inc., a non-profit corporation representing interested community organizations and agencies. An appropriate name for the new facility is being sought and was discussed at the Camp Ingham board meeting Tuesday.

While it was felt the donors' names should appear in the title, they have specifically requested that their name be given no publicity as a result of the gift. They have asked and been assured that the property will always be used for an opportunity program for deserving youth such as is planned by Camp Ingham, Inc.

They have offered the suggestion, in view of the training emphasis planned, that the word "Academy" might be suitable to include in the title. Being North of "Highfields" and since Camp Ingham, Inc. will be coordinating both efforts, "Northfields Academy" or "Northfields Campus" have been discussed as possibilities for a name.

'Head Start' Work Nears End at Holt

HOLT - Holt's Head Start program will come to a close Friday, August 13. Ted Sampe, director of the program which has been in progress for the past 7 weeks feels that it was a success from the viewpoint of the children and it has won the approval of their parents, he said.

"I think we have learned considerable," he added. "One thing we know about what is to come in the future in local and federal school relations. There have been problems and we have identified some of these problem areas at the local level."

During the closing weeks the staff working on the program has been busy preparing pre-school inventory tests and behavior tests for the federal government which will use the information to better evaluate the program and determine what needs to be done in the future.

"At the same time we have been evaluating our own program," Sampe said "and determining what needs to be done in future sessions."

He said he is following up some of the medical and dental examinations given the children and has been informed that about 6 are in need of tonsillectomies.

Twenty five youngsters were enrolled in the Holt program and Sampe said the attendance has been good.

As a sort of farewell gift to each pupil, Sampe has had prepared small albums containing individual picture of the child to whom it was given. These pictures were taken in the classroom, on the playground and during several trips on which the children were taken.

During the sessions the children also were taken to the elementary school which each will attend next month. There they met the instructors who will teach them, saw the classroom they will attend and were given an insight into what school will be like.

The program has included classroom work in which the children learned to paint, learned about observation by looking at pictures, learned about numbers, such as street, address and telephone listings and were taught the awareness of money, received instruction in telling time and were made aware of personal care and washing before meals.

On their trips they visited nearby parks, airports, farms and went on nature walks in the woods where they learned about animals and their habits. They also learned to sing and dance both as a group and on an individual basis.

The children were taught by Miss Hazel Perinchief, a regular instructor in the Holt schools and experienced in nursery school work. As her assistant she had Miss Linda Whitaker, a student aide, who will be a senior in Holt high school this coming year.

Youth Chapel Readied

HOLT -- Holt Baptist new youth chapel and fellowship hall is near completion and work is progressing rapidly. September 5 has been set for the opening date. The 24 x 32 frame addition has been built at the rear of the building located on Auburn street. The interior of the Youth Chapel will be finished in oak paneling and will have tile flooring and acoustic tile ceilings.

Remodeling of the nursery and class rooms also is underway.

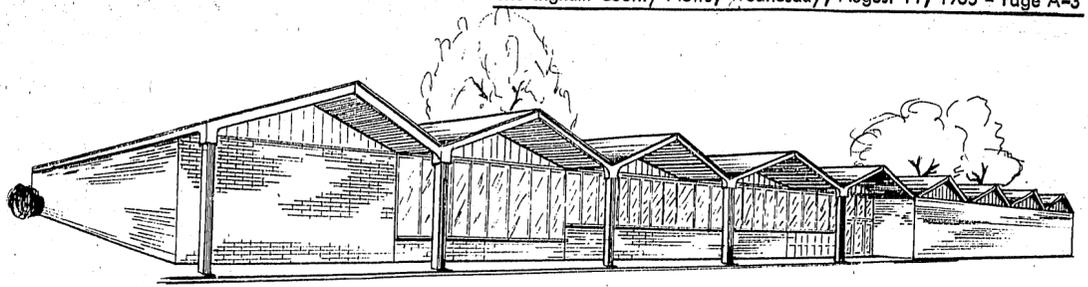

Thieves Rifle

HOLT-Thieves made off with about $25 after rifling an office at the Thornton Supply company, 1730 E. Holt road last week.

Sheriff's deputies found that entry was gained by forcing out a screen at the west side of the building. Once inside the thieves carefully replaced the screen, looted the office and left by way of the front door. The case is under investigation.

Take Picture Trip

HOLT-Holt Methodist Joy club took a picture tour of the Canadian and American Rockies at a dinner meeting in the church social hall. The slides were narrated by William Nelson of the Scott Gardens in Lansing. Miss Bertha Dell was program chairman.

Building Program Pushed

HOLT - Preliminary steps leading to actual construction of additions to Holt and Dimondale schools are going forward with expectations that actual construction can be started in the early fall.

Voters last June approved an $875,000 bond issue to cover the cost of an extensive building program which will include additions to the elementary school in Dimondale and the Elliott elementary school in Holt, the addition of specialized facilities at all 4 elementary buildings in Holt and Dimondale, a new Education Center building on the Midway elementary school property, further remodeling of the junior high school in Holt and site improvements including blacktopping of drives, parking lots and play areas at all schools. It also is planned to set aside funds for future site purposes.

Architects have submitted preliminary drawings which the Board of education has examined and approved and now are preparing detailed plans for receiving bids from contractors in the fall.

Requests for qualifications of the bond issue have been made to the state department of public instruction and the Municipal Finance commission and as soon as these are approved, the date for the sale of the bonds will be set and bids will be asked from bond houses.

When the bond sale is completed construction bids will be taken and actual work will start. This is expected to be in late September or October.

Six schools comprise the Holt-Dimondale district. They are the elementary school in Dimondale and these in Holt: Elliott elementary, Midway elementary, Sycamore elementary, and Holt junior and senior high schools.

A committee has been selected by the firemen to see to the construction of new rest rooms at the Holt Athletic field. The Holt firemen are contributing profits made at their 1965 Fourth of July firemen's frolic. Money and labor will be contributed by the Holt firemen, Kiwanis club, American Legion and the Dimondale Lions club. Plans have not been perfected as yet, but this is to be a community project.

Hartley Building New Supermarket

HOLT-A new supermarket and discount department store is under construction by LaVern Hartley and sons just west of the Willoughby road and Cedar street intersection.

The new building will be directly in back of the existing Hartley supermarket. The old building will be remodeled to coordinate with the exterior of the proposed building and leased.

Situated on a 40 acre tract, the new building will be of wood, brick and large display windows. Completion of the building is expected about November 1. Robert Hartley will be the manager. Traffic will be able to enter the parking lot from Willoughby road and Cedar street. The front of the combined supermarket and discount department store will face Cedar street.

"With the remainder of the 40 acres we hope a shopping center will be developed in the near future," LaVern Hartley said.

The present Hartley food market will be leased to other businesses, Robert Hartley said.

Family Away, Home Entered; Nothing Taken

HOLT -- Mr. and Mrs. A.L. Tooker, 805 Grovenburg road, returned home from a vacation trip to their cabin in Oscoda county last Friday to find that someone had entered their home during their absence but they could find nothing missing.

The intruders made entrance through a rear door of the house with a key which Tooker had hidden away before leaving on the trip. He said nothing was touched inside the house but a dipper which he had hung inside the well house before he left was found hanging on the outside of the building.

Tooker said a neighbor saw a car drive into the yard during an afternoon last week but as it somewhat resembled the Tooker car he thought the family had returned. She said a man and a boy went into the house. She did not see them leave.

Earl Tooker of Eaton Rapids, a son of the Tooker's visited the house a short time before the Tookers returned and found the rear door open.

Letters from Overseas

Hello, All:

Greeting from Holland. I have just returned from a week of camping with my sister, Hanneke, at Westkapella, Near Middleburg on the coast of Holland. The camping areas here are much like the campgrounds back home, but we don't have any trees in this park. The weather has been very bad -- rain every day! We even had to move our tent to higher ground because we got flooded out! Then the rain stopped and it became very windy. We were afraid the tent would blow down, but it didn't. When we first arrived in Westkapella, I was impressed by all the dikes and dunes and water! The campgrounds were very crowded. The Dutch people are great campers.

My first impression of the "Noord Zee" was the grayish-green color of the water which I found to be icy-cold. And the salt! It reminded me of the Pacific. The beach was a great expanse of sand, and the roads and paths were made of shells instead of stones. There was a club house at the park where everyone gathered for music and dancing. One day we went to Middleburg where the older people dress in their national costumes. The men wear wooden shoes and the women wear long dresses and funny white hats. It is very strange. I took some pictures.

My brother, Andries, was home on leave from the navy from July 12th to the 24th.

I found him to be just as nice as the rest of the family. I only had one week to become acquainted with him because the other week was spent at Westkapella.

On July 27 my family and I are leaving on a trip to Spain. Among other places I will see during the trip, are Brussels, Belgium and Paris, France. I am very excited about traveling to all these beautiful and interesting places.

It will be hard to leave the people here and the beautiful country. But the Youth for Understanding directors have scheduled my departure on a jet flight to Detroit Metropolitan airport on August 22. So I'll see you all again soon.

Miss Simons is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James J. Simons of Lansing and Bray is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Dee L. Bray of Mason.

There should be a sixth reason also. It's interesting to use the stones we've picked up over the years in this way. It becomes kind of a fascinating 'picture' with the various texture of stones.

You've never heard of stone farming????? Let me tell you its worth. It's actually sort of a stone mulch. Those of you who have looked for angleworms know the secret already of how it stays damp under stones. So when you surround a plant with stones it seems to keep that plant nice and dampish at the roots. That's what I call stone farming!

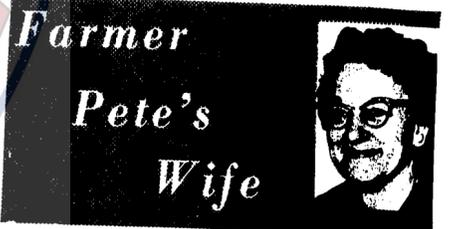

This began in a mind, and then in a wild and intense struggle to have a certain flowerbed along the sidewalk. No, sir! Do you think that even one of our eighteen cats would leave that strip of soft dirt alone? They camped on it! So I sharpened sticks and pushed them into the ground here and there. Well, they not only looked goofy but everyone wondered if I were trying to pierce them to their death should they miss their step and fall face downward... to say nothing to what it would do to their backs...!

In the meantime the little banty hens had hatched (both chicks and ducklings) and you know a mother hen... especially a banty mother hen, was born scratching in the dirt. (Preferable soft, moist, rich dirt surrounding tiny petunias just set out.) Why those sticks had no effect whatever on those banties. They continued to dart among them as though it were a game devised for their sole amusement. And continued to dig to China!

Judy, the dog, either pulled them out with her teeth or merely leaned into them and bent them over. She surely looked comfortable and contented. It seemed a shame to disturb her but with all the dirt on this farm she wasn't going to get away with it. It smarts to be outsmarted by a dog. (I fixed her a soft place sprinkled with water just the same way that the petunia-bed was.) (It wasn't quite right however.)

It was fur and feathers, fang and claw against me. I started lugging stones. That did it!! I like it. It's such a good display of our stones in the bargain. And they are interesting. It's been such a lot of fun through the years (over thirty-five) picking up stones. It's made an adventure out of any place at all I've happened to be because there is always the possibility of seeing 'a stone'.

And whatever my family would have had to tease poor, goofy, little, old Mom about without her 'stones.' You see they seemed to have no earthly value at all. If I would have had to buy, borrow or steal them it would have made them important???? Now they are proving that they have earthly value.

This is a good year for stone farming. For five reasons!

1. Helps retain moisture.
2. Keeps weeds down.
3. Defies cats.
4. Discourages banties.
5. Discommodes dogs.

Party Fetes Bride-To-Be

Miss Jamie Simons, who will become the bride of Bill Bray on September 4 in Trinity Lutheran church, Lansing, was honored at a miscellaneous bridal shower on Friday evening at the home of Mrs. John Prineing.

Co-hostesses were Mrs. Allen Frederick and Mrs. Glenn Oesterle. Assisting Mrs. Prineing with games and contests was Mrs. Stanley Cornwell.

Refreshments of broken-glass dessert, punch, coffee, nuts and mints were served from a white-over-pink lace-covered table with a centerpiece arrangement of assorted pink garden flowers and pink tapers in milk glass.

28-Year Resident of Mason

Her 90th Birthday Today

Mrs. Frank H. (Belle) Wangeman is celebrating her 90th birthday today, Aug. 11, and is enjoying every minute of it. She has been anticipating this special day for 2 weeks.

It has become a tradition among Mrs. Wangeman's friends in Mason to shower her with gifts starting 2 weeks before the big event. She says she receives at least one gift every day.

Mrs. Wangeman has a little verse she has known for many, many years which helps her to face life's disappointments and always look to the bright future. A part of the verse goes like this: "I find that you don't look for the faults in life and if by chance you find them it is better to be blind and not see them."

It is this type of thinking that has made Mrs. Wangeman grandchildren. Mrs. Wangeman is.

She is, of course, partial to her family especially the grandchildren and great-grandchildren. Mrs. Wangeman has lived in Mason with her daughter and son-in-law Mayor and Mrs. Gilson Pearsall on Elm street since 1937 when her husband died.

A native of Charlevoix, Michigan, Mrs. Wangeman was for 6 years a school teacher in a rural one-room school house in Charlevoix county for grades one through 8.

She has 3 children Mrs. Clarence (Mildred) Mullett of Traverse City, Mrs. Pearsall and Lyle B. Wangeman of Boyne City. A second son H.A. Wangeman was killed in an automobile accident in 1952.

Not one to sit idly around, Mrs. Wangeman keeps busy knitting, sewing and baking. She has a full-time job during the summer keeping the Pearsall cookie jar full or all the small cookie jar full for all the grand and great-grandchildren plus are the neighborhood children who frequent the swimming pool in the backyard.

"When that cookie jar is empty all the youngsters come looking for me to see if I am sick or if something is wrong," she said. "The children are like little ants when they find out the cookie jar is full."

A loyal supporter of Mason, Mrs. Wangeman thinks Mason is just wonderful and feels its best asset is the people. Christmas time finds Mrs. Wangeman knitting like crazy. She has done knitting for a hobby since age 7. Now she specializes in snow suits for great-granddaughter Lisa, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Fisher (Tobey Pearsall) of Southgate, and sweaters for great-grandson Randy, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Badi (Suzanne Pearsall) now of Mason.

After the big rush at Christmas time is over Mrs. Wangeman starts to sew just for a change. One of her handmade aprons is a credit to any kitchen and its homemaker. With a sweet smile Mrs. Wangeman lives each day as it comes. "One can always learn—I'm still learning at age 90," she said.

When that cookie jar is empty all the youngsters come

looking for me to see if I am sick or if something is wrong," she said. "The children are like little ants when they find out the cookie jar is full."

A committee of the Mason area Community chest met at the city hall Thursday, August 5, to discuss a proposed drive goal and consult with representatives in the Lansing Chest on organizational problems. Duwayne Evans, Mason director, has hoped to establish a definite figure to work toward, but a quorum was not present and the action had to be postponed until the next meeting Thursday, Sept. 2.

Leslie Head Start Program Nears End

LESLIE - Leslie's Head Start program will come to a close Friday, marking the end of an eventful summer session for 21 pre-school boys and girls.

The children were taken to Jackson last week to visit a large department store where they rode the elevators and the escalators and walked through revolving doors, which was something new for most of them.

On the return trip to Leslie they stopped at Northlawn park to feed the ducks and enjoy a lunch. Last Thursday they visited the Ingham county fair where they visited many exhibits. Each child was given money with which to buy what they wanted on the grounds. Last Friday the children enjoyed a treat at the school. Mrs. Charles Lakim brought an ice cream freezer to school and the children made some homemade strawberry ice cream.

Parents of the children visited the school last Saturday for light refreshments and to see slides showing what the class has been doing during the program.

On Tuesday of this week the boys and girls enjoyed a bus trip to Albion and return and on Wednesday went swimming at Portage lake. The class will go to Mason Thursday to receive vaccinations and other shots necessary to start school this fall.

The Maple Grove area became a part of Lansing last year and the North school area in 1960.

Delhi township owns 2 parcels of property in the Maple Grove area--a town hall and a 7 acre tract of land which has been used as a park and recreation area.

Announcement of the planned discussion was made at the regular meeting of the Delhi Charter township board Monday evening at the township hall.

The board opened its meeting with a public hearing on the proposed construction of a sidewalk along the west side of Aurelius road from W. Holt road to Cedar street (US-127). There were no objections voiced to the proposed improvement. The county road commission has approved the project, with recommendations for a grade change at one point.

The sidewalk project is to cost $4,463.80 of which the township pays 50 per cent or $2,231.90. The cost to property owners $2,231.90 or 97 cents per foot frontage along the street will be spread over 3 years at an interest rate of 2 per cent a year.

Miss Enid Lewis, township clerk, announced that the township is in receipt of $18,511.36 from the county treasurer as its share of sales tax diversion money for the quarter ending March 31 and another $9,999.44 in intangible tax payments. This represents a township per capita payment of $2.24 on the sales tax diversion and $1.21 on the intangible tax money.

The board was in receipt of a letter from Consumers' Power company informing it of a boost in rates for incandescent street lights. Presently installed incandescent lights will remain at existing charges, the letter said, but new lights will cost more. Mercury vapor street light charges will be lower.

Okemos

It Grows and Grows And Grows

By Lula Howarth

Okemos for years was a pin point on the map. It is making its presence known now in a big way.

Now thus 100 years ago the residents in a little settlement 2 miles east of the "Split Rock on the old Grand River road decided to call the spot Okemos, after the "Chief"—a friendly Indian neighbor whom his white friends designated "a man of his word".

METROPOLITAN AREA

In those early days no one ever dreamed Okemos would one day be in a Metropolitan area. It was a good farming location.

It had rich timbered land and pioneer families who were industrious and had courage and adaptability to make a success in a new land. There was the Red Cedar River that made a water way for transportation for the Indians and also for the pioneers.

There was an Indian trail and a wagon road to Dexter and later to Detroit where wheat could be ground for flour and clothing and provisions could be purchased.

There was no plank road yet, because there were no industrial plants in Lansing—in fact there was no Lansing. The first agricultural college in the United States was a struggling little school that had as late as 1870 only 100 students enrolled.

RAILROAD COMES

When the railroad from Detroit was completed in 1871 it was an impetus to the growth and stability of the village even though it was 1/2 mile south of the town. The capital was in Lansing, there was industry in Lansing and M.A.C. was growing. Okemos was a good place to live.

There were churches, schools and doctors. It was within sight of the state capital and within walking distance of the college (M.A.C.).

Then came new roads, new industries lots of cars and the college grew from 100 students to 31,268 enrollment in 65. Lansing grew and for the past decade it has been a matter of speculation as to where this rapid growth in Okemos was going. For a few years it was with a pleasantly surprised attitude with which people observed the changes. This has now changed to astonishment and bewilderment.

LOCATION IMPORTANT

The location of Okemos has lent importance to its phenomenal growth but there has been industrialists, states men and capitalists—men with vision, both in Lansing and the village who have made great contributions.

While chief Okemos was planting corn and making a camping ground for his warriors on the south bank of the Red Cedar, two men came to the settlement from Canada who were to play an important part in the future of the community.

They were Joseph Kilbourne and Freeman Bray. Kilbourne was an ambitious and aggressive member of the state legislature. Bray was ambitious and ready to play a part in anything that would benefit the community. Their united efforts resulted in bringing the capital to Lansing against overwhelming odds. It is doubtful if either of these men would view with favor all of the progress in Okemos. Expressways and subdivisions do rob the land of some natural beauty.

FARMS NOW STREETS

Old pioneer farms have been laid out in new streets. Like mushrooms homes have risen on the horizon and the farm home of 3 or 4 generations becomes part of a big urban development.

The streets are lined with attractive homes, the new school buildings, the new churches and subdivisions - Indian Hills, Hiawatha Park, Tacoma Hills, River Downs, Chippewa Hills, Cedar Bend Heights, Navaho Ridge, Ottawa Heights, River Wood, Brian Wood and many others replace the rustic scenery and every place looks like a growing city.

On Doble road where some of the oldest farms were there are beautiful substantial homes along the north side in Tacoma Hills, promoted by the Ehringer Real Estate and on the south boundary is the development of Hiawatha Park, a promotion of Hicks Bros. Real Estate, especially attractive because of the rolling terrain, which makes a display of beautiful homes from Jolley road or Doble road. Between these groups are the Forest Hills homes where new roads are being built into a new natural setting for homes that feature good living. This is a new addition to the well established project of earlier building.

MORE AND MORE BUILDINGS

On the Okemos-Mason road there is new building going on in every direction. The Kasuba Development company is building a group of 8 apartment houses with 30 units in each building.

This is located just south of the river. Looking west from the construction area there is Kewanee Way with fine homes stretching toward the river.

Farther south on the right of the road is the construction of a research development a promotion of Keith Granger. New houses are going up on either side of the road as well as side streets and on the corner of Okemos and Jolley.

Don Hodney is beginning one of the largest subdivisions in the area.

Growth in Okemos goes on and on and never is it possible to be up to date as the presses roll and steam shovels are breaking ground for new homes and new business. One of the natural beauty spots of central Michigan has become one of the fastest growing places in the state.

Ingham Church Group Sponsors Boys Camp

At noon today, the first of 2 groups of 30 boys each left the Ingham county juvenile home by bus for a week of camping at Rainbow Lake near Trufant.

James T. Kallman, judge of probate court for Ingham county, said the boys involved are either youths with problems in the community or problem youths in the community. These boys are boys who really need a camping experience but would probably never have one except for this opportunity, he added.

According to Judge Kallman, the Lifeline Division of the Greater Lansing Youth for Christ supplies the camping program for the boys at no cost to the youth or his family. The boys attend the camp willingly with the written consent of their parents. What is even more significant is the fact that the program is supplied by Lifeline for the boys in the juvenile division of the probate court at no cost whatever to the taxpayers.

Judge Kallman said this is truly an example of what can happen in a community when responsible citizens take the initiative in meeting a problem head-on at the local level. The entire budget for the camping program is being donated by professional people, churches and other interested persons in the Greater Lansing area.

The judge added that Lifeline not only supplies a very needed program of guidance through the camping experience, but it also works with the boys in activities conducted in the evenings and on weekends during the school year.

One of the most unique features of this program is that all boys who are interested, and are subsequently referred to the program, are accepted with no attempt to screen out any boy for any reason whatsoever.

Plowing Show Draws Crowd of 300 Farmers

DANSVILLE - A plowing demonstration in equipment that provided not only efficiency but downright comfort attracted about 300 farmers to a field near here last week. It was staged by officials of a tractor company to introduce a new 60-horsepower tractor. Officials said the statewide demonstration is staged only when a new line of tractors is introduced. The last such one was in 1963 at Diehlfelds, near the village limits, the same location which this 1965 demonstration was conducted. The new model plowed and disced over 100 acres of farm land.

One model, which appeared to be the most popular with farmers, was a tractor equipped with fans to keep the driver cool or warm, depending on the weather, a comfortable seat and even a radio if desired. This was mounted on an 806 tractor pulling a plow and a spring drag.

Mrs. Ketchum Dies at 84

HOLT - Funeral services were conducted at the Holt Methodist church Wednesday for Mrs. Carrie Ketchum of 1120 N. Edgar road, Mason, who died at a Howell hospital last Sunday. She was 84 years of age and had been a resident of the Mason area for 25 years. She had been a member of the Holt Methodist church for several years. Rev. Phillip Gloffetty, pastor of the church officiated at the services which were arranged by the Holt Estes-Leadley chapel. Burial was in Maple Ridge cemetery, Holt. Mrs. Ketchum is survived by 4 sons, Silas E. and Leon C., both of Mason; Lyle B. of Lake Odessa and Merwin C. of Lansing; 2 daughters, Mrs. Viola U'ren of Fowlerville and Mrs. Vivian Ransbury of Mason; 30 grandchildren and 76 great grandchildren; a brother, Fern C. Kinne of Webberville and a sister, Mrs. James Mills of Jackson.

The demonstrations lasted 4 days with the dealers using the tractors and other equipment the first 2 days and some of their customers the last 2 days. The plowing, dising and digging were done on property belonging to the Diehl families. A demonstration tent was erected on the Warren Mueller property and sales meetings and movies were conducted at the school house.

Recreation Program To Change

The re-organization of Mason Recreation program is underway.

Last Thursday, Aug. 5, the newly appointed Mason Recreation committee met in the city hall to begin development of an area-wide recreation program that would serve more than just the residents of Mason.

An expanded program would make it possible to serve more people and have more diverse activities. Some ideas presented at the meeting were activities for the senior citizens and a full-time recreation director for the area. "In committee action a request was made to the Area Community Chest to raise the recreation allotment in the fund from $600 per year to $3,000," Dr. R.R. DeMartin, committee chairman said. "This additional money enable the city to hire a recreation director at least part time so that an area recreation program could be arranged."

Also at the meeting another group was formed to consult with the Mason School board in coordinating the uses of the new swimming pool with the school and the public. On the committee are Rev. Joseph F. Nielson, Robert Ware, Marvin Lott and Tom MacLean.

Mrs. Brenner hung on to her. "It was frightening", Brenner said.

Mrs. Potter said the 3 boys made a grab at her legs as the car swung low, but she pulled them up. She said they touched her daughter's legs but could not get a grip on them.

Mason firemen raised ladders to bring some of the riders to the ground. Others were brought down by the ride operator who made the machine operate long enough to bring about their rescue.

Sheriff's officers said the 3 boys admitted they stood near a trailer where the ride came down and grabbed the cars as they went by rocking and swaying them.

Mason Couple Packing For Free Trip to Fair

This year's Ingham County Fair held a big surprise for Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Morris, 1840 Dexter Trail, Mason. They were the lucky winners of a 4-day trip to the World's Fair in New York City.

Mrs. Morris was the one to put in the coupons for the drawing.

"I only put in 2 or 3 coupons and after they shook the basket with all the coupons in it 3 or 4 times I thought we couldn't possibly win," she said.

W.G. Wade Shows sponsored the trip drawing as a part of the fair. Included in the whirl wind trip of the World's Fair will also be tickets to a Broadway show, lunch at the Brasserie Lipp, Manhattan cruise, Rockefeller Center tour and free admission to the fair.

The Morris' have started packing their luggage and plan to leave next Wednesday, August 18, and will stay the 3 nights in New York City at the Hotel Astor.

"This is such a wonderful opportunity because it comes at just the right time for my husband to take a few days off from work," Mrs. Morris said. Morris is a Mason attorney.

County Creates New Job

Ingham circuit judges have some additional help on the way. At Tuesday's session of the Ingham board of supervisors approval was given to changing the job classifications for circuit court officers.

The plan calls for filling future vacancies with law school graduates awaiting the results of bar examinations. This would enable the 3 judges to turn over some of their legal research duties to the law graduate court officers, according to the law enforcement committee of the board.

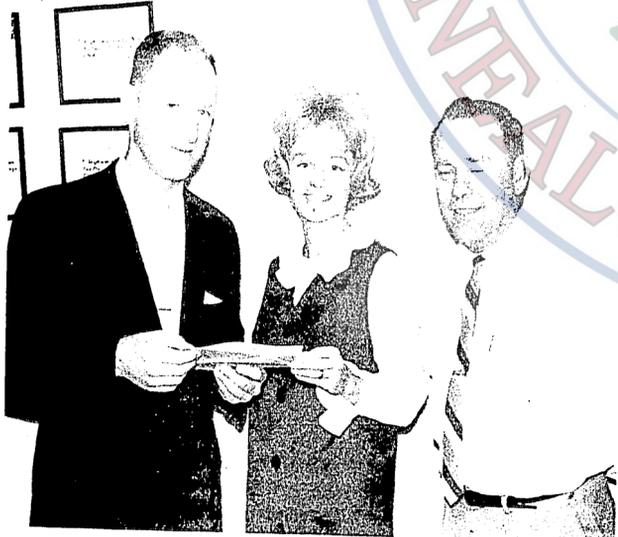

The new plan was set up by the law enforcement committee with the assistance of Circuit Judge Marvin Salmon and Sheriff Kenneth Preadmore.

In giving the job new responsibilities the salary schedule was upgraded. The changeover would occur as vacancies in the 3-man court officer staff take place. One vacancy is due soon. According to the committee report the new classification will cost the county an additional $232 this year. When all posts are reclassified the additional cost will be $1,657.

The committee report cited that when the fourth circuit judge is added the law research-court officer job would be the equivalent of having 6 judges as far as distributing the work load and giving the 4 judges more time to hear cases. There would be a 1-year time limit on holding the job.

As I See It

By Hayden Palmer

Just as we were beginning to get a little used to Medicare and what it is supposed to do for us, up pops an organization known as the Association of American Physicians and Surgeons, (AAPS) which is going to fight Medicare to the last bottle of medicine and the last cut of the surgeon's scalpel.

Do not confuse this group with the American Medical Association (AMA) which has stated that its members are loyal to their government and will obey the laws of the land of which Medicare now is one.

But the AAPS has different ideas. Their organization which claims a membership of 15,000 physicians and surgeons around the country are going to continue the fight against the recently passed bill.

The AAPS was organized in 1943 to oppose socialized medicine in America. Some of its members are said also to be members of the AMA.

They deplored the statement recently made by Dr. James Z. Appel, AMA president who said: "We are, after all, law-abiding citizens and we have every intention of obeying the new law".

The AMA members are to be congratulated for their forthright stand as loyal Americans.

For your information, all the medical physicians and surgeons in Mason are members of the AMA. None belong to the AAPS, a spokesman for the doctors said.

Be prepared for a hike in the bottle of milk you buy at your food store. How much it will be has not been determined but some food dealers in the cities are reported to have hiked the price one cent a quart.

It all came about in this way: The Michigan Milk Producers Association (MMPA) announced this past week that the price to dairies by members of the organization will be upped from $5 to $5.10 per cwt. A hundred weight equals 46 quart bottles of milk.

The MMPA has 11,000 members and Glenn Lake of North Branch, MMPA president, has announced that dairies which refuse to meet the new price of the cooperatives won't get any more milk from them.

The price to processors was made after a breakdown in negotiations between them and the MMPA. The price hike is retroactive to August 1. The farmers have an argument. They point out in their announcement of the price increase that it is "essential to Michigan dairymen caught in a price squeeze aggravated this year by drought."

So don't grumble too much if you have to pay a penny more for a quart of milk. Think of your cousin on the farm. He has to make a living, too.

There is another hike in prices on the way, which will hit your pocketbook worse than does the milk increase.

Home owner insurance underwriters have won a 22 per cent rate increase which will cost policy holders about $13.5 million more the next 3 years.

A news dispatch says the increases for most used types of $15,000 policies will range to $7 a year.

The new rates went into effect this week, but they do not affect current policies until they are renewed.

Home owners' insurance policies provide protection, generally against fire, windstorm, burglary, theft, liability and related risks.

Well, that means just another chunk out of the old pay check.

The annual picnic and outing of the state Democratic party last Sunday apparently went off as planned, but there were a lot of red faced members of the party because of an error which appeared in some advance publicity about the affair.

The publicity received by members stated that there would be "singing, dancing and barbecued beef" at the outing. Embarrassed spokesmen explained that the publicity sheet should have read "singing" and not sinning.

There are about 26 million dogs in this country and a whole lot of them are living in luxury, and as one editorial writer put it "there is reason to believe that our dogs may be achieving the Great Society faster than their masters".

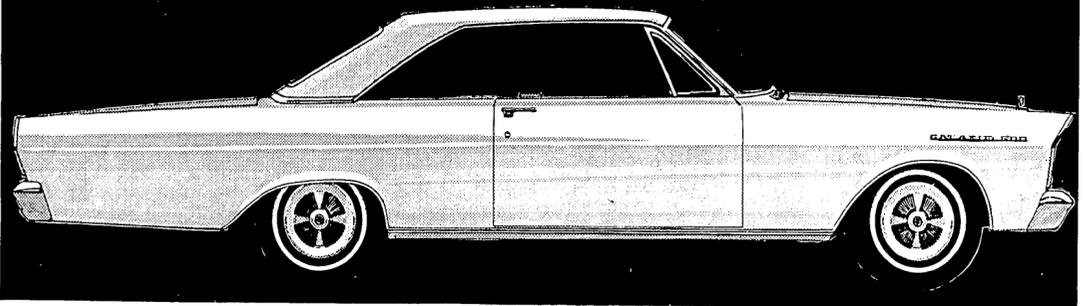

All this talk about dogs came about through a report of the American Pet Product Manufacturers association which says that Americans spend about $530 million a year for dog food and $250 million more for canine products and services.

Who says living a dog's life is miserable?

WHO CREATES YOUR PAYCHECK?

Sure, you know who pays you. But who makes your job possible? Could be our nation's farmers. Did you know that 40% of all jobs in America are created by agriculture—more than any other industry. Surprised? Think of the millions employed in processing farm products—food and fibre. Think of the millions more employed in manufacturing and supplying farmers with their many needs—machinery, fertilizers, chemicals and equipment.

Adds up fast doesn't it! Even in "industrial" Michigan 1/3 of all jobs are created by agriculture and farmers are Michigan's biggest customers.

With so many paychecks at stake it's easy to see why a sound and stable farm economy is important to everyone. Including you and me.

Daddy, Tell Me a Story

It is apparent that the Johnson administration theory in regard to keeping Americans informed is that they should be told all the good things, the pie-in-the-sky promises, the happy news about what Daddy LBJ is going to do for them. It is an intimate scene, indeed, with the Johnsons cuit picturing all Americans sitting at his knee fascinated by his stories of how he is going to mold the future.

It is alarming that only this week the Johnson administration successfully stalled a senate-house proposal to make the public records of government public.

It is even more alarming that senators and congressmen would knuckle under to a passed-down directive intimidating government by secrecy--executive privilege, if you will.

And most alarming of all is the complete apathy of many Americans who are apparently satisfied with well-coached news handouts from bureaucrats.

The news media has urged legislation as a guarantee of the citizen's right-to-know concept of government. President Johnson's reported sacking of such legislation can only indicate that Big Daddy subscribes to the theory that only he knows what is best for us children.

The Trapped Generation

Do you have that trapped feeling?

If the answer is yes then it means that you must have been born between the years 1913 and 1927. At least that is what the Associated Press maintains in a series called "The trapped generation."

The series points out that Americans in this age bracket are trapped because this generation is being forced to find solutions for others to follow, to resolve the vast number of emotional problems spawned by the age of discovery, to evaluate the way men think.

People in this trapped age bracket are caught between the extremes of death control--the ability of science to keep the elderly living longer and the ability to control infant mortality. In addition the changes in the educational modes have delayed the financial independence of children.

In other words the trapped generation has the old folks on hand much longer and the youngsters are delayed in reaching the productive years.

Added to this is the fact that the middle generation, if we can stand to be called that, has never known stability. No sooner did we learn that the world was made safe for democracy by World War I than we saw dictatorships rear their ugly heads to crush nations of people.

Within months of America becoming a nation of millionaires in the late 20s, the country plunged into a depression lasting 9 long years.

We are constantly being reminded that if science of the atom doesn't blow this earth to smithereens it will only be because we have first poisoned ourselves to death with tobacco, car fumes or new drugs which kill by curing. Either that or we will die of thirst after contaminating our water supplies with our own refuse or detergents.

This is the generation that discovered the id, ego, psychology and sex, although not necessarily in that order.

This trapped generation is making most of the money, contributing most to that hard to define gross national product, making most of the laws, making the most dominant influence in our society--yet most of the older generation and almost all of the younger generation contribute little except complaints that the job isn't being done right.

Maybe what is needed instead of coddling the youngsters and wining and dining the oldsters in the manner to which they think they would like to become accustomed, the trapped generation should march on something, sit down on something, sit in on something or stand up for something.

Actually, though, there is a suspicion that the "trapped generation" is just an expression coined by some Associated Press headline writer.

The Right to Quit

—Monessen (Pa.) Valley Independent

Labor unions are going too far, it seems to us, in their current effort to make it illegal for an employer to go out of business without first obtaining the consent of the union or unions which represent his employees. A test case, based on a ruling by the National Labor Relations Board, is on its way to the U.S. Supreme Court.

One of the great virtues of a free enterprise system as contrasted with other systems is the freedom it gives the individual and groups of individuals to start a business. True, it is becoming more and more difficult to do this for a number of reasons, not the least of which are the restrictive practices of many unions. But it is still theoretically possible for any person to start any legitimate business if he is financially and otherwise qualified. And when that is not true, we will not have a free enterprise system.

But surely the corollary of the freedom to start a business is the freedom to stop it, provided one meets whatever contractual and other obligations may be involved in the suspension. Yet this freedom is what some unions are hoping to circumscribe.

In the test case, a federal district court has held that the employer in question had an "absolute prerogative" to go out of business or to discontinue any part of the business at any time he chose, without consulting the union in question.

Down by the Sycamore

By Nelson D. Brown

September 26, 1946

The character-b u i l d slant on college football took quite a beating in Detroit last week when Guy F. Brown, U. of D. football star, was benched because of purse-snatching and rape charges. He was the U. of D. "Athlete of the Year" last season.

Football, baseball, basketball and other sports are good outlets for youthful energy. They are good games for boys to play. It's a fine thing for developing community spirit, too. These night games get all of us out and force us to rub elbows with each other. It is well for all of us to remember, though, that athletic heroes are soon forgotten. Exploits on the gridiron, diamond and basketball court are scarcely remembered from one year to the next.

The same thing goes for war records, too. In most cases the applause dies down as soon as the uniform is shed. That's the way of the world--perhaps it's the way it should be. A man should be credited or blamed for what he is today--not what he was yesterday. Some scab backs of 1936 can't hobble across the room in 1946. Some heroes of 1942, 1943, 1944 and 1945 will be unsung a few years from now.

The man who did more than any other man to induce or seduce women to smoke died two weeks ago at the age of 61. He was George Washington Hill, president of the American Tobacco Company. Back in 1926, Hill, an advertising genius, spent millions of dollars on advising women to "Reach for a Lucky Instead of a Sweet." The candy manufacturers brought suit and obtained an injunction. Hill was ruining the candy business. The courts forced the American Tobacco Company to leave off candy. Hill then went ahead with the slogan "Reach for a Lucky Instead." It turned the trick and soon women began to crowd men as cigarette addicts. Now many men who want to practice bad habits but don't want to appear feminine are switching to pipes and the chewing of plug and scrap. But some day a clever advertiser will hit upon a slogan to induce women to chew American Navy plug or Peachy scrap and another habit will be taken away from men and expropriated by the women.

Speaking of tobacco and paying 20c for cigars which used to sell under another name for a nickel, many smokers are crossed up these days. Wanting a mild cigar, they get stuck with a strong one. The strength of cigars cannot be determined by the color of the wrappers, a fact pointed out by Keith Preston some years ago: The light ones may be killers, and the dark ones may be mild; Not the wrappers, but the fillers, Make cigars or women wild.

When Rollin Dart was in Chicago last week end he climbed into a taxi and noticed a gift-wrapped package on the floor in the back seat. Rollin leaned forward and told the driver that someone had evidently forgotten a package and maybe the driver ought to take it up front to avert someone taking it.

"Just put it back where it was," the driver said. He explained that every morning his wife wraps her garbage in a neat little package and she puts it on the floor in the back seat of the taxi. By noon someone has picked up the package.

Wouldn't it be a study in human nature to follow some of the people who think they have found a valuable package and be with them when they discover the gifty parcel is full of garbage? Rollin's integrity was a change of pace for the taxi driver.

This year's county fair certainly was one of the most successful the county has ever staged. For those of us who hang our hats in Mason, there is even greater pride in having the annual spectacular right in town. No one could expect to find a cleaner midway than that provided by the W.G. Wade Shows (a year-around Mason industry). And of course, the agricultural and youth side of the fair is and has always been one of the very best in the state.

A few years ago, the fair board put on a greater effort to build up the physical facilities at the fairgrounds. There were some who thought it unwise to spend money for black-topping of the midway and the barn areas, erecting buildings and making major repairs -- when the facilities could only be used a few days or weeks out of the year. The board's foresight is paying off in annual fairs that we can all be proud of.

It's a fact: A 7-inch pencil with a No. 2 lead will make a line 35 miles long. If you don't believe it, try it.

Over at Howell next week end, they're staging the annual melon festival. It's worth mentioning not only because it's a good opportunity to load up on melons, but it's a good example of what a good promotion can accomplish. There probably aren't any better or any more melons in the Howell area or in all of Livingston county than there is right here in Ingham. Yet, Howell is becoming known as the Melon Capital. The difference is that Howell is willing to howl (get it?) about melons and it gets people to thinking about melons AND Howell. What kind of a festival could Mason have ... or Leslie ... or Holt ... or other Ingham communities? Send your suggestions and the News will print them.

Jim Brown

Barbs and Praise

The San Francisco Examiner came up with an editorial recently which points to a growing concern on the part of a few for the morality of man in general and Americans in particular. The editorial bears repeating in every paper in the United States.

What has happened to our national morals? An educator speaks out in favor of free love.

A man of God condones sexual excursions by unmarried adults.

Movies sell sex as a commercial commodity.

Book stores and cigar stands peddle pornography.

A high court labels yesterday's smut as today's literature.

Record shops feature albums displaying nudes and near nudes.

Night club stage shows that would have shocked a smoker audience a generation ago.

TV shows and TV commercials pour out a flood of sick, sadistic and suggestive sex situations.

A campaign is launched to bring acceptance to homosexuality.

Radio broadcasts present discussions for and against promiscuity.

Magazines and newspapers publish pictures and articles that flagrantly violate the bounds of good taste.

Four-letter words once heard only in barroom brawls now appear in publications of general distribution.

Birth control counsel is urged for high school girls.

Look around you. These things are happening in your America. In the two decades since the end of World War II we have seen our national standards of morality lowered again and again.

We have seen a steady erosion of past principles of decency and good taste.

And -- we have harvested a whirlwind. As our standards have lowered, our crime levels and social problems have increased.

Today, we have a higher percentage of our youth in jail, in reformatories, on probation and in trouble than ever before.

Study the statistics on illegitimate births . . . on broken marriages . . . on juvenile crimes . . . on school drop-outs . . . on sex deviation . . . on dope addiction . . . on high school marriages . . . on crimes or passion. The figures are higher than ever. And going higher.

Parents, police authorities, educators and thoughtful citizens in all walks of life are deeply disturbed.

They should be. For they are responsible. We of the older generation are responsible.

Our youngsters are no better and no worse than we were at the same age. Generally, they are wiser. But--they have more temptations than we had. They have more cars. They have more money. They have more opportunities for getting into trouble.

We opened doors for them that were denied to us. We encouraged permissiveness. We indulged them. We granted maximum freedoms. And we asked for a minimum in respect . . . and in responsibility.

Rules and regulations that prevailed for generations as sane and sensible guides for personal conduct were reduced or removed. Or ignored.

Prayer was banned from the schoolroom and the traditional school books that taught moral precepts as well as reading were replaced with the inane banalities of "Dick and Jane."

Basically, there are just two main streams of religious thought in these United States. Those who believe in a Supreme Being. And those who do not.

The first group far outnumbered the second. But this nation that was founded on the democratic concept of "majority rule" now denies the positive rights of many to protect the negative rights of a few.

As prayer went out of the classroom so, too, did patriotism.

No longer are our children encouraged to take pride in our nation's great and glorious past.

Heroes are down-graded. The role played by the United States in raising the hearts and hopes of all enslaved peoples for a century and a half is minimized.

We believe this is wrong. We are convinced that a majority of our citizens would welcome an increase in patriotism and prayer and a decrease in the peddling of sex, sensationalism, materialism and sordidness.

As a newspaper we have an obligation to reflect life as it is, not as it ideally might be. We will, therefore, continue to print all the news. That which is sordid and tawdry we will treat in a manner suitable for a family publication.

If the general public is as deeply disturbed as we are by the decline in national morals and in national pride, let it speak out.

Together we can put down the sex peddlers without lifting the bluesenoses. And, with God's help, we can put prayer and patriotism back in our classrooms. And in our hearts and homes, as well.

Goals for 1965

The Ingham County News supports these objectives:

1. A popular vote to assure the people's choice as to what type of city hall fire station is needed.
2. Expansion of new and completion of existing city parks with emphasis on playgrounds and picnic areas.
3. Continued planting of trees with provisions requiring subdividers to plant at least one tree on each lot before acceptance by the city.

Students Can Get SS Aid

Many students who receive social security benefits as the children of retired, disabled, or deceased workers can continue to get the payments after age 18 if they are attending school full-time. W. Scott Hamlin, social security district manager in Lansing, announced.

Under this new provision, contained in the 1965 amendments to the social security law, students can continue to receive monthly benefits until they reach 22 or complete their education, whichever is earlier, Hamlin continued.

Students whose benefits were stopped when they reached 18 and who are continuing their education as full-time students will have to file a new application in order to have their payments started again. Benefit payments can be made retroactive to January 1965.

Young adults who take a full-time vocational course, as well as those going to high school or college full-time, are covered by this provision, Hamlin stated.

In addition to benefits during the school year, payment can continue during a vacation period of up to 4 continuous months, if the student will be returning to school afterwards.

Hamlin suggested that anyone having questions about this new provision write or phone the Lansing social security office, located in room 201 of the Federal Building, 216 Townsend street.

Farms Get $5.10 Hike on Class 1 Milk

Michigan Milk Producers Association (MMPA) announced Thursday a new price to southern Michigan dairies of $5.10 per hundredweight for Class 1 (bottling) milk.

This is an increase of 10 cents per cwt in the income farmers have been receiving for milk since February.

It follows an average increase of 6.4 cents per cwt which Southern Michigan dairy farmers will receive under area pricing provisions of a new Federal Milk Marketing Order which took effect Aug. 1.

MMPA, the state's largest milk marketing organization, with more than 11,000 producer-members, established the $5.10 per cwt price after a breakdown in negotiations with dairies.

In a joint bargaining effort with other milk producer cooperatives in southern Michigan, MMPA officials met with dairy spokesmen in three sessions, on July 20, July 27 and July 30.

The July 30 session lasted all night without reaching a mutually acceptable pricing formula.

The pricing agreement reached in February of this year expired at midnight, July 31. The new price to dairies announced by MMPA is retroactive to Aug. 1, and will remain in effect through July 31, 1966.

"It is regrettable that the dairies were unable or unwilling to come to an agreement with farmer-producers on a fair price for milk," said MMPA President Glenn Lake.

"In the absence of an agreement, we feel that the price of $5.10 per hundred pounds of milk, established by MMPA, is essential to Michigan dairy men caught in a cost-price squeeze aggravated this year by severe drought conditions."

The new price will provide an average premium of 91 cents per cwt over the milk price for Southern Michigan established by federal order.

In the year beginning Aug. 1, 1965, MMPA producers will receive an estimated $19,765,200 total negotiated premium over government established price. For the past several years, milk prices in Michigan have consistently been higher than provided for in federal orders.

New Shift in Ag Production

New methods of producing agricultural products are becoming the rule, rather than the exception. This often means drastic shifts in production and marketing centers.

Agricultural Experiment Station researchers at Michigan State University are currently trying to find out how these new technologies will affect Michigan's agriculture.

A case in point is the dehydration of onions. California now dehydrates more onions than the total of all onions produced in Michigan, the third largest onion growing state.

The Michigan onion industry, say the MSU scientists, will have to incorporate these new technologies in order to remain competitive and in order to keep its share of the onion market.

The processing of potatoes is another example. MSU researchers report that the per capita consumption of potatoes has increased substantially in the last decade. Thanks to the advent of more processed forms of this vegetable.

Studies show that the 25 per cent of the potato crop now processed has a greater resale value than the 75 per cent of the crop which is unprocessed.

Continued evaluation of the impact of new technologies is planned to help growers and processors increase their share of the total U.S. consumer market.

Farm Outlook

"Eminent Domain" "Man's home is his castle"—but like many an old castle, the walls may not stand against the battering-ram of that modern legal device known as "eminent domain."

Farmer and city dweller alike give way when the government steps up and says, "We want your property!" The law of eminent domain says that public need has "first call" over private need in the claim to land and its use. There must be room for schools, roads, power lines, prisons and hospitals. The point is granted. But such "condemnations" create problems for people. People are often displaced from their homes, their farms are severed and made useless or the pier of a highway bridge replaces the view from the front-room picture window.

The farm may be split, and part of it may become hard to reach from the home-barn working location. Costs of traveling to the remote segment must be taken into account. So must driveways and lawns. A new road may make the location of a new driveway necessary and the cost of putting it in should be considered. Trees may be cut. They have value. Lawns may need regrading with topsoil. What claims can a property owner make when he disputes the "government" for the rights to his property? Highway and park expansions have made it important for farmers to know their property rights under these conditions.

For almost always—highways, pipelines and electric transmission lines go through farm land.

As they often do, farmers are working together to get the answer to sticky questions that bother them. In Farm Bureau Community Group meetings, they are examining

2000 4-H Youths To Meet at MSU

Armed with blue-ribbon projects from their home counties, 4-H Club members from all over Michigan will vie for top honors at the 50th annual State 4-H Club Show at Michigan State University, August 30-September 2.

Over 2,000 youths are expected to attend the event to present demonstrations, compete in judging contests and view such exhibit areas as Handicraft Highway, Safety Street and Home Design Drive. MSU's Intramural-Stadium complex will serve as the central exhibit arena.

This year exhibitors will receive certificates of participation and evaluations, rather than the customary blue, red and white ribbons.

Outstanding members, leaders and parents will receive special recognition for leadership achievements during 1965. In addition to the regular events, educational field trips have been planned for several groups. Those interested in handicraft, the cultural arts and home design will take a special tour to Detroit. Grand Rapids will be the destination for young horticulturists. Entrants in foods and nutrition classes will visit Lansing food stores.

Other interesting items this all rights in condemnations proceedings and the conditions under which the public can lay greater claim to property than the person who holds title and deed.

The helpful information they gather is not legal counsel, but guidelines to possible action should the farmer find himself deprived of his land and buildings, resulting from the exercise of "eminent domain."

The government which displays the philanthropy of an "anti-poverty" campaign must not become so busy plotting such things as new federal highway systems that it forgets what happens to those persons who own the land it claims.

year include new programs and competition classes in dairy, dog obedience and photography.

A live electrical theater will serve as a training aid for those interested in electrical exhibits.

Members interested in foods and nutrition will take part in special action exhibits that will show and explain what they have learned during the year.

In the evening, talented 4-H'ers will entertain in Share-the-Fun programs.

While in East Lansing the youths will be housed in the Brody dormitory complex.

The State 4-H Club Show is conducted as part of the youth program of the Cooperative Extension Service of Michigan State University.

Dairy Farmers Elected to Guernsey Club

Edwin and Lena Delamater of Spring Meadow Farm in Grand Ledge, Michigan, have been elected to membership in the American Guernsey Cattle Club, non-profit agricultural organization serving over 40,000 purebred Guernsey breeders throughout the United States.

The Delamaters started with purebred Guernsey in 1950 and now own 48 head. The herd is doing DHIA testing. They are members of the Michigan Guernsey Breeders and Southeastern Michigan Parish.

VIEW EXPERIMENT--Some 35 Argentine farmers and ranch managers made a trip to the Dave and Dorn Diehl farm where a cooperative extension experiment is being carried on. The visiting farmers were able to compare the quality of nitrogen side dressed corn to plots having no extra nitrogen other than the starter fertilizer.

Argentine Visitors Tour County Farms

A group of 35 Argentine agricultural producers, composed mainly of self-employed farmers and ranch managers, visited the Ingham County Fair, Diehl Fields in Dansville and the Veril Baldwin and Sons Farm of Stockbridge last Wednesday, Aug. 4.

R. C. Lott, county extension director, was host to the group pointing out various things they might be interested in. The Argentine visitors paid all their own expenses to come to the United States so they could see first hand the operation of agriculture and associated industry in America. Interests of this group lie mainly in the areas of livestock, dairy production, management, crop production, farm machinery and community activities relating to agricultural extension.

At the Diehl Farms in Dansville they viewed some 41 corn trials planted in a 70 acre corn field located at the southeast corner of Columbia and Clark roads.

Object of the corn trials is to compare nitrogen side dressed corn to the plots receiving no extra nitrogen, other than the starter fertilizer. At the Baldwin and Sons Stockbridge farm the group were particularly interested in the beef feeding operation, but also visited the head lettuce warehouse market in the town.

During the Argentine group's visit to the United States they will spend a month touring Washington, D.C., Michigan State University, University of Wisconsin, Cornell University, Bloomington, Illinois, Dearborn, Michigan and Niagara Falls, New York.

Co-Op Extension Service

Farm Views And News

By R. C. LOTT
County Extension Director

Dorr Eckhart, Aurelius Township Supervisor, was well pleased with the Coachman Oats he planted this year. He said they yielded over 90 bushel per acre by measure, and by weight might reach 100 bushel yield.

He applied 350#/acre of 5-20-20 fertilizer with his oats which were seeded to alfalfa. Dorr said the AuSable variety yielded 80 bushel per acre and his Rodney better than 50 bushel.

The Coachman Oat became available this year resulting from MSU oat breeding research. It is an early, lodge resistant oat which is tan in color. It has excellent test weight and an unusually good yield record.

It is adapted to the southern part of the state, while Rodney, Garry and the new AuSable varieties are adapted to the central and north central areas of Michigan.

We have 41 corn trials planted this year May 7 on the Dave and Dorn Diehl farm. The 70 acre corn field is located at the south east corner of Columbia and Clark Roads.

If you happen to be in this area, it would be most worthwhile to drive to the east end of the field, walk to the plots (back of the head lands) to compare nitrogen side dressed corn to the plots receiving no extra nitrogen, other than the starter fertilizer. The plots are eight rows wide and measure 1.14 acres each.

Starting from the east side of the field, plot 1 and 2 (or 1st 16 rows) received no nitrogen side dress. Plot 3 received 100# of nitrogen as anhydrous ammonia, plot 4, 150# and plot 5, 200# of side dressed nitrogen. Plot 5 shows practically no firing of the bottom leaves. The 100# and 150# plots show some firing.

Plots 1, 2, and 8 receiving no nitrogen side dressing, look like a fire had gone through burning the leaves half-way to the tassel. Corn followed corn in this field and the soil is good heavy corn land.

After the third driest July on record, it will be most interesting to get the yield results at the corn day to be held some time in October.

Clifford Allen of Dansville said, "It sure shows that ample nitrogen is important on corn, even in a dry year."

Soybean Support Rates Set

County price support rates on 1965 crop soybeans in Michigan will remain the same as those for the 1964 crop, Frank Light, chairman of the Michigan ASCS State Committee, announced this week.

Rates vary in Michigan counties from $2.18 per bushel to $2.25 per bushel. This support rate is based on a national average of $2.25 per bushel which is the same level as has prevailed since 1962.

Premiums and discounts are unchanged from those in effect for the 1964 soybean crop. Under the price support program terminal rates are not established for soybeans, Light added.

Light indicated that there are about 65 producers who placed a total of 72,500 bushels of 1964 crop soybeans under price support last year. He indicated that many producers over the years and especially of soybeans have taken advantage of the orderly marketing features of the price support program. This program permits producers to finance their current farming operations through loans from the Commodity Credit Corporation and retain title to the commodities. Light pointed out that this permitted producers to take advantage of any price increase during the marketing year.

The loan maturity date for 1965 crop soybeans which will be harvested this fall will be July 31, 1966, Light added.

By way of general information Light stated that most commodity price support programs are administered by the State and County ASCS offices and details on the various crop programs may be obtained at the local ASCS offices.

Dear friends,

Just as we now purchase life insurance and make a will, it is becoming customary to make complete advance arrangements for one's funeral. This is known as 'prearrangement'.

We welcome your call to discuss prearrangement with us. Such visits, and the decisions arrived at, are kept in strict confidence.

Respectfully,

Roundup Days Set At Leslie

LESLIE - Plans are going forward for the annual Round-up days in Leslie, scheduled for September 10 and 11.

The event is sponsored each year by the Leslie Improvement association, composed of merchants in the village. Leonard Rouse is president of the association this year.

ARZA, Grand Champion Gelding of the 1964 show and winner of the Formal Driving and Three-Gaited classes, will be competing again this year at Michigan State fair on August 14 and 15. This is the date of the show of Arabian Horse association of Michigan. Dr. James A. Rooker is shown accepting trophy last year.

Arabian Horses to Perform At State Show in Detroit

The 9th Annual Arabian Horse Show, sponsored by the Arabian Horse Association of Michigan will be August 14 and 15 at the Michigan state fairgrounds, Detroit.

Horses exhibiting in the various events are valued in excess of 1 1/2 million dollars. Every effort is being made to assure the comfort and convenience of the exhibitor and spectator including a restaurant on the grounds as well as tack shops and various displays.

Show secretary Helen Ber-lidge predicts entries from coast to coast, including many local and regional champions.

Last year's entries included such stars of horsemanship as Mr. and Mrs. Richard Marr's El Tejano, Legion of Merit winner; Mr. and Mrs. Jay Sawyer's Jayem Taberri, American Horse Show Association's high point Arabian mare for 1963 and also named a Top Ten horse in National halter competition; Dr. and Mrs. James Rooker's Arza, East Coast Champion gelding of 1964, who will be competing at the Michigan show again this year.

The Arabian breed is the only pure strain of horse in existence today, tracing its ancestry back to the famed stables of King Solomon. The foundation mare for the breed is said to be a mare owned by Baz, a grandson of Noah. In their native land, these animals were the most valued possession of their masters, often being raised right in the Arab's tent with his family. For countless generations they were bred for their beauty, temperament, intelligence, and endurance, and are definitely recognized today as the foundation of every known light horse breed.

The show will feature the Arabian in English and western performance classes; including reining, trail, pleasure, park and dressage. There will also be a full compliment of falter classes. Show times are: Saturday, 8:30 a.m., 1:00 p.m., 7:30 p.m.; Sunday, 9:00 a.m. and 1:30 p.m.
